REPORT OF PERSONAL SERVICE—1936

"Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets." Our religion is measured by our relationship to others. Personal Service lies at the bottom of our mission work. If we cannot love our brother whom we see how can we love those whom we have not seen. Personal Service makes its appeal to the heart rather than to the head, and it is a fact that impressions come to us more emphatically in this way. The concrete example makes a much stronger appeal than the abstract case. If you wish for results, tell the individual story of "Little Sick Tony" and you will find that the coffers are flooded with help.

As the representative of the women and young people enlisted in directed Personal Service, I am happy to report much work done in His name. I feel convinced that the past year has witnessed more and better Personal Service than any year past. We are getting away from the small individual services and attempting such projects as only combined effort can tackle. Put on your strength, oh Societies, and attempt great things for God. Go forth in His name and minister to the needs around you. "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven." The matter of making and sending reports is important. Please do not neglect this. I would beg for the sake of you and your work that you who have not engaged in Personal Service heretofore do so this year. Write to our Baptist headquarters for free literature to guide you. Surely there are aged, sick, needy, prisoners, and under-privileged people in your community to whom you can minister.

"He is dead whose hand is not open wide
 To help the need of a human brother;
 He doubles the length of his lifelong ride
 Who of his fortune gives to another;
 And a thousand lives are his
 Who carries the world in his sympathies."

"To deny is to die
 To give is to live."

REPORT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S SECRETARYGod's Gardens

"The moving finger writes and having writ moves on." Thus the record of 1936 becomes history.

As we scan briefly the work of many faithful hands, I like to think of our W. M. U. work in North Carolina as a beautiful garden. "Thy work is like a garden, Lord, with flowers bright and fair." Shall we call it our garden of missionary education? The flowers rare are our young people, growing in many small gardens, and the keepers of the garden are wise counselors and industrious associational and divisional leaders.

Who does not love a garden? Surely the work of many leaders and workers attest to the affirmative, for during the year many gardens began to grow—in fact, 2,264; but, alas, as is too often the way, because of a lack of cultivation and care, a number wilted and withered away. At the beginning of 1937 we have 572 Sunbeam Bands, 429 Young Woman's Auxiliaries, 619 Girls' Auxiliaries, and 343 R. A. Chapters, a net increase of 75 organizations. The 1,888 organizations with which we began in 1936, 380 were A-1, this high honor being distributed as follows: Y. W. A., 77; G. A., 138; R. A., 79; and Sunbeam Bands, 86. In class "B" there are 196 and class "C" 203 organizations.

"A Little Pink Rose in my garden grew
The tiniest one of all."

Myriads of smiling faces greet us as we look at our Sunbeam garden! We tended it well during our Anniversary Year. With a little more work we might have reached our goals, but we did make considerable gain in number of organizations and amount of gifts. Sunbeams gave in 1936, $5,072.17, a gain of $863.53 over the record of 1935; nearly $500.00 of this amount was given to the Good Will Center in Soochow, China. The name of every Sunbeam and leader who gave is inscribed in our Golden Memory Sunbeam book.

"In the morning sow thy seed." Wise indeed is the society that plants missionary seeds in the hearts of little children. A few more than half our 1,104 missionary societies are heeding this wise admonition. Would it not be fine if we could report at the Golden Jubilee in 1938, 50 new Sunbeam Bands?

How did our G. A. gardens grow in 1936? Carefully considering all points, Girls' Auxiliary made the best record during the past year. The coveted distinction A-1 goes to 138 auxiliaries. Their gifts jumped from $6,621.51 to $7,791.53, a $1,370.02 gain, the largest increase made by any organization. Can anyone measure the worth of our 1936 G. A. House Party? With 225 girls registered, it was characterized by earnestness, missionary enthusiasm, and wholesome fun. Misses Rose Marlowe and Naomi Schell of China and Japan respectively made inestimable contributions. Lovely Mrs. F. Y. O. Ling, China's Centennial Messenger to Southern Baptists, helped to make the experience one never to be forgotten. Our Annual 1937 House Party will be held at Meredith College, June 6-9. Rare treats are in store for girls and their counselors. Do join us. If our girls are to answer the world's need, Girls' Auxiliary with its appealing missionary activities must first answer the need of girlhood's heart.

"That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth . . ."

Sturdy boyhood being molded into missionary-minded manhood is the sole purpose of Royal Ambassador Chapters. Royal Ambassadors during the past year made decided gains along all lines. Gifts increased from $4,150.08 to $4,776.27 this past year. The R. A. Conclave at Dunn, November 1-3, was splendid from beginning to end. About 300 strong, they came with 50 or more counselors. As I watched Baptist boys about the King's business in such an earnest, efficient manner I prayed that in every Baptist Church there would be those leaders who would take time to love and win our boys to undivided allegiance to Christ's missionary program through R. A. activities. Mr. Noble Beall, of our Home Mission Board, Rev. J. C. Powell, Africa; Dr. O. T. Binkley, and other leaders and pastors impressed upon all hearts the seriousness of being Christ's representatives on earth. We are grateful for the generous hospitality of Dunn R. A.'s, their counselor and pastor, Rev. E. Norfleet Gardner, and the church family. During 1937 our State meeting of R. A.'s will be a Royal Ambassador Camp at Meredith College, June 9-12. The program will be designed to bring into a boy's life the very most of missionary fervor, practical ideas on R. A. work, wholesome fun, and joy of lasting friendships with fellow R. A.'s, missionaries, and pastors. Let all chapters be represented! A Chinese proverb says: "If you are planning for one year, sow rice; if you are planning for ten years, plant trees; if you are planning for one hundred years, grow men!" Let us plan for the years.

"For ye are the fragrance of Christ." Surely the fragrance and beauty of young women, radiant and vibrant in a task peculiarly commissioned to them, makes glad the Master Gardener. Among our young women we have three different Y. W. A.'s—the Y. W. A. in the local church, the Anne Hasseltine Y. W. A. on the college campus, the Grace McBride Y. W. A. for Baptist nurses. Young Woman's Auxiliary gave to all objects $16,536.87, a gain of nearly a thousand dollars over the 1935 record. Four college Y. W. A.'s were A-1—Chowan, Fruitland, Mars Hill, and Meredith. We gladly welcome Western Carolina Teachers College Y. W. A. into this circle and regret to lose Fruitland Y. W. A. because of the closing of that school. In our Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem and in Rex Hospital, Raleigh, nurses are realizing that they, too, are "On Highest Mission Sent." Again, in the "Land of the Sky," nearly 200 Y. W. A.'s enjoyed Southwide Y. W. A. Camp. Day-by-day fellowship with missionaries, gifted leaders, other Christian young women, and heart-to-heart messages concerning life and one's relationship to God's plan for saving the world made Y. W. A. Camp the turning point in many a girl's life. Let us not cheat youth of this rare joy. Soon the "hills will be calling." What will be your answer? Y. W. A. Councils are functioning in three associations.

If flowers fulfill their highest mission they must share their beauty and fragrance. How well did we teach youth the principle of sharing, as suggested in our Stewardship education plans? We have definite reports of 525 young people who entered the Stewardship Declamation Contest in 1936. Doubtless there were many more, but we did not have word concerning them.

H. A. DeChent, of Buie's Creek, was the State Intermediate R. A. winner; Miss Iris Melton, of Fruitland in the Asheville Division, was the Intermediate G. A. winner; and Miss Dorothy Ellis, of Lowe's Grove Church in the Greensboro Division, will represent North Carolina at the South-wide Contest at Y. W. A. Camp. The new plans for teaching Stewardship are unusually attractive, but they will work no magic unless put into practice.

The heart's soil must be kept fertile by systematic mission study. We did far too little in 1936 to broaden the horizons of our young people; according to reports we had only 971 mission study classes for them. Can we not greatly improve this record?

And then shall we not greatly enrich the missionary soil in our State by seeking to get World Comrades and the Window of Y. W. A. into every Baptist home? We reached our goal in subscriptions to both magazines, but let us not be content.

Fourteen associations had "garden parties" during the summer months when all the organizations came together for a rally. In six of these, a slender French girl of great spiritual power, one of our missionaries to the French in Louisiana, Vena Aguillard, was guest speaker.

The presence of Miss Juliette Mather in North Carolina for two weeks brought new inspiration to Y. W. A.'s on five college campuses, to leaders of young people in five divisional meetings. Miss Pearle Bourne, Associate Southwide Young People's Secretary, did immeasurable good during her visit to our State in the spring months.

"In the garden of tomorrow
Will the flowers be more fair?"

That question will be answered as you work in today's gardens. Let us give them such loving, diligent care that their beauty and fragrance will be spoken of throughout the earth. As we labor with youth we hasten the day when this earth shall again become a veritable garden as it was in the beginning with mankind dwelling in peace and joy in the presence of the Father.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

In Springfield, Massachusetts, in 1932 there was held a unique exhibit—the National Quilt Exhibit, with more than one thousand entrants. One quilt there which had an air of distinction was a mass of patchwork composed of squares, parallelograms, and hexagons—a copy of a mosaic floor laid in a Cathedral in Florence, Italy. It was indeed a far cry from the Florentine Artisan of centuries ago to the humble worker in calico and worsted, but between the two stretched a cord of sympathy that made them one—the eternal aspiration after beauty.

The development of Woman's Missionary Union is a far cry from quilts and quilters, but the similar chord of sympathy stretches out. In quilts there seems to be every pattern that the ingenuity of woman can devise and her industry put together, for two women given identical scraps will make quilts as different as can be. The plan of Woman's Missionary Union, with its organizations for all ages, gives opportunity for our women to exercise their talent, their energy, their individuality, their faith, their Christian courage, their love. In our 3,076 organizations we found as varied work as there are patterns of quilts. The cutting of the pieces is the tiresome part for the quilt maker; so checking and compiling reports, adding and subtracting is prosaic work, but results are most interesting, and by this we find where we stand and sometimes where we do not stand. How greatly enlarged would be our State's report if all the organizations would send in quarterly reports! A bit of work here and there with no reports is like the scattered squares of the quilt which should be put together, lined, and quilted, to see the results, and not left as "love's labor lost." That group who begins again each year, but never completed even one quarter's work and were dropped, were fewer in 1936, and the new organizations enabled us to close the year with a small gain.

One out of every two Woman's Missionary Societies fosters a Sunbeam Band; a few more than that foster a Girls' Auxiliary; not one out of every three W. M. S. fosters a Royal Ambassador chapter for boys; a few more than one out of three foster a Young Woman's Auxiliary. Would that we might have a pride in the missionary education of our children as was taken in years gone by in teaching the children to sew, through the piecing of quilts. Their lessons learned in careful cutting, fine stitching, and accurate placing together were helpful through life, learned at a time when it was not burdensome. The time, the thought, the prayers, the plans for giving our young people a vision of their service in bringing in the Kingdom of God will bring rich reward to us and to them as they go out to work out more intricate designs, and added joys grow in the years to come as memory brings back the days of service for the Master in the Sunbeam Band, G. A., R. A., or Y. W. A., even as bits of cloth in a quilt bring back faces, places, and occasions.

Some of the months may have been drab and dark, but these were balanced by the colorful months in which interest is high as we make our Special Offerings. We are grateful for the increase in each of the Special Offerings of the year. Out of the increase in the Annie W. Armstrong offering we designated $500.00 for the college education of the children of our Home Missionaries. Out of the increase of the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering we were able to designate $7,500.00 for the building of a chapel and home for single women missionaries at the Good Will Center, Soochow, China, this to be named in honor of Mrs. Wesley N. Jones.

In June the Heck Memorial offering was $5,258.77.

Our number of tithers increased, but there remaineth much to be done, for we had reported one in every ten of our membership as a tither. Why are we so slow to adopt God's plan?

One noted quilter said, "There is as much difference in sewing as in handwriting—some make fine stitches but cannot stay on the line, some can never make regular stitches, others make regular ones but they are long and coarse." We have a beautiful but simple pattern in our Standard of Excellence upon which each leader displays her individuality, as our Superintendents learned when each graded for the first time, the Standard of Excellence reports in her Association. In spite of the elimination of grade "D" and raising requirements for "C" and "B" to eight and nine points respectively, we had an increase of societies on the Standard, a total of 1,213 organizations reaching one of the three grades and 529 were A-1. We had 205 "five-pointed stars" in our full-graded unions, and 28 of them were cut and fitted together in regular order; twenty-eight A-1 full-graded unions: Ahoskie, Albemarle First, Burlington First, Clayton, Durham First, Durham Grace, Durham Temple, Durham Watts Street, Colerain, Conway, Creekville, Harris Chapel (Tar River), Henderson First, Hobbsville, Jacksonville, Lumberton First, Millbrook, Morehead City, New Friendship, Roxboro First, Sawyer's Creek, Shiloh (Chowan), Siler City, Winston-Salem First, Winston-Salem North, Winston-Salem Southside, Winston-Salem Waughtown, Woodland.

We are always glad to welcome our Southwide workers and missionaries. It has been good to have many of these as speakers at meetings and camps during the year. Among these were Misses Alda Grayson, Rose Marlowe, Katie Murray, Lucy Wright, Mrs. D. F. Stamps, and Rev. H. H. McMillan, Mrs. F. Y. O. Ling, of China; Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Powell and Mrs. I. N. Patterson, of Africa; Miss Emma Leachman and Rev. Noble Y. Beall of Home Mission Board; Miss Naomi Schell of Japan; Miss Blanche White, Corresponding Secretary of Virginia; Dr. J. H. Hill, Editor of Home and Foreign Fields; Dr. Charles E. Maddry, Foreign Mission Board; Mrs. W. J. Cox, Misses Kathleen Mallory, Juliette Mather, and Pearle Bourne from Southern W. M. U. Headquarters.

With more than half of our churches having no missionary organization and in many associations a little work here, a little work there, our task is but well begun. Yet, when each year's work is completed every bit has helped and fits into the year's completed pattern—not patchwork, ah, no! memory, imagination, history, joy, sorrow, religion, life, love, and over all a halo—the love of God's children for His work and the souls longing to serve.

Hymn: "Come Women Wide Proclaim."

Message of the President: "Christ for the World—the World for Christ," Mrs. J. Clyde Turner.

CHRIST FOR THE WORLD—THE WORLD FOR CHRIST

Those of you who have studied the current issue of our W. M. U. year book are familiar with the fact that a motto similar to the theme of this meeting was the inspiration for the writing of our hymn for the year.

Seventy years ago Rev. Samuel Wolcott, a returned missionary attending a Y. M. C. A. convention in Ohio, was so impressed with the slogan of the meeting, "Christ for the World and the World for Christ," that he went home and wrote this hymn. Through these seventy years it has been sung in our churches. This year we are putting renewed emphasis upon it and the great challenge it presents. You will probably remember nothing that I say today—we seldom do—but I bring to you this theme with the prayer that it may be burned into your memory, that it may stir your hearts to greater endeavor, that again it may create impulses which will go on and on to bless the world.

You recognize immediately the two outstanding thoughts in this theme—First, Christ for the World. As we look upon the world today in its confusion, its suffering, its sin, we are convinced that the world needs and needs desperately. If you have observed the season of prayer for Home Missions, if you have studied "Follow Me," I am sure you are startled by the alarming statistics and the conditions existing in our Home Land. Perhaps you have read "Christ or Chaos," just off the press, in which Dr. Gill brings the complex and intricate problems of Europe, or Dr. Gartenhaus' book, "The Re-Birth of a Nation," or you call to mind the conditions in China, Japan, Africa, and South America. Everywhere we look we are confronted with the great needs of the world. What or who will meet these needs, satisfy the desires, settle the problems of the world, is a question to which the answers would differ widely.

It is not our purpose to discuss or even mention the many panaceas that have been offered, and those now being tried. They are heralded by their advocates. All that have been tried have failed. Those now being tried will fail. There is but one who can meet the complex needs of mankind, the man Christ Jesus. He alone is adequate to meet all physical and spiritual needs. In a bewildered, confused, and rapidly changing world stands the unchanging Christ. He alone can satisfy.

A group of business men were recently discussing the ever popular theme, "What's wrong with the world?" One, a nationally known manufacturer, finally said, "I am not a Christian, but I am saying that the trouble with this world is sin, and we will never find the remedy until we find it where my old father used to find it—upon his knees before God."

"Christ for the world we sing
The poor and them that mourn,
The faint and overborne,
Sin sick and sorrow worn Whom Christ doth heal."

Jesus Christ meets the physical needs of mankind. While here on earth He fed the hungry, taught His disciples to pray for their daily needs, and showed how we may serve Him by ministering to the needs about us. Today we fulfill this ministry through the definite agency of the W. M. U. and other church activities, as well as great civic organizations supported so largely by Christian people. But Jesus went further than this; he brought healing and health to diseased and crippled bodies. Along the road cut by our missionaries there are hospitals and clinics for the healing of the bodies of mankind. Even where skilled and trained medical workers are not possible our missionaries have been greatly blessed in their ministries to the bodies as well as to the souls. Always have hospitals and clinics been used as agencies for carrying the message of the healing of the soul.

Some time ago the young people of the churches of England were asked to name the four persons now living who were adding more than any others to the "real riches of the world." This group of young people selected the following persons: Albert Schweitzer of Africa, Mahatma Gandhi of India, Toyohiko Kagawa of Japan, and Sir Wilfred Grenfell of Labrador. With the exception of Gandhi, all are spiritual leaders devoting their lives to the service of Christ—two in definite medical work. There were no famous "captains of industry," no heads of armies, no political dictators. Here were young people who had vision enough to penetrate beyond the mazes of present social conditions to abiding spiritual values.

Jesus Christ can meet and solve the economic problems of today. This is a subject too lengthy and complex for full discussion, but experiment and experience have proven that where the principles of Christ prevail these questions have been solved. Prosperity, so greatly acclaimed as a cure for all ills, will not solve this problem.

History proves that in seasons of greatest prosperity the world has been in dire need. We have seen it demonstrated in our own experience. A traveler in Siam describes that distant land as an "economic paradise, but found its life torpid, immortal, inert." Roger Babson in his splendid little book, "Revival is Coming," gives an interesting review of our economic history and its close relation to our religious life and spiritual ideals. He closes with these words: "Unemployment, however, will continue with us just the same until the spiritual awakening comes. Legislation may help stock markets, real estate, retail sales, and commodity prices, but no legislation has ever solved the unemployment problem. Five previous times in this nation's history, an unemployment crisis was reached: namely, 1680, 1730, 1795, 1858, and 1899. Then, as now, various legislative remedies were tried, but all these experiments failed. Only after a great spiritual awakening swept the nation was the curse of unemployment eliminated and the standard of living again pushed to higher levels. America will again be swept by a great spiritual awakening. Nothing can stop it." To which we fervently say, "Amen."

This, indeed, is our greatest need, the spiritual, the need of the soul. Here Christ only is adequate, Christ alone can satisfy; here Christ is supreme. The so-called religions of the world are but pitiful proof of the soul hunger of the nations, of their hopeless groping for the light. Some of these religions are immoral in their practices, cruel in their requirements, while others offer only systems of ethics and moral codes. All fail to bring satisfaction to the hungry soul, for none offers a Saviour from sin. Dr. Egbert Smith says, "Not one has any conception of a loving Heavenly Father or of a human brotherhood that goes with it. Not one has any conception of an Almighty Saviour from the power and pollution of sin, who has conquered death, who is ruler of both nature and the spirit world, who thinks of and loves little children, who understands and appreciates womanhood—who dwells in the believer's heart by the power of His Spirit to guide, to comfort, to strengthen, to make holy." We know such a Saviour.

Nineteen hundred years ago Jesus Christ stood with a group of His followers on the mountain side and said to them: "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." (Matt. 28: 18-20.) These many years have passed and we have been slow in obeying this command. But never has the command been repealed, never has the need lessened, never has the message changed.

Not only Christ for the world we sing but the world to Christ we bring. This, then, is our goal, this our challenge. The missionary enterprise is our answer to this challenge: the Plan of W. M. U., our program, our participation in this program, the measure of our faithfulness.

We have a universal Saviour to meet the unchanging need of all peoples in this rapidly changing world. E. Stanley Jones said recently: "Christianity is on trial. There are four demands made on world religions: that they are able to live in a changed intellectual climate; that they seek to save not only the souls of men but to save the entire man in social and economic life; that the inner life be fortified by regeneration; that it promote a program big enough to take in the whole world. If we are not missionary, we are not Christian. Jesus Christ belongs to all men. The churches must tie on to something outside or they will go to pieces. We have an unshaken Kingdom and an unchanging Christ. Neither Communism nor Fascism is adequate for the world; only the Kingdom of God is adequate. We do not have to apologize for Jesus Christ, the world's only Saviour." Our own Dr. Charles E. Maddy recently declared: "After many months of careful study and extensive survey of foreign mission work in thirteen countries I am more firmly convinced than ever before that the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ is the one and only hope of mankind. Just as long as the curse of sin and death holds the race in bondage, just so long will the good news of salvation be imperatively necessary for the redemption and restoration of the fallen race."

Today we face an accessible world. Our early missionaries prayed for open doors. Today they are wide open and they are beseeching us to enter. Modern inventions have made the world a neighborhood, means of travel and communication, systems of commerce and industry, have all drawn the nations in close touch. In this accessible world we have made great strides along material lines. Our commodities are carried to the far interior. Yet the peoples still wait for the message of salvation that cometh late. For a hundred years Baptists have been at the task of carrying this message. Robert Morrison said should there be 100 converts in China at the close of 100 years, it would be a great triumph. Today there are 500,000 Protestant Christians in China, with about one million under Christian influence. Last year Southern Baptists joined in this hundredth anniversary celebration, rejoicing in 221 churches, with a membership of 41,450. But even with this splendid report we have hardly touched that great empire. Dr. Rushbrook tells us that our greatest gains are in South America, with Africa second.

As a Woman's Missionary Union we are just half a century old. When we gathered last year in joyous celebration of our Fiftieth Anniversary, we looked back along the path over which we have come, and with gratitude noted growth and enlargement along all lines. The year just closing has been a good year. You have made it so. You who are leaders and each one who has had any part, it is the record of your work. Today we look ahead to untried fields and heights of greater endeavor and faithfulness. As we plan ahead, let us stress the motto of the year. Not by the might of numbers nor by the power of increased gifts shall we advance, but by the deepening of our spiritual power. When our Master gave the command to go into all the world, He told the disciples to tarry in Jerusalem until they received power. They obeyed and it was this Spirit who sent them forth to preach with boldness and with power. He it was who separated Barnabas and Saul for the missionary task. He it is who has ever called out our missionaries, who has led in all mission undertakings, and it is in His power and through His leadership that we must advance today.

While the late Mr. Edison was at his laboratory at Fort Meyers, Florida, Roger Babson called on him. When asked what new radical invention he visualized as coming during the next few years, Mr. Edison replied: "Babson, I do not pose as a preacher, but let me tell you that if there is a God He will not let us advance much further materially until we catch up spiritually. A great fundamental law of science is that all forces must be kept in balance. When anybody or force goes off on a tangent there is a smash. This applies to America as it has to every nation before it." How fitting that we enter this new period of our history with the emphasis on the Spirit.

As an organization we have incorporated those ideals and aims most essential in bringing the World to Christ. It is not necessary here to show how vital each of these is to our task. Just two needs would I lay on your heart. First, the need of a firmer conviction that the world is lost without Christ. We have lost this conviction. We need to come back to it afresh. It was this conviction that sent our early missionaries out to far away lands, that sustained them through weary years of waiting and hardship, and sometimes death. It is this conviction that upholds them today with their poor equipment and unmet needs. It was this conviction that made John Knox in an agony of supplication pray, "Give me Scotland or I die," and Nannie David beseech with almost her dying breath, "Don't give up Africa." With this conviction there must follow the second need—deeper consecration to the task of bringing the World for Christ. How slow we have been! How indifferent we are now! How uninterested in those other sheep that must be brought into the fold! What could we not accomplish if every W. M. U. member were wholly committed to this task? No divided loyalties, no mixed allegiance but complete consecration of the entire personality. Someone said to Moody, "I would give the world to be doing what you are doing," and Mr. Moody replied, "That is just what it costs." Today two continents are celebrating the centenary of Moody's birth—a simple man who gave his all to God.

From the early days of mission work comes the following story from an English missionary who was later associated with our work in China. The journey was being made by way of the Suez Canal and he tells the following incident:

"Our voyage was uneventful until we reached the Gulf of Suez. There was nothing attractive there in those days. Overhead we had a blazing sun and a cloudless sky. To the east a long stretch of burning sand, as far as the eye could see. On the west, brown, barren hills, coming down close to the sea. It was all a dreary sight. About fifty miles south of the Suez Canal the first sign of life appeared. A bright white lighthouse came in sight, the lonely home of poor fellows who sacrifice much in their calling, and in doing so become blessings and preservers of the lives of mariners who travel this watery highway. As we neared the lighthouse a signal was observed, in which all on the ship were interested. When read it proved a real signal of distress: 'Dying for want of water.' The sympathy of the six passengers on board was aroused, and all were in eager expectation of seeing a boat manned and sent off with water to the famishing lighthouse keepers. But we, as well as the men in distress, were doomed to disappointment. Our captain cruelly replied: 'I will tell the first ship coming north,' and went on his course. One knows nothing of what the men on the lighthouse felt, but we on the ship thought it more than mere shrinking from responsibility. It was cruel, wicked sin against God and humanity. About five hours later we met a homeward bound mail ship. Our ship stopped and signaled, but the captain of the mail ship failed to understand how we could be dying for want of water, and bore round to our stern so that the captains could speak to each other. I can see that captain now, as he stood in front of a crowd of passengers and hear him shout: 'What do you want?' And the answer went back: 'The men at the lighthouse are dying for want of water.' And the sharp, clear question came: 'Did you give them any?' 'No.' Then with a stamp of indignation and an angry shout, the other captain replied scornfully: 'Go on,' and turned his back upon us. Had no light shone that night from the lighthouse there might have been sad consequences, and who would have been to blame?"

The World's Aching Heart

"The great world's heart is aching, aching fiercely in the night,
And God alone can heal it, and God alone give light;
And the 'ones' to bear that message and to speak the living word
Are you and I, my 'sisters,' and the millions that have heard.
Can we close our eyes to duty? Can we fold our hands at ease
While the gates of night stand open to the pathway of the seas?
Can we shut up our compassions? Can we leave our prayer unsaid Till the lands which sin has blasted have been quickened from the dead?

We grovel among trifles, and our spirits fret and toss,
 While above us burns the vision of the Christ upon the cross;
 And the blood of God is streaming from His broken hands and side,
 And the lips of God are saying, 'Tell My brothers I have died.'
 O voice of God, we hear Thee above the shocks of time;
 Thine echoes roll around us, and the message is sublime;
 No power of man shall thwart us, no stronghold shall dismay,
 When God commands obedience, and love has led the way."

MISSION STUDY REPORT

Not books, but life in Mission Study. Books are not just bound bits of paper with black ink characters on them in regular order. Nor are our Mission Study books the theories of thinkers, profound or otherwise. They are life, real life. For the most part they are the heart life of our missionaries translated, bound, and laid in our hands for us to retranslate into our own hearts and lives.

The Mission Study program of Woman's Missionary Union has tremendous power. It enlists thousands of women and young people each year in a definite effort to learn more about some part of the world missionary field and enterprise.

They must complete the effort with some evidence that they have learned something they set out to learn. This all requires energy, physical and mental, and must surely result in growth in the knowledge of missions, and bring deeper interest in Kingdom work. There were reported 2,066 classes, a decided increase over the previous year. There were 13,942 seals awarded in this effort to learn more about some phase of missions. We may safely say that fully that many more were touched by these studies who did not complete the work required for awards.

We would point with warning to societies that adopt and are satisfied to meet the minimum requirement of study which was set for the rural societies that found difficulty in meeting.

Because the future of missions depends upon it, we must intensify every effort to teach missions to our young people. They are entering upon a world more torn by conflict than any generation ever faced before. We must grip youth with the responsibility of bringing the Kingdom of God to hungry hearts and capture the eager vigor of youth with its challenge. Is it life you study or just a book?

What happens after you study a book will determine what happens to some missionary's life out yonder on the field where lives are being broken for lack of help we should and must give.

REPORT OF ASHEVILLE DIVISION

With the unprecedented development of resources, with the making of highways which open marvelous panoramas of scenery, with growth and development along agricultural lines, with building and equipment of schools, with the organization of men, women, and youth into clubs for better living purposes, Baptists are not keeping pace in rural sections of Western North Carolina. We see, in fact, every type of glory coming to the inexpressably beautiful mountain section faster than her greatest glory—the growth of the Kingdom of God. Evangelism goes on but enlistment to any sort of program is entirely too slow, and in all too many places, well nigh impossible.

Pioneers, indeed, were Baptists in the mountains, but all too well satisfied with this record we are no longer pioneering as we wait for others to go before in putting into operation any program of progress.

Methodists are organizing for a campaign against ignorance in some of our counties where their chief accusation is that ninety-five per cent of our people are still Baptists. Presbyterians, Catholics, and others are making inroads on what Baptists take for granted. Furnished with adequate leadership, they can do great good.

Our minerals, our scenery, our water, our woods, our climate, our soil, our own people are being discovered and appropriated to many and worth while uses for public and private enterprises. Every type of material development is on the increase.

Preachers we have in plenty, church houses not a few, averaging something near thirty-six each for the fifteen associations. Enlistment is lacking, there being about an average of five enlisted pastors per association, exclusive of the Buncombe. A program of any sort is lacking. Those same evangelized women who lead and follow in home and farm demonstration clubs shrink from a church program, shunning a culture which contributes to the leading of boys and girls to their highest sphere. All too many of our church houses mar the appearance of an unprecedented landscape, where a small amount of pride would call out labor of love to move abundant natural shrubbery, without price, to make ornamentation about a cheap church building which would at once excite pride and interest equal to that shown in the community grange or public school.

Leadership, prayerful and tactful is essential. The same type from which the famous Truett, Fred Brown, McConnell, and scores of others were called out, is dormant here. We can find them when we have leadership. We crave a missionary for every association to combat ignorance, indifference, and the isms—the kind that stay in the hills when our workers attend our meetings.

What first city church in North Carolina was not a while ago an undeveloped congregation in a crude house being furnished with adequate leadership by the denomination? Asheville First Church a generation ago, a log meeting house on the banks of the French Broad River, is now pouring funds back into the Baptist State Treasury.

Women with homes and families—no means of travel often—who try to carry on as associational superintendents, need reinforcements and inspiration. Many do not even get to the State meetings. There is usually no associational progress fund worthy of mention.

Many of our people imagine because they are poor that they can spare little time or money for the Lord. They have never gotten away from the idea of being "Carried to the skies on flowery beds of ease," and that "salvation is free." Preachers still boast that they never charged a cent yet for preaching free salvation. How, then, to check an endless chain of youth which is being ordained to fill the thinning ranks of pioneer preachers, thinking that they, too, can preach without education or coöperation, is a problem.

Faithful as is Uncle Sam, it is still impossible to get reports and sometimes even from superintendents.

The Division fell short on apportionment by a small amount, which gives us great concern. Six of the associations reached their apportionments and two made seven points on the Standard of Excellence. There were 16 A-1 societies reported, but loss of three in the number of societies reported. W. N. C. Association leads with four A-1 societies.

The Annual Divisional Meeting held at Cullowhee far from a central location offered very encouraging results.

Most outstanding, perhaps, last year was our general effort to promote young people's work. Stewardship contests were very good in most associations. The final culmination in the Asheville First Church was excellent. A county-wide Y. W. A. organization meeting quarterly is promoting local interest and supporting a Chinese crippled girl in school. Miss Currin and Miss Bourne spent some time with the young people, giving much needed help. Miss Mather visited some in colleges, churches, and associations during October. More of our girls attended Ridgecrest Camps and various meetings. Greater effort was made by the superintendent (in her tenth year of service) and the young people's leader, through every medium of communication to enlist, interest, help, and inspire young people's leaders in associations, and through them reach church leaders. We also visited most of the associational meetings and planned many programs, plays, etc. Some attempted contacts have been unrewarded, but we try to leave the results with God, asking Him for a new line of approach for next time.

Our Margaret Student at Mars Hill College has perhaps had more attention than any former Margaret Student of the Division. Recognition is extended Mrs. R. L. Smith, of Old Fort, for faithful effort as Margaret Mother since October. Nine associations have extended help.

The calling of Rev. Nathan Brooks from the Tennessee River Association into State-wide work was a great loss to us, as every enlisted and enlisting pastor means oceans of help for the W. M. U. May the new ones filling our ranks here and there be diligent for the things for which we stand.

A representative of the State Board, doing promotion work in one association, an extra week at her request, said the W. M. U. Superintendent was doing the only missionary work being done in that association. Some superintendents have found that conducting council meetings for leaders has been helpful, other visited pastors' associational conferences and presented their work to advantage, others spoke in union meetings to pastors and laymen.

Lending mission study books and sending magazines and Recorders to unenlisted churches has helped.

It was agreed in executive session of the associational superintendents at the annual meeting to try harder to increase our coöperation by taking definite goals in 100,000 Club memberships. Recorder and magazines subscriptions, personal service activities, and in gifts to the Training School, to try at least for our gifts to the Training School to reach one scholarship, seeing that none of these were being reached as we pray they may be.

God has been good. We know that greater consecration would bring greater results. We cannot "reap where we have not sown" nor "gather where we have not strewn."

Charlotte Division, Mrs. B. K. Mason, Winston-Salem.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

In the long ago, when Jesus and His disciples walked through Samaria, he said to them, "Lift up your eyes and look upon the fields, for they are white unto harvest." He wanted them to see the great spiritual need of their homeland at close range.

Today the spiritual need of our State and Southland constitutes a great challenge to us. The women and young people of the Charlotte Division have been busy during the past year in helping to meet this spiritual need, through their organizations of Woman's Missionary Unions. With a deepened prayer-life, Bible and Mission Study, Personal Service, Stewardship and Tithing, and our gifts to missions at home and abroad.

From our weakest association to the strongest, from the Alleghany to the Pee Dee, there have come encouraging reports of increasing interest, more faithful work done, with unusual growth and development along all lines.

The Pilot Mountain, our largest association, with its 72 churches, 140 societies of all grades, has made 9 points on the Standard of Excellence and again leads in Mission Study, with 104 classes, 1,533 enrolled, 9 schools of Missions, and 4 churches with the full graded A-1 Unions. These are First Church, Winston-Salem, North Winston, Southside, and Waughtown.

The Waughtown Church of Pilot Mountain and the New Friendship Church of Liberty Association have won this honor for the past three years. Mrs. M. P. Blair, our Mission Study chairman, reports 11 Schools of Missions held 490 classes, with 4,017 Seals awarded. More of our associations have reported growth in Missions than ever before.

Our Standard Association, the King's Mountain, with Mrs. John Wacaster, Superintendent, has adopted a plan for teaching Stewardship and Tithing in every church in that association. Every year they have a successful season of prayer in December and on Friday of that week all the societies come together at Shelby for a program of Prayer for World-wide Missions. This day is outstanding for its attendance, interest, and spiritual uplift. They are growing in knowledge, also, with more subscriptions to the Biblical Recorder and a steady growth in the grace of giving.

The Stanly Association had its first Associational Young People's Meeting, and a most successful Study Course at First Baptist Church of Albemarle, conducted by Rev. J. C. Powell, returned missionary from Africa.

The following associations have made 9 points on the Standard of Excellence: Pilot Mountain, Mecklenburg, Rowan, and Pee Dee. We feel sure these associations will surmount all difficulties and win the much coveted honor of A-1 in the coming year.

We regret that Miss Mabel Beeker, our Young People's Leader, has resigned to accept work in the First Baptist Church of Newport, Kentucky. Mrs. F. L. Lambert, of Statesville, is taking up her work, and we are happy that our Young People's work, so close to our hearts, will go forward throughout the year as planned.

Our Stewardship Contest was held this year at the Mills Home. The winners were Miss Anne Fort, of Southside, and Miss Margaret Lee Liles, of Shelby.

Our annual meeting was held in October at First Baptist Church of Concord, with one day and night session. Outstanding were the reports from officers and the 19 superintendents present. Two conferences were held at the noon hour, one for Young People's Leaders and one for officers and superintendents. We were delighted to have as our visiting speakers, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, our new State President, Mrs. Edna R. Harris, and Miss Mary Currin. Our South-wide representatives, Miss Emma Leachman and Miss Juliette Mather, brought inspirational messages at both sessions. They stirred our hearts and inspired us with new courage and zeal to go back to our Societies and carry on in a more worthy way. The hospitality of this good church was unbounded and the attendance was the best in our history.

Mrs. W. A. Williams, chairman of the Lila L. Henry Memorial, reported that the bronze tablet had been placed in the library at Wingate College. It was voted to have a book-shower for the library again this year and to donate books most needed. A list has been sent to all superintendents, and we hope before October there will be a generous response to this appeal.

Our Division meeting this year will be held in First Baptist Church of Wadesboro, in October. We are looking forward to this meeting with the women of that great church in the old Pee Dee Association.

It is fortunate that Miss Mary Currin will give two weeks of her time, July 12th to 24th, to the Young People's Work in our Division. It is hoped that a schedule can be arranged and plans made for her to attend many of our Young People's Associational meetings.

The women of our Division have not forgotten our Margaret Fund Student, Rachel Leonard, at Meredith College. While her father and mother are laboring so faithfully in far away Manchuria, we have the privilege of mothering their lovely daughter in the homeland.

Our Division has accepted as its quota 800 paid-up subscriptions to the 100,000 Club. So far, very few societies have reported. Some are just now making plans, but we hope that every association will feel its obligation to help in relieving our boards of their burdensome debts.

What shall we say of our 300 churches in this Division with no missionary organizations, undeveloped, indifferent, not even thinking of the great missionary enterprise. Ours is the opportunity for enlistment. There remains much yet to be done. There's no time for retreat. The seed-sowing and the cultivation of the soil is ours, but the harvest is the Master's in His own good time.

With praise and thanksgiving for the blessings of the past year, we turn to the future with faith, hope, and courage, giving ourselves unreservedly to the task which is ours of helping to bring in His Kingdom.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON,

Superintendent of Charlotte Division.

ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION REPORT

Another year has passed into history, and again it is my privilege and pleasure to render to you an accounting of the stewardship of the women of the W. M. U. of the Elizabeth City Division. The work has been in a very healthy, steady condition. The Associational Superintendents and Young People's Leaders have been devotion itself to their respective duties, and each may point with pride to her accomplishments, which this report will testify and which it is my happy privilege to praise, for they deserve great credit for their increasing loyalty, unstinted service, and unselfish devotion. This is true of the county leaders and society presidents, for on their untiring, unselfish work rests the stability of our work. As I have said repeatedly, each member plays her part as a contributing factor in the work that has been accomplished, and to these I wish to pay tribute and give highest praise.

The Association Superintendents and Young People's Leaders were assembled in an all-day conference last June. We made plans for the work of our Division. All goals were not attained, but we do feel that in this initial coming together, we caught a vision, and in exchange of the problems in the various associations some difficulties were solved. As one result of this conference, we held in Robersonville our first young people's divisional meeting. The attendance was not as good as we had hoped, but it was a beginning, we believe, of larger and more successful young people's meetings for our division. Mrs. Sallie Parker, of Jackson, brought a stirring message at this time. Also our Stewardship Declamation Contest was held. Miss Frances Edgerton, of Goldsboro, was the Y. W. A. winner and Miss Crofford Hedgepath, of Pollocksville, the Intermediate G. A. winner. For the first time in the history of our Division we have a Young People's Leader, Mrs. Gordon Maddry, of Woodland. We feel sure that under her enthusiastic, consecrated leadership the work with Young People will go forward.

Our annual meeting, held with the New Bern First Baptist and Tabernacle churches, was one of our best. Miss Emma Leachman, Miss Juliette Mather, and our new President, Mrs. Turner, were all with us, as well as Mrs. Harris and Miss Currin. Surely there we caught the aims, objects, ideals, and visions of our great organization and went away determined to let our light so shine that the world might know more of our works and say they are good.

The Neuse, under its new Superintendent, Mrs. I. L. Kelley, of Goldsboro, is making fine progress. The association presented to Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Powell two traveling bags, valued at $40.00. Falling Creek W. M. S. pays the rent, $12.00 each month, for a building in China. Goldsboro First serves hot lunch for 350 undernourished children.

Mrs. J. L. Hodges, former Superintendent of the Atlantic Association, says there has been a small but steady improvement. Young People's work has been greatly stressed under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Hines. They are working on the Blanche Barrus Memorial Fund, trying to place a marker on her grave at Pollocksville, and a Scholarship Fund, by which they hope to help a girl or boy of their association in one of our Baptist colleges each year. Mrs. L. B. Daniel, of New Bern, is the new Superintendent.

The Pamlico Association, organized in 1931, is entering its sixth year. Mrs. J. J. Johnson, of Belhaven, says, "It is leaving its period of infancy and beginning to grasp the meaning of organization and to get a vision of what united effort can accomplish." There was a small increase in their gifts to missions, and, besides, the association gave $76.00 on a scholarship for a girl at Chowan College. These smaller associations feel so keenly the lack of leaders that they are doing what they can to encourage trained leadership.

The Roanoke, Mrs. R. C. Josey, Jr., Superintendent, the Chowan, Mrs. J. E. White, Superintendent; and the West Chowan, with the new Superintendent, Mrs. Herbert Jenkins, report progress along all lines. Each of these have their group meetings according to schedule. They have increased in the number of mission study classes, organizations, and gifts. The West Chowan supports its own missionary, Miss Pearle Johnson, in China, and they still maintain scholarships at Chowan College and the W. M. U. Training School. The Chowan and West Chowan have Summer Assembly each summer at Chowan College; that means much to the development of their work. The West Chowan leads in number of A-1 organizations. The Roanoke reports 35 members to the One Hundred Thousand Club. This is an enviable record. Under Mrs. A. W. Fleischmann, conferences of Young People's Leaders were held in the six county groups, with Miss Currin instructing and encouraging the leaders for better service.

All associations increased their gifts this year, and, in spite of the change in our Standard of Excellence Record, we have in the Elizabeth City Division 9 full-graded A-1 Unions: Ahoskie, Colerain, Conway, Creekville, and Woodland in the West Chowan; Hobbsville, Sawyer's Creek, and Shiloh, of the Chowan; and Morehead City, of the Atlantic. All associations entered the Stewardship Declamation Contest, and all remembered our Margaret Fund student, Archie McMillan, of Wake Forest. There have been discouragements, yet we believe there has been growth, and to grow is the mission of everything and everybody. We want to remind our leaders and individual workers that following our Master faithfully on never leads anyone into permanent darkness. The woman who will not give up even if she fail her objectives is led through to another objective. Just keeping on through the most hopeless aspect of keeping on may be the most important act in your work. The last dejected effort often becomes the winning stroke. After years of observation one is ready to say that most leaders that have become discouraged have quit too soon. May the women of our Division have the power of courage and endurance. This power is simply the act of hanging on, plodding on, doggedly yet joyfully forcing oneself on. Persisted in, this attitude, with faith in our Master, leads through—it does lead through personal sacrifice, individual effort, and submergence of personal interests to the will of God, and will bring undreamed of triumphs in Kingdom work and create in us an unutterable joy because we have “kept the Faith.”

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. B. BEASLEY.

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

Through years of faithful and efficient service Mrs. J. M. Whitted has been superintendent of the Greensboro Division. At the annual meeting of this Division, held at the First Baptist Church in Burlington in October, 1936, Mrs. J. M. Whitted offered her resignation. This was accepted at her request, but not without a sincere expression of gratitude and devotion to this leader who through the years has given her best to the Master as superintendent of the Greensboro Division.

As I bring to you the report of the Greensboro Division, I must state that three-quarters of the year's work was under the leadership of this devoted and tireless worker, Mrs. J. M. Whitted.

The nine associations of this Division bring to you a year's report vibrant with zeal, constant with courage, permeated with love for those with whom they live and work as "Laborers Together with God." In the Greensboro Division there are 365 churches with 744 societies with a reported membership of 11,175 plus. Of these 744 societies; 126 are A-1 societies. We report ten A-1 full graded Woman's Missionary Unions in the following associations: Beulah 1, First, Roxboro; Central 1, Milbrook; Tar River 2, First, Henderson, and Harris Chapel; Sandy Creek 1, Siler City; Mt. Zion: Burlington, First; Durham, First, Grace, Temple, and Watts Street.

The subscriptions to religious and missionary literature are 4,508 throughout the Division. Societies reporting some form of Personal Service were 311; numbers of tithers, 1,945; 517 Mission Study Classes have been reported. At the annual meeting of the Greensboro Division, Mrs. D. A. Kerns was elected Mission Study Chairman. Plans are being made for reaching even greater goals in the Mission Study through 1937.

At this same meeting three new superintendents were recognized; Mrs. D. B. Bryan, Central Association; Mrs. O. L. Riggs, Mt. Zion Association; Mrs. Ada S. Parker, Tar River Association.

Mrs. G. E. Isaacs, Margaret Fund Chairman, reports an increase in interest and work. Our young people's organizations have shown an increase, but from W. M. S. presidents there comes a cry for leaders of Junior organizations. Piedmont and Mt. Zion Associations report an annual young people's meeting upon a date other than the Associational W. M. S. meeting.

The outstanding features of the Greensboro Division which have been reported to me are as follows:

Each Association has met its financial aim and beyond it; Beulah Association reports only two churches without a W. M. S. Within 1937 perhaps this association shall be the first to report every church with a W. M. S.

Sandy Creek leads in new organizations—having reported fifteen new societies in 1936.

Tar River supports four Bible women on the foreign field.

Mt. Zion leads in number of A-1 societies, having 48 to reach this worthy goal, thirteen of these being Woman's Missionary Societies; thirty-five, Junior organizations. Mt. Zion also leads in A-1 full-graded Unions, the number being five.

Miss Doris Ellis, of Lowe's Grove Church, was the winner of the State Stewardship Contest among the Y. W. A.

It was a notable event to have Mrs. F. Y. O. Ling, Corresponding Secretary of the W. M. U. of China, as inspirational speaker at the annual meeting of the association. She came because the meeting was held at Mt. Pisgah Church, the church from which Matthew T. Yates, ninety years ago—in 1846—answered the call of God to carry the Gospel to China. This day spent in this church and community was a high spot in Mrs. Ling's visit to America. I wish you each could have shared the keen interest which was here as, together, we visited the home of Matthew T. Yates. We went into a log house of one room, with almost one side of it a huge fireplace; in one corner the old pine, three-cornered cupboard where he kept his books. Again we marvel at the mysteries of God who cast this human life from this humble home into the world stream of life and on this day in June, 1936, a life came back to witness to the power of the Gospel—"Cast thy bread upon the waters and it shall return unto thee."

The Piedmont Association has given us our State W. M. U. President, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner.

The next annual meeting of the Greensboro Division will be held October 19th at Henderson, N. C., with the W. M. S., of the First Baptist Church as hostess. As we come to the new task for the year, we come acknowledging His leadership. We are grateful to Him for the measure of success which has come to us—we are mindful of our failures but willing to try again, knowing that it is not by might, nor by power, but by His Spirit that we shall labor together for Him "whose we are and whom we serve."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. IRA D. S. KNIGHT.

Wilmington Division, Miss Macy Cox, Magnolia.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

With joy and gratitude in our hearts, we present the sixteenth report of the Wilmington Division. Our women and young people have shown a beautiful spirit of coöperation, and have gone about their task with faith and courage.

All the associations have done well in many activities, but, like all other organizations, some have excelled. We shall give the outstanding accomplishments as a Division. We have 182 W. M. S., 57 Y. W. A.'s, 95 G. A.'s, 61 R. A.'s, and 113 Sunbeams. Total number societies, 508, with membership of 8,719. Robeson leads in number of societies, 86, and members, 2,216. Thirty-four churches with five grades. Little River Association won the banner again for having six churches with five grades. Robeson has 9 churches with five grades, but withdrew further claim on banner, as did also the Eastern. Two hundred and two churches have societies, leaving 160 having none. This is a challenge to each superintendent to organize them.

Mission Study has greatly increased. Three hundred and ninety-six classes were held, with enrollment of 2,354, and 2,178 awards. Johnston leads in number classes, 92; Wilmington leads in enrollment, 574, and awards, 352. Wilmington had Mission Study Institute, at which time a large per cent of this number were enrolled. Bladen Association had Church School of Missions.

We have 835 Tithers, 208 societies observed Seasons of Prayer; 213 engaged in organized Personal Service; 52 sent gifts to our Baptist Hospital, and 60 reported gifts to our Margaret Fund student, Miss Mary Fay McMillan. Little River and Wilmington give Scholarship to Training School; Johnston, Little River, and Wilmington have a girl in Training School this year.

Missionaries at home on Furlough in our Division are Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Powell, of Africa. Those who returned in the fall were Dr. and Mrs. H. H. McMillan and Miss Katie Murray, to China. The wonderful messages of these servants of God have inspired us to greater and bigger undertakings for Him.

The W. M. U. of the Eastern Association continues the support of Miss Murray. Many associations presented her with gifts to be used in her work.

The Sunbeam Leader of Magnolia in Eastern supports Kindergarten School in China, and the band sent gifts for Christmas tree for the entire school, of which Miss Anna Hartwell has charge. The superintendent is the happy leader of that Band 30 years in April. Lillington W. M. S., in Little River Association, supports a Bible Woman working with Mrs. W. B. Johnson, in Kunshan, Ku, China. Wilmington Temple and Southside W. M. S. each supports a Bible Woman in China, and the W. M. S. of the First Church supports two.

Wilmington reports 20 members and five circles enrolled in the 100,000 Club. They clothe three children in orphanage, send boxes of food and clothing to deserving pupils in different schools, including a Jewish boy at Mars Hill.

Miss Mildred Rivenbark, their Associational Young People's Leader, directed the Y. W. A. and G. A. Banquet of the association held in Wilmington First Church in December, with more than one hundred girls and leaders present. Misses Mary Currin and Mary Herring were guest speakers.

We held a special Divisional Business meeting in the Wilmington First Church in July with large attendance and inspirational discussions.

Our annual meeting at Roseboro in October was the best on record, with largest attendance, every association well represented, and the blessings brought by our South-wide speakers. Misses Emma Leachman and Juliette Mather; Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, our new State President, Mrs. Edna R. Harris, and Miss Mary Currin cannot be overestimated.

We have five new superintendents in the Division this year: Mrs. B. T. Watson in Cape Fear-Columbus, Mrs. Grover Britt in Eastern, Mrs. D. B. Oliver in Johnston, Mrs. F. L. Young in New South River, and Mrs. D. H. Boney in Wilmington. We pay special tribute to Mrs. J. W. Carroll, the retiring superintendent of the Wilmington, who so loved the work, and the association so loved her, she served them four years after leaving the State.

Every association in the Division met their financial aim. Robeson leads in gifts, $5,993.75. Total gifts, $25,114.18.

Lumberton First Church in Robeson Association and Jacksonville in Wilmington were A-1.

It was the joy of the superintendent to attend the annual meetings of Johnston, New South River, Little River, Eastern, and Wilmington associations, Wilmington Young People's meeting, joint meeting of Little River and New South River in Fayetteville, special meeting of Division in July, Divisional Stewardship Contest, and annual meeting in October. Seven associations held Stewardship Contests.

Miles traveled, 1,365; letters and postals written, 248.

May God direct all our activities for His glory and lead us to undertake greater things for Him as the years go by.

Respectfully submitted,

MACY COX.

MARGARET FUND REPORT

The plan for the Margaret Education Fund in North Carolina in 1936 was based on that so carefully worked out by Mrs. J. Clyde Turner during her term as chairman of the fund for this State. In each of the five State W. M. U. Divisions a Divisional Chairman was secured. A Margaret Scholarship Fund student was assigned each Division and came under the special care of the Divisional Chairman. This Chairman secured Associational Chairmen for this fund and these reached out to the societies.

We regretted to lose three of our former Divisional Chairmen, but were fortunate in securing interested workers in their places. Those resigning were Mrs. E. Gibson Davis, of the Asheville Division; Mrs. Leslie Newman, of the Elizabeth City Division; and Mrs. George Lovell, of the Wilmington Division.

Because the Margaret Fund has grown so in the past few years, it has been a little difficult for the new State Chairman and the new Divisional Chairmen to catch step. If the work has fallen behind, we trust your generous understanding.

There has been no pressure on the enrollment of Margarets in 1936 for the "Margaret Book of Remembrance," but 32 new names have been added to the list.

Each of our five students has received "Love Gifts" from the societies during the year. These have comprised clothing, books, stationery, stamps, and many other useful articles. The boys and girls are most appreciative of each gift. They say, "We do not know what we would do without them. Stamps and paper go so quickly, and hose wear out so fast. Please thank everybody for us. But please ask them to be sure to put the name of some person on the inside of the package so we will know to whom to write. Sometimes the box just says from some association and we have no address for a letter of thanks."

Money gifts to the students have gone through the hands of the Divisional Chairmen, and totaled $227.50. Their reports also show letters, 228; talks, 20. These figures are not complete, however, for we have not full records from Divisions where there was a change of Chairmen.

Two of our students will be graduated from their colleges this year. Rachel Leonard, who has been a fine student at Meredith and outstanding in her music and in her work in the College Glee Club; Mary Fay McMillan, a leader in her Meredith classes, a champion at tennis tournaments, is now offering herself for mission work in her native land, China. Our Margaret Fund Junior at Wake Forest College, Archibald McMillan, was elected to the honor fraternity, the Golden Bough. He has been popular with faculty and student body as editor of the college paper, Old Gold and Black. He is acquiring fine ground work for his chosen field of journalism, possibly on the foreign field.

Our other two students we trust will be assigned us again that we may follow their growth with the same loving interest we have followed the other three. Alfred Boyes Taylor, our Margaret Fund student, is at Mars Hill; our other student is Herbert Baker, at Wake Forest.

We pray our Father's blessings on these fine young people and upon their parents, who so miss them in these years of separation.

Our list for 1936 is as follows:

Asheville Division—Alfred Boyes Taylor, Mars Hill. Chairman—Mrs. R. L. Smith, Old Fort, N. C.

Charlotte Division—Rachel Leonard, Meredith. Chairman—Mrs. J. J. Roddick, Holly Avenue, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Greensboro Division—Archibald McMillan, Wake Forest. Chairman—Mrs. G. E. Isaacs, Trinity Avenue, Durham, N. C.

Elizabeth City Division—Herbert Baker, Wake Forest. Chairman—Mrs. E. F. Aydlett, Main Street, Elizabeth City, N. C.

Wilmington Division—Mary Fay McMillan, Meredith. Chairman—Mrs. A. L. Brown, Southport, N. C.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH BRIGGS PITTMAN, Chairman.

Report of Woman's Missionary Union Training School, Louisville, Ky., Miss Mary Currin, in the absence of Mrs. F. C. Feezor, Trustee. Adopted.

REPORT OF W. M. U. TRAINING SCHOOL

On September 23, 1936, our Training School opened for its thirtieth session. With 72 boarding students and 22 day students, we can rejoice in the largest enrollment since 1930.

Of fifteen states represented, North Carolina stands second as to the number enrolled, having sent nine splendid young women. Because of a $100 Service Scholarship granted to one of our girls for the teaching of shorthand and typing, it was possible for us to send seven girls for the $1,200, the amount needed for six scholarships. One young woman is being supported by her association and another is paying her own expenses, thus all nine are accounted for. Miss Elma Currin, a senior student, was granted the use of the Louis Castlebury Scholarship for the year 1936-37.

Four of our young women are completing their work this spring, namely, Miss Elma Currin, Miss Elizabeth Lassiter, Miss Olive Jackson, and Miss Vivian Grant. Let us join them in prayer that places of service will be opened to them.

In October, 1936, for the first time, the General Board of the School met in Louisville for a three-day session. Each state was represented by either the State Trustee or the State President. Your own Trustee had the privilege of attending this meeting and of representing you there. Matters discussed were too numerous to list here, but the most important to us at the present time is the change in plans for class attendance. After careful and prayerful consideration, the Board voted to empower Mrs. Armstrong to enter upon negotiations with the Seminary so that, if possible, the students may enter Seminary classes, as was the former policy, beginning with the fall of 1937. Looking to the future, the Board also appointed the following committee: Mrs. F. W. Armstrong, Mrs. W. J. Cox, Miss Carrie U. Littlejohn, Miss Kathleen Mallory—and authorized them to use their best judgment in selecting and securing property in the neighborhood of the Seminary. However, there is no possibility or intention of making an immediate change as to the location of the School.

Although our building was in the flood area and had to be evacuated because of high water, we are fortunate beyond many others and are grateful to God for His guiding and protecting hand. The water flooded the basement and came within six inches of the first floor. All students and faculty members were removed from the building with safety and with no harm to any. Our Principal, Miss Littlejohn, has our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for her quick and wise decisions and her efficiency in seeing that all students were placed where they were well cared for until they could leave the city. After only one month the students returned and classes were resumed. At the present time, the estimate as to the amount of damage done to the building is near $5,000. Such a sum is small when compared with those of many churches and schools in the flooded area.

Our gifts to the School this year must be increased over the past two years if North Carolina is to do her share in caring for the work. There are three reasons why our gifts must be increased: First, our gifts during the past two years have fallen short of the $2,400, which is our share of the current expense fund, plus six scholarships; second, with the change in classes, making necessary transportation to and from the Seminary, each state must accept a larger apportionment for current expenses; third, necessary fund for repairs to the building by flood waters must be forthcoming, thus necessitating more generous giving.

May the zeal and love for the School which was within the hearts of the women who prayed it into being burn once again in our own hearts. Then will our gifts be abundant for all needs.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. C. FEEZOR, Trustee.

Report of Stewardship Chairman, Mrs. J. G. Boomhour, Raleigh. Adopted.

REPORT OF STEWARDSHIP—1936

Someone has said that "Stewardship is not a thing to be measured by so many prayers or by so many hours of service, or by so many dollars in money. It is a conception of the mind, an attitude of the spirit that dominates and consecrates all of life and from which all these other things naturally and inevitably flow."

More and more we realize how impossible it is to tabulate the accomplishments in our Stewardship work. The results of the efforts of those who have planned and worked so faithfully to stimulate the "grace of giving" among our women and young people cannot be reckoned in figures.

There are many evidences of an ever-increasing interest in the Scriptural teachings concerning tithes and offerings, and perhaps the most concrete evidence is in the financial report, which shows that the gifts of our women and young people have gone far beyond our aim for the year.

The Declamation Contest has continued to be a potent factor in the Y. W. A. and Junior organizations. It is gratifying to be able to report that 527 of our young people participated in the contest during the year.

The fact that the Declamation Contest is to be discontinued and a new plan inaugurated this year makes it imperative that our leaders study carefully the literature which has been prepared for use in promoting the new plan. "New occasions teach new duties."

We urge that you make use of the literature which may be obtained from our W. M. U. headquarters.

The leaders of our young people and stewardship chairmen have entered more heartily into the plans for Stewardship teaching than ever before.

For the promotion of Christian Stewardship, the Woman's Missionary Union has adopted four chief aims for the year:

1. Intercessory prayer for the convicting and constraining power of the Spirit on the money question.
2. Securing a gift to missions from every resident woman member of the church.
3. More of our young people in definite Stewardship education.
4. Promotion of the Prove Me Plan.

One of the strongest factors that makes for success in promoting our plans for Stewardship education is the loyalty and faithfulness of our leaders. May we not count on each one who is delegated with this task to put forth earnest effort to make these plans effective?

"It is required of a steward that he be found faithful."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. G. BOOMHOUR.

Report of Trustee, Baptist Hospital, Mrs. J. J. Roddick, Winston-Salem. Adopted.

REPORT OF BAPTIST HOSPITAL

As we come to review the past year's service of the North Carolina Baptist Hospital to suffering humanity, our thoughts are mingled with the words of the Master as He said, "Herein is my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit." It is only as we recall the large number who have been touched in the ministry of healing in this institution that we realize this human service has indeed linked us with the Divine plan of fruit-bearing.

During the past year more than 4,000 patients have been admitted to our Hospital from all parts of our State. More than 2,000 of this number were charity or free patients. Our records show there was a total of 34,564 days treatment. Of this there were 18,796 free days treatment during this year of service to suffering humanity. More than 1,000 mothers have been restored to return to gladden their homes and the lives of more than 3,000 children, many of whom could not have been restored to health had it not been for the love of Christ and the vision of our great denomination. And it is only as we realize that through the 4,000 patients that have come to us that we have touched more than 20,000 lives that we can visualize extended blessings and influence of this Christian Institution.

Our Hospital has a staff of 66 doctors and surgeons. These are all practically specialists in their various fields of service and are not excelled in the entire South. We have 55 fine, well trained nurses on our general staff duty, besides a large number on special service. Our nurses have a well organized Y. W. A. as well as other church activities.

It is with gratitude we acknowledge the generous gifts of our Mother's Day offering, which this year amounted to more than $18,000, revealing an increased interest in all parts of the State in our work. This, with the $14,218 from the Duke Foundation Fund has enabled us to render the largest free service in the history of our Hospital work.

It is well for us each one here today to remember our free service must be regulated by your gifts from your church on Mother's Day. Will you not then link your efforts with the Divine on this day of sacred memories that we may know the fullness of His joy in giving ourselves to His service?

The linen that has been sent to us from all parts of our State has also made it possible for us to extend a larger service to those calling on us in the day of need. If each Society represented here could fully understand what showers of blessings these white gifts have been to our needs, we feel sure each woman's society and young people's organizations would want a share in this extra service for the King.

We appreciate the wonderful work that has been done by the Baptist Auxiliary of Winston-Salem. But much as we appreciate all these gifts of linen, do not let them interfere with your Mother's Day offering, since that is so necessary for our charity service.

It is with mingled feelings of joy and regret that I report the growth of our Hospital for the past thirteen years. Joy for its enlarged service and regret that it has outgrown its present buildings, that we were compelled to turn aside more than 1,000 who have come to us for admittance. We have also been compelled to leave off our much-needed training class this spring, as our number of nurses has also outgrown their accommodation in the Blanche Barrus Nurses' Home that we cannot take another class until we provide an addition to our present building. As we face these difficulties we feel the need of united prayers and united efforts if we would meet the sacred obligation that is ours. If we would hear His voice that said, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these ye did it unto me," may we each one pray in our hearts that we have the Love of God so pure and changeless,

Blood of Christ so rich, so free,
Grace of God so strong, so boundless,
Magnify them all in me, even me.

In Memoriam

"Leaves have their time to fall, and flowers their time to wither, stars have their time to set, but Death, thou hast all seasons for thine own." Someone has said that death travels down the thickly settled highways and loves to aim at shining marks. We felt this was true in the passing of Miss Elsie K. Hunter, October 31, 1936. Her going was a loss to North Carolina Baptists, and particularly so to Woman's Missionary Union, in which she had served as Treasurer for seventeen years. Her entrance into the Eternal City was abundant, for through all eternity thousands will call her blessed.

It was Tennyson who beautifully and fittingly said of one, "God touched him and he slept." Just as fittingly can we say of our W. M. U. friends, to whom we pay tribute today—"God touched them and they slept." God's fingers touched forty-six precious treasures of W. M. U. during the past year. "They shall be mine, saith the Lord of Hosts in that day when I make up my jewels."

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

REPORT OF RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

We, the Baptist women of North Carolina, who have met in this our forty-seventh annual session of Woman's Missionary Union of this State, are deeply grateful for the privileges which have been ours during these days of Christian fellowship.

Just now we would try to express our appreciation to all those who have contributed to the comfort, happiness, and inspiration we have enjoyed as we have convened in this queenly city of Charlotte.

Not only to this church and its pastor, Dr. Luther Little, are we grateful, but to all the Baptist churches of Charlotte do we extend thanks for their unceasing efforts to make us feel so genuinely welcome. For the open doors of your homes we are deeply appreciative.

The local committee, with Mrs. P. F. Dawson as chairman, has so efficiently and so graciously ministered to our needs and desires.

The messages of inspiration have filled our hearts with a new determination to give Christ to the world. We would acknowledge humbly the blessings brought to us through the presence and messages of our missionaries—Mrs. W. E. Allen, of Brazil; Dr. C. W. Stumph, of New Mexico; Mrs. J. C. Powell, of Africa; and Dr. Y. C. Ching, of China, and of Dorothy Green, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Green, of Africa. We would express our profound gratitude first to Mrs. Carter Wright, South-wide Stewardship Chairman of Woman's Missionary Union, for her matchless message; to Miss Inabelle Coleman, Publicity Chairman of our Foreign Mission Board, for her stirring addresses; and to Mrs. W. N. Jones, President Emeritus of our State Woman's Missionary Union, and Dr. Ralph A. Herring, pastor of First Church, Winston-Salem, for their inspiring devotionals; and to Mr. M. A. Huggins for his challenging address.

All of these messages have brought to us a fresh glimpse of the needs of the world for Christ, and a new vision of our sublime tasks of carrying Christ to the world.

Once more we rejoice in the excellent reports of our State officers—Mrs. Edna R. Harris, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Ora Alford, Treasurer; Miss Mary Currin, Young People's Secretary. Others to whom we would extend thanks for their part on the program—Mrs. B. S. Blanton, Mrs. Luther Little, Mrs. H. M. Short, Rev. W. H. Williams, of this city; Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt, of Elkin; Mrs. B. Y. Tyner, of Raleigh; and to all volunteer workers for their splendid reports.

Then, too, we would extend our thanks to the G. A. of Allen Street Church for the beautiful and impressive pageant, and to Mrs. W. W. Jones, who directed them. We would not fail to mention the Boy Scouts and pages, who have been on duty every moment and performed their tasks so excellently.

We would also remember the distinct contribution to our meeting through the messages in song, and would thank those who rendered service in this capacity.

And to you, Mrs. Turner, our President, we offer our gratitude and praise for this first year of such noble service, so crowded with splendid achievements, so fragrant with beautiful memories, so filled with glorious promises. To you we pledge our love, our loyalty, and our prayers as we go from this church with a new sense of our commission from God, with a new purpose to bring the world to His feet. To all who have had any part in making this meeting the great success it has been, we offer our deepest appreciation.

We would not forget the beautiful flowers contributed by florists and the nicely prepared room by the Red Cross in case of emergency.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION FOR THE YEAR 1937

With a deep feeling of gratitude for the number of organizations added to our roll, the increased gifts of the past year and the spirit of loyalty and cooperation that have characterized our work, your committee makes the following recommendations for the coming year:

Watchword: Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts. Zechariah 4:6.

Hymn: Christ for the World We Sing.

First, That we follow as far as possible the plans and methods set forth in the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to Southern Baptist Convention, and that we emphasize in every way possible in our societies the "chief aims" of our Union—Prayer, Enlistment, Bible and Mission Study, Personal Service, Tithes and Offerings on the part of our entire constituency, and Missionary Education of Young People. That we reaffirm our responsibility as Christian citizens in declaring ourselves to stand for the moral standards set forth by our Union.

Second, Enlistment—"That we cooperate heartily in the Every Member Canvass of the church, and aid in introducing and supporting weekly envelope system where none exists, every precaution being taken against any budget system which would preclude or discourage the offerings of the W. M. U. Weeks of Prayer which offerings have been officially approved by the Southern Baptist Convention—or offerings for any other definite object fostered by the Woman's Missionary Union.

"That we seek to enlist every resident woman member of the church as a contributor to missions."

Third, Bible and Mission Study. Literature—Realizing the importance of definite Bible and mission study and the large part our mission magazines and mission study classes have had in the increased interest in mission work we urge an added emphasis on these things.

That we endeavor to increase the number of subscriptions to our mission magazines and the Biblical Recorder, our State paper.

Fourth, Personal Service—While we can report only the personal service done under the direction of the Personal Service committees we urge definite and directed personal service on the part of all Woman's Missionary Union members and that they help actively in evangelistic work in our churches and endeavor individually in all personal service activities to win souls to Christ.

Fifth, Missionary Education of Young People—That we follow whole-heartedly the new plans for teaching stewardship to our young people.

That we keep diligently and earnestly the Focus Week of each organization in the local church at the proper time.

That we have our State G. A. House Party June 6-9, and the State R. A. Camp, June 9-12, at Meredith College.

That each division appoint an alert, interested pastor to serve as Divisional R. A. Counsellor, who will cooperate with the Divisional young people's leader in promoting R. A. work in general and particularly in working up a Divisional R. A. Camp in summer or week-end Conclave in November.

That each Division have a G. A. House Party in the fall at the Baptist College in the Division if such is agreeable with college officials.

That as we look forward to the Golden Jubilee of Woman's Missionary Union, we determine confidently to make a worthy advance in number of organizations and gifts in each of our auxiliaries and seek earnestly to give to youth a world-wide vision of Christ's program.

Sixth, Contributions. That, as the work of the year 1937 will be reported at the Fiftieth Anniversary meeting or Jubilee of the Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to Southern Baptist Convention, to be held in Richmond, Virginia, in May, 1938, we ask all the members of our societies through their prayers, efforts, and gifts to endeavor to make this a notable year in our Woman's Missionary Union annals.

One Hundred Thousand Club. That we obtain as many memberships as we can to this Club, the purpose of which is to pay debts on Southern Baptist agencies. Individuals and societies can become members by paying one dollar per month or twelve dollars a year. This gift must be in addition to our gifts to Cooperative Program and the special offerings of our Woman's Missionary Union.

Special Offerings of the Woman's Missionary Union.

Believing that our special offerings with their seasons of prayer are a means of spiritual growth, and rejoicing at the large things that have been accomplished by them in our Southern Baptist mission fields, we would recommend that we faithfully continue their observance on the part of all societies. March Week of Prayer and the Annie W. Armstrong Offering for Home Missions; June 16, The Heck Memorial Offering; July or August, the offering for our Woman's Missionary Union Training School at Louisville, Ky., and for the Margaret Educational Fund for the children of our missionaries; September, Day of Prayer and offering for State Missions; November 29-December 3, the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering with its Week of Prayer and special study course.

Expense Fund. A special offering for rent of rooms occupied by Woman's Missionary Union and for traveling expenses of Union representatives and for expenses of our annual meeting is asked from each society in the first or second quarter of each year. An itemized account of this fund is published in the minutes of the Woman's Missionary Union in the report of the Treasurer.

Heck Memorial. Four thousand dollars of this offering, taken on or near June 16, Miss Heck's birthday, will be appropriated to the rebuilding of the Old North Gate Church, Shanghai, China, where Dr. and Mrs. M. T. Yates and so many of our North Carolina missionaries have labored. Any sum above $4,000.00 to be appropriated by the Executive Committee of the Woman's Missionary Union.

Apportionment.

That we take as our apportionment to the Cooperative Program		$132,600.00
To the W. M. U. Training School, Louisville, Ky., current expenses		1,200.00
To the W. M. U. Training School, Louisville, Ky., six scholarships, including the Louis Castlebury scholarship		1,200.00
To the Margaret Educational Fund.....		1,200.00
To the State Expense Fund of Woman's Missionary Union		1,600.00
		$137,800.00

Aim for Year—Cooperative Program and all Special Offerings.

That, we take as our financial aim for the year 1937 the sum of $225,000.00. This amount to include all gifts to the Cooperative Program and all special offerings of the Woman's Missionary Union.

That each society endeavor to make a definite increase in gifts each year. Apportionments to be based on gifts to Cooperative Program only and for 1937 this apportionment be 5% increase over the 1936 gifts to Cooperative Program.

We recommend that hereafter we adopt the plan of entertainment of the Baptist State Convention, the number of delegates from our organization to remain the same.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

I am very thankful, after a four months leave of absence, to be able to make this report. I would express my gratitude to our Recording Secretary, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, who so ably supplied for me, and to Misses Ora Alford, Mary Currin, and Cherrie Pearce upon whom fell added tasks in closing the year's work and compiling data for reports.

In preparing this report of the work of Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, I reviewed, somewhat, the work of missionary societies that since the beginning, fifty-two years ago, have grown strong and deep-rooted in Kingdom work; of societies half that old now strong and sturdy; of societies of all ages down these years, of the missionary organizations for our young people that are to be the power houses of help in future Kingdom work. As is said of the great redwood trees of the west, centuries old when Pontius Pilate washed his hands and turned the Son of Man back to His persecutors, "this tree has lived through the most stormy and significant events in the history of the human race," so may it be said our union has lived through the most stirring and significant events in the history of North Carolina and Southern Baptists. Fifty years may seem a long time for a society to function, but as we face the problem of interesting and enlisting every Christian in the task of winning a lost world to Christ, we feel as the scientist say of the great thousand-year-old tree, "we are no more than just out of God's Kindergarten."

Very impressive are the "wind-blown" cedar, cypress, eucalyptus and poplar trees acting as wind-breaks that protect the tender trees which bear luscious fruits for the good of the world. Woman's Missionary Societies these fifty-two years have been blown and beaten and bent by the winds of discouragement, opposition and criticism, but born of a deep conviction that all ages needed a missionary vision, they have encouraged, helped and stimulated thousands of young people to live, to give, to go through their gifts to missions, and directed many young lives into joyous service.

The redwood tree is a family tree; normally you do not find them standing apart and alone, but around one tree hundreds of years old circled by younger ones struggling to reach up and up and out and out; so about every W. M. S. there should be all the organizations for young people. We do have 225 full-graded Unions, and thirty-one of them did not slacken during the year and were A-1. During the Southern W. M. U. Jubilee Year our goal is to have 300 full-graded Unions. Our A-1 Unions are: Ahoskie; Albemarle First; Asheboro; Badin; Burlington First; Cashie; Colerain; Conway; Creekville; Cliffside; Durham, First; Durham, Grace; Durham, Temple; Durham, Watts Street; Harris Chapel (Tar River); Hendersonville; Lumberton, First; Madison; Merrimon Avenue, Asheville; Millbrook; New Bridge; New Friendship; North Wilkesboro; Sanford, First; Shiloh (Chowan); Siler City; Thomasville, First; North Winston-Salem; Southside, Winston-Salem; Waughtown, Winston-Salem.

All praise to the organizations that foster and strengthen a new or weaker organization. Our fostering must be taken more seriously for there is always the chilling winds of indifference and discouragement, and the W. M. S. must be the "wind-break" for such winds. The scrubby sagebushes on the desert, bent by the winds, act as "wind-breaks" to the sand, so even the small societies standing firm in the belief of a world lost without Christ can gather about them the impressionable young, and implant a missionary vision, thereby turning and directing their interest and energies to Christ's commands, "Come ye," and "Go ye."

We are grateful that we had more than enough new organizations to offset our usual losses and closed the year with 3,084 organizations.

A tree planted which soon dies is a disappointment, a hope frustrated. Be sure we tend with care these organizations, and hold every one. We gained in number of A-1 organizations, having 550.

We barely reached one-fourth of our goal of 5,000 paid-up memberships to Hundred Thousand Club during 1936 and 1937, but since our State Convention is now promoting the plan our women feel they will have the pastor's support and we shall again try to secure the 2,500 paid-up memberships Mr. Huggins has asked us to take for 1938.

As the story of seasons and drouths is told by the circles in the cross section of a great tree, so prosperous and lean years are told by our gifts. A wide circle will be shown by 1937, for our gifts exceeded the year before, reaching a grand total of $235,890.11. We were dubious when we set $225,000 as our 1937 goal; but the fact that we went more than $10,000 beyond our goal, and $17,590 beyond 1936, encourages us to believe that our high goal of $268,000 for the Golden Jubilee will be easily reached.

For the first time we had reports from churches where every resident woman member made a gift to missions. We had fifteen: Brantley's Grove, Cool Springs, Ephesus, Watts Street, Four Oaks, Grandin, Hillsboro First, Hollister, Kennedy Home, Lillington, Menola, Nashville, New Friendship, Bear Creek, Sandy Plains.

We feel that the response to the emergency call of Foreign Mission Board in November explains why our Lottie Moon Christmas Offering did not quite come up to our aim; and we rejoice that there was an increase of $7,000 to the Coöperative Program.

The Annie W. Armstrong Offering to Home Missions exceeded the 1936, as did the special State Mission Offering. We must not rest upon laurels already won. The light that shines brightest at home sends out the farthest beams.

Do you like to see in print: "North Carolina is the richest, ripest mission field in the South"? The Catholics publish that in their journals. Woman's Missionary Union can make a wind-break against the invading influences of this day and time, and though we be bent and "wind-blown," let's work and give joyously to win and live for Christ and His Kingdom in this State of ours. Let's make "duty a joy and joy a duty." Let us be

"Trees whose hungry mouths are pressed
Against the earth's sweet flowering breast.
A tree that looks at God all day;
And lifts her leafy arms to pray."

ORA ALFORD, Treasurer.

Young People's Secretary, Miss Mary Currin. Adopted.
Miss Currin presented and stressed the fostering of Junior organizations.

"MARCHING ON IN MISSIONARY EDUCATION"

In his stirring volume "Youth Marches," written after a recent trip around the world, Daniel Poling says: "Over the world youth marches; marches at the call of personalities; or for causes that have come alive in living martyrs; marches again at the call of a Garibaldi patriotism; and marches, marches inevitably, against other youth; marches for war and not for peace. I have followed the banners; I have caught at least something of the spectacle. I believe that I can see clearly tragic destinations. Can the tragedy be averted? Can the course of the marchers be changed?"

What are we going to do about it? What can be done about it? Is there an alternative?

There is an alternative, and there is only one alternative. Jesus Christ is that alternative. He alone, when revealed and released, has personality and power attractive to youth beyond the personality and power of any human dictator. He wins over all the dictators. His program, above all other programs, presents to young men and young women the opportunity to invest life sacrificially and triumphantly. Christianity is hard, alluringly hard. It is harder than Communism. It is harder than Fascism. And "Youth's Darling is Danger." But those who march with Jesus Christ march never against one another. They meet with hostile purpose on no frontier, they move irresistibly with the tide of truth toward that final unity which was the purpose and prayer, and the very passion unto death of Jesus Christ. Here, then, is the only hope for the peace and the supreme opportunity of the Christian church; for civilization's ultimatum is, "Christ or Chaos!"

In the ranks of Woman's Missionary Union thousands of youthful marchers are catching a vision of life—a march with the Master. Through missionary programs, emphasis on Stewardship, mission study, personal service, missionary Bible study, the program and the personality of Jesus Christ is being released to youth.

A Mighty Army—Our Organizations

A mighty army—women, young women in the Y. W. A. walking the "together way" in local church, on college campus, in hospitals; girls of G. A., gayly but earnestly tripping the pathway of Star Ideals, bright faces of little Sunbeams starting in the onward march, the marching feet of R. A. boys on the King's business. Because many Woman's Missionary Societies realize that the missionary movement moves forward on the feet of youth, there are 1,963 young people's missionary organizations in North Carolina: 556 Sunbeam Bands, 627 Girls' Auxiliaries, 354 Royal Ambassador Chapters, and 426 Young Woman's Auxiliaries. During 1937 our G. A.'s and R. A.'s gained new recruits. What about our Sunbeam Bands? Did not some leaders fain along the wayside? Perhaps some Sunbeam Bands which were begun so enthusiastically in the Fiftieth Anniversary

Sunbeam Year did not really begin to grow. Let us march on clasping tiny hands of Sunbeams. Our College Y. W. A.'s now number seven and our Grace McBride Y. W. A. at the Baptist Hospital is doing splendidly, but three others organized recently seem to be suffering for lack of real fostering. How many youthful marchers do we have in the ranks of W. M. U.? Girls' Auxiliary is in the forefront with 11,789 members; Sunbeams, 10,177; Y. W. A.'s, 6,765; and R. A.'s, 3,988. During this Golden Jubilee Year, let every organization make at least a 10 per cent increase in membership and keep every member we now have. We had 98 A-1 Sunbeam Bands; 153 Girls' Auxiliaries led all the rest; 77 Y. W. A.'s and 68 R. A. Chapters, making a total of 396 A-1 organizations. Making Grade B on the Standard were 199 organizations and reaching Grade C were 355. More marchers in the missionary ranks! Let us go steadfastly on in our great program of training in missions!

Stewardship

Marching on in missionary education means teaching faithfully to youth the meaning and practice of giving—giving all to Christ, but in particular giving one-tenth and more of any money we may have. Among our young people we have 1,690 reported tithers.

Our young people gave through the Coöperative Program $21,277.35 and to Special Offering $13,806.73, making a grand total of $35,084.08, a decided gain over 1936 gifts. Thus it is evident that our W. M. U. young people are being faithfully trained to magnify first of all the church. That amount was given as follows: Sunbeam, $4,999.91; G. A.'s, $8,212.61; Y. W. A.'s, $17,167.54; R. A.'s, $4,704.02. Our College Y. W. A.'s gave liberally, particularly to the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. We have every reason to believe that the new stewardship education plans with their important memorization of Stewardship Scriptures for each organization, with its appeal to originality and individual work on stewardship posters, scrapbooks, and songs were effectively used during 1937. More than 100 churches reported having a Church Stewardship Night with Sunbeams, G. A.'s, R. A.'s, and Y. W. A.'s, presenting before the entire church an informing stewardship program, a culmination of their stewardship activities in their respective organizations. Many churches failed to report their stewardship activities.

Mission Study

Our marching orders come today as a clarion call, "Go ye into all the world." Through the missionary programs, individual work in Forward Steps of Girls' Auxiliary and Ranking System of Royal Ambassador Chapters, through attractive programs, mission study and Bible study, our young people are learning to obey intelligently and eagerly the command of the Great Captain. Sunbeams had 275 classes; Royal Ambassador chapters, 135; Girls' Auxiliary, 393;

Y. W. A., 191. We regret that so many counselors do not lead their young people to explore the world through mission study. Many Intermediate G. A.'s and R. A.'s have learned through God's World Plan, their own Bible study book, that each individual Christian must march for Christ. Reading Stamp Cards seem to have made a "comeback" with G. A.'s leading in this activity. Let every organization have at least one mission study class during this Jubilee year!

World Comrades and the Window of Y. W. A.

Courageous marchers of other days and in other lands come to us monthly through the pages of our missionary magazines. Best ways of "marching on in missions" are brought to counselors of G. A., R. A., and Sunbeam Bands, news of other young people who march along with us here in the Southland; missionary programs which demand prayerful planning and consecrated ingenuity—all these are ours in World Comrades and The Window of Y. W. A. North Carolina marched to victory in subscriptions to World Comrades in 1937, but lacked only 10 subscriptions reaching our quota for The Window of Y. W. A. Let us achieve a golden victory in 1938 as we seek to have three World Comrades coming to each Sunbeam Band, Girls' Auxiliary, and R. A. Chapter, and one-fourth of the active members of every Y. W. A. receiving The Window of Y. W. A.

State G. A. House Party

The "miss enrolled in missions" through Girls' Auxiliary is not only a step ahead of the average girl in knowledge, love and dedication to the great missionary program of Jesus, but walking in the shining pathway of G. A. affords her many joys. Outstanding among these is the annual State G. A. House Party at Meredith College, sponsored by our State W. M. U. From June 6-9 nearly 400 G. A.'s and many counselors spent happy, helpful hours of mission study, methods classes, handicraft, worship in the early morning and at twilight time. Helping splendidly the young people's secretary were many counselors and outstanding missionaries and Southwide leaders. The following led our girls into "Gateways" beautiful during House Party days: Mrs. Mary Lawton Whisenhunt, formerly a missionary to China, Miss Pearle Bourne, Associate Young People's Secretary of Southern W. M. U., Miss Emma Leachman, field worker of the Home Mission Board, Miss Mildred Thomas, educational director of West Durham Baptist Church, Durham, Miss Martha Redfern, Miss Kathleen Johnson, Miss Evelyn Lassiter, Miss Jessie Currin, Miss Louise Bashford, Miss Cherrie Pearce, College students—all made our 1937 House Party one of the best in history. "Star Campers," those G. A.'s who measured up to the mark in every activity every hour of the House Party, number 182 girls. Anne Harris, Intermediate G. A. of Hayes-Barton Church, Raleigh, and granddaughter of our Corresponding Secretary, was chosen Queen of North Carolina G. A.'s. The twenty-fifth anniversary year of Girls' Auxiliary is here. Let us make it count in every church, association, and division for enlarging and deepening the influence of Girls' Auxiliary. It is hoped that in every association on the night of April 15, 1938, a Silver Anniversary banquet will be given in honor of this attractive daughter of Woman's Missionary Union. Let us send our choice G. A.'s to the Silver Anniversary House Party, June 5-8, at Meredith. On that evening a message will be sent by radio to every G. A. Let us have "Silver Trails among the Gold" in every church with a Woman's Missionary Society, enlisting all Baptist girls in the "best service of the best King."

State Royal Ambassador Camp

"On a march with the Master of men" are many Baptist boys in our State, enlisted under the R. A. banner. Their first State Camp was at Meredith, June 9-12. They and their counselors "Followed Trails into all the world" with Rev. J. L. White, of Elizabeth City, as chief guide. What a splendid guide and how the boys followed! Rev. Forrest C. Feezor pointed us early each morning to "Jesus the Way." Rev. Paul Porter, Brazil, and Peter Lee, China, led us along trails of missionary adventure and heroism. Rev. R. C. Foster, Leaksville, and the young people's secretary, with the able assistance of Mr. O. E. Lee, Greensboro, taught R. A.'s to march together in having better R. A. Chapters. With E. J. Holder, Wake Forest, Stuart Simms, Raleigh, and Rev. James Butler, Raleigh, to direct the recreation, music, and handicraft, the days passed by too swiftly. Already many R. A.'s are ready to march to Raleigh for their second R. A. Camp. At least 300 boys are expected. In the Asheville Division, June 3-5, Mrs. E. C. Coker, Divisional Young People's Leader, and Rev. Fred Forrester, pastor at Cullowhee, with the help of interested pastors and counselors, had a splendid R. A. Camp at Ridgecrest. We rejoice in this fine achievement.

Southwide Y. W. A. Camp

The call to "Come up Higher" was heard and answered by nearly 200 Y. W. A.'s as they went up to Southwide Y. W. A. Camp. That they might go "from firm foundations to far horizons" came to be the deep desire of many choice North Carolina Y. W. A.'s and their splendid counselors. In this Jubilee Year, let us go up 250 strong. June 21-July 1 are the dates for our Golden Jubilee Y. W. A. Camp.

Special Guests

Brave and faithful followers of Christ sounded His call to youth in various meetings during 1937. Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Hickory, field worker for Southern W. M. U., was the indeed helpful guest of the young people's secretary as we visited College Y. W. A.'s in October. She also represented the Southern W. M. U. at the five divisional meetings in October. Other guests were Rev. and Mrs. C. K. Djang, China, Miss Pearle Johnson, China, Mrs. C. K. Dozier, Japan, Mrs. W. E. Allen, Brazil.

Divisional and associational leaders did exceptional work in planning and carrying out a young people's rally in 30 associations during July and August. Several leaders also had associational study mission camps for their young people. All these activities stimulated and inspired counselors and members. The progressive work of associational leaders is shown in several associational Y. W. A. banquets, forerunners in some cases of the Y. W. A. Council. The Y. W. A.'s of Greensboro and Hickory have a City Wide Y. W. A. Council. The Rowan and Haywood associations have wide-awake associational Councils. Let us have more in 1938.

For the goodness of God, for the unfailing help of leaders and counselors, I give grateful thanks.

"He hath sounded forth the trumpet which shall never call retreat! Our God is Marching On!" "Youth follows the trumpets. Let us march on in missionary education of youth!"

Message of the President: "Forward With Christ," Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Greensboro.

FORWARD WITH CHRIST

We have come to a great and glorious hour in the history of Woman's Missionary Union as we join this year in the Jubilee celebration of united missionary endeavor.

You will recall that two years ago we observed the Fiftieth Anniversary of our State organization. At that time Mrs. Jones completed the history of our State W. M. U. and, if that history is fresh in your minds, you remember that it was not until 1891 that we were permitted to become a part of the Southwide organization, though Miss Heck was present at Richmond in 1888.

In thinking of a theme for this very significant meeting, "Forward with Christ" was suggested, and, looking back over the watchwords of past years, I was interested to find that fifty years ago our leaders had chosen "Go Forward" as their watchword. So, it seemed especially fitting that we should again emphasize this thought and I bring it to you with the prayer that we may catch that same spirit of devotion and consecration of purpose which characterized our leaders of long ago.

The program of Christ has always been a forward looking program. Always has He led into new fields of service, higher planes of living, and greater consecration. If we are to go forward with Christ, we must be willing to go where He leads. "How can two walk together except they be agreed?" From the last message of Miss Heck to the Southern W. M. U. I bring the following words:

"See to it, only, that you listen to His voice and follow only where Christ leads:

"Be gentle in your personal lives, faithful and shining.

"Be joyful, knowing His purposes are good, not evil, to His children.

"Be prayerful in your planning.

"Be patient and persistent in your fulfillment.

"Endeavor to see the needs of the world from God's standpoint.

"Plan not for the year, but for the years.

"Think long thoughts.

"Strive for the conversion of those around you as faithfully as for the heathen.

"Train the children for world-wide service.

"Lead the young women gently in places of joyous responsibility.

"Bring all your powers into the best service of the best King.

"Thus shall your work abide and be abundantly blessed of God to your own joy and the joy of the world."

Today may we consider some of the ways in which we may go forward with Christ.

First, let us go forward with Him in vision. Jesus said, the field is the world. This was a new teaching, a radical teaching, in Jesus' day. It still is.

To the group gathered around Jesus, the field was the Jewish nation, chosen of God, separate and especially favored. They gloried in Abraham as their father, but disregarded the promise that in his seed should all nations be blessed, just as they disregarded the many other promises of a world Saviour. Today many have a vision just as limited, a vision bounded by country, hedged in by race, and restricted by social barriers. Some there were who caught the vision of the master. Through hardships and opposition they followed the vision and gave to us our organization. Others have joined the ranks, and today we may truly say the little one has become a thousand.

As we look back over the years, we have come a long way, in numbers, in gifts, in achievement, in vision. As we look forward, the way is long, the way is hard, the goal far distant. The road leads ever onward and ever upward. We need to stand again with the Master and look out over the field, not only on its vast size, but on its great need. Our splendid work has barely touched the fringes of the countries in which we labor. In our own land are vast numbers untouched by the gospel. At our very doors are hosts of unchurched and unevangelized, while in our churches are the unenlisted and untrained. In our own ranks are the indifferent and worldly-minded. Surely ours indeed is a great task because the field is so vast and the need so urgent.

From another State comes the story of a twelve-year-old girl who went to visit her father who was soon to be electrocuted. While in the city she attended religious services and heard the gospel story for the first time. When she returned home some kind friends met her at the bus station. She told them of her experiences and asked the heart searching question, "I want to know why we can't get that man God I heard about, in the city, to come down to our country." You say that was in another state. Yes, it was, but it was in the United States, it was in our Southland, and it might easily have been in our own good State. Coming as you do, fresh from the Week of Prayer for Home Missions, you know that this story would be possible in much of our territory.

Again, may we go forward with Christ in compassion. As we read the story of Jesus, we find over and over again the expression, "He had compassion." Sometimes it was for an individual. Often it was for the multitude. How does the multitude affect you? Stand today with the Master and look out upon the world with its teeming multitude—a multitude of sinning, suffering, striving, starving souls. Are you moved with compassion? Or, are you filled with indifference, perhaps aversion, and so pass by on the other side? Many do. Are you moved with greed? Some are, and, from the strife, suffering and misfortune of the multitude, their coffers are filled. Your reaction to the multitude is a great revealer of your own character. As Jesus saw the multitude it awakened in Him compassion. And what is compassion? It is pity plus, pity plus activity, it is doing something about it. It is what the Samaritan felt when he found the wounded man by the roadside. He did something about it. He gave his time, his money and his personal care.

In the life of Jesus three very definite results of His compassion are recorded. We read that He had compassion on the multitude because they were faint and hungry, and He fed them. Perhaps there has never been a time when Christians had so great an opportunity to feed the hungry multitudes. At our very doors they wait. But even more insistent and appealing is the cry for bread which comes through our missionaries in far away China. As in the long ago, so today, the Lord has placed in our hands the bread, and again we hear Him say, "Give ye them to eat." Let us go forward in this ministry of compassion. Our missionaries write that one dollar will feed a Chinese for one month. Again we read that "Jesus went forth and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion towards them, and he healed their sick." The work of healing has always had a place in our mission program. The saying that "China was opened at the point of a lancet" has been repeatedly fulfilled in individual instances. Even before we had a medical missionary, our regular missionaries ministered to many who were ill. Dr. Ayers, our first medical missionary to China, tells how the Chinese gathered around to watch him wash and dress the wound of a man left at his door. How they marveled at this man, sent from a far country by the God of love of whom they had never heard. This was the strangest news they had ever heard. The news spread and they came from far and near. Many were healed, and many heard the story of the God of love, the God of compassion, for our medical work has always been both an expression of compassion and an avenue for spiritual teaching. Today in China our workers are still carrying on, though some of our hospitals are in ruins.

"Missionary A. R. Gallimore, of South China, tells the following incident: 'Dr. Leonard B. Greentree, a young physician from America, was traveling around the world, but upon reaching Hongkong he was so impressed with the sufferings among the soldiers and civilians in the path of the army of aggression that he left the ship and engaged passage on an airplane and flew to Hangkow, there to offer his services as an independent rescue worker.' Chivalry, bravery and generous impulses are not dead."

But we do not have to go to the far away lands of Africa and China for this gracious ministry. Here in our own State in Winston-Salem stands our Baptist Hospital, greatly blessed in its ministry of healing. So greatly blessed that even now it is looking to enlargement. I bespeak for it a continued and increased Mother's Day offering, and a place in your prayers.

As great as was the compassion of Jesus in feeding the multitudes, and in healing their diseases, His compassion reached its height as He looked upon them and saw them as sheep without a shepherd. It was for this He had come to earth, not to feed the hungry, as necessary as is bread; not to heal the sick, as essential as is health; but to seek the lost, to lead them to fountains of living waters, to give to them the living bread, and to teach them that there is a disease more deadly even than leprosy—the disease of sin. This, too, is our great privilege, and this year it is the major emphasis of our Personal Service. A story comes from a pastor called to visit a distressed widow, the mother of nine children:

"The father and the oldest son, crazed by alcohol, had killed each other in a pistol duel. The mother was confined to bed with cancer. When I inquired about her physical needs, I found that all of them had been met. The kindhearted physician had supplied her bountifully with medicines, the civic clubs and religious organizations had brought clothing, coal and food enough to meet the needs of the entire family. Seeing that there was nothing I could do to add to her physical comforts, I asked, 'Are you a Christian? Have you been begotten of God unto a new nature? Have you repented of your sins and trusted the Saviour for salvation?' She responded by turning her face to the wall and weeping profusely. Presently she subdued her emotions and looking plaintively up into my face, said, 'I am grateful that you asked those questions. I know that I am a sinner, a lost woman, and that in all probability I must go out to meet God within the next thirty days. I am grateful for fuel and food, for clothing and medicine provided by kind friends, but what do these things mean to a woman who knows that she faces the future without hope and without God? Oh, kind sir, I want to know Him in whom there is forgiveness for a sinful woman. Tell me how I might find Him.' In the simplest language I made plain that to them who repent and believe on His name is given the right to become the children of God. She was saved then and there, gloriously saved, as the light on her sorrow-furrowed face attested!"

The compassion of Jesus for the shepherdless multitudes moved Him to say to His disciples, "Pray ye the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth laborers into his harvest." For years that was the burden of our prayers. And how they were answered! What a glorious list of missionaries we have had from North Carolina! But how few there have been in recent years. Bowed down with debt, our Boards have had to curtail instead of enlarge. All our fields have been undermanned and lacking in equipment. Then came the Hundred Thousand Club, and light is beginning to dawn. May we go forward in tithing the debt. Much has been done but there remaineth much still before us. Our W. M. U. has not reached her goal in memberships. We do not want to fail in this Jubilee year.

Lastly, I would call you to go forward with renewed purpose and consecration to the task before us. From the first recorded words of Jesus, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" we see Him steadfastly set to accomplish His mission. Through His brief, busy life we find Him ever pressing on. Always there was the urge to carry the message on and on. No hardship daunted Him. Neither enmity of foes, nor loving solicitude of friends turned Him from His course. Steadfastly was His face set to His task, and finally just as steadfastly did He turn His steps toward Jerusalem and its cross. May this unfaltering courage be ours today. There are difficulties ahead. Let us face them. The command of our Lord rings out today just as clearly as of old, "Go—and I will go with you." The need has not changed. So far as we know God has no other plan for sending the message. He is counting on us. Today as never before Christianity is being recognized. It is an encouraging word which comes from that world Christian, Dr. Robert E. Speer. Speaking recently in Greensboro, he said that people in all lands are turning from their heathen religions to Jesus Christ, modernism is on the wane, and leading exponents are today avowing their faith in a supernatural God. In China the splendid Christian character of General Chiang Kai-Shek and his wife have made a definite impression on the world. President Roosevelt is quoted as saying to a group of ministers in Washington: "I must make a confession. I did not realize until the last few years how much influence America has in the world. I did not really, deep down in my heart, believe very much in church missions in other lands. Today I do. I have seen what American church missions have accomplished in many countries, not only on the religious side, but on the side of health and education."

The example of Christians in their faithfulness and sacrifice is giving a new insight into the fruits of mission work. We read of lovely Mrs. Ling going about calm and serene in her ministry to the distressed in Shanghai. Dr. Ching, who was with us in Charlotte last year, is back in Shanghai at old North Gate Church, preaching to the refugees crowded there for safety, and he writes that when he thinks of the Cross, what they are suffering is but nothing.

The war which has so greatly disrupted our work, destroyed property, and necessitated the unwilling return of some of our missionaries, has been used of God for the spread of the gospel in two very definite ways. As mentioned, those seeking refuge in the cities are hearing the gospel for the first time, and the Christians fleeing into the country for food and safety are carrying the message of the gospel even as it was carried in the early days of the church. We marvel at the reports that come from our missionaries of the work being done, of schools carrying on amid the roar of airplanes and the boom of guns. We thank God for the fruits we have won in this land. Dr. Maddry writes: "We must set our house in order and get ready for a great advance in mission endeavor in China when this unjust and cruel war is over. Every door will be open for the preaching of the Gospel when the storm passes. Every letter from China brings the good news that the people are everywhere ready and anxious to hear the Gospel. We firmly believe that somehow in God's own time and way, it will all work out for the 'furtherance' of the Gospel. We should begin now to strengthen our missionary force in China and be ready for the challenging day just ahead. New missionaries should begin the study of the language so that they may be ready to preach and teach the Gospel as soon as the last battle is over.

"The greatest day ever known for preaching the Gospel to China is just dawning—God help us to be ready for it!"

May we gird ourselves for the task. For this were we organized. To this have we given fifty years of consecrated service. Never has the work been perfectly done. Never have our women been entirely enlisted. Never have those enlisted been completely surrendered.

But we have not faltered, we have not turned back. We shall not now. Outstanding leaders we have had. Faithful followers have made the work possible. The work has gone on, and a glorious task it is.

Today native Christians and missionaries are following Jesus Christ in places of hardship and danger.

This past year our hearts have been deeply stirred by the depleted ranks of our missionaries in Africa. Yellow fever claimed both Lucille Raegan and Frances Jones. What could be done in such an emergency. Only one person there was fitted with the language and equipped to work immediately and he was in this country physically disabled. But when Scott Patterson was approached he said, "Yes, here am I, send me—all that is left of me is gladly dedicated to the land which I love so much." Perhaps some of you were present at Ridgecrest last year when he was set apart. Someone in describing it said: "There before my eyes was a man on crutches—lamed for life because of gallant service in Africa—his face all aglow with a light never on land or sea—joyfully casting himself into a breach where two young missionaries had died of yellow fever and three others were prostrate!"

Mrs. Patterson stood by her husband's side, saying any Christian would be willing to do as much, and quoted the Scripture, "Neither will I make a sacrifice unto the Lord my God of that which costs me nothing."

Writing back, he says: "I regret I did not come sooner. Africa seems wide open. In three years Baptists must double their staff of missionaries. The hour is at hand. We must go forward."

Today we who are at home in ease and safety have the opportunity of going forward with Christ in consecrated living and consecrated giving.

Is This a Time to Halt?

Is this the time, O Church of Christ, to sound
Retreat? To arm with weapons crude and blunt
The men and women who have borne the brunt
Of truth's fierce strife, and nobly held their ground?
Is this the time to halt, when all around
Horizons lift, new destinies confront,
Stern duties wait our nation, never wont
To play the laggard, when God's will was found?

No! rather, strengthen stakes and lengthen cords,
Enlarge thy plans and gifts, O thou elect,
And to thy kingdom come for such a time!
The earth with all its fullness is the Lord's.
Great things attempt for Him, great things expect,
Whose love imperial is, whose power sublime.

REPORT OF PERSONAL SERVICE—1937

This marks the twenty-eighth year since Personal Service was incorporated in our W. M. U. organization. It is listed as one of the six fundamentals, and no society can be standard unless it engages in this most important work, which blesses both the benefactor and the beneficiary if it is carried out in the spirit of our Master.

During our Golden Jubilee year we are stressing certain goals in Personal Service. (1) A study of "Personal Service Guide" or "Adventuring in Personal Service" (25c each at Baptist Book Store, Raleigh, N. C.). (2) Every society doing directed Personal Service. (3) Special emphasis on soul winning and work among Negroes.

The first is easy, for leaders can secure copies, read and have classes in these books. If your association has a Personal Service Chairman, she should try to get each society in her territory to have a Personal Service Chairman or committee and do directed Personal Service. If there is no Personal Service Chairman, then let the Associational Superintendent appoint one and acquaint her with her duties. To emphasize soul winning is to get at the chief aim and value of Personal Service. Jesus was moved with compassion and love when He saw the multitudes who knew Him not as Saviour. How thrice blessed will the work be when we administer the spiritual along with the material.

"'Tis the human touch in the world that counts,
The touch of your hand and mine;
It's worth far more to the fainting soul
Than shelter or bread or wine;
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er,
And bread lasts but for a day,
But the sound of the voice and the touch of the hand
Live on in the soul away."

Almost every society throughout the bounds of North Carolina can aid the Negroes in some way. A very practical way will be to teach a mission study class for their W. M. S. Let the pastor or president of their W. M. S. know you are willing to perform this service and see how they will respond. Many other forms of service for Negroes can be engaged in if it is done tactfully.

Let love for God and humanity motivate us in Personal Service work, for without love it is impossible to please God and service is empty. Compassion must fill our souls in our efforts to point men to the Saviour, who alone can redeem them from sin.

The women and children of our Woman's Missionary Union have made possible a fine record of Personal Service work done the past year, and we confidently expect a much better record for 1938.

Free literature on Personal Service may be had from W. M. U. Headquarters in Raleigh, N. C.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. L. GREAVES,

Chairman of Personal Service.

Stewardship, presented by Mrs. W. D. Bostick in the absence of Mrs. J. G. Boomhour, State Stewardship Chairman. Adopted.

REPORT ON STEWARDSHIP—1937

As facts and figures are compiled at the close of each year, many of us await with eagerness the information which they reveal. For it is these figures which indicate how far we have progressed toward our goals.

There are some phases of our Stewardship work, as we compare the totals with those of last year, which give us cause for encouragement. The number of reported tithers, 5,709, represents an increase of almost 300 over last year. However, when we consider that one of our stewardship goals for our Golden Jubilee is 10,000 reported tithers by the close of 1938 we realize that it is a challenge to every stewardship chairman. We urge, therefore, every one who has the responsibility for this phase of our work to give her untiring and faithful coöperation to the attainment of this goal.

The loyalty of our W. M. U. organizations in securing 900 paid-up debt-paying memberships is being demonstrated. May we make a concerted effort to obtain our full quota by the close of 1938.

The plans for the Stewardship Education of our young people is one of the golden opportunities of our Golden Jubilee. May we suggest that every stewardship chairman coöperate with the leaders and counselors of our young people's organizations in promoting bigger and better plans for the stewardship education of our young people.

One of the marks of progress is the fact that there were 15 Woman's Missionary Societies reported as having secured a gift to missions from every resident woman member of the church. This requires patient, persistent effort. May we continue our efforts to reach the unenlisted and relate them to the great missionary enterprise.

Our Chief Aims for 1938

1. Intercessory prayer for the convicting and constraining power of the Holy Spirit on the money question.
2. That we take as our Golden Jubilee Year goals 10,000 covenant-signing tithers by the close of 1938.
3. That during 1938 we make it our major effort to promote the financial aims adopted by the Union as its Golden Jubilee Goals.
4. Special endeavor to help with the Stewardship plans of our young people.
5. Encouraging churches to adopt the Prove Me Plan.
6. Continued efforts to secure a gift to missions from every resident woman member.

MRS. J. G. BOOMHOUR,
Stewardship Chairman.

MISSION STUDY REPORT

We come again to render an account of another important department of W. M. U. work—our Mission Study.

The year's classes total 2,063, with 12,168 seals awarded for completion of work; 102 completed Course I and 53 Course II. There was a loss of three classes as compared to 1936, and we regret that fewer awards were sent out. We regret that our records are incomplete. They are accurate so far as we have reports, but many of our organizations fail to report the work.

In order that we may go forward in Mission Study, we would call attention to some weak points in our study plans: Too few classes are using our regular certificate course books, but are content to meet the Standard of Excellence requirements by the use of two small books issued preceding the Foreign and Home Weeks of Prayer. We urge mission study chairmen, associational and local, to emphasize the study of these regularly outlined courses to a larger degree during our Jubilee Year, 1938.

We see a weakness in too little mission study work in our young people's organizations. We see a great weakness in the increased number of organizations that are content to take the minimum requirement of time for a class, and in the number of organizations that are content to have only classes required for meeting the standard, when they should not be satisfied with less than a year-round mission study program.

We do not advance unless we have worthy aims, so following Jeremiah's command: "Set ye up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations," we want to proclaim in every organization, association, and division our Jubilee goals in Mission Study:

Five hundred Pioneer classes.

Emphasis on study of required books.

A Mission Study Institute in each association.

A report of every class to Association Mission Study Chairman, and to W. M. U. Headquarters.

Forward Plans for Woman's Missionary Union Specials:

Margaret Fund—Mrs. T. M. Pittman. Mrs. Pittman recognized the Division Chairmen present, and introduced Miss Kathleen Mallory, who explained a change of plan in contributing to the Margaret Fund. Scholarship fund to be provided through the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions and the Annie W. Armstrong Offering for Home Missions. Money of students to be sent to the State Chairman instead of to the students themselves.

REPORT OF MARGARET FUND CHAIRMAN

A change in plan of the Margaret Fund was made by the adoption of the following resolutions of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention in May, 1937:

1. That we discontinue seeking money for Margaret Fund scholarships through state apportionments.
2. That in the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering there be listed $16,000 for the Margaret Fund.
3. That in the 1938 Annie W. Armstrong Offering there be included an item of $6,000 for the Margaret Fund.

8. That we return to the original purpose of prayer, guidance and watchful tender care of students rather than the present pronounced appeal for money and other material gifts to students.

9. Beginning with the next scholastic year, we recommend that no student be assigned to states, but that the state chairman keep in close touch with students attending colleges in her state, and that she confer with the Southwide Chairman when emergencies arise.

These five recommendations are the ones bringing special changes in our plans. North Carolina has been so organized for Margaret Fund work by the appointment of special chairmen in the five Divisions that it seemed best not to break up that organization. Consequently, the Margaret Fund students in colleges in our State were again assigned to the Divisions. Besides these five students, Miss Kazue Murata, from Japan, who was at Meredith College, was adopted on the same basis as the regular Margaret Fund young people.

Of the 1936-1937 students, two were graduated from Meredith and have since then acquired new titles—Rachel Leonard soon after graduation became Mrs. J. H. Smith, the wife of a young minister; Mary Faye McMillan was married early in 1938 and is now Mrs. Thomas Lamb, of Rockingham, N. C. Our loving wishes are with them and we feel that the Margaret Fund will always have a place in their hearts.

Our list of Division Chairmen carried a new name, Mrs. Guy T. Carswell, of Charlotte. She was elected following the resignation of Mrs. J. J. Roddick, who so long and faithfully served the Charlotte Division.

The work of the Division Chairmen shows their interested service in the following summaries:

Asheville Division—Mrs. R. L. Smith, Old Fort, North Carolina. Student is Alfred Boyce Taylor, Mars Hill College. A number of letters written by Mrs. Smith and gifts sent from the Division.

Charlotte Division—Mrs. Guy T. Carswell, Charlotte. Student, Nora Marjorie Baker, Mars Hill College. Also letters and gifts.

Greensboro Division—Mrs. G. E. Isaacs, Durham. Student, Archibald McMillan, Wake Forest College. Amount sent student, $92.80. Letters and cards, 125; talks to associations, 2; talks to societies, 10.

Elizabeth City Division—Mrs. E. F. Aydlott, Elizabeth City. Student, Peter Hamlett, Wake Forest College. Amount for last year's student, $28.00; amount this year, $3.00.

Wilmington Division—Mrs. A. L. Brown, Southport. Student, Dorothy Green, Meredith College. Amount for last year's student, cash $45.00, watch, from Robeson Association, $25.75. Total, $70.75. Letters and cards, 40; new Margarets, 2. A number of personal gifts sent to students.

Total amount sent to students as special gifts, $211.05; of this, $16.50 was sent through the State Chairman and paid out to the designated students.

This year, for the first time since the beginning of the Margaret Fund, there will be no special offering asked in our State for it. As shown in the recommendations already quoted, the Margaret Scholarship Fund will be supported by a share from the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering, and also a share from the Annie W. Armstrong Offering. Those who have loved this work for the children of our missionaries will surely show their continued love by adding to their contributions in these two offerings.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH BRIGGS PITTMAN,

Chairman.

Woman's Missionary Union Training School—Mrs. Forrest C. Feezor, of Raleigh. Mrs. Feezor presented Mrs. George McWilliams, of Liberty, Mo., as a friend of and one greatly interested in the Training School. Mrs. McWilliams told of the beginning of the Training School and of its adoption by the Woman's Missionary Union.

REPORT OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION TRAINING SCHOOL

It would seem that the Training School caught the spirit of this Jubilee Year early. Desiring to celebrate the fiftieth birthday of her "mother" in a worthy way, she is in the midst of a year with a brighter outlook than for several years.

A total of eighty-four boarding students have entered the school this year, with increasing numbers of day students taking regular class work.

From North Carolina there are seven capable young women, who are thoroughly consecrated and eager to serve the Master in a more efficient way. Some of these have been given places of responsibility and leadership in the school. Two of the seven, Miss Vivian Nowell and Miss Ruth Keller, complete their work this spring and will be ready for definite service.

Always we give thanks for the Louis Castlebury Scholarship. This year it is being used by Miss Josephine Turner.

This has been a significant year not only because of an increased enrollment but because of the coming of two Seminary professors to teach Bible in our school. Dr. Kyle Yates, Professor of Old Testament, and Dr. Hershey Davis, Professor of New Testament, have greatly strengthened our Bible department. For these additions to our faculty we are deeply thankful.

Due to the coming of the two additional Seminary professors, and other items, our apportionment for current expenses for this year has been increased $500.00, making our apportionment for current expenses $1,700. With $1,200 needed for six scholarships, our gifts this year must reach $2,900. Let me urge you to keep this in mind as you make your gift for the school in August. This Jubilee Year, let us not fail to reach our apportionment for current expenses and scholarships.

The number of applications for use of the six North Carolina scholarships grows larger and larger. At present, your Trustee has in her file fourteen such applications. This number will be increased by at least six before the opening of school. Each of these applicants are worthy and fine in every way, but not all can be given the use of the scholarships. You will pray that your committee may be led by His Spirit and given His wisdom as the decision is made as to the placing of these funds.

This year has seen the purchase of a new site for the school. Upon the authorization of the Board of Trustees, a committee purchased a seven and one-half acre tract of land adjoining the campus of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. This is a choice piece of property, which will be an ideal location for our school when we can erect a building there. This property has been partially paid for. Let us pray that friends of the school may be led to make substantial gifts toward the completion of the payment in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

Reports—Forward in the Divisions:

Asheville Division, Mrs. J. R. Morgan, Waynesville. Adopted.

REPORT OF THE ASHEVILLE DIVISION

Our totals for 1937 do not all mark gains as far as figures go. We are thankful, however, to report a 16 $\frac{2}{3}$ per cent gain in gifts over 1936, gain in the number of societies doing personal service work, those observing seasons of prayer, and in the letters and postals written by superintendents. Too, there has been a nice growth in the number of societies giving to the State Home and Foreign Mission special offerings. There was a growth of 89 in Royal Service subscribers, 7 in Window of Y. W. A. subscribers, 15 in World Comrades subscribers, and 167 more took Biblical Recorder than the previous year. There was a gain of 6 points made on the Associational Standard of Excellence and substantial gains in subscriptions to the One Hundred Thousand Club.

We had a number of losses which we greatly deplore and toward which we begin now to strive for a come-back.

Our associational superintendents are optimistic and leaders generally say encouraging words about their outlook, though there are many rough crossings each quarter.

We had an increase of 22 in number of societies making A-1 grade—forty-seven societies reporting this grade. Buncombe alone made an increase of 17 in number of A-1 societies. Three churches reported full graded A-1 unions—Merrimon Avenue, Buncombe Association, reported 6 A-1 societies, Hendersonville First, Carolina Association, reported 5 A-1 organizations, and Canton First, Haywood Association, led all churches in the division by having 7 A-1 organizations. Tuckasegee Association had 6 A-1 organizations.

Haywood Association fostered an Associational Y. W. A. Council, meeting quarterly, for inspirational and social programs, contributing as an extra, $20.00 to a crippled girl in China through Miss Alda Grayson. The Western N. C. Association promoted a Y. W. A. Camp and French Broad Association a G. A. Camp, with wholesome fun and mission study programs. The Haywood G. A.'s met for an all-day mission study. There was fine attendance and a good spirit was promoted.

The Buncombe, which has far more societies than any of the other associations, led in almost all points. They reported the largest number of mission study classes, 79 in all. The Haywood came second with 28 and French Broad third with 24. The Tuckasegee made second in number of societies observing weeks of prayer and the Haywood second in number of tithers. Tuckasegee led in subscriptions to the Biblical Recorder, having 112. The Buncombe came second with 106 and Carolina third with 63. Buncombe led again in Royal Service subscribers, reporting 287. Haywood took second place again with 102, Carolina came second in number of Home and Foreign Fields taken and Mitchell ran a close third. French Broad was second in subscriptions to the Window of Y. W. A. Haywood stood next to Buncombe in subscriptions to World Comrades, while Three Forks came third. Blue Ridge Association came second in the number of new societies organized. The Macon Association took second place in number of points reached on the Associational Standard of Excellence, while the Carolina and the French Broad tied for the third place. Haywood took second place in number of societies attending associational meetings, while Three Forks took second place in the number of societies doing personal service. Tuckasegee came third.

Mrs. Coker, the Divisional Young People's Leader, has planned wisely and thoroughly programs, banquets, instillation outlines, bulletins and many other young people's activities. She has filled a great niche of usefulness. With the splendid assistance of Rev. Fred Forrester, of Cullowhee, she conducted a Divisional R. A. Camp at Ridgecrest, having reached many boys who had never had such a privilege, several of whom were saved and many Christian lives enriched. With Miss Currin's able assistance, Mrs. Coker grouped the Division into six centers, where group meetings were held which proved successful in most instances. Some superintendents report this as the outstanding feature of 1937 in their associations.

Every association had a well attended associational meeting and the Divisional Meeting represented nearly every association.

Every association participated, more or less, with the Margaret Mothers in donations to our Margaret Student, Fred Taylor, at Mars Hill College.

The Jubilee Conference, conducted in Asheville in January, for leaders, and any interested workers, proved just the proper thing. Some associational leaders went home and duplicated it as fully as possible and results were thrilling. Some women wrote, "I received just what I needed to start me in my new field."

Buncombe Association fostered a young people's leaders conference in which all the young people's manuals were taught. There were 40 people present. They also had a quarterly meeting with full conferences in all departments of the work.

We gratefully acknowledge the help that came from Dr. Harvey Clark, emeritus missionary from Japan, who visited our associational meetings, pronouncing them of a decidedly spiritual nature, our faithful Mrs. Harris, who attended practically every associational meeting, Miss Currin, who helped cheerfully on frequent visits to the Division, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, who came on two occasions, Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, who helped on one occasion each, and Mrs. Allen, from Brazil, who spoke at one associational meeting and spent a week teaching mission study at Mars Hill and W. C. T. College Y. W. A.'s.

Our personnel of divisional officers is complete. Any associational chairman can get ready help from the divisional chairman. The Divisional Superintendent will gladly help make any contacts. All the divisional chairmen have conducted conferences and written numerous letters to help associational workers. Most of the associational meetings were attended by the Divisional Superintendent or Young People's Leader.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN.

Charlotte Division—Mrs. B. K. Mason, Winston-Salem.
Adopted.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

At the close of each year, we pause to thank God for His blessings upon the work of Woman's Missionary Unions. We see back of the reports that come to us from superintendents and officers, busy women and young people, in the home, the school, the church, and yet they have found time to carry on the activities of Woman's Missionary Union.

On the 26th of October of last year we met in our 25th annual session of Charlotte Division at Wadesboro, in the old Pee Dee Association. The lovely October sunshine helped to make possible the largest attendance in our history. The program was built around the theme, "Builders With Him," which proved to be interesting and helpful throughout both sessions.

Our State officers, a number of visitors, and pastors were present. Twenty-one associational superintendents, out of 24 that we now have, the Alexander having been organized this year, brought us encouraging reports of their work. Our president, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, spoke on the 100,000 Club. Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Southwide representative, brought us the closing message of the morning session on "W. M. U. Foundation Stones." Conferences for Superintendents and Officers and Young People's Leaders were held at the noon hour. In the afternoon Mrs. J. S. Farmer told us of the Plans for the Golden Jubilee year and Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt, of Elkin, returned missionary from China, spoke to us on "The Open Door of China."

Mrs. H. F. Lambert, Young People's Leader, presided during Young People's Hour, bringing her report for the year, then recognizing all Young People's Leaders present. Miss Mary Currin, State Young People's Leader, spoke to us on "Building With Our Young People." A group of young people from Wadesboro Church gave a most interesting playlet on "Forging the Golden Chain."

The hospitality of the women of the church and association was unbounded, and we will not soon forget the beautiful auditorium of that new church, the lovely flowers given in memory of Mrs. Shelly Rose and Mrs. Lila L. Henry, who were faithful and loyal members of this great church.

It was very fitting that at this meeting a cash offering was taken to complete the Lila Henry Memorial at Wingate College. Including previous offerings, a total of $731.30 in cash has been contributed to the Library Fund, and over 2,000 copies of good books have been given through the "Book Shower." Wingate College gratefully acknowledges these gifts from our women.

Mrs. Guy T. Carswell, of Charlotte, was elected as Margaret Fund chairman. Our student is Miss Nora Marjorie Baker, daughter of missionary from Brazil. She is in school at Mars Hill College. We hope our societies will not forget to send her love-gifts from time to time throughout the year.

We believe a forward step was taken in the Division when they elected four new assistant superintendents from the various sections of our large territory. Mrs. F. M. Little, Wadesboro, Mrs. H. M. Short, Charlotte, Mrs. J. A. Boldin, Lenoir, Mrs. R. P. Casey, North Wilkesboro. We are asking these new superintendents to assist with the work of Mission Study Institutes in the associations nearest to them.

Mrs. Wade Bostic, of Shelby, is our Golden Jubilee Chairman of Division. She is already planning an Institute in her section and will help anywhere she may be needed.

Our annual meeting this year will be held in the First Baptist Church of Lenoir, the last Tuesday in October. We are looking forward with much pleasure to meeting with the women of this good church and association.

On January 20, at Winston-Salem, superintendents, officers, and Golden Jubilee chairmen responded to the first trumpet call to study, plan and pray for the work of the Golden Jubilee year. The weather was favorable, and the women came from Sparta, in Alleghany Association, to the Pee Dee on the South Carolina line; with representatives from Wilkesboro, Statesville, Charlotte, Gastonia, and Wadesboro; all came with one purpose, that of intensive study of the Manual and Year Book. Our State officers led in this study in the morning. In the afternoon, assisted by local women, they conducted conferences for all the workers. Every one went away with a new vision of the task, and a new purpose to carry forward the work in all of our associations and churches.

Mrs. J. J. Roddick is the first assistant superintendent to report a Mission Study Institute. On the 18th of February, Pilot Mountain, Liberty, and Yadkin Associations came together at First Church, Winston-Salem, for a one-day Institute. Mrs. R. K. Redwine was our visiting teacher and speaker. Provision was made for four classes on Method and Study of a book for each grade. Mrs. Redwine conducted the study in "Fruits of the Years," and local teachers taught Method and Mission Study books for Intermediates, Juniors, and Sunbeams. Reports from the various groups were made in the afternoon. All were delighted with the splendid presentation of these books. Mrs. Redwine spoke on the Golden Jubilee, which was the high light of the afternoon program. Mrs. J. J. Roddick conducted an Open Forum on plans for associational work and Mission Study. The closing thoughts on Prayer and its importance in all of our work sent us away to put into execution these plans for making our goals for this year.

Mission Study has filled a large place in the work of the past year. Many have adopted new goals and there is evidence of new interest in this important phase of our work. Someone has said that "Mission Study is the key to the hearts of unenlisted women and young people." Our goal for the Division this year is a Mission Study Institute in each association or groups of associations. A Mission Study class in each of our more than 530 churches with special emphasis on Pioneer classes.

The church reporting the largest number of mission study classes is Gastonia First, with 22 classes, and Mrs. B. A. Bowers, mission study chairman.

Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt, of Elkin, has conducted a story hour for Sunbeams, and taught a Mission Study class of 30 women from five churches in the Surry Association. She has larger plans for this new year.

Our new Young People's Leader, Mrs. H. F. Lambert, Statesville, has given herself unreservedly to the work of the young people this year, having held, with the help of Miss Mary Currin, 13 young people's rallies in 13 associations, and reports 23 churches observing Stewardship Night. She is planning for still greater things this Golden Jubilee year.

We are happy to mention our churches that have reported full graded A-1 unions: First Church, Thomasville, New Friendship, North Winston, Waughtown, Southside, Madison, and Kernersville. Kings Mountain is an A-1 association.

It is impossible to mention here the many good things that have been reported this year. They cannot be tabulated, but our Heavenly Father knows, and He will reward in His own good time.

It is most encouraging to hear of the new life and enthusiasm that characterizes the work in the beginning of this our Golden Jubilee year. We would give ourselves anew to the great purpose which was ours from the beginning, "To stimulate the Missionary Spirit and grace of giving among the women and young people of all of our churches"; praying that God may use us to advance His Kingdom on earth, through the plans of our Golden Jubilee year, and we would urge each one to give their best of loving, loyal service to our Master.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON,

Superintendent, Charlotte Division.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

In presenting to you the annual report of the Elizabeth City Division, it is again my privilege to congratulate our women upon the work that has been done.

The story is told that a college class was taking a final examination in history. There was but one question: What were the causes of the defeat of the Spanish Armada? Much to the surprise of the professor, one pupil who had an excellent record for team work turned in his paper after but a few minutes writing. It read: "The Spanish Armada was defeated because it lacked three ships—leadership, seamanship, marksmanship." In seeing to it that the six associations of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Elizabeth City Division would be provided with the first of these requisites, the women of each association have carefully selected as associational superintendent a consecrated woman, devoted to duty, and one who knew how the work should be handled. Because of the direction, planning and untiring labor of these splendid superintendents as leaders, our Woman's Missionary Union work has shown keen enthusiasm, earnest interest and steady growth.

Leadership alone, however, is not responsible for the success attained, so let us consider the second ship the Armada lacked, seamanship. This calls for coöperation, teamwork. How powerless a leader would be if his crew failed to pull together and act as a unit without the slightest hesitation. Surely our county or group leaders, the W. M. S. presidents, and all leaders of young people's organizations have rallied to the support of their associational superintendent, and we all know that on the persevering, unselfish work of this band of women rests the stability of our work.

Leadership and seamanship are of no avail without that third ship—marksmanship. This calls for the individual, it involves hard work. The finest leadership imaginable will fail if it lacks the support of the individual members. Each individual member is of great importance in her society. Not all can be leaders, not all designated for distinction but each by being faithful to the duties and responsibilities assigned her can take just pride in work well done.

Leadership, seamanship, marksmanship, guidance, teamwork, individual effort, with the Heavenly Father as our Partner, have been responsible for the achievements in the Elizabeth City Divisional Woman's Missionary Union work, and we feel that our failures have been caused by a lack of these.

The Atlantic, under its new and alert superintendent, Mrs. L. B. Daniel, of New Bern, has made progress in nearly all lines. Especial emphasis has been placed on the work with the young people, and we feel that there is bound to be a great harvest, for Mrs. Daniel states that "the Atlantic is working hard." It reports 47 organizations, which is an increase over the preceding year.

The Chowan Association reports splendid work. Always the work of their 147 organizations has been characterized by a gradual growth. It stressed the Baptist 100,000 Club and as a result its membership was doubled. This association has 28 A-1 organizations and Shiloh is an A-1 Union.

The Pamlico feels that the work there still suffers because they have so much trouble finding consecrated, trained leaders. The association, in order to help meet this need, gives one hundred dollars a year for a scholarship fund for the training of one of their girls at Chowan College. This, our smallest association, gave a 10 per cent increase over its gifts in 1936.

The Neuse reports six new societies during 1937, 160 tithers from four churches, an increase in their Christmas offering, better group meetings, and the association more complete in its organizations. The First Church of Goldsboro sends Mr. Evans Norwood, missionary to China, $25.00 quarterly.

The Roanoke has 139 organizations, with 30 A-1. The Baptist 100,000 Club has been stressed and as a result it reports 75 paid-up memberships. Only six societies did not report a membership. This association leads in the total amount of gifts, $12,735.41.

The West Chowan, always the leader in number of organizations, totals 191, with fifteen A-1 W. M. S. and 50 A-1 young people's organizations. It also has six full graded Unions—Ahoskie, Cashie, Conway, Creekville, Colerain, and Potecasi. Surely this attests to the grade of work done in this association. It reports 181 mission study classes during the year, an increase of 29 over the previous year. The Pearle Johnson Fund and the Chowan Scholarships have been paid. The gifts total $10,045.80.

Under the most capable and enthusiastic leadership of our Divisional Young People's Leader, Mrs. C. Gordon Maddrey, the work of our young people has been greatly developed. According to her report: "Four of the six associational young people's leaders in the Elizabeth City Division, Mrs. J. B. Joyner of the Roanoke, Mrs. W. T. Sanderlin of the Atlantic, Mesdames J. H. Bunn and W. V. Tarlton, West Chowan, and Mrs. Hersey Sawyer, Chowan, responded to the plea of the State and Divisional young people's leaders, to plan for an associational young people's rally, to be held during the week of August 8-15. Unavoidable circumstances prevented the plans of Mrs. Sawyer in the Chowan being carried out; but three rallies were held in the Division, the Atlantic, the Roanoke, and the West Chowan. Miss Mary Currin spent the week in the Division, and she and the Divisional young people's leader attended all rallies. Attendance upon these meetings was very satisfactory, and the programs well arranged and presented. Except for brief addresses by the State and Divisional young people's leaders, the programs were given by members of the various organizations." I believe the work with our young people will make rapid strides under the planning and direction of Mrs. Maddrey and her gracious willingness to serve.

Our annual meeting was held in the First Baptist Church, Rocky Mount. Each year it seems we have the best meeting. The attendance was splendid, and Mrs. Redwine, Mrs. Dozier, Mrs. Turner, and Miss Currin all brought messages of inspiration and information.

Throughout the Division, special emphasis was laid on memberships in the Baptist 100,000 Club. We are glad that our Division led the State in number of memberships, but even then we are not satisfied, for we feel we fell far short of the goal assigned us. We gave to this fund $1,766.73 of this amount the Roanoke gave $901.66, or a little more than half of it—an enviable record for its superintendent, Mrs. R. C. Josey, Jr.

All associations met the financial goals of 5 per cent increase in gifts to the Coöperative Program; however, the Pamlico is the only one that increased its total gifts 10 per cent over 1936. The grand total for the Division is $34,605.74.

In mission study and the observance of the Seasons of Prayer there has been improvement. Always Personal Service appeals to our women, for we know that each kind act done, each thought given for good, every bit of help given another, no matter how small it may seem, if done in His name, will result in much good. But our women have realized, too, that no matter in what line we labor, our work shall have been done in vain, unless through it we bring others closer to Christ.

Much has been accomplished in our Division, but there is still a great need for enlistment, organization, a larger number of tithers, and more devotion to Bible study and prayer. In this Jubilee year may our women, conscious of the power that is ours, go forward in faith in God—faith that can perform miracles even as it can move mountains, and in this way meet all the aims and requirements set for us.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. BRUCE BEASLEY,

Divisional Superintendent.

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

Within the past two years there has come into being a vogue frequently seen in magazines and newspapers known as “Candid Camera Shots.” These pictures are not always flattering, but certainly they are candid, and are pictures as seen by a camera lens without taking out any wrinkles or putting in a permanent or on an extra complexion.

A Divisional Superintendent's report is a series of candid camera shots coming from the reports of the various associational superintendents. Occasionally the exposure has not been long enough and your superintendent finds report blanks not fully developed.

The shadows of failure and the highlights of success along with the background of evergreen service makes a picture of the entire division, if not entirely perfect, gratifying and treasured by your Divisional Superintendent.

During the calendar year of 1937 your Divisional Superintendent has attended six of the associational meetings and planned and presided at the annual meeting of the Greensboro Division, which was so graciously entertained by the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church, Henderson, North Carolina. The attendance and reports from the various associational superintendents, chairmen and young people's leaders were most gratifying. Almost 40 new organizations have shown us the picture of enlistment with an increase in number of societies observing the Weeks of Prayer and participating in the special offerings.

In the Mt. Zion Association two Woman's Missionary Societies, Watts Street, Durham, and First Church, Hillsboro, report a gift from every woman who is a resident member. These are highlights in the picture of enlistment.

The candid camera reveals more than five hundred Mission Study classes have been taught—one association, Mt. Zion, reports 161 classes. At the annual meeting of the Greensboro Division, Mrs. John T. Craig, of Durham, was elected Mission Study Chairman of the Division.

More and more the churches are recognizing the Focus Week of each W. M. U. organization. Reports of Y. W. A. banquets, G. A. house parties, R. A. camps, and Sunbeam parties have gladdened the hearts of the associational superintendents. Greensboro reports a Y. W. A. Council composed of all the Y. W. A.'s of this city. Young people's leaders in every association have enthusiastically sponsored young people's organizations in their various activities. Youth always is the best subject for candid camera shots. Mrs. L. C. Pinnix, of Burlington, is now the Young People's Leader of the Division, having been elected at our annual meeting in October.

Contributions have had their good and bad pictures. There are eight out of the nine associations having reached their 5 per cent increase over the gifts of 1936. We hope by the close of the Golden Jubilee year the candid camera will make a much larger picture of the Hundred Thousand Club, as it is exposed to the sunshine of faith and increased effort.

The Greensboro Division has about 35 of the more than 70 Margarets enrolled in the entire State.

Perhaps the most outstanding picture made has been the number of A-1 societies—137 in the Greensboro Division. With all these interesting and worth while pictures there are some unfinished portraits. Unenlisted church members—thousands who do not know Jesus as their Saviour. These are challenging goals for the Golden Jubilee year.

We are conscious of our mistakes and grateful to Him for the increase that has been ours. May we carry in our hearts not only a picture of Jesus, but the power of His personality.

Through the year we have been led, not by might nor by power, but by His Spirit.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. IRA D. S. KNIGHT,

Superintendent, Greensboro Division.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

"Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow." He has used the women and young people of the Wilmington Division as a mighty force for the upbuilding of His Kingdom in 1937.

There has been marked gain along many lines of work in 1937, first, a net gain of 41 societies, of which 21 are W. M. S., 9 Y. W. A., 5 G. A., 4 R. A., 5 Sunbeam Bands. Robeson leads in net gain of 18. Total number of each grade in the ten associations, W. M. S., 203; Y. W. A., 66; G. A., 100; R. A., 65; Sunbeam, 118. Total number, 552, of which 349 are young people's societies. Increase in membership, 592. Forty churches are full graded, gain of 6. Gain in churches with societies organized, 14. Gain in societies observing seasons of prayer, 44, and personal service, 55. Through organized personal service, several jails, hospitals, county homes, and homes for aged have been visited and religious services held. Wilmington Association organized work among the Negroes, and equipped some Sunday school rooms and church kitchens. Showers and other aid for sick and needy were reported in all associations.

New South River aided a Negro church, and average fifty dollars each quarter given for the poor, and one society gave 365 quarts of milk to a tubercular patient.

We regret to report a loss of 39 mission study classes; 357 classes were held; Johnston leads with 76. Wilmington Association held Mission Study Institute.

Tithers reported, 221. Church Stewardship Night was observed by young people in Robeson and Johnston associations.

Little River and Wilmington continues their scholarships to our Training School. Many gifts have been sent to our girls there; a nice box of cakes was sent from Robeson Associations at Easter, and a white shower was sent from the Division, under the direction of our Divisional Training School Chairman, Mrs. W. A. Weston.

One hundred and forty-eight societies sent supplies to our Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, and ninety, to our Margaret Fund student, Miss Mary Faye McMillan. Robeson Association gave her a beautiful gold watch, Wilmington and other associations gifts of money, all for graduating gifts and every association in the Division sent gifts through the year. New South River reports three Margarets enrolled in the Book of Remembrance.

Brunswick Association gave one hundred dollars as memorial to Mrs. Mary Ward, for relief of the Chinese sufferers, who are victims of the war.

Eastern still supports Miss Katie Murray and Magnolia Sunbeams supports a kindergarten school, both in China.

Lillington W. M. S., in Little River Association, gives $150.00 to support a Chinese Bible Woman working with Mrs. U. B. Johnson in Soochow. Fayetteville W. M. S. in New South River Association supports a native worker in China, called "A Sunshine Worker."

First Baptist Church, Temple, and Southside, in Wilmington Association, each supports a native Bible woman in China, and the association supports a dispenser in Africa on the field of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Powell, and have sent gifts to their daughter, Mary Hester, whom they have adopted as their "little sister," and is now in Campbell College. They contributed on the Frigidaire Fund for the Kennedy Home. One society in Eastern has adopted two children at the orphanage to clothe. New South River, Eastern, and Robeson sent valuable boxes to home missionaries. One W. M. S. in Robeson sent gifts to Miss Maude Cobb, of Budapest, Hungary.

We had a great midsummer meeting in Fayetteville in July, and there pledged one hundred dollars for Luther Rice Memorial, to apply on our denominational debt, and every association in the Division contributed and the full amount paid.

Our annual meeting in October at Buie's Creek was full of inspiration and a large attendance. Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mrs. R. K. Redwine, and Miss Mary Currin, our guest speakers, brought us great messages.

At this meeting a joyful surprise greeted the superintendent. It was my 16th annual meeting. At the close of my message, Mrs. M. J. Herring, of the Eastern Association, came forward and in beautiful expressions of love and appreciation presented me with $137.00, to apply on a car. More has been given and a splendid used car has been purchased for me, for which I am deeply grateful.

Every association, but one, reports financial goal reached. Grand total, $27,772.08.

Every association held fine young people's meeting—Bladen, Columbus, and New South River for first time. We are fortunate to have nineteen Training School graduates in our Division, and six are serving as officers in associations or Division. We hope to use them all in a special way this Golden Jubilee year. With Miss Vivian Grant as young people's leader for the Division, we expect to lengthen the cords and strengthen the stakes of our young people's work.

"We have 225 memberships in the 100,000 Club and every association is striving to reach their goal.

The superintendent had the joy of attending the annual meetings of Columbus, Eastern, Johnston, New South River, Robeson, and Wilmington associations, and young people's meetings in Eastern and New South River.

Miles traveled, 1,560. Letters and postals written, 393.

The loyal, hard-working superintendents are due much honor for the accomplishments of the Division, and with God leading through this great year of Jubilee, we hope to go forward in a great way, and bring "Sheaves of Rejoicing" to lay at the Master's feet.

Respectfully submitted,

MACY COX.

REPORT OF THE BAPTIST HOSPITAL

It is again our happy privilege at the close of another conventional year to bring to the Woman's Missionary Union the report of the Baptist Hospital of North Carolina.

The records of our past year reveal the large service that has been rendered to more than 4,000 patients—of this number nearly 2,000 part-pay or charity patients have come to us from all parts of the State, demonstrating the wide scope of ministry of our institution to those who could not pay for treatment in other hospitals. But our joy has been overshadowed by the large number that we have been compelled to turn away for lack of accommodation. Many days we have had to turn aside three times as many applicants as we have been able to accommodate, emphasizing anew the need of enlargement of the present building to care for the needy sufferers who come to us in such large numbers.

The example of the Master who went about doing good has been demonstrated in a larger number of churches and Sunday schools this year than in any previous year; as our records show, our Mother's Day offering this year amounted to $22,375.94. Our charity work was so much in excess this year that we received from the Duke Foundation $13,404, which aided us in the more than $100,000 expended in free service.

In the past year we have built an addition to our Blanche Barrus Nurses' Home at a cost of more than $25,000. The furnishings, that amounted to more than $3,000, were contributed by the women and friends in Winston-Salem. This addition will double the capacity of the Nurses' Home, making it possible for us to enlarge our training school. We would again acknowledge the love and interest in our hospital manifested by the members of our Union in the white gifts and canned goods that have come to us from every section of the State.

Surely, if the donors could realize what this has meant in enabling us to extend a larger service in the name of the Master, they would realize the blessing they have been in a time of need in our work.

Regardless of the many problems that we face, the Trustees of the Hospital, like Nehemiah of old, have heard the spiritual command to arise and build, that we may meet the obligation that is ours as His stewards. And regardless of the handicaps that face us we have decided that as soon as practical plans will be made to add another wing to the hospital, for the time has come when we cannot in the name of the Master turn aside the suffering ones who come to us in faith for treatment; and as we face this challenge that is ours, we again ask the coöperation of our Union that they will make possible the extension of service to those crying for aid in time of suffering.

We are again asking associations and societies if they will again furnish a room at a cost of $150.00 in honor of someone they love and honor, having a bronze plate on the door to designate the donor's name and name of the one honored, whose influence will continue to be a blessing to humanity throughout the years to come. So today with a courage that knows no discharge of duty I am enlisting your services as Handmaids of the King, and may we each one say in our hearts:

Lord, open our eyes that we may see
The field wherein we serve today;
How rich its soil, how broad its way,
How great the work we do for Thee.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. J. RODDICK,

Trustee of Baptist Hospital.

Recommendations of Executive Committee. Presented by Mrs. Wesley N. Jones and adopted on motion of Mrs. W. D. Bostick, of Shelby.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF
THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1938

Watchword—Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.—Psalm 96:8.

Hymn—Come Women Wide Proclaim.

On January 1 the Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to Southern Baptist Convention, entered its fiftieth year, the Year of Jubilee, with a three-fold purpose—"To express gratitude to God for His blessing upon His work through the missionary organizations of Southern Baptist women, young people and children; to pay homage to those valiant women on whose foundations we are building today; and to project plans that will yield a bountiful harvest of spiritual blessing to those who work with us and to those who follow us, plans that will also yield material blessing to the program of Woman's Missionary Union." To this purpose our North Carolina Union pledges its loyal and whole-hearted support.

Goals

First, We recommend that we accept the goals allotted to us in this Jubilee Year and that we earnestly endeavor to attain them. To do this each individual making up the constituency of our Woman's Missionary Union must feel a personal responsibility for the task.

Financial goals. A 10 per cent increase in the total gifts of the Woman's Missionary Union over the total gifts of 1937. Total gifts of 1937, $235,000.00 with 10 per cent increase the total gifts of 1938, $258,000.00.

Jubilee Gift. That over and above ten per cent increase, our special Jubilee Gift, of $10,000.00 be reached through the Heck Memorial Offering. The first $7,000.00 of this shall be counted as the accepted apportionment recommended by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention and to be administered by that organization. All above the $7,000.00 shall be used as voted by the Executive Committee of Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina.

Organization and Membership Goals. A 10 per cent increase in number of organizations and members until the possibilities for such enlargement have been reached, special emphasis to be placed on no loss of existing organizations or members during the year.

Stewardship Goal. Ten thousand covenant signing tithers by the close of 1938.

Mission Study Goals.

1. Emphasis on teaching required books.
2. Emphasize and report Mission Study Institutes.
3. Promote and report Pioneer Classes composed of those who have never been in a mission study class before.

Personal Service Goal. A Personal Service committee in every Woman's Missionary Society doing directed work with emphasis on soul winning.

Second, That the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to Southern Baptist Convention, a copy of which is sent each year to all of our organizations, be accepted as the plan of work for our Union and that the plans and methods as set forth be followed as far as is practicable in all of our societies.

That the Chief Aims of the Union be emphasized in every way possible and that we reaffirm our responsibility as Christian citizens in declaring ourselves to stand for the moral standards set forth by our Union.

That, in view of the situation in regard to the liquor traffic, we urge on the part of our women support of all measures on the part of Christian people to lessen this evil, believing that a policy of total abstinence will alone meet the need at this time.

Third, Literature. That we strive to increase the circulation of the publications of our Woman's Missionary Union among our constituency—Royal Service, The Window of Y. W. A., and World Comrades. Also to secure subscriptions to The Commission, published by the Foreign Mission Board at Richmond, Virginia, and Southern Baptist Home Missions, published by the Home Mission Board at Atlanta, Georgia.

Realizing what a factor the Biblical Recorder, our denominational paper, has been to our Union, we would urge that every president of a Missionary Society be a subscriber, and that increased emphasis be made on securing subscribers to this paper, and we recommend that an annual canvass be made each year to this end.

Fourth, Missionary Education of Our Young People. That, as we remember the forward vision and the steadfast purpose of Woman's Missionary Union concerning the missionary education of our youth during the half century just gone, and realizing the poignant need of today's world for Christ's message, we, in this Golden Jubilee Year, pledge ourselves firmly to their high ideals and carry forward courageously this highly important task of training the young to know and love missions.

That each organization strive earnestly to reach all Golden Jubilee goals.

That we begin missionary environment for babies by presenting their mothers the attractive prayer card and following other yearly plans for Sunbeam Babies from birth through three years of age.

That each Association have a Silver Anniversary G. A. banquet on the evening of April 15.

That we constantly keep before the local church the value of the full graded Union, particularly using Focus Week of each organization for this purpose.

That every organization study constantly stewardship of possessions according to plans and leaflets to be ordered from W. M. U. Office, 215 Recorder Building, Raleigh. Also let us encourage organizations to join the Baptist 100,000 Club.

That we have our State G. A. House Party June 5-8, and the State R. A. Camp, June 8-11, at Meredith College. Southwide Y. W. A. Camp, June 21-July 1, at Ridgecrest.

That each Division appoint an alert, interested pastor to serve as Divisional R. A. Counselor, who will cooperate with the Divisional young people's leader in promoting R. A. work in general and particularly in working up a Divisional R. A. Camp in summer or week-end Conclave in November.

That each Division have a G. A. House Party in the fall at the Baptist College in the Division if such is agreeable with college officials.

Fifth, Baptist One Hundred Thousand Club. That we continue to obtain as many memberships as we can to this Club the purpose of which is to pay our debts, both State and Southwide. Individuals can become members by paying one dollar per month, twelve dollars a year. This gift must be in addition to our gifts to the Cooperative Program and the special offerings of Woman's Missionary Union.

Sixth, Special Offering of the Woman's Missionary Union. Believing that our special offerings with their seasons of prayer are a means of spiritual growth and rejoicing at the large things that have been accomplished by them in our Southern Baptist mission fields we would recommend that we faithfully continue their observance on the part of all societies. March Week of Prayer and the Annie W. Armstrong Offering for Home Missions, February 28-March 4. June 16, The Heck Memorial Offering. During August an offering for the Woman's Missionary Union Training School at Louisville, Kentucky, either at the regular or at a special meeting. September 12, Day of Prayer and offering for State Missions. The Lottie Moon Christmas Offering with its Week of Prayer and special study, November 28-December 2.

Seventh, Heck Memorial. That as the Jubilee gift of $50,000.00 is to be used for our Woman's Missionary Union Training School as a memorial to Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, the President of our North Carolina Union from its beginning until her death in 1915, a period of twenty-nine years, and the President of our Southern Woman's Missionary Union for fifteen years we appropriate the gift of the Heck Memorial Fund this year as follows: Woman's Missionary Union Training School, $6,000.00; to work for Negro women, $1,000. Total, $7,000.00. Any sum above this amount to be appropriated by Executive Committee of Woman's Missionary Union.

Eighth, Woman's Missionary Union Training School. That because of changes in the location of this school we urge an increased interest on the part of all societies. A program, preferably in August to be devoted to the School and a gift from each society is our objective. For current expenses the sum of $1,700.00 is needed and for our scholarship fund $1,200.00 not including the Louis Castlebury Scholarship provided by Mrs. Joel G. Layton in memory of her father, Mr. Louis Castlebury.

Field Workers, That we use three of our Training School girls in special work this Jubilee year for a period of eight weeks.

Ninth, Honorary Members of Executive Committee. That all Associational Superintendents who have served continuously for twenty-five years be made Honorary Members of the Executive Committee, when they no longer hold the office of Superintendent.

Tenth, Margaret Fund. That our societies continue their interest in the work of the Margaret Educational Fund, showing an interest in the students in our State. The money for this educational fund is to be provided hereafter from the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering and Annie W. Armstrong Offering.

Eleventh, Expense Fund. A special offering for rent of rooms occupied by Woman's Missionary Union and for traveling expenses of Union representatives and for expenses of our annual meeting is asked from each society in the first or second quarter of each year, preferably in the month of May. An itemized amount of this fund is published in the minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the report of the Treasurer.

Twelfth, Hospital and Orphanages. That we continue to take part in the offering on Mother's Day for our Hospital in Winston-Salem and the Thanksgiving Day Offering for our Orphanage.

REPORT OF RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

We, Baptist women of North Carolina, deeply grateful for the privilege of enjoying together this 48th annual session of our Woman's Missionary Union, do resolve:

First, That we express sincere appreciation to the First Baptist Church of Asheville, and to the other Baptist churches in the city, to Mrs. J. P. Goodman, president of the local W. M. S., to Mrs. E. R. Higgins, chairman of the Hospitality Committee, to the Boy Scouts and every member of the hostess church for the numberless things, great and small, which they have done for our convenience, comfort, and happiness, to Mrs. W. T. Duckworth and her coworkers for the exquisite spring flowers and for the Jubilee decorations, appropriate and beautiful in their simplicity. Such gracious hospitality makes us long-time debtors to our sisters in this lovely city of the hills.

Second, That we thank the faithful organist, Mrs. C. I. Poor, of Calvary Church, Asheville, every soloist, the pageant choir, and the Glee Club of Mars Hill College for leading us heavenward in song and music.

Third, That we acknowledge our gratitude to every participant in the pageant, "Cloud of Witnesses," presented by the Asheville First Church, and to all those who gave unstinted time and effort to make it a jubilant success. Its pictured message will remain with us through the years.

Fourth, That we attempt to say in words what our hearts feel of gratitude for the inspiring messages of all those in our own State who took part on the program; to Mr. Huggins, our General Secretary, and to Dr. Knight, of Durham, for their challenging calls to greater State and Southwide service; to Mrs. George McWilliams, of Liberty, Mo., for her triumphant sounding of the Jubilee trumpet; to Miss Mallory for her timely encouragement and her perpetual inspiration; to Miss Pearle Johnson, Rev. and Mrs. C. K. Djang, Mrs. Dozier, Miss Kazue Murata, and Miss Tanya Korotune for laying afresh upon our hearts our unfinished task in China, Japan, and Europe. We pray God's richest blessings upon them every one.

Fifth, That we repeat our deep gratitude for the continued inspiration of Mrs. W. N. Jones' words and presence; for the increasing ministry and the searching spiritual message of our gracious president; that we acknowledge our indebtedness to all those who prepared and who took part in this great program to everyone of our State officers and to all those who gave accounts of their stewardship in encouraging reports; that we express especial love to Mrs. J. S. Farmer, our self-forgetful Jubilee chairman, as she leads us to set up our Ebenezers in this fiftieth year.

Sixth, That we, as Christian women, aware of a distraught and needy world here and abroad, shall dedicate ourselves more fully to be used by God in our homes and churches, in social and civic life, for the exemplification of "the holy gospel we profess," to the end that we may make known to the nations the power of a living Christ who alone can heal the hurts and satisfy the souls of men.

So may the notes we sound this Jubilee year, in unison and by single trumpet, go ringing down the ages for the glory of God and for the more abundant life of all His creation—until Jesus of Nazareth "shall see the travail of His soul, and shall be satisfied."

MRS. THOMAS HENRY BRIGGS

a member of the Executive Committee from its appointment in January, 1886, until her death in March, 1938.

Treasurer in 1886, Corresponding Secretary. 1887-1891. Faithful to every task, she transformed duty into joy. In full assurance of faith, with an abiding love she has entered into the rest prepared for the people of God. "Passed beyond the shadows into the clear full light:"

"No shadows there: They joyfully behold Him,
No cloud to dim their vision of His face,
No jarring note to mar the holy rapture,
The perfect bliss of that most holy place."

Reports, Our Story:

REPORT OF GOLDEN JUBILEE CHAIRMAN

In this beautiful gold book is recorded the name of every individual, and every organization, circle, society, association that has redeemed one or more fifty dollar Golden Jubilee certificates. These gifts, with many of lesser financial value, but just as beautiful with love and sacrifice, make up the gratifying sum of $10,000.00, North Carolina's part of the special Jubilee Fund which honors the memory of our beloved Miss Heck. This exceeds by $4,000.00 the apportionment given us by the Southern Union.

In the office in Raleigh is the record of our ten per cent increase in all gifts to missions, of more than ten per cent net increase in the number of organizations, and in membership, of one hundred fifty-five Pioneer classes; of twenty-two Mission Study Institutes, of more than 6,622 tithers reported by only 1,000 societies. Mrs. Harris, Miss Currin, and Miss Alford will bring us these reports in detail.

In our hearts is a record of rejoicing and thanksgiving for the manifold blessings that the year of Jubilee has brought to our State, to our societies, and to our individual lives.

I want to thank you for the privilege you gave me of serving as your Jubilee Chairman. The close fellowship with our State officers has been delightful; the happy, hearty cooperation of local chairmen and society presidents has made the task easy and pleasant. Never before have I so keenly realized the strength and uplifting that the prayers of friends can bring. Because of my gratitude for the many prayers in my behalf when I so needed them, I am resolved to endeavor never to sin against Jehovah by failing to aid others in prayer as you have aided me.

We are deeply grateful for the carefully planned "days of preparation" when we were led to search our souls for hidden sin, and to consecrate ourselves afresh to prayer and service. The high goals set for the Jubilee were stimulating, and with real joy we turn our faces to the tasks ahead. The coming of Mrs. George McWilliams, Southwide Jubilee Chairman, to our meeting in Asheville last March, gave us fine inspiration to put our very best into the "hallowed year." Did time permit, a description of the various methods by which Jubilee goals were presented, and attained, would be interesting—song, story, study, pageant, conference, banquet—all were used with fine effect in local and general meetings. One unique experience was that of teaching an all-day Pioneer class in a newly organized society in a church far in the country—a class composed of three women, a six-year-old girl, and twin babies six months old. Two of the women had read the book; the third had not yet read it through, but she had gotten off to school seven children, each with a lunch; prepared the babies' bottles, and her part of a midday meal for the class; dressed herself, the little girl, and the babies, and was at the church by 10 o'clock. Can we say, in face of this, that any difficulties are unsurmountable, if a woman is really interested?

Only in God's Book of Remembrance is the record of the supreme achievement of the efforts of the Jubilee year—the record of lost men and women, and boys and girls brought to the Saviour, through our prayers, our gifts, our personal witnessing.

When I was a school girl, I heard a fantastic theory, that when sound has reached an infinitesimally high pitch, it is transmitted into light. Be that as it may, we do know that the golden notes of the Jubilee trumpets, sounded forth by our gifts of self and substance, has been transmitted by Divine Alchemy into light, as, by these gifts, that "Life which is the Light of Men" has been carried to those who sit in darkness.

"DOORS OF OPPORTUNITY"

"A door was opened unto me of the Lord." I Cor. 2:12.

We have never given much thought to the part doors play in the history of a nation. In the Metropolitan Museum in New York City we find in the American wing doors typical of the country's development from the heavy crude doors of early settler's home to the elaborately designed and carved doors of the present. One very important warehouse of a movie producer is the "door house" where every conceivable kind of door is stored to be brought forth to build a hovel or a palace. Dr. William Henry Fulkes says "there are as many kinds of doors as there are people." Strong, beautiful, lasting was that door of service designed, built, and opened in 1888 by Woman's Missionary Union; many and varied have been the doors opened since then.

More than three hundred times "doors" are mentioned in the Bible. Interesting would be the study of these doors. Ezekiel describes many beautiful doors in his vision of the temple, one being the "two leaved door with cherubim and palm leaves carved thereon." Five leaved doors of service have been designed by W. M. U. in these years in our graded missionary organization for the young people and children. We now have 248 churches with full-graded unions—a gain of 21; of these 31 were A-1 full graded: Asheville, Merrimon Ave.; New Bridge; Hendersonville; Millbrook; Sawyer's Creek; Shiloh; Oxford, First; Clayton; Pisgah; New Friendship; Thomasville, First; Burlington, First; Durham, First; Durham, Grace; Durham, Temple; Durham, Watts St.; Madison, Winston-Salem, North; Winston-Salem, Southside; Winston-Salem, Waughtown; Asheboro, First; Salisbury, First; Siler City; Harris Chapel; Henderson, First; Cashie; Colerain; Conway; Creeksville; Rocky Mount, First; and Stony Creek.

In 1938 the 168 new Woman's Missionary Societies opened not only doors of service to women, but to their children and, though new themselves, are fostering the organizations for their children. God puts doors of opportunity in life to help us get through from one of life's rooms to another, and in and out. It is wonderful how many doors swing open at the touch of a child.

Strange that once opened, a door, through which we may get a glimpse of the wonders and the privilege of helping a lost world to know our Saviour, should ever be closed for even a short time; but forty-four W. M. S. last year closed their doors, forgot, or played, or did not care and sent in no report and did not share in the joys of the Jubilee year; even with that we had a net gain of 124 Woman's Missionary Societies—and began 1939 with 1,245 W. M. S. and a grand total of all organizations of 3,504; from this number 609 were A-1, and 187 were A-1 Woman's Missionary Societies.

There are electrically opened doors that open wide as you step on the mat in front of the door. How easy would be our enlistment work if doors that need to be entered opened as the approach is made; but there are doors of indifference that squeak and creak a bit and need the oil of love and friendship applied carefully and well before they can be opened wide enough to see the attractive door of service and fellowship ahead. There are half of the churches in our State Convention that do not have a definitely missionary organization in them.

In the summer of 1938, three of our Training School girls did W. M. U. field work for us, giving one week to an association. Miss Josephine Turner, of Clinton, working in Wilmington, Atlantic, Chowan assembly, Neuse, Bladen, Brunswick and Eastern. Miss Ruth Keller, of Granite Falls, in Caldwell, Carolina, Transylvania, Tuckasegee, French Broad and Yancey; Miss Elma Currin, of Henderson, two weeks in South Fork and Montgomery; then accepted the place of Young People's leader of Missouri. Miss Mary Currin covered her dates in Cabarrus, and Mrs. W. D. Briggs in Sandy Creek. This work was financed from the Heck Memorial gifts for this special work in the Jubilee year. Their time was given to classes in "The New Why and How" and conferences with leaders and prospective leaders in many churches. The door for such work is wide open in many associations, but until we can have an enlarged budget or increased gifts to our State Expense Fund we can not enter these doors of enlistment.

Our literature is an effective means of enlarging the door of vision and we are happy to have reached our Royal Service quota which was 10,230 subscriptions and we sent in 10,259. That still is only one to every three members. We are always in a campaign for our State Baptist weekly paper. Not only to subscribe to magazine and paper, but to READ them is our desire. A door shut with nails and bars ceases to be a door, so magazines left in the envelopes, and papers never unfolded cease to be avenues of information and inspiration.

Societies in twenty-four churches opened the door to heart and purse and had a gift to missions from every resident woman member: North Albemarle, Asheboro First, Blackman's Grove, Calvary, Coats, Cool Springs, Cherry Grove, Dana, Durham, Watts St., Evergreen, Four Oaks, Johnson, New Friendship, Newell, Orrum, Pauline, Pisgah, Pleasant Grove, Sawyer's Creek, Seaboard, Shiloh, Stony Creek, Winton, and Greenville Memorial.

Southern and North Carolina Baptists have not been able to open the door of help and encouragement to many who come "knocking at the door" because of debt, but the door to this debt is wide open by way of another door—the "Hundred Thousand Club door." It is challenging that we had 1,428 paid up memberships last year. May we "Keep on," "Speed up" and "Stay in" as Dr. Dillard suggests until we can celebrate a "debtless denomination" in our North Carolina Convention and S. B. C., and with Miss Mallory be able to say "I am glad I had a part" rather than "I wish I had."

The Seasons of Prayer were more generally observed with increased offerings at each one. At great cost in money, thought and labor, these programs are prepared. Could not every one of our 3,504 organizations observe them? If they were not content to do the Lord's work negligently they would.

There are always regrets and trouble when yesterday's doors have closed upon us, and we turn to the fast closed doors of tomorrow, but "there is a beautiful promise as old as the hills, yet for us, today, 'The valley of Achor, for a door of hope.'"

Certain doors are useful only as they are closed, screen doors to keep out insects and bugs. So close tight the doors on Doubt and go by the light we find; close the door on Fear, he has lived with us far too long; close the door on Gloom, he has too narrow a view.

The door of God's new chance is open for us, walk through it—use the latch string of prayer—"Knock and it shall be opened unto you."

Through the 1938 door your secretary's field work was Convention 4, Divisions 4, Associations 20, Classes 21, talks 38, mileage 5,591.

Mrs. J. Clyde Turner's partial report was: Letters 103, and mileage 4,721.

LAURELS OF VICTORY IN MISSIONARY EDUCATION

The trumpet of the Jubilee year sounded its call many times in 1938, but not in vain, for the final note was jubilant and triumphant. We give grateful thanks to Him, to every associational leader, every counselor, every member of our missionary organizations for the victory which we now celebrate. Let us spell it thoughtfully and seek to understand how it was wrought in the Jubilee year and every year.

Vision, nothing other than vision discerning, missionary, far-sighted on the part of our women, could have caused the gratifying increase in numbers of young people's organizations. Beginning 1938 with 1,963 organizations, we began 1939 with 2,259, a gain of 296, more than a 20% increase. We now have 492 Y. W. A.'s, 733 Girls' Auxiliaries, 441 R. A. Chapters, 593 Sunbeam Bands. Vision, too, prompted the labor and persistent effort necessary to achieve 422 A-1 organizations. Y. W. A. 85, G. A. 144, R. A. 90, S. B. 103. 342 organizations lacked only 1 point and 372 only two reaching the A-1 class. A little more effort would have spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

Our seven College Y. W. A.'s acquitted themselves splendidly during 1938. They gave to all objects $563.11. Only the Meredith Y. W. A. achieved the A-1 honor, but Mars Hill and Woman's College missed it only by a tiny margin. Our one really active Grace McBride Y. W. A. is at the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem. Every student nurse is a member of the Y. W. A. Hearty congratulations to their counselor, Miss Ruth Council! Mrs. Basil Lee Lockett, missionary to Africa, accompanied the Young People's Secretary to all the campuses in October. Her ability as a speaker, her passion for the lost of Africa, her devotion to Christ and His service greatly impressed and encouraged our college students to give themselves eagerly to the missionary enterprise.

The vision of many missionary societies penetrated into the homes and all babies born in the Golden Jubilee Year were enrolled as Sunbeam Babies, thus enlisting the interest of sometimes disinterested mothers by this friendly gesture on the part of the Missionary Society. This interest in each Sunbeam Baby will extend through pre-Sunbeam Band years, finding particular expression on the baby's birthday. Let us remember that this plan is a permanent part of fostering.

Information, illuminating the mind and inspiring to zealous effort played its part in the accomplishments of an epochal year. "Knowing and doing are the two oars that propel the boat of human endeavor across the sea of life to the harbor of achievement." The ever-widening circulation of World Comrades and The Window of Y. W. A. is wielding influence in better programs and informed youth. Only our sister state, Virginia, surpassed us in subscriptions to World

Comrades, North Carolina having 2,331. We led the procession in Window of Y. W. A. subscriptions, with 1,395 in number, exceeding our goals by 181 and 145, respectively. But let us go on disseminating missionary information through our magazines. In a world of hate, fear, racial animosities, we must sow seeds of brotherhood, understanding, and love for all peoples of all races. Three World Comrades to each Sunbeam Band, Girl's Auxiliary, and R. A. Chapter would be 5,301. Let's take that as a goal in 1939. If five copies of the Window of Y. W. A. were going each month to each Y. W. A., 2,260 would be the number of subscribers. Which associations will work toward these high goals?

Mission Study classes among our young people have helped to dispel ignorance concerning missions. The 1,120 classes among our young people were as follows: Y. W. A., 205; G. A., 405; R. A., 140; S. B., 314; Grace McBride, 1; College Y. W. A., 5.

The Silver Anniversary G. A. House Party with 516 girls in attendance and the R. A. Camp with 127 R. A.'s staying for the entire period brought information in such fascinating fashion. Misses Juliette Mather, Southwide Young People's Secretary, Ruth Walden, Missionary from Africa, Kiyoko Shimose, Kazue Murata, Rev. and Mrs. C. K. Djang, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. Edna R. Harris, Misses Elma Currin, Josephine Turner, and Mildred Thomas were our guests and helpers for three glorious days. The 1939 House Party will again be at Meredith College, June 4-7. Many of these guests stayed for our State R. A. Camp. Rev. Henry Sodegren, formerly missionary to Africa, and Harold Schaly, Brazilian student at Wake Forest College, joined us for those days. Rev. J. L. White, Jr., was again the splendid director. Assisting him were Rev. E. Norfleet Gardner, S. L. Morgan, Jr., Mrs. D. E. Ward, and several Wake Forest students. No one can measure the value of such meetings combining as they do, happy fun, serious thinking about living the Christian life, study of world-wide missions. Every church would do well and wisely to send a group of boys to our State R. A. Camp at Meredith, June 7-10. The Western R. A. Camp at Ridgecrest, directed by Rev. Fred Forester, with the coöperation of Mrs. J. R. Morgan and Mrs. E. C. Coker and many pastors, was unusually well attended. This 1939 camp begins May 31 and continues through June 3. Also a G. A. House Party for the Asheville Division was fostered by Mrs. E. C. Coker. One hundred and twenty-seven girls attended, and in the illness of Mrs. Coker, Mrs. W. L. Lynch, Mars Hill, directed activities. Miss Vivian Grant, Wilmington divisional young people's leader, and Rev. E. Norfleet Gardner, divisional R. A. Counselor, planned a fine R. A. Conclave for the division which climaxed R. A. Focus Week in November. The hospitality of the Fayetteville First Church was unexcelled. About 250 R. A.'s enjoyed the well-planned program. The Atlantic, under the leadership of Mrs. W. B. Sprinkle and Mrs. Lewis Daniel, fostered an associational G. A. Camp touching 54 girls. Mrs. L. V. Coggins, Beulah Young People's leader, promoted a splendid camp for young people. Up to the hills to South-wide Y. W. A. Camp went 287 Y. W. A.'s. It's really a shame that so many Y. W. A.'s do not take advantage of the most inspiring, uplifting missionary meeting ever planned for young women. Progress in Forward Steps of G. A. and Ranking System of R. A. has been noteworthy. Year by year counselors are leading G. A.'s and R. A.'s to do this individual extra work in order that they become more informed concerning the missionary enterprise.

Cooperation is always an element of victory. How finely divisional and associational leaders and counselors worked together in the Jubilee year! Particularly was this true in the matter of observing Focus Week as more and more organizations are seeing the value of this emphasis.

Many Silver Anniversary Associational banquets were held on the evening of April 15 at which time a message was broadcast. At least 3,000 girls and their counselors and pastors were reached that evening.

Associational Y. W. A. Councils are increasing in number and strength. Haywood, Beulah, South Fork, and Stanly associations are developing their Y. W. A. work wonderfully as the Y. W. A.'s meet together for fellowship and exchange of ideas.

Associational Rallies were held in a goodly number of associations, the Charlotte Division leading in this effort.

Trustworthiness on the part of a leader is fundamental in every phase of W. M. U. work. How we wish all were trustworthy in the matter of reporting! From 50 Y. W. A.'s, 73 G. A.'s, 49 R. A.'s, 86 Sunbeam Bands, we heard not a single word during 1939. Little Sunbeams cannot be expected to report, but to think that 86 leaders did not care enough to report is quite discouraging. We are grateful for all who did!

Obedience to the Great Commission expressed itself in many ways, but most vividly in the matter of giving and praying. The stewardship education plans of our W. M. U. were faithfully promoted and used by many counselors and had all done likewise, our gifts might have been far more. Our young people gave to all objects $41,624.55. A gain of $6,540.47 in the Jubilee year. Of this amount, $24,588.84 was given through the Coöperative Program. The Golden Jubilee gift of our young people was $1,753.70. We gained 390 tithers among our young people. A gradually increasing number of organizations are observing the three Seasons of Prayer. Could not all counselors lead those entrusted to them in this extra but important meeting when youth shall realize the great importance of Prayer in missions?

Readiness to serve at our immediate doors must not be overlooked. Four hundred and thirty-seven performed month by month direct Personal Service in Jesus' name. Youth can be led to help others to become Christians. During 1939, let all be zealous to take as their personal responsibility the winning of others to Christ. In the God-inspired effort of Southern Baptists to win the unsaved, let us lead youth to have a share.

Youth's love, enthusiasm, courage always urges on Victory. Youth with unused energies! Youth with abounding vitality! Youth with unspoiled powers! To help childhood and youth through Sunbeam Band, Girl's Auxiliary, Royal Ambassador Chapter, and Young Woman's Auxiliary to realize fully life's supreme purpose and the real mission of the church is to render an inestimable service to youth, the missionary enterprise now and through all the future. The victories of the Golden Jubilee year call us to press onward and upward in missionary education of youth. A New England school teacher gave Kagawa's poem, "Discovery," to a group of her children as a writing lesson. When he had finished, one child traced his own hand over his copy. This pleased the group and they all did the same. And so was planted in each child's mind the thought:

"That a secret plan
Is hid in my hand
That God, who dwells in my hand
Knows this secret plan
Of the things He will do for the world using my hand!"

Woman's Missionary Union, God calls you afresh to the work of preparing youth for the things God will do for the world using their hands.

For the gracious hospitality of pastors, leaders, and young people. I give thanks. Every kind act accorded me on the field finds grateful and abiding memory in my heart. In addition to my statistical report which follows, I prepared special Focus week material each quarter; also the Heck Memorial and State Mission programs for young people.

MISSION STUDY REPORT

Dr. B. H. Carroll used to say, "I desire always to have a definite aim, to draw a bead, as one sights down a rifle aimed at an object." Those who accomplish most have an aim, a goal toward which they work. The low aim for Woman's Missionary Societies is two Mission Study Classes a year, and one for other organizations, with three hours of class study and discussion on the books, and yet that low aim seems to burden some societies and they make no effort to meet it. I think our requirements are too low to challenge our ability. "Not failure but low aim is crime."

Let us set a higher aim this year in mission study—not just to meet the Standard of Excellence, but for the knowledge and inspiration it gives; and to keep apace with the advance of the Kingdom of God and to know the need that we can meet.

The desire for better work will be stimulated by reading individually, or study in groups, our new Woman's Missionary Union history, "Following in His Train," by Mrs. W. J. Cos. Young People's leaders should eagerly use the histories of the Union "To Be Continued" and "Five Times Ten."

Twenty-two Mission Study Institutes were held—a mere beginning of a worthwhile service, but we shall look forward to more this year.

The Pioneer Class did not appeal to women as it should, only 155 Pioneer Classes were reported, but the opportunity is before us from year to year.

"Study to show thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Message of the President: "The Love of Christ Constraineth Us," Mrs. J. Clyde Turner.

THE LOVE OF CHRIST CONSTRAINETH US

As I have scanned the history of the past, I find that this is the third time Woman's Missionary Union has held its State meeting in High Point.

Thirty years ago we met here with the First Baptist Church. The minutes show 196 delegates and gifts totaling $30,000.00. In 1929 we met in this church, and our gifts had grown to more than $345,000.00. This is the largest amount we have ever given in one year and was the direct result of the Ruby Anniversary.

The Ruby Anniversary was the second of the great commemorative occasions observed by Woman's Missionary Union, the first having been the Jubilate in 1913. In each of these there were constructive gains.

And now the third celebration, the Year of Jubilee has passed. A great year it has been; great in purpose and in plans, great in effort and endeavor, great in attainment and achievement. Throughout the year we answered the trumpet's call as it summoned to party, to pageant and to prayer. Truly we have been upon the mountain top. We would fain linger there. But today there comes a call challenging and insistent to meet the needs of a new day.

If I rightly interpret the Jubilee, it was designed to call our women back to God. Its preparation began in prayer, and throughout the year the emphasis was laid on prayer and rededication. As we trace the history of our Union we recognize the leadership of God through all difficulties, we see the guidance of God in all plans and the power of God in all accomplishments. Let us continue this close fellowship.

More than fifty years ago our Union started on its unchartered way. We went not knowing whither, concerned only with obeying the command "Go ye." Today we face a new epoch. We need the same spirit of these pioneers. The task is not an easy one. We have a great organization, far-reaching plans and adequate departments. Where now shall the emphasis be placed?

Wisely has the watchword for the year been chosen—"The love of Christ constraineth us." We go back to first principles and put the emphasis on the motive behind all our work.

Many characters have been made strong by a great motto as a life principle. A life of service to mankind was stimulated by the simple motto, "Others." The more challenging one, "God First," wrought greater results. It is said that Benjamin Franklin was taught as a boy to have as his ideal, "Seest though a man diligent in business? He shall stand before kings." As an old man he testified that the constant keeping of that verse before him helped him to reach the high place that entitled him to stand before several kings. When questioned as to his great calmness in emergencies, Gladstone pointed to his motto—"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee." Martin Luther broke the bonds of formal religion when the verse, "The just shall live by faith," became a living force in his life. The Protestant Reformation was the result. What might we not accomplish if this, our watchword, should become active and compelling in the lives of our membership? Impossible, you say? Perhaps so, but surely worth striving for. Let us set it as our ideal.

"The love of Christ constraineth us." The love that Christ had for us. That matchless love. A love that passeth knowledge. A love that not only saved us but called us to be coworkers. A love that upholds, strengthens and empowers for this task. As we witness the power of human love to restrain from sin or to lead to high endeavor, we can dimly comprehend that greater force—the power of divine love. Again, we are constrained by the love we have for Christ, for love begets love. We love him because he first loved us. Imperfect as our love is—only an echo of His perfect love—still it is the greatest gift we can bring, it is the best equipment for acceptable service. Without love it is impossible to please Him. Again we hear Him say, "If ye love me ye will keep my commandments," and yet again, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord and do not the things that I say." So the very practical proof of love is obedience. Obedience to His commands as to all activities, and surely the affairs of the Kingdom must have first place. What a change would be wrought in all our work if we should dare to bring it up to the standard set by our watchword.

This constraining love has given to us the martyrs and missionaries of the past. It gave to us the early leaders of Woman's Missionary Union. It has given many since that day. Standing on the threshold of this new epoch in our history with the power of this love compelling us, we can claim spiritual allegiance with those who have gone before.

Like them we face grave difficulties. Today we see a world torn by strife and dissension, a world suffering from war and oppression, a world where religious liberty is being denied and positive and aggressive opposition to evangelical religion manifested. In Rumania hundreds of churches have been closed; Christians have been beaten and imprisoned. In spite of persecution or perhaps because of it, there have been more than 6,000 baptisms a year for the past ten years. In proportion to their membership, this probably leads the world. A recent cablegram from Bucharest states that the churches closed since December 10 will now be reopened as the Minister of Cults, Colon, has resigned and the new minister is supposed to be more sympathetic. In Germany Hitler is exalted as supreme. Here persecution of the Jews beggars description and Christian ministers languish in concentration camps. Our own denomination has escaped so far. Pastor Nemollers' loyalty to his faith has won admiration throughout the world, and recently there has come the story that three of his five sons have volunteered for the ministry, inspired by their father's loyalty. In China where there is suffering past our comprehension Japan is promoting Buddhism wherever her forces establish themselves. Russia continues her atheistic teachings and fight against God. In Palestine the contention is not only for the soil but for ancient faith. In our own land the forces of evil and lawlessness are in battle array. And yet—it is a day of marvelous opportunity. It is a time of great need. It is a time when true Christianity is as a steady shining light amid the darkness, turmoil and uncertainty. Like Paul we can say, "For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries."

During the World War period someone said to Mr. Chesterton that Christianity had failed, to which he replied, "Christianity has not failed. It has been found difficult and has not been tried." This was not entirely true even of that period. It has never been true. It is not true today. Christianity is difficult. It has always been difficult, but it has been tried and it has not failed. The early Christians tried it and became a conquering, triumphant force, turning the world upside down. Many courageous souls have followed in their train. Conspicuous among these faithful ones have always been our missionaries. William Carey's consuming missionary conviction enabled him to brave the opposition of his brother ministers and to lead in the modern missionary movement. The flame of his zeal crossed the ocean and fired the souls of the Judsons, Rice, and the long line of missionaries since that time. All were moved by the same power, a love that constrains to obedience to that One who said, "Go ye, into all the world."

The missionaries of today are worthy successors of these pioneers. Standing in places of difficulty and danger, the testimony of their lives rings true. Working side by side with them are the native Christians, equally faithful. There is but one explanation—The love of Christ constrains them.

In a recent issue of the Commission, Dr. Rankin pictures the awful conditions after a year of hideous warfare, but against this black background he throws the shining light of Christian service as churches, schools and hospitals carry on. It is past our comprehension, Dr. Rankin says, "But God's love had laid strong hold on the hearts of His children and they were constrained to give their best to sustain His Kingdom work." Telling of the mission convention last July he quotes the oft repeated expression from those reporting who said, "This has been the best year of my life." Truly Christianity has been tried in China and found victorious.

In China, Madam Chiang Kai-shek, called the most renowned woman of today, works side by side with her distinguished husband and is unfaltering in her Christian faith. She said in one of her addresses:

"The whole of the Chinese nation is on the march. The church must march with it. Beacon after beacon is being lighted across the country, warning the people that they must arise to attack the strongly entrenched social evils of our day, and to help usher in the new order of things. . . .

"At the very heart of our faith is hardship, endurance, suffering, a cross. Without them there cannot be any Christian faith. . . .

"In this age of grim necessity, when the utmost qualities of men and of nations are on trial, to have a robust Christian faith means that we shall never give in. This age will be changed in the proportion that our faith, personality, and enthusiasm soak into it. . . .

"What we need today is to feel certain about the call of God, and to make some decisions at the price of our comfort, and if need be, of our necks. Perception and action must go together. . . .

"One singular thing about our Christian faith is that it is not merely a social creed, but a revelation from God."

The recently retired Chinese Ambassador to the United States, Mr. C. T. Wang, is a devout Christian who says that he talks with Jesus Christ about the problems of statecraft. The new Japanese Ambassador and his wife are consecrated Christians and Baptists. Nor has this war been without fruits in Japan. As the faithful Christians there have seen the devastating suffering caused by war, more and more do they magnify the Price of Peace.

With trophies such as these and many, many more, let us give ourselves with renewed devotion to mission work in far away lands.

What about our own land? Here we find not actual warfare nor religious persecution, but unrest, crime, worldliness, indifference, sin. Against these the forces of righteousness are set for the bringing in of the Kingdom. Outstanding leaders in all walks of life are united in saying our great need today is for a religious awakening. Recently Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, made this profoundly true observation: "Humanity desperately needs today a moral and spiritual rebirth, a revitalization of religion. There is no sure way to this supreme goal save through adherence to the teachings of the Bible."

Our own denomination is committed to a great program of Evangelism. As a Union we are entering wholeheartedly into these plans. Soul-winning has ever been the main objective in Personal Service. Recently I have read again some extracts from Miss Heck on Personal Service in which she says:

"The Personal Service Department is without doubt one of the largest, if not the largest, and most significant movement begun not only by the Union, but, as far as I am aware, by any other of the large woman's missionary organizations in recent years. Indeed, in my own mind it is so large and so significant that I hardly find words to convey it to others.

"Practice the presence of Jesus that you may not be embarrassed when trying to introduce Him to the sinner.

"To save a soul is Christ's great command. Quickly on it follows the injunction to teach all things He has commanded."

Some one speaking of our Baptist hosts has used this very descriptive phrase, "Listed but not enlisted." This is distressingly true of our missionary organizations. It is also true that in our churches there are hosts of members not even "listed" in mission organizations. Let us strive to "list" and "enlist" all in the great missionary program committed to us.

There has recently been republished the story of a disaster which took place more than fifty years ago near Woolwich on the Thames. Two boats collided in the fog, one carrying nine hundred excursionists, six hundred of whom were drowned. Two ferrymen were mooring their boats for the night. One heard the crash and the cries and said, "I am tired, no one will see me in the fog," and he went home. The other jumped in his boat, pulled for the wreck with all his might, crammed his boat full, and when they were safely landed, back he went for another load, always with the prayer, "O God, for a bigger boat." At the inquest each had to answer. Two men heard. One did nothing. The other prayed for a bigger boat.

In which class will you be? Do you think to lose yourself in the throng or will you use all your abilities in the task committed to us by the Master? So far as we know, He has no other plan.

"He is counting on you!
On a love that will share
In His burden of prayer,
For the souls He has bought
With His life blood; and sought
Through His sorrow and pain
To win 'Home' yet again,
He is counting on you:
If you fail Him—
What then?"

"He is counting on you!
Oh! the wonder and grace,
To look Christ in the face
And not be ashamed,
For you gave what He claimed,
And you laid down your all
For His sake—at His call;
He had counted on you,
And you failed not—
What then?" —Selected.

Reports of Divisional Superintendents:

REPORT OF ASHEVILLE DIVISION

A call having come from our leaders to faithfully celebrate the 50th Anniversary of Woman's Missionary Union, we called our executive meeting in Asheville First Church early in the year and there we formulated and entered into a covenant, with higher goals and loftier standards, for making this a worthy Golden Jubilee for our Mother Organization. Encouraged by enthusiasm brought by our State officials, we carried these home and presented them to our constituency, who catching our extended hands with true loyalty, entered with us into the prayer, study, faith and work needed to make local goals. In a short time some of our Associations were duplicating the Division's Plan Meeting, and there was launched a year of Golden Jubilee.

Among ourselves we had a lovely anniversary and a part of us went out and brought in others to enjoy the feast, covenanting with them to pass it on and allow still others to catch hands and step, making our circle larger by more links. We weakened as we got farther from the source of inspiration to method and means. The walls of "I-don't-know-how-nor-what-to-do" confronted us here and there and the Golden Jubilee Chairman seemed to find the shelf of "Unread" already nearly filled with Year Books, Manuals and Guides for Counselors, and so we sat down to await the coming of "She-understands-it-so-well" to put over our plans and goals. This most willing but full-handed person was never able to get to every one of us and before these unfathomed shelves of books, Weeks of Prayer Programs, free mission literature, we still sit. The ease of "Indifference" having loomed so great that we are most too busy, were help to come to reveal the hidden mystery of "So Much Literature," to take time to follow the guide. In fact, we, too, are busy now with other and easier things—"Things Everybody is Doing."

Others, however, attending the meetings caught more and more inspiration to celebrate in a worthy way our loyalty for our Mother W. M. U. on this, her golden anniversary, and so opening our Jubilee Manuals, Year Books, Royal Services, supplementary programs, Biblical Recorders, suggestions from W. M. U. rooms in Raleigh, and Weeks of Prayer Literature began to imbibe the plans and to adapt them to our goals, to make smaller goals for each unit of organization, and to proceed to go forward after increases along all lines of W. M. U. ideals and endeavor.

Pursuant to faith in God's willingness and in goals, the Division as a whole made gains worthy of note, over the preceding year. We passed our Special Jubilee goal of $700.00, making our gift $832.89. We passed our total aim of $17,438.00 by $1,255.06, our entire gift for year being $19,526.22.

Each of our fourteen associational superintendents sent a report at the end of the year, most of which had an answer to each question. Totaled, these reports show for the Division a gain in total gifts of 13 per cent; of 44 per cent plus in the number of societies: 41.9 per cent gain in number of Mission Study Classes, some of which were pioneer classes; 46 per cent gain in number of tithers; 52½ per cent gain in number of World Comrades; 48 per cent gain in number of societies observing Home Mission Week of Prayer; 24 per cent gain in those observing Christmas Offering; 39 per cent in those engaged in personal service, and small gains in the subscriptions to Biblical Recorder, those observing State Mission Day, and in the number of societies represented at their associational meetings.

Miss Ruth Kellar worked in several associations for a week each. Her work made contributory results. Miss Helen McCullough, recuperating after illness before returning to China, spoke at a number of our associational meetings. Miss Currin and Mrs. B. L. Locket taught and organized in colleges and attended meetings in the Division, and Mrs. Clyde Turner and Mrs. P. W. Hamlet spoke in our Divisional annual meeting at Boone. These may be called "Those women who helped."

The Division Young People's Leader, Mrs. Eugene Coker, had a very severe illness during which she was royally treated at the Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, and for which we can never cease to praise the hospital. Notwithstanding her illness Mrs. Coker has worked untiringly to have every association put on all-day methods conferences for Young Peoples' Counselors in which they studied "Telling You How," by Miss Mather. Some associations held rallies for young people's organizations, some G. A.'s held banquets and socials in honor of G. A. Silver Anniversary, some gave special programs honoring Mother W. M. U.'s Golden Anniversary. Each association had at least a few organizations to observe Stewardship Night, and some observed Focus Week for the different societies.

The R. A. Camp was a glorious success. There sixteen boys accepted Christ and two surrendered for the ministry. Around two hundred boys attended. Rev. Fred Forester, of Cullowhee, directed it under Mrs. Coker's plans.

The G. A. House Party was also very successful. The girls gave a worthy offering to Chinese sufferers and studied missions. They are begging for another house party this year. Miss Mary Currin and Mrs. W. L. Lynch carried this out while Mrs. Coker was ill, under her directions. Mrs. Coker is planning to repeat both camps this year.

The largest gains were, perhaps, made by the Carolina Association, Mrs. O. J. Smith, Superintendent. With worthy Jubilee goals she reached an increase of 28 per cent in gifts, 64½ per cent in organizations, 66 per cent in membership, 272 per cent in number of Mission Study classes, one being a pioneer class. The number of tithers increased 130 per cent, and they made 6 per cent increase in subscriptions to Biblical Recorder. Her women sent cans to our Baptist Hospital, raised money for furnishing a room in the new addition to the Baptist Hospital, with a name plate dedicating the same to the memory of Mrs. J. F. Brooks, of Hendersonville, who was one of their faithful workers, a former superintendent of the Association and at the time of her death their Associational Personal Service Chairman and also Personal Service Chairman of the Asheville Division. The Carolina Association's minutes are dedicated to Mrs. Brooks' memory. They had fourteen A-1 societies. May these good women continue to "follow the gleam."

Buncombe Association made an increase over last year of 45 per cent in the number of organizations; those doing personal service, 25 per cent increase; 13 per cent increase in number of subscriptions to Biblical Recorder; and in gifts, 9 per cent increase. She made the largest number of points on the Standard of Excellence, nine points being reached. Special mention is due her Young People's Leader and Mission Study and Stewardship Chairman. Reed Memorial Church, in this Association, supports a Bible woman in China. She has 18 A-1 organizations. Haywood Association made the largest per cent of increase in gifts, making a gain of 42 per cent. She increased 28 per cent in number of organizations; 77 per cent in membership; 48 per cent in number of tithers, besides other worthy goals.

The Macon Association gained in Recorder and Royal Service subscriptions, number of tithers, number taking part in personal service, number observing weeks of prayer. Every W. M. S. in the Association contributed to Orphanage and Hospital. One sent a quilt to the Rescue Mission in New Orleans, and personal service was carried out for the inmates in the county institutions.

The Transylvania made her goals in organizations and membership, making a 33 per cent gain in membership. They also made gains in One Hundred Thousand Club subscriptions and mission study classes.

French Broad made goals in number of new members, reaching 39 per cent gain; also in mission study classes, having reached 79 per cent gain in this line.

Mitchell made her goal in members, new societies, mission study, and tithers. The W. M. S. of the First Church of Spruce Pine clothed a girl at the Thomasville Orphanage. The Sunbeams of this church sent a box to an African missionary.

Western North Carolina reached goals in organizations, societies, personal service, and mission study. They had five A-1 organizations. The Y. W. A. and G. A. of the Murphy Church deserves special mention.

Tennessee River made goals in mission study classes and number of tithers.

Avery gained in tithers and number of societies, and made her goal in membership, Recorder, Royal Service, Window and World Comrade subscriptions. The superintendent put forth a very special effort in mission study and very faithfully represented W. M. U. during an Associational-Wide Campaign being put on by the State Board in unenlisted churches.

Three Forks reached her goal in new members, societies, those doing personal service, mission study classes, tithers, Recorder subscriptions, Royal Service subscriptions and Window of Y. W. A. subscriptions.

Yancey reached her goal in mission study, tithers, Royal Service and World Comrade subscriptions, and societies doing personal service. This Association did more mission study work than ever before. The women filled a great many cans for the Orphanage, and their personal service work is very efficient.

Blue Ridge made gains in personal service and study classes. The W. M. S. of the First Church in Marion, this Association, supports a Bible woman in China and the church supports a missionary in China.

The Tuckaseegee made her goals in number of societies, number of members, number of tithers, and number of mission study classes. She made 100 per cent gain in mission study classes.

All these gains on our very small attainments of 1937 hearten us and make us thankful and, too, give us courage. "If these were worthy goals for 1938," in the words of our Year Book, "they are not worthy ones for 1939." Be warned by a wise seer: "Not constant effort—ebb and flow distressing."

Those 370 unorganized churches as against the 350 organized to some extent stand as stone walls with none or very small doors before us, that loss in membership occurred somewhere, that 16 per cent loss in Royal Service subscriptions is chargeable to some one, the failure of some 23 per cent more societies to observe the weeks of prayer should rebuke the proper leaders. How do so many Y. W. A. organizations added each year make 80 per cent loss in number of Window of Y. W. A. taken? Who, where, how, we echo, is at fault in our various losses? Are we so busy feasting that we forget the hungry? Are we looking over our neighbors' heads to farther away needs? Have we looked and listened and studied our neighbors until we know how to pray for them? Lord grant, we may find the cause and remedy it, and the courage to go beyond our own churches; less of self for me and more for thee.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN, Superintendent.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

For twenty-six years, more than a quarter of a century, the women and young people of the Charlotte Division have been helping to tell the story around the world. Our growth in interest, members, and organizations has been continuous through these years. Building upon our fundamentals and our Standard of Excellence, our great program of work, we have grown in grace, knowledge, and spirituality, fitting ourselves for more efficient service as "Laborers together" in Kingdom work.

A jubilant note has come from 23 out of 24 of our associations. While all have not made the goals, accepted so enthusiastically at the beginning of the year, yet it is with praise and thanksgiving that we have gone forward along all lines.

First. We have gone forward in Mission Study. Following our Conference for study and planning in January, at Winston-Salem, Mission Study Institutes were held in 18 of our associations, 12 of these were held in groups with nearby associations, while 6 of them had their own Institutes. The results from these have been most encouraging.

We are deeply grateful to all those who have helped in this work. To Mrs. M. P. Blair, our Mission Study Chairman, Mrs. Wade Bostic, Golden Jubilee Chairman, Mrs. F. M. Little, Wadesboro, and Mrs. J. J. Roddick, Winston-Salem, and to those who taught classes and brought inspirational messages, Miss Mary Currin, Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Dr. and Mrs. Luther Little, Mr. Jacob Gartenhaus, Mr. C. K. Djang, Miss Addie Bostic, and others. Some of the results of this study are: 967 Mission Study Classes and 77 Pioneer Classes. Hundreds of women and young people have studied missions for the first time in their lives, and joyful experiences have come to both teachers and classes, for the Pioneer Class is the forerunner of a new organization and will help us to solve our problem of enlistment.

The Mission Study Chairman of South Fork Association has held four small Institutes with large attendance and increased interest. They plan to do larger things in Mission Study this year.

Yadkin leads in number of Pioneer Classes with 10. The Cabarrus is a close second with 9. The First Church, Gastonia, with Mrs. B. A. Bowers, leader, has held 44 classes, and Gaston leads all associations with 131 classes, Pilot Mountain with 122, Kings Mountain with 76, Stanly with 73. Mission Study opens the door of the unenlisted church, and is the key to unenlisted hearts of women and young people.

Second. We have gone forward in Young People's work. Mrs. H. F. Lambert, our Young People's Leader, has attended Young People's Rallies in 12 associations, organized one new association—the Alexander. The attendance at these meetings ranged from 100 to 500. To the delight of all our Young People, Miss Mary Currin, Mrs. Eugene Sallee, and Mr. C. K. Djang brought messages of inspiration. Stewardship night was observed in 29 churches, more than 10 per cent increase in Mission Study Classes, 13½ per cent increase in Young People's organizations. A forward step in Young People's work was taken when a Conference for Leaders was held at Statesville in January to plan for the new year. All Young People's Rallies will be held in June this year and emphasis is to be placed upon R. A. Chapters, that more boys may be enlisted in Kingdom work.

The Y. W. A. of Pee Dee Association sent 14 young women to Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest. Other young people of that association have won honors in their organizations; Charles Allen is an R. A. Plenipotentiary, the only one in the State; Mary Evelyn Morris and Elizabeth Moore are Queen Regents. Miss Ione Knight, of Madison, Pilot Mountain Association, is State Queen.

Third. We have gone forward in gifts. Most of our associations have reported 10 per cent increase in gifts, and as a test of stewardship, more tithers have been reported. We have rejoiced to have a part in the Golden Jubilee Special and to the Heck Memorial. The Thank Offerings at our seasons of prayer have been expressions of joyful recognition of Stewardship. Total gifts for the year, $92,-964.98, a gain of $13,215.51 over last year.

In response to the trumpet calls to celebrate the Golden Jubilee year, our associations and societies have had special feature celebrations. Teas, pageants, receptions, birthday cakes with candles, joint celebrations with G. A.'s, banquets, and various kinds of programs, all these have helped to awaken new interest in the history and work of W. M. U.

Six of our associations have made 9 points on the Standard of Excellence. It would be a worthy goal for this year to work for seven A-1 associations. We still look with pride upon the Kings Mountain that has learned the secret of staying A-1 year by year. This association has established a $2,000.00 scholarship fund at Boiling Springs to help worthy girls in school; three have been helped this year.

The crowning experiences of this year have been our Seasons of Prayer. We are grateful for the Home and Foreign Mission Study books used preceding these weeks of prayer—and for the excellent program material to be used, and for the larger number of societies participating. In the Union and Kings Mountain unusually helpful association-wide days of prayer were held in December. Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt, of Elkin, planned a program for each day during the week, with three associations represented and a visiting speaker for each meeting. A large attendance and fine spirit is reported.

We rejoice that God has called Miss Mary Herring, of First Church, Winston-Salem, to go as a missionary to China. She sailed October 1 for Peiking to enter the Language School, very happy in the prospect of witnessing for Christ in the land of her birth.

Many of our societies have been busy doing Personal Service; linen showers for Baptist Hospital, quilts for mountain schools, work among Negro women and girls, and canning fruit for the Mills Home. This year we will enter whole-heartedly into the campaign for soul winning.

The W. M. S. of Sandy Run took 71 people from that association to Ridgecrest for one day during Foreign Mission Week.

The Yadkin women observed their 25th anniversary in June, with a special program in which the G. A.'s celebrated with them their 25th year of organization in the South. The Yadkin is the only association that reports a 10 per cent increase in the whole program of W. M. U. work.

Montgomery association has established a $150.00 memorial in the Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem for Mrs. F. A. Wright, a pioneer worker in that association. Seven schools of Missions have been reported, five in the Pilot Mountain, two in the Liberty. New Friendship has the honor of having a full-graded A-1 union for 5 successive years, and this year has every resident member contributing to missions.

Our annual meeting was held this year at Lenoir, in the north-western section of our Division. Large delegations came from nearby associations, and the attendance was about 500. The program was one of the best in our history. In addition to our State officers, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner and Mrs. Edna R. Harris, we had with us Mrs. B. L. Lockett and Miss Kathleen Mallory, our Executive Secretary of W. M. U. of the South. Mrs. Lockett said she was in America, but her heart was in Africa. Miss Mallory spoke to us on "Vision and Action," bringing a challenging message as we were near the close of our Golden Jubilee year.

Mrs. H. F. Lambert had prepared an interesting program in Young People's work for the afternoon, an acrostic "Gold" in Service for the four young people's organizations, and a play, "The Value of a Boy." In the absence of Miss Currin, Mrs. R. K. Redwine brought an inspirational message on "Ideals of our Young People." A most enjoyable and worthwhile day was spent with those hospitable people in that beautiful mountain city.

Our annual meeting this year will be held October 24 in First Church, Gastonia. We are looking forward to this meeting with the good women of that church and association.

"The love of Christ constraineth us." Love is the motive for all of our Christian service. Today we stand in the dawn of a new half-century of W. M. U. organization. Unbounded possibilities are open to us. They challenge us to give ourselves anew to the task with our love and loyalty to Jesus Christ and His great missionary program.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON, Superintendent.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

As a preface to this report of W. M. U. work well done in the Elizabeth City Division, I would like for each of you to pay particular attention to see what it represents—of deep spiritual purpose, of sacrificial efforts, and of the great final goal. What a vivid and living glow the facts and figures thus acquire! So it is that our Jubilee year stands out as a golden milestone marking the strivings of a company of Christian women in their pilgrimage onward and upward! What has been accomplished should grip the conscience, capture the imagination and enlist our untiring zeal in continuing the work. A Christian record should indeed be a dramatic epic, and I hope as you read this you may accept it as such.

The Atlantic Association has done outstanding work during the past year and we are proud of its reports. The enthusiastic superintendent says: "We have tried to make our Golden Jubilee Year, 1938, a great one, and I feel that we have accomplished great things for Christ." This Association increased the young people's organizations 100 per cent—really doubled their number. The pioneer mission study classes were taught, and three fifty-dollar gold certificates were redeemed.

The Chowan Association held a mission study institute early in the year. The attendance was very good and much interest shown. Sawyer's Creek and Shiloh have full graded A-1 Unions. Four pioneer classes were taught.

The Neuse Association held a mission study institute and six pioneer mission study classes were taught. Two fifty-dollar certificates were redeemed. Our annual Divisional Meeting was held in this Association in October. Kennedy Home Church and Goldsboro First were joint hostesses. The attendance was good and Miss Currin, Mrs. Farmer, Mrs. Lockett and Miss Nan F. Weeks of Richmond brought splendid messages.

The Roanoke Association has done excellent work. Five gold certificates were redeemed and six pioneer mission study classes held. The 100.000 Club was stressed and again this Association leads the State with ninety-eight paid up memberships.

The work in the Pamlico Association is going forward in spite of the handicap of a local trained leadership.

The West Chowan, always the leader in number of organizations, totals 196. It has four full graded A-1 Unions, Cashie, Colerain, Conway, and Creeksville. There were five fifty-dollar certificates redeemed.

We have in the Division 612 organizations, lacking only twelve making the 10 per cent increase over 1937. We did make the 10 per cent increase in membership. We are most happy to record that the Division did make a 10 per cent increase in gifts. The Atlantic, Chowan, Neuse, Roanoke, and West Chowan all reached their Jubilee aim, the total given being $38,202.75, the Roanoke leading with $14,055.34.

Mrs. Gordon Maddrey, the capable and enthusiastic leader of our young people's work, says: "The young people's work of the Elizabeth City Division has progressed in a satisfactory manner during the past year. We are fortunate in having ten efficient and consecrated women to lead in the six associations of the division, and through their efforts the Junior Auxiliaries have responded more readily to the program outlined by our State and South-wide leaders than in previous years.

"Four of the associations, Atlantic, Chowan, Pamlico, and Roanoke, held Associational Girls' Auxiliary Banquets last April in observance of the Silver Anniversary of that organization. Approximately one hundred and fifty G. A.'s and R. A.'s and Y. W. A.'s from the division attended the State G. A. Houseparty and R. A. Camp and the South-wide Y. W. A. Camp. The Chowan and West Chowan Association participated in a week's camp held at Chowan College in July and the Atlantic Association had a young people's rally.

"The young people's work of the Atlantic Association, under the leadership of Mrs. W. B. Sprinkle, is divided into the groups, and each group had a meeting during the year. That association also put on an Associational G. A. Camp in August with seventy-five G. A.'s present and Miss Currin and Mr. Djang as special guests. Mrs. L. B. Daniel, of New Bern, Superintendent of the association, has been unfailing in her support of the young people's work, and through the continued efforts of Mrs. Sprinkle and Mrs. Daniel, the young people's work in that association has gone forward in a gratifying way.

The young people of three associations, Atlantic, Chowan, and West Chowan, redeemed gold certificates—one fifty-dollar and three twenty-five dollar certificates. Twelve five-dollar certificates were redeemed by a like number of G. A.'s, R. A.'s, and Sunbeams organizations."

Mrs. Maddrey says, "Bearing in mind the accomplishments of the Jubilee year, and grateful for the services of the associational and local young people's leaders, we are looking forward to a year of greater service for the Master in young people's work, realizing that 'There remaineth yet very much land to be possessed.'" I want to emphasize that our young people's work has made rapid strides under the planning and direction of Mrs. Maddrey and her consecrated, gracious willingness to serve.

The associational superintendents and young people's leaders have been devotion itself to their respective duties, and each may point with just pride to her accomplishments, which this report will testify and which it is my happy privilege to praise. They deserve great credit for their increasing loyalty, unstinted service and unselfish devotion. This is true of the county leaders and society presidents, for on their untiring, unselfish zeal rests the stability of our work. As I have said repeatedly, each member plays her part as a contributing factor in the work that has been accomplished, and to these I wish to pay tribute and give highest praise.

With this account of a task accepted and accomplished, my prayer is that Christ who yet performs miracles may convert the water of our weakness into the wine of sustaining strength, so that we may labor for the hastening of His Kingdom here on earth, when His Glory shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea, and peace shall come!

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. E. BRUCE BEASLEY, Superintendent.

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

Events commemorating a golden anniversary are always treasured and remembered and kept among one's souvenirs. As superintendent of the Greensboro Division, it is my happy privilege to bring to you the report of a year spent in glorious activities filled with treasured memories and worthwhile events.

We really have had two meetings of the Greensboro Division in 1938. Our first, on February 2, 1938, in Raleigh at Hayes-Barton Church, with Mrs. Claude F. Gaddy and the Central Association, coöperating hostesses. The main purpose of this meeting was information and inspiration for the Golden Jubilee Year. It was enthusiastically attended, more than 250 being present. Then on October 18, 1938, at the First Baptist Church, Sanford, in the Sandy Creek Association, our regular annual meeting was held with about 350 in attendance. The superintendents of the nine associations composing the Greensboro Division have done an unusually splendid work for the year, reporting 170 A-1 societies, 56 of these being Woman's Missionary Societies and 114 Junior Organizations, with 11 A-1 Woman's Missionary Unions.

At the annual meeting, Miss Mildred Thomas, of Durham, was elected Young People's Leader. Far-reaching plans for our Junior organizations are being fostered. More and more the churches are recognizing Focus Weeks of the Woman's Missionary Union organizations. Our annual report shows 440 young people's organizations reporting through 1938.

Piedmont Association led the associations of North Carolina in gifts with a total of $24,790.11. Mt. Zion was second in the State with gifts amounting to $20,845.23. This association, the Mt. Zion, leads the division in the number of A-1 societies—having 37. Every association but one shows an increase in gifts in 1938. All but three show a 10 per cent increase. One of these three failed by the small amount of $7.61. All but one showed the 5 per cent increase for the Standard of Excellence. Mt. Zion has the distinction of having a 20.4 per cent increase and Randolph leads in the percentage increase in gifts, having 40.8 per cent increase. The grand total of the Greensboro Division in gifts is $84,351.33 in gifts for this Golden Jubilee Year.

The Beulah Association, with Mrs. R. L. Wilburn as superintendent, has the unique honor of having every church in her association with a Woman's Missionary Society. This association of 100 per cent Woman's Missionary Society organization is unusual in the annals of North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union history, and so far as we have been able to ascertain, no other in the South has reported such.

Through the year we recognize the splendid work of three retiring superintendents, Mrs. O. L. Riggs, Mrs. R. H. Weaver, Mrs. M. T. Lambert, and welcomed the following new superintendents to fill these vacancies: Mrs. Charles Jollay, Mt. Zion, Mrs. Victor Andrews, Randolph, and Mrs. C. W. McManus, Sandy Creek.

Mission Study, under the leadership of Mrs. John T. Craig, is moving forward. One association reporting ten mission study classes arranged to touch every church in that association. Mt. Zion reports 2,365 enrolled in mission study. The Margaret Fund Chairman, Mrs. G. E. Isaacs, has enrolled fifty-two Margarets during this Golden Jubilee Year. We are grateful that much has been accomplished, and for the fine spirit of loving service that has prevailed throughout the division through this Golden Jubilee Year.

Every one of the nine associations give evidence of life and courage and renewed effort in every phase of the work. This year there were 254 Woman's Missionary Societies reported, but there remain 110 churches without a Woman's Missionary Society.

At the dawn of another half-century there are challenging objectives beckoning to us. May we "Go Forward" because of the "love of Christ which constraineth us."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. IRA D. S. KNIGHT, Superintendent.

Mrs. Knight presented Mrs. R. L. Wilburn, of Roxboro, Superintendent of Beulah Association, which has the distinction of having a missionary society in each of its twenty-four churches.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

As we make this report, we thank God for the Golden Jubilee Year and the Jubilee spirit manifested in the W. M. U. of the Wilmington Division. We began our work with an enthusiastic Golden Jubilee meeting in Wallace Baptist Church, in the Wilmington Association with a large representation from the associations in the division, and Mrs. J. Abner Barker, of Roseboro, of New South River Association, was elected Jubilee Chairman. She was a most capable and loyal leader and endeared herself to our women and young people.

In all our meetings our W. M. U. members expressed a joy in service more than ever before and hearts seemed in tune with our beautiful song, "This Glad Year of Jubilee," and ready to accept the challenge to be led into ways unspoiled by fear.

While we rejoice over our year's work, we have many regrets that we could not accomplish more for our Lord and Master. Our ten loyal superintendents, young people's leaders, and other officers of the division and association joyfully give their service and have a large part in making this report possible.

We more than reached our goal of 10 per cent increase in new societies, membership, and gifts. We have 642 societies, 233 W. M. S., 77 Y. W. A., 117 G. A., 91 R. A., and 124 Sunbeam Bands. Ninety-five were organized in 1938. Societies were organized in 17 churches not having W. M. U. work. Grades of new societies were W. M. S., 34; Y. W. A., 17; G. A., 16; R. A., 12; Sunbeams, 16. Fifty-two churches are full graded, with gain of 12 churches having five grades. Johnston leads in number, new societies 25. Our membership is 10,666, an increase of 1,355.

There was a marked increase in Mission Study, Personal Service and observance of Seasons of Prayer. 416 Mission Study classes were taught, 27 were pioneer classes; Bladen reports 1, Burnt Swamp 5, Eastern 2, Johnston 10, Little River 6. one was for colored women; Robeson 7, and Wilmington 2. Johnston had district meetings for mission study. New South River and Robeson had several schools of missions. One in Robeson was directed by Miss Pearle Johnson, of China. Enrollment in mission study classes was 3,338. Increase of 828. Increase in number of classes, 59.

Three hundred and twenty-two societies reported directed Personal Service, increase of 54. New South River Association gives an average of $50.00 quarterly to the poor, $25.00 quarterly to help a T. B. patient and others sick, and $1.50 per month to help underprivileged children.

Several young people's organizations in Brunswick, Burnt Swamp, Columbus, Eastern, Johnston, Little River, and Robeson Associations observed Stewardship Night. We appeal to all young people's directors, counselors and stewardship chairmen to put on a stewardship program in every church in October, and try to enlist tithers. We have 879 tithers reported. Increase of 265.

Seasons of prayer have been observed more than ever before, 331 societies observed them in 1938. Columbus Association is uniting in prayer at 9:00 o'clock each morning for the advancement of missions and South-wide revival.

At our July divisional meeting in Kenansville in the Eastern Association a white shower was given to our Baptist Hospital which was valued by Dr. Hagaman and Mrs. Roddick at $75.00. Several other showers were sent during the year. 107 societies reported white gifts.

Bladen, Brunswick, Columbus, and Wilmington made 7 points on Standard of Excellence. Eastern and Robeson 8, Burnt Swamp, Little River and New South River 9, Johnston 10.

Miss Josephine Turner, of Clinton, in the Eastern Association attended our Training School in 1937-38 and did splendid field work in Bladen, Brunswick, Eastern and Wilmington associations in the summer. We have 22 Training School women in our division. Little River is honored with scholarship given by Mrs. Joel Layton and Wilmington Association gives a scholarship.

Nine associations held separate young people's meetings. In November our young people's leader, Miss Vivian Grant, and Rev. E. N. Gardner, R. A. Counselor, held first divisional R. A. Conclave in First Baptist Church in Fayetteville. It was a great success. They were assisted by Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Morgan, of Clinton, in the Eastern Association, and Rev. Charles Howard, of Buie's Creek. Nine associations were represented. Twenty counselors and 180 boys attended. Miss Grant has done fine work for our young people. She has taught 60 mission study classes, visited 25 societies, attended 4 young people's associational meetings and organized 12 societies.

We have 226 memberships of One Hundred Thousand Club, Roberson leading with 57. Eleven $50.00 Gold Certificates were redeemed by W. M. S. and thirteen $5.00 certificates by young people. Our report of gifts for the year 1938 was $31,543.68. Increase of $3,771.60. Brunswick Association gave $103.38 for Chinese relief and plan to give as much this year for the same object. This is given in honor of Mrs. Mary Ward, one of their oldest and most faithful, who has gone to her reward.

Eastern still supports Miss Katie Murray in China and Kindergarten School in China is supported by the Sunbeam leader in Magnolia. W. M. S. of Temple Church in Wilmington and a member of Lillington W. M. S. in Little River Association each supports a Bible woman in China.

New South River and Wilmington sent several quilts to our orphanage. Several societies in the Wilmington Division sent books to Perry Morgan Library at Kennedy Home.

Our July divisional meeting in Kenansville in the Eastern was full of inspiration, and the October meeting in Smithfield in the Johnston was one of the best on record. Mrs. J. S. Farmer and Mrs. Edna R. Harris brought great messages at Smithfield. Mrs. Farmer and Miss Mary Currin were a great inspiration in our first meeting in Wallace.

On account of sickness and deaths of two of my sisters and my own broken arm, I was not able to attend but two associational meetings, Eastern and Johnston, and the young people's meeting in the Eastern and the three divisional meetings.

With deep regret we lost from our division Mrs. V. L. Andrews, our capable and consecrated Mission Study Superintendent. Mrs. Roy R. McCulloch, of Clayton, in Johnston Association was elected to fill that office. Mrs. J. E. Lanier, our loyal stewardship chairman, resigned and Mrs. S. L. Morgan was elected her successor. We welcome three new superintendents, Mrs. B. R. Page, of Bolivia, for Brunswick Association; Mrs. R. K. Benfield, of Angier, for Little River; and Mrs. W. C. Dicksey, of Burgaw, for Wilmington.

Our Golden Jubilee Year has closed. Mine is the last divisional report. Our reports now are recorded as history. We will never have another Golden Jubilee Year. But may we keep up the spirit, and keep "telling the story around the world."

Respectfully submitted,

MACY COX, Superintendent.

Reports, Telling the Story Through Stewardship and Personal Service:

REPORT ON STEWARDSHIP

It is with a feeling of deep gratitude in our hearts that we review the final reports compiled at the close of our Golden Jubilee Year.

The generous response in the attainment of our high financial goals is convincing evidence that there are many in both our women's and young people's organizations who have a deepened conviction as to the true meaning of stewardship.

The number of reported tithers, 6,623, represents an increase of 814 over the preceding year. While we did not attain our goal in this particular, we believe that accurate reports from every association would have enabled us to reach our aims.

What a challenging task it is to enlist every resident woman member of the church in making a gift to missions! There were twenty-three churches that attained this worthy goal. May the number be increased from year to year.

Fifty-one societies reported a mission study class on stewardship. This is one of the basic needs in all our organizations.

The observance of stewardship night in our churches has proven to be a most effectual method of presenting the scriptural teachings concerning stewardship to the church membership.

More and more we realize that all our stewardship aims succeed in proportion to the faithfulness of those who are responsible for this phase of our work. The local stewardship chairman, in co-operation with the young people's counselors, will give herself to the task of teaching the principles of stewardship in all organizations.

Let us not forget to make use of the literature which may be obtained from our W. M. U. headquarters.

Our plans and policies may change from year to year, but the supreme call to Christian stewardship remains the same.

Grant that with prayer, personality, and possessions we may answer the petition, "The kingdom come."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. G. BOOMHOUR.

REPORT OF PERSONAL SERVICE

Personal Service has been defined as Christ-like living in ones own community. The purpose of Personal Service is the purpose of the Great Commission—the purpose of all Christian work. It is the beginning of obedience to the Great Commission by making the application in our own midst—Jerusalem. Through Personal Service we are linking hands with our missionaries who go into Judea and unto the uttermost parts to be good neighbors and seek to win the lost.

"If you cannot cross the ocean
And far heathen lands explore,
You can find the needy nearer,
You can help them at your door."

Henry Davison, partner of J. P. Morgan Co., says that work as Director of Red Cross during the World War made of him a changed man, for it made him realize that a man's real gift comes not from parting with possessions but from personal sacrifice and service. The gifts are important, but more so is the effect it has on the giver, and most far-reaching of all is the effect that participation in the work has on the ones who engage in the actual doing of the work. So go forth in God's name to be blessed and a blessing. Your missionary society is expected to engage in directed personal service and it will add interest and spiritual value to your organization. Get free literature about it from our headquarters in Raleigh. Then when you have done your work, be sure to report to your associational superintendent who will send a combined report to us at our Raleigh office.

The past year has been a great one in personal service in our State, for we set for ourselves certain goals for the Golden Jubilee Year, and we confidently expect increased interest in it during 1939. Our statistical report herewith is abridged because of cost of publication.

Number of organizations engaged in Directed Personal Service: Sunbeams 69, R. A. 78, G. A. 110, Y. W. A. 180, W. M. S. 565, total 1,002; Having Personal Service Committee: Sunbeams 34, R. A. 49, G. A. 75, Y. W. A. 145, W. M. S. 565, total 868; Reporting Personal Service: Sunbeams 69, R. A. 78, G. A. 110, Y. W. A. 180, W. M. S. 565, total 1,002; Engaged in Definite Efforts for Soul-Winning: Sunbeams 26, R. A. 46, G. A. 58, Y. W. A. 189, W. M. S. 275, total 494.

Hymn—"Tell Me the Old, Old Story."

During the singing of this hymn, Mrs. J. J. Roddick, Trustee of the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem came to the platform with sixteen nurses from the hospital who remained on the platform while Mrs. Roddick presented the need for funds with which to furnish an addition to be made to the hospital.

Mrs. Roddick recognized Mrs. Garvey, Chairman of the linen auxiliary of the hospital, and presented Miss Ruth Council, Superintendent of Nurses, who told of the aims and work there and of the great need for funds in carrying on this work. Report adopted.

REPORT OF N. C. BAPTIST HOSPITAL

After another year of service to suffering humanity it is with gratitude we submit the report of service rendered in the Master's Name to our needy suffering brothers and sisters. Our report of past service reveals that since we opened our doors more than forty-three thousand lives have been touched as patients of our institution, while our records reveal that during these years the total days of service rendered is 352,345 days while a total of 129,326 days of free service has been rendered in the Master's Name. During this past year we have had the joy of serving in the Master's Name 12,326 days to those who came as charity patients from all parts of the State seeking health and strength. Our Mother's Day offering this year was $21,000, revealing to us a growing sympathy and interest in the ministry of healing and yet, as this is the only contribution made by our great denomination for the operating expenses of our hospital, we realize it falls far short of the necessary expense attached to the service rendered each year.

While our year of service has been filled with joy, yet there are mingled regrets over the lack of room for the more than 2,000 who had to be turned away, as we had no place to accommodate them. For the past two years our hospital has been crowded to the limit and many who should have been admitted we have been compelled to turn away. We had hoped to meet this crisis many months ago with plans submitted by our architect, but as yet we have not received the necessary pledges from our denomination at large to meet the amount needed to begin building.

Today we are hoping and trusting that many of our women will follow the worthy example of the Burnt Swamp Association and others in furnishing a room for $150.00 as a memorial to some loved one. Fifteen years ago the women of this Union furnished every room in our hospital and nurses home, and I would come to plead with the women of each association that they have a part in the Master's work by uniting their efforts in behalf of suffering humanity helping the one in need. Surely a blessing will follow. It is with a feeling of gratitude that we report the splendid work of our Nurses Training School. 122 graduates have gone from our institution into a wider field of service in their chosen profession, while we have 55 in our training school, all members of our Y. W. A., and we are so gratified to report not only a standard society, but each member is rendering such valiant service in the hospital.

Our report would not be complete if we failed to recognize the large service of this Union that has sent so many wonderful gifts in linen that has aided us to render a larger service in His Name. These boxes have come from all parts of our State to gladden our hearts and strengthen our faith. Again I would lay on your hearts the importance of the Mother's Day offering since our work of charity must be determined by the gifts you make in His Name on this day so sacred in memory. Will you not then reach out as Peter did at that Beautiful Gate and accept this opportunity for your life to express your love for the Master and your sympathy for the lame and the halt.

"Savior thy dying love, Thou gavest me
And naught would I withhold dear Lord from Thee.
In love my soul would bow,
My heart fulfill its vow,
Some offering bring Thee now
Something for Thee."

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. J. J. RODDICK.

Hymn—"I Love to Tell the Story" sung while the nurses left the platform.

REPORT OF MARGARET FUND CHAIRMAN

Nineteen hundred thirty-eight was the first year since the adoption of the Margaret Fund that North Carolina W. M. U. made no special offering for this object. Through a vote of the W. M. U. of the Southern Baptist Convention, the Margaret Fund will henceforth receive stipulated amounts for the children of foreign missionaries from the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering and for the children of home missionaries from the Annie W. Armstrong Home Mission Offering. This plan assures the receipt of the estimated amount needed each year and eliminates one of the special offerings.

Another change in policy has not yet become clear in our minds. Students are no longer given to certain states, divisions, or associations to care for. In the past, societies found pleasure in sending gifts to the special students assigned them. But experience proved that there was waste in the duplications of gifts in many cases, and an inequality in many others.

These changes have called for slow and careful thought by the General Union. Further plans are being worked out to be presented at the Convention in Oklahoma City and then passed on to the State Unions.

Mrs. Frank Burney, of Waynesboro, Georgia, beloved and devoted General Chairman of the Margaret Fund, gave up this office last May (1938). For sixteen years she had given herself unsparingly to these young students. They and their parents and the whole W. M. U. will always cherish with loving appreciation her beauty of person and of spirit in this service she rendered. Mrs. H. M. Rhodes, of Memphis, Tennessee, was elected the new General Chairman. She is well fitted for the work and we may safely trust to her leadership.

Eight Margaret Scholarship Fund students have been at school in North Carolina this year. Five are children of Foreign Missionaries and three of Home Missionaries in Cuba. They are as follows: Foreign—Margie Baker (Brazil), Woman's College U. N. C., Greensboro; Dorothy Green (Africa), Meredith College; Mary Hester Powell (Africa), Meredith College; Howard Keith Olive (China), Wake Forest College; Lillian Porter (Brazil), Mars Hill College. Home Mission—Annabel Lia Calliero (Cuba), Wingate College; Esther Martinez (Cuba), Wingate College; Maria Teresa Martinez (Cuba), Wingate College.

These have done good work during the year and have assisted in a number of mission programs outside their colleges. At a recent election at Meredith, Dorothy Green was chosen president of the Student Government Association for 1939-40. We feel gratified at this honor and extend our congratulations to her and her parents in Africa.

During this year of adjustment, no donations for the students have been urged. Small gifts have been received from a number of societies, a list of which is appended. The total amount, $33.10, has been divided among the students in the State.

Societies are urged to secure the enrollment of Margarets in their churches. Two dollars or up to any amount will enroll a Margaret for life, the money going into the permanent endowment fund. The name and money should be sent to Miss Alford, W. M. U. treasurer, 215 Recorder Building, Raleigh, N. C.

Mothers who are separated from their children by a few miles and for a few months, appreciate having friends show thoughtful courtesies to their young people. How much more these attentions mean to our missionaries who have half the world and seven years between them and their beloved boys and girls. Our watchcare means more to the parents than to the students. "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." Surely the Margaret Fund offers one way for us to lighten the burden of separation so bravely borne by our missionaries.

Received for Margaret Fund students, 1938, Jonesville, Yadkin Association, $2.00; Tar River Association, $2.85; Piney Grove, Little River Association, $2.00; Collection (no address), $5.00; Beaufort, Carteret Group, $5.00; Ahoskie, West Chowan Association, $5.00; West Asheville, Buncombe Association, $2.00; New Bridge, Buncombe Association, $1.00; Southport, Brunswick, $1.00; No address, $3.25; Lenoir, Catawba River Association, $1.00; Morganton, Catawba River, $1.00; Drexel, Catawba River, $1.00; Valdese, Catawba River, $1.00; Total, $44.10.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH BRIGGS PITTMAN.

REPORT OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION TRAINING SCHOOL

This Golden Jubilee Year of Woman's Missionary Union has been a blessed year for Woman's Missionary Union Training School. As women have reconsecrated themselves, as they have prayed, and as they have brought their gifts unto God, He has poured out His blessings upon the school which they began and which, through the years, they have cherished.

The 32nd session opened in September with seventy-seven (77) boarding students. Eight others entered by January, 1939, thus bringing the total to eighty-five (85), a slightly larger enrollment than last year. To these may be added fifty-three (53) day students, thus bringing the total to one hundred and thirty-eight (138). North Carolina women rejoice to be represented in this student body by seven (7) of her choice young women: Miss Isabell Morgan, Miss Julia Mae David, Miss Laura Bateman, Miss Ruth Yates, Miss Frances King Turner, Miss Victoria Tant, and Miss Carmen Morgan.

Miss Julia Mae David, of Buie's Creek, has the happy privilege of using the Louis Castlebury Scholarship for this year.

Not only has the manifest blessings of God been upon the school in a large enrollment but as well upon her ministry to the churches and missions in Louisville through the practical mission work of the students. In this phase of the school life the student finds opportunity to serve the Lord in a very definite way while she prepares for future service. From the supervisor of field work of the school I bring the following statements regarding such work:

Fourteen girls serve as leaders of W. M. U. organizations; 19 teach Sunday school classes in churches, missions, or institutions, three of these classes are in Negro mission, 3 at the tuberculosis hospital, 2 in the Detention Home (1 Negro and 1 white); 22 work in our Good Will Center, 4 of these in the Nursery School; 10 conduct clubs or classes in other settlements or missions; 11 teach in the Week Day Church School at Broadway Baptist Church; 5 direct B. Y. P. U.'s; 4 direct or assist with choirs; 2 serve as B. S. U. counselors, 1 at the University of Louisville and 1 with the nurses at the Baptist Hospital; 2 teach Bible classes and conduct a club for Chinese children; 3 visit in the homes of Jews; 1 teaches Bible and 2 teach piano in a home for delinquent girls; 1 teaches an Old Testament class and a course in personal evangelism at Simmons University (Negro).

Besides the activities which are given regular class credit, the student Y. W. A., as personal service projects, sponsors a Sunday school class at the King's Daughters' Home for Incurables and co-operates with the Louisville Council of Churches in a unique plan of visiting in the wards of the City Hospital.

As you pray for the school, pray for this vital part of her life.

Richly has God poured out His blessings upon the school in monetary gifts. The Jubilee gift far exceeded the goal, making possible the completion of the payment on the new building site. The larger part of this gift is being set aside for the memorial to Miss Fannie E. S. Heck. This is to be used in a Memorial Chapel in the new building, similar to the Heck Memorial Chapel in the present building.

North Carolina's $1,700.00 for current expenses of the school and the needed amount for scholarships have been brought. Over and above this amount from societies in the State the following gifts have been sent to the school:

For this blessed year of our Training School let us rejoice and give thanks unto God, for He is good.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. C. FEEZOR,
North Carolina Trustee.

Address—"Love Made Real, in Deeds," by Mrs. F. W. Armstrong, of Plattsburg, Mo., President, W. M. U. of South Union. Mrs. Armstrong was introduced by Mrs. W. N. Jones, of Raleigh.

Mrs. Turner presented Mrs. H. A. Knight, General Chairman of the Convention, and her committee and pages who so ably made preparations which made the meeting a success. Mrs. Hanley spoke briefly on her work as missionary to the Jews in East St. Louis, Illinois, and gave helpful suggestions on how to approach and convert the Jews.

Recommendations of Executive Committee presented by Mrs. Turner.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION FOR THE YEAR 1939

With rejoicing over victories won and deep gratitude to all who have had part in the accomplishments of the past year, we set ourselves to the task of making this present year one of equally earnest effort and high endeavor. We therefore recommend:

First, Watchword. The love of Christ constraineth us.—2 Cor. 5:14.

Hymn—"I Love to Tell the Story."

Major emphasis—Evangelism.

Second, That we coöperate with our pastors in all plans for evangelism in churches and local communities. Since soul winning has ever been the main objective in Personal Service, we would make this our major emphasis throughout the year.

Third, That we adopt the Year Book published by the W. M. U. of the S. B. C. as our guide as to methods, plans and standards. We further urge that our women study this Year Book and as far as possible bring their organizations up to the high standard set. That special emphasis be placed on the fundamentals for which our Union stands, endeavoring thus to strengthen and deepen the spiritual life of our constituency. Also that our high moral standards shall be presented continually as a definite and much-needed witness for Christ in this present time.

Fourth, Goals—An increase in gifts.

Membership.

Covenant signed tithers.

Mission Study classes.

Personal Service.

Fifth, Literature. That continued emphasis be placed on the value of our missionary publications and that we strive to increase their circulation and also their use, "Royal Service," "The Window of Y. W. A.," and "World Comrades," also to secure subscriptions to "The Commission," published by Foreign Mission Board, in Richmond, and "Southern Baptist Home Missions," published by Home Mission Board in Atlanta. That we reaffirm our loyalty and support of the Biblical Recorder and urge our constituency, especially the officers of societies to subscribe to it.

Sixth, Missionary Education of Young People. That, realizing the truth of the words, "Tomorrow already walks in today," and being encouraged by the splendid growth of our young people's work in the Golden Jubilee Year, we earnestly resolve to "Go Forward" courageously in leading youth into missions through our graded system of missionary education.

That our goal be a full graded W. M. U. in every church.

That every W. M. U. have an active, alert third vice president or young people's director, who will supervise the missionary organizations.

That we seek definitely to strengthen Young Woman's Auxiliary and The Order of Royal Ambassadors.

That every organization observe Focus Week at the appointed time.

That the Stewardship, Personal Service, and Mission Study Chairman in divisions, associations and local missionary societies be diligent to include the young people in all plans in these activities.

That every organization contribute to the Baptist 100,000 Club.

That we have our State Girls' Auxiliary House Party at Meredith College, June 4-7, and that the age limit be 12-16 years. That we have our State Royal Ambassador Camp at Meredith College, June 7-10. All boys in the Asheville Division attend the Western Camp at Ridgecrest, May 31-June 3. If other camps are promoted, boys will attend the one nearest them.

That we encourage our choice Y. W. A.'s to attend the South-wide Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest, June 20-30.

That we promote the Associational Y. W. A. Council in every association possible.

That each division appoint an alert, interested pastor to serve as Divisional R. A. Counselor, who will coöperate with the divisional Young People's leader in promoting R. A. work in general and particularly in working up a week-end divisional Conclave in November.

That each Division have a G. A. House Party in the fall at the Baptist College in the division if such is agreeable with College officials.

Seventh, Margaret Fund. That the Margaret Fund be presented to societies and their interest be encouraged in students in our State. Scholarships are now provided through Annie W. Armstrong offering and Lottie Moon offering, but special gifts to Endowment Fund are welcomed. That each society seek to enroll its "Margarets" in Margaret Memorial Book.

Eighth, Training School. That because of changes in the location of this school we urge an increased interest on the part of all societies. A program, preferably in August, to be devoted to the School and a gift from each society is our objective. For current expenses the sum of $1,700 is needed and for our scholarship fund $1,200, not including the Louis Castlebury Scholarship provided by Mrs. Joel G. Layton in memory of her father, Mr. Louis Castlebury. We further recommend that since there is to be launched an intensive effort to erect Training School buildings on the new site within the next two years, we throw ourselves heartily into the campaign endeavoring to raise our apportionment of $8,700.00.

Ninth, Orphanage and Hospital. That we give continued and generous support to our Orphanage and to our Hospital in Winston-Salem according to plan promoted by our churches.

Tenth, Expense Fund. A special offering for rent of rooms occupied by Woman's Missionary Union and for traveling expenses of Union representatives and for expenses of our annual meeting is asked from each society in the first or second quarter of each year, preferably in the month of May. An itemized account of this fund is published in the minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the report of the Treasurer.

Eleventh, Hundred Thousand Club. That we give our endorsement and support to this splendid debt-paying agency. That as individuals we take a membership; as circles or other groups we do our utmost to reduce our denominational debts. Memberships are one dollar or more per month and are in addition to all other gifts, either through Coöperative Program or special offerings. Our goal: To double the memberships in each society in 1939.

Twelfth, Special Seasons of Prayer and Offerings. That we enter heartily into all plans for the special Seasons of Prayer as outlined by W. M. U. Since our boards depend so largely on our gifts for the support of the work, we urge that our gifts shall be worthy of the causes represented, and also a worthy expression of our love for Him whom we serve. Let us also remember that through these offerings the scholarships for the Margaret Fund students are now provided. Scholarships for children of home missionaries coming from the Annie Armstrong offerings and for children of foreign missionaries from the Lottie Moon offering. Dates approved are Home Missions, February 27-March 3; Foreign Missions, December 4-8.

That September 12 be observed as a day of prayer and study of the special needs in our own State. That our offering shall, if possible, exceed that of last year.

Thirteenth, Heck Memorial. That we again observe the birthday of Miss Heck with a special program and an offering. To Baptist Hospital, $1,000.00 for the furnishing when the building is completed; $3,000.00 to the Woman's Missionary Training School, Fukuoka, Japan. That we set as our goal $8,700.00 for the rebuilding of W. M. U. Training School in Louisville.

Fourteenth, Total Financial Aims: That we take as our financial aim the sum of $268,000. This amount to include gifts to Coöperative Program, 100,000 Club, and all special offerings of Woman's Missionary Union.

Summary of Financial Aims:

To Cooperative Program.....	$150,000.00
To Woman's Missionary Union Training
School Current Expenses.....	1,700.00
To Woman's Missionary Union Training
School Scholarship Fund.....	1,200.00
To State Expense Fund.....	2,000.00

Total aim, including all special offerings....$268,000.00

That each Woman's Missionary Society and Young People's organization strive to make at least a five per cent increase to Coöperative Program, which is the requirement for point three on the Standard of Excellence. We discovered what we could do in 1938. May we not do less, but more through our large number of organizations and increased membership.

REPORT OF RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

In behalf of those attending the forty-ninth session of Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, we do resolve:

First, that we express our keen appreciation to the women of Green Street Baptist Church of High Point and the women of the other Baptist churches of the city, to Mrs. T. C. Robbins, president of W. M. S. of Green Street Church, Mrs. H. A. Knight, General Chairman, and to the members of the local Y. W. A., Girls' Auxiliary and order of Royal Ambassadors, who served as ushers for the Convention, for their innumerable deeds of service and courtesy. For their kindness and hospitality we are grateful.

Second, That we thank the pastors of the Baptist churches in the city, and Rev. C. N. Royal of the hostess church in particular, for their sympathetic coöperation in working toward the success of the meeting.

Third, That we acknowledge the welcome of the Mayor and other officials of the city and that we express appreciation to all civic agencies and the press which have aided in making our stay in High Point a pleasant one.

Fourth, That we offer sincere thanks to Mrs. J. Clyde Turner and the members of the Executive Committee for arranging the splendid program of inspiration and information. The lives and the works of Mrs. Edna R. Harris, Mrs. W. N. Jones, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Miss Mary Currin, Miss Ora Alford, and others of our State leaders, are a constant source of inspiration to us and for them we are grateful.

Fifth, That we extend grateful appreciation to all who had a part on the program and contributed in song or word toward these days of mountain top experiences: to the city choirs and others who brought messages in song; to the Royal Ambassadors and members of the other Auxiliaries who appeared on the young people's program; to Mrs. S. L. Morgan, Jr., to Secretary M. A. Huggins, to Mrs. Irene Hanley and Mrs. Chas. E. Maddry for their inspiring messages, and to Mrs. F. W. Armstrong for her gracious presence and timely appearance in our midst, and Dr. Roberta Ma; and to Mrs. Roddick and nurses of the Hospital.

Sixth, That as disciples of Christ in this twentieth century, we might rededicate ourselves to our God-given task of "Telling the Story Around the World," and that we might reconsecrate ourselves anew to the privilege of carrying Jesus, the Hope of the world, to the nations of the earth.

PROCEEDINGS
OF THE
WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION
OF NORTH CAROLINA
FIFTIETH ANNUAL SESSION

Wilmington, N. C., March 12, 1940.

The fiftieth annual session of Woman's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina was opened Tuesday evening, March 12, at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

The President, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, of Greensboro, called the meeting to order and introduced Miss Mary Currin, State Young People's Secretary, who presided over the young people's hour.

Miss Elizabeth Hale, in Chinese costume, daughter of a former pastor of the church and now a missionary to China led the devotional, her subject being, "Youth Continuing Steadfast."

After special music rendered by local young people a demonstration—"Youth and the Way of Missionary Education" was presented, showing in a very fine and interesting way the value of missionary education for our young people and their work in North Carolina in 1939.

The various organizations took part under the following titles:

"Shining Along the way," Wilmington Sunbeams.

"Gladly Learning the Way," Wilmington Girls Auxiliaries. Speaker, Miss Louise Murray, Temple Baptist Church, Wilmington.

"Royally following the Way," Wilmington Royal Ambassadors. Speaker, William Hooper Wilson, Clinton.

"Earnestly Proclaiming the Way," Wilmington Young Woman's Auxiliaries, Miss Marie Compton, Winston-Salem.

Miss Currin then presented Miss Juliette Mather, who brought an inspiring address, "That Youth Be Steadfast."

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 13

The 1940 session of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union was opened at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, in the First Baptist Church of Wilmington, by the President, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner.

Hymn—"How Firm a Foundation."

Devotional—Mrs. Everett Gill, of Wake Forest, her subject being "Continuing Steadfast."

Motion by Mrs. J. R. Morgan, of Waynesville, that the calling of the roll be dispensed with; that those whose registration cards have been deposited with the secretary up to this time be recognized as constituting the organization, and that the secretary be empowered to add to this list from the cards that may subsequently be deposited. Carried.

Motion by Mrs. David E. Bobbitt, of Cherryville, that the program as arranged, with whatever changes may be necessary, be adopted as the order of business. Carried.

Greeting—Mrs. Howard Hamby, Wilmington.

Response—Mrs. T. C. Robbins, High Point.

A number of pastors, Misses Juliette Mather, Young People's Leader for the Southern W. M. U., and Inabelle Coleman, of the Foreign Mission Board, were recognized as visitors, also Miss Elizabeth Hale, of China, and her mother, and Mrs. Frank Woodward, Mrs. Everett Gill, Mrs. A. R. Gallimore, Miss Marjorie Spence.

The President requested that no reports be read but that each officer present the outstanding achievements in her phase of the work. This was approved, the written reports to be printed in the Minutes.

Reports, Abounding in Works: presented by Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Executive Secretary. Adopted.

"ABOUNDING IN WORKS"

Some one has said "We live in deeds, not years." Looking over the record of Woman's Missionary Union in an effort to find what had been accomplished in 1939, I felt this could be said of those who make up this large group.

As you know, we began 1939 following the Golden Jubilee year of our Union; during which year we had made a record of which we were justly proud. We had been one of the victory states, and every goal we had striven to meet had been attained. We wondered what effect this would have on the year just beginning. Were we going to feel satisfied with that record of deeds well done, or would it be an incentive to make an even better record?

It has been said that the best way to keep good acts in memory is to refresh them with new, and so a few of the gains we made in 1939 will show that is what we did.

We now have 464 churches with full graded unions, a gain of 236 over 1938. Of these the following thirty-four have full graded A-1 Unions: Asheville, First; Asheville, Merrimon Ave.; Badin; Brushy Creek; Burlington, First; Colerain; Conway; Creekville; Durham, First; Durham, Grace; Durham, Watts Street; Durham, West; Elkin, First; Greensboro, Webster Memorial; Harris Chapel; Henderson, First; Madison; Millbrook; Mill Creek; Morehead City; New Bridge; New Friendship; Oxford, First; Ramseur; Reynoldson; Salisbury, First; Sanford, First; Semora; Siler City; Shiloh; Thomasville, First; Winston-Salem, Southside; Winston-Salem, Waughtown; Woodland. We have 586 A-1 organizations of which 157 are W. M. S.

We began this year (1940) with 1,255 W. M. S., a net gain of only ten, and a total of all organizations 3,815, a gain of 287. There were 622 new organizations added during the year, 367 were dropped for failure to send in any report.

Twenty-two churches reported a contribution from every resident woman member. These were Louisburg; New Friendship; Orrum, West Asheville; Amis Chapel; St. John's, Charlotte; Piney Forest; Johnsons (Eastern); Broadway; Seaboard; Watkin's Chapel; Austin Grove; Milton; Willow Springs (Mt. Zion); Poplar Springs (King's Mountain); Kennedy Home; Asheboro; Saddletree; Hickory Grove; Conway; Winton; Aulander.

The total membership is now 74,828, a gain of 3,742 over 1938. Nine hundred and twenty tithers were added during the year making the total number of tithers 7,410.

Eleven thousand, three hundred and seventy-five subscribed to Royal Service, this being 600 beyond our goal of 10,775 for the year. Our goal for 1940 will be 11,940. We must keep this number in mind so that we may not fall short of the goal.

Gifts to the Hundred Thousand Club were around 800 dollars less than in 1938. We should get in the Hundred Thousand Club and remain until the goal is reached—a debtless denomination by 1945.

Of our more than 3,000 organizations, only 1,620 observed the Seasons of Prayer for State Missions, 1,839 for Foreign Missions, and 1,701 for Home Missions. Since we had an increased offering for all of these objects, what a splendid offering we might have had if more churches had observed the seasons of prayer.

There are still many churches with no missionary organization. What an opportunity we have to be laborers together in this already ripe harvest.

During the summer Frances King Turner, one of our Training School girls, did splendid field work in Cabarrus and Brier Creek associations, a work so much needed in the State.

As I have tried the past few months to carry on the work of your former beloved secretary; one who always abounded in good works, I have been deeply grateful for the help each one of you has been, and for your work that made this report possible.

To Miss Alford, Miss Currin and Miss Cherrie Pearce, on whom added duties have fallen, I would express appreciation for their kindness in helping with the many details of the work.

As in the past, so during the remainder of the year, I know you will continue to abound in good works, knowing that your labor is not in vain in the Lord.

BRIDGE BUILDERS

"Lo, soul! seest thou not God's purpose from the first?

The earth to the spanned, connected by bridges,

The people to become brothers and sisters,

The races, neighbors—

The oceans to be crossed .

The distant brought near,

The lands to be welded together."

—Walt Whitman.

Woman's Missionary Union is ever building bridges of good will, understanding, prayer, stewardship, without which God's purpose to make the world a brotherhood of love can never be realized. For five years, I have had the privilege of helping our North Carolina W. M. U. to be bridge builders for Him as we train our young people in missions.

It is wise to constantly inspect our workmanship and see how well build we the bridges and not only so from year to year, but let us pause at the end of 1939 and think back through the past five years, comparing the tangible results of 1939 with 1934. Thus, all figures indicate achievements at close of years mentioned. As we begin this inspection tour, we give thanks for our associational and divisional young people's leaders, superintendents, pastors, counselors, young people's directors who have given so generously of love and labor and have made our work so fruitful and joyous.

In this important business of building such bridges that the "lands may be welded together" in God's love, how necessary it is that all the young people of our churches be busily working! Let us mark the increase in numbers of organizations during our five-year span:

	S.B.	R.A.	G.A.	Y.W.A.	Total
1939	668	484	825	548	2,525

Thus we have made a net gain of 706 organizations. The largest increase has been in Girls' Auxiliary. If other organizations had grown in like measure our increase would have been 1,124. Better fostering is a great need.

Ofttimes poor workmanship causes a bridge to be condemned far earlier than it should have been. Can God's purpose be realized through the kind of organizations we are building? We have a plan to guide us. The number of organizations reaching A-1 requirements has not increased in proportion to gain in organizations. The comparative A-1 record is as follows:

	S.B.	R.A.	G.A.	Y.W.A.	Total
1939	85	85	159	78	429

Even as the bridges which span the mighty waters must have sure, steady foundations, so must ours be undergirded with prayer. During the past five years there has been a gradual increase in young people's organizations observing the three Seasons of Prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions. This has been indicated by increased offerings which after all measure the sincerity of our praying. Through many a conference, in missionary rallies of various kinds, emphasis on the importance of using the Calendar of Prayer in World Comrades and The Window of Y. W. A. has proved helpful in starting many an individual on the pathway of daily prayer and Bible study.

"The people to become brothers and sisters, The races, neighbors—" There must be the bridge of understanding and love toward the world's people and their needs. Some of the tools we use in building this bridge are our missionary magazines, our mission study, our G. A. house parties, R. A. camps, conclaves, and associational rallies. Here again, figures will help us measure progress made:

	World Comrades	The Window of Y.W.A.
1934	1,549	875
1939	2,661	1,643

How soon shall we reach our goal of at least three World Comrades to each R. A. Chapter, Girls' Auxiliary, and Sunbeam Band and 25 per cent of the membership of every Y. W. A. subscribing to The Window of Y. W. A.?

What progress has been made in amount of mission study done by our young people?

		S.B.	R.A.	G.A.	Y.W.A.
1934	Classes	101	77	161	139
1939	Classes	330	175	475	272
1934	Certificates	1,053	404	1,052	704
1939	Certificates	1,076	954	1,926	1,144
1934	Seals	1,520	638	1,456	1,458
1939	Seals	2,017	1,263	3,066	1,471

With mission study books more and more attractive, the need greater and greater, can we not determine to have a minimum of one class for each organization.

The coming together of our young people for inspiration, fellowship has increased the feeling of "togetherness" which is so necessary in our labors. In 1934, we followed the plan of a week-end State G. A. House Party at Meredith College during the school year. It was decided to change this meeting to early summer and in 1939, 510 G. A.'s attended the House Party at Meredith and 214 girls in western part of State met together at Mars Hill. Similarly, the R. A.'s now have the summer camp with 160 R. A.'s in attendance in 1939. Ninety-five boys of western North Carolina met at Ridgecrest for a splendid camp in June under the direction of Rev. Fred Forster. The Wilmington and Elizabeth City divisions fostered conclaves for their Royal Ambassadors. Much enthusiasm was engendered. A steady interest has been manifested in the G. A. Forward Steps and R. A. ranking system. How the bridge of understanding is strengthened through attractive and rewarding phase of our work. Our attendance at Southwide Y. W. A. Camp has grown from 180 girls in 1934 to 397 in 1939. Our goal is every association represented by a group of Y. W. A. girls. Impetus has been given to Y. W. A. through the formation of Associational Y. W. A. Councils with the Elizabeth City division leading in this effort. Let us not let up until in every church young women are linked together through Y. W. A. in this enduring missionary enterprise. In 1939 many missionaries, outstanding Christians of other lands, denominational leaders have helped to bring "distant places near." Rev. Honorio Espinoza, Chile; Dr. J. F. Plainfield, of the Home Mission Board; Rev. C. K. Djang, China; Miss Pearl Todd, China; Mrs. Edwin Dozier, Japan; Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Bryan, China; Miss Ruby Daniel,

Hungary; these leaders made an outstanding contribution to the lives of members of Girls' Auxiliary and Royal Ambassador Chapters.

What an important bridge is the bridge of stewardship! Youth must be taught to have and express gratitude to the Great Giver that they themselves may share life abounding. Are we growing in the grace of giving? The following indicates some growth:

	S.B.	R.A.	G.A.	Y.W.A.	Total
1934	$4,425.58	$4,495.94	$ 6,322.70	$14,825.69	$30,069.91
1939	6,143.95	5,789.51	10,220.70	20,993.69	43,147.85

This comparison shows a gain of $13,077.94 for which we give thanks. From tithers numbering 1,525 among our young people at end of 1934, we have climbed to 2,470 reported tithers at end of 1939. That is a low figure indeed, not even one-tenth of our membership of 35,385. Are we faithfully using every means of teaching stewardship, especially using the excellent plans provided by our Southwide stewardship committee. Are we proving ourselves good stewards of knowledge gained by sharing it with the entire church in what is called church stewardship night program?

Very important is the bridge of helpfulness as expressed in our personal service activities. Engaged in directed Personal Service during 1939 were 304 Y. W. A.'s, 395 Girls' Auxiliaries, 154 R. A. Chapters, 94 Sunbeam Bands making a total of 947. This percentage is some improvement over 1934, but surely we have no pride in this record. Did the remaining 1,578 do nothing to meet the spiritual needs in their communities?

Our College Y. W. A.'s have grown to ten in number. Mars Hill and Meredith were A-1 for the college year ending May, 1939. In the autumn of 1939, Miss Carrie U. Littlejohn was the very welcome guest to our college campuses. Leaders in associations with College Y. W. A.'s and the W. M. S. members in college centers should be alert to foster these college daughters. Our one Grace McBride Y. W. A. at the Baptist Hospital is doing excellent work. How soon will other Baptist nurses join in the procession!

Above and beyond the advance which can be noted deep significant trends which seem to be prophetic of progress tomorrow in this vastly important work:

1. A growing sense of the real meaning of fostering on the part of our hosts of women. Careful study by all our women of The Way of Missionary Education, will increase prayerful, intelligent fostering.

2. A more concerted effort to aid our associational and divisional young people's leaders. In 1939, a series of missionary leadership conferences were conducted for these leaders. In turn, these conducted such for counselors in associations.

3. An ever-deepening conviction that missionary education is of preeminent importance and a determination to "be steadfast, unmovable, abounding" in developing missionary personalities.

4. The growing number of pastors assisting in the promotion of Royal Ambassador work. In each of the ten newly formed divisions, we have a splendid pastor leading out in this work.

Thus we have scanned the work of five years. We have been happy to build upon the foundation laid by others. Almost the entire five years of this happy service, I served with Mrs. Edna R. Harris. This I count one of God's greatest blessings to my life. Slipping away in May, 1939, how I have missed her deep interest, her buoyant spirit, her steadfast hope in youth, her constant encouragement. Emerson defined a friend as "one who makes us do more than we can." Such a friend and co-laborer was she. Truly she was a bridge builder. Let us even as did she dedicate ourselves to the task as did—

"An old man who was going a lone highway, who Came at the evening cold and gray
To a chasm vast and deep and wide.

"The old man crossed in the twilight dim,
The sullen stream had no fear for him,
But he turned when safe on the other side,
And built a bridge to span the tide.

" 'Old man,' said a fellow pilgrim near.
'You are wasting your strength building here.
Your journey ends with the ending day;
You never again shall pass this way,
You've crossed the chasm deep and wide.
Why build you here at evening tide?'

"The builder raised his old gray head,
'Good friend, in the path I've come,' he said,
'There followeth after me today
A Youth whose feet must pass this way;
The chasm that held no fear for me
To that fair youth may a pitfall be.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim,
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him!'

Statistical report: In addition to preparing quarterly material, writing Heck Memorial and other programs for young people, I traveled during 1939, 15,340 miles, led 218 conferences, made 76 talks, helped in 4 schools of missions, taught 19 classes, attended 5 conventions, visited 11 colleges, attended 12 annual W. M. U. associational meetings, 10 associational Young People's Rallies, 6 associational Y. W. A. council meetings, 4 divisional meetings, conducted 5 overnight missionary leadership conferences for associational young people's leader.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY CURRIN.

REPORT OF ASHEVILLE DIVISION

The Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina mountain associations has been placed in a wasting mission field. Garnering as it were, something of our work the past Convention year, we find many of our organizations fruiting nobly and others wasting opportunities and scattering achievements unharvested. We are proving poor stewardship in our lack of conservation. We are most grateful for that worthily and prayerfully cultivated and conserved. We realize more and more that we have a strategic field and that we are scarcely touching the borders of what is to be done. Neither is it waiting for us but being "scattered abroad as sheep with no shepherd." Our greatest failure being the lack of willingness to go out among our lost neighbors and witness for Christ.

Our 1939 records show small gains in gifts, in societies engaging in personal service, societies represented in associational meetings, number of members, pioneer study classes, subscriptions to Biblical Recorder and World Comrades, and those observing Seasons of Prayer for Home and Foreign Missions. There are large increases in subscriptions to The Window of Y. W. A. and Royal Service and in number of tithers.

The need for missionary education of our young people is challenging our best. Our Girls' Auxiliary house party at Mars Hill enrolled 218 fine girls, and our Royal Ambassador Camp at Ridgecrest enrolled 100 boys. The girls sent a nice contribution to Chinese relief. Some young women attended the southwide camp for Y. W. A. at Ridgecrest. However, our opportunities for training these young people in home societies, to practice the spirit of missionary living and giving is vast and unrealized. We are suffering in most churches for leadership, consecrated and conscious of the call, to educate youth to think and to practice missions. The loss of our divisional young people's leader, Mrs. Eugene Coker, who moved from the State is very telling. We are praying that we may soon be able to replace her.

We still deplore one unorganized association in our division.

The attendance at our annual meeting was very encouraging. The personnel of the program was excellent. We are most grateful for speakers and teachers from outside, who have helped us many times and in many ways during the year.

We pray for concerted efforts in our most strategic points until we are fully grounded by growth—more consecration, more study, as preparation for service.

We possibly are a chosen people, but not a people chosen for our own glory, but as servants of God to the whole world. Then as per Daniel's prophecy: "They that be wise, shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN, Superintendent.

Charlotte Division, Mrs. B. K. Mason.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

I am happy today to bring the report of the Charlotte Division for 1939. This is one of the best reports it has been my privilege to bring in the six years I have been Superintendent. Growth of the work and faithfulness on the part of the Superintendents and the women of the churches makes this report possible.

Six years ago we had 21 associations. At our annual meeting last year 25 sent in reports of their work. Today we have over 900 churches, more than 1,100 Societies of all grades, and more than 25,000 women and young people enlisted. Year by year we have gone forward in Kingdom work; while changes have come and mistakes have been made; yet we have not faltered, we have been steadfast in work of Woman's Missionary Union.

It has been the privilege of the Superintendent to attend four associational meetings last year—Pilot Mt., Yadkin, Surry, and Alleghany.

The Pilot Mt. leads in Mission Study with 124 classes, six schools of missions. Mrs. Roddick and her mission study teachers have gone into more churches and societies than ever before. Waughtown had with them for their school of missions Rev. Paul Bell and Rev. I. E. Gonzales, of Texas. They have 107 young people's organizations, 32 of them A-1. Emphasis has been placed upon the work of the boys and 20 Royal Ambassador chapters are reported.

The Gaston Association reports 113 Mission Study classes with the First Church, Gastonia, leading with 34. They have 18 new organizations, 107 societies of all grades, 18 of them A-1. A great blessing was received from the work of two Training School girls last summer and 1,032 people were reached through Mission Study.

The South Fork ranks third in Mission Study with 83 classes, one all-day class in Stewardship with 250 in attendance. They have each year for ten years sent a group of girls to Ridgecrest Y. W. A. Camp. They have organized a Y. W. A. Council, and have an annual banquet.

The women of the Liberty Association have voted to establish a memorial in the Baptist Hospital for their Superintendent, Miss Sallie McCracken, who has served them for ten years. The First Church, Thomasville, has a full-graded A-1 Union. New Friendship maintains its high standard for six years, having an A-1 graded Union and every resident member contributing to missions. They report 80 Mission Study classes, three schools of Missions, and two Pioneer classes, and they have the honor of being the second association in the Division to make ten points on the Standard. The Mills Home had Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Bryan and Honorio Espinoza as teachers in their school of missions.

The Pee Dee went beyond its goal financially. They report 66 Mission Study classes, two Pioneer, one school of Missions. They had an Associational Rally for the Young People and rented a cottage for their Y. W. A.'s at Ridgecrest. The South Yadkin reports growth. They enjoyed a Training School girl for one week, who did splendid work. The Stanley went beyond the Golden Jubilee year in gifts. They have a Y. W. A. Council with Mrs. N. A. Hayes, leader, which has already strengthened the work. They are contributing each year to the 100,000 Club.

The Union reports a Mission Study Institute in September with Mrs. John B. Boatwright, of South Carolina, as visiting speaker. They caught a new vision of the work, larger gifts and greater activity has been the result.

In the Yadkin they have had more than a 10 per cent increase along all lines, 35 Mission Study classes, one Pioneer class. The Superintendent travelled 1,099 miles in strengthening the work. They contributed $1,567.14 and $125.00 to the Baptist Hospital. The chairman of Mission Study has a plan that makes it possible for all the women and young people of the association to attend a Mission Study class. They stressed evangelism with good results last year.

A steady growth has been the history of the King's Mt. Twenty years ago they had 47 Societies with a membership of 800, and three Mission Study classes. Today they have 93 Societies, 2,000 members and 71 Mission Study classes. They have contributed during these years $130,000.00 to missions. They have made the full Standard of Excellence for the past seven years. Two years they received the banner for the best work in the State. The Superintendent has written 10,000 letters and cards, and travelled 31,800 miles in helping the work to go forward. Mrs. Wacaster is retiring from the work this year. In December at the associational-wide day of Prayer, which happened to be on her birthday, the women presented her with a birthday cake with twenty candles. The Association gave Miss Attie Bostick a farewell birthday party, and presented her with a love-gift of $125.00 before she sailed for China in October. We regret that space does not permit us to mention all the good things that have been reported this year from all of the Associations.

Our annual meeting was held in October at Gastonia. Each year these meetings have grown in interest and attendance, 700 attending this year. Almost 100 per cent of our Superintendents were present to bring their reports. Dr. R. T. Bryan, our veteran missionary from China, was our guest speaker. Some one said, we had three generations of missionaries on the platform that day; that Dr. Bryan carried out Dr. Lawton, and Dr. Lawton Mr. Whisenhunt. The six missionaries in attendance were a real benediction to our meeting.

In the absence of our Young People's Leader, Mrs. H. F. Lambert, who was ill in a hospital, Miss Mary Currin presided during Young People's hour, heard the reports, and brought her own message on Young People's work. Mrs. Lambert attended six Young People's rallies—the one at Winston-Salem had over 500 in attendance with Rev. Ted Dougherty and Mr. C. K. Djang as guest speakers.

About one-third of the Associations made nine points on the Standard. The Division was well represented at Ridgecrest. More of our Societies enjoyed the Seasons of Prayer, preceded by the study of the books on Home and Foreign Missions. More women and young people are obtaining information from our magazines and Biblical Recorder. Stewardship principles are being instilled in the minds and hearts of the young people. A total of 930 mission study classes and 24 Pioneer classes were reported. The total gifts for the year in this Division are $94,731.22, a gain over last year of $2,107.03.

We are looking forward to the opportunities for growth and development in the four new Divisions, which were formed from our large territory. I am grateful for the love, the co-operation, and the fellowship of all of our women. Your splendid work and your faithfulness have been an inspiration to me. I am praying that as we find our places of service in the new Divisions, that God may use each one of us, for His glory and honor, and for the bringing in of His kingdom.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON, Superintendent.

Elizabeth City Division, Mrs. E. B. Beasley.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

I recall reading a story of a little town in Scotland. This little town was a busy little town. My, how busy it was! All the other little towns seemed quiet and somnolent, but this little city was thriving and bustling. It was named for Lady Tiston, a woman of very good works who lived there many, many years ago, and before she died she directed that when she died, she must be buried standing up—so that her family would know that even in death she was on her toes. The inspiration in that little town has been such that it is still a thriving busy little town, because there is the tomb of the lady standing on her toes all these centuries.

And so the women of the Elizabeth City W. M. U. Division by standing on their toes, have continued faithful during the past year, in organization, enlistment, mission study, personal service, missionary education of our young people, and in giving of our means.

The Atlantic Association has not lost any of the enthusiasm gained during the jubilee year; and is able to report that much interest and perseverance has been shown to maintain the splendid record reached during that year. This association held a conference of local junior leaders and organized a Y. W. A. Council under the leadership of the Young People's Divisional leader and Miss Currin. Under the leadership of Mrs. W. B. Sprinkle a splendid associational Young People's Rally was held at Beaufort in August.

The Chowan Association had 40 A-1 organizations out of 154, two full-graded unions—Shiloh and Reynoldson. Evangelization was stressed through Personal Service, 36 societies reporting definite efforts at soul winning. The churches of Chowan County support a native Bible woman in China, as does the Riverside Church also. A conference of young people's leaders was held early in the year, and a Y. W. A. Council organized in November.

The Neuse Association is striving to raise the standard of its work. A Y. W. A. Council was organized and the Kennedy Home W. M. S. and G. A. were A-1.

The Roanoke Association leads out in number of memberships to the Hundred Thousand Club having 100 plus members. Rocky Mount First Church had a full graded A-1 Union. This church supports a missionary in China. Throughout the association the work with the young people was emphasized and an enthusiastic Y. W. A. Council was organized.

The Pamlico is still striving to overcome its difficulties. Gains were reported in the number of young people's societies, number of mission study classes, and number of periodicals taken.

The West Chowan reports 213 organizations with four full graded A-1 Unions. Conway, Creekville, Colerain, and Woodland. Two churches, Conway and Winton, report 100 per cent resident missionary givers.

The total amount of gifts from the Elizabeth City W. M. S. Division is $30,663.32. Three associations, the Atlantic, the Chowan, and the Roanoke, made an increase over the preceding year.

The Royal Ambassador Conclave with the First Baptist Church, Rocky Mount, under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Maddrey was a splendid occasion. Financed by the Division and the Roanoke Association this first Conclave was a success. About 175 boys were enrolled. Mrs. Maddrey says, "Surely Woman's Missionary Union of the Elizabeth City Division made no better investment during 1939, than in those days when its boys and young men were led to think seriously about making 'The King's Business, Ours.'"

The annual Divisional meeting was held at Chowan College, Murfreesboro, in October. It was well attended and Dr. Bryan, Miss Ruby Daniels, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Briggs and Miss Currin all brought timely messages.

There is still ample opportunity for earnest, faithful effort and no woman need feel that she cannot play an active part in the affairs of the Kingdom because of lack of opportunity. In closing I wish to leave with you a quotation which is as applicable today as it was when penned by the unknown author several years ago: "I am of the opinion that my life belongs to the whole community, and as long as I live, it is my privilege to do for it whatsoever I can. I want to be thoroughly used up when I die, for the harder I work the more I live. I rejoice in life for its own sake. Life is no 'brief candle' for me. It is a splendid torch which I have got to hold for a moment: and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations."

Greensboro Division, Mrs. W. R. Stone.

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

In October, our former Superintendent, Mrs. Ira D. S. Knight, moved to West Palm Beach, Florida. We stand in praise of her efficient leadership. She planned and directed the work wisely and well. We miss her.

Our communities have undergone many changes. Scattered families and new people have moved into this center of industrial, manufacturing, educational, and political interests. This has made changes in our church groups and has given a new challenge and new problem to our leaders in the Woman's Missionary Union.

Our Association Superintendents, however, are equal to the task. They do not consider their office as an object laid in their hands to enjoy and admire, but as a God-given task throbbing with life to be developed, nurtured, and directed. They see the intricate pattern of human life to be changed, moulded, and cut to be fitted into God's great plan of the ages. They have encouraged the establishment of the family altar, urged Bible study, fostered mission study classes, and as a result all report an increased membership in societies, an increase in mission study classes, and an increased attendance in missionary gatherings. Most of the Associations are divided into groups and they hold quarterly meetings.

That the people may know the missionaries and their fields of service, this provision was made for the Association meetings.

Dr. J. F. Plainfield and Miss Wilma Bucy of the Home Mission Board have spoken in three Associations. Mr. Honorio Espinoza, of Brazil. Mr. Harold Schaley and Miss Marjorie Spence, of Chile, Miss Ruby Daniel, of Budapest, Hungary, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Djang, Mr. and Mrs. Gallimore, Dr. R. T. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Suggs, of China, have all vividly portrayed their work in foreign fields, and the interest of our people has manifested itself with an increase in tithes and offerings. Every Association has met its goal and some have gone over the amount designated.

The work our Training School has done and is doing is shown in the service given by the girls who have gone from this Division. We have one in Hungary, one in Africa, one in Brazil, two in China. Some are directors of young people's work in the churches here, some are doing secretarial work, while fourteen are the efficient wives of pastors in city and country churches.

Not content with the lives actively engaged in Christian stewardships, but definite financial assistance is being given to young men who are studying for the ministry. The support of a missionary in China, the support of several Bible women in China and birthday gifts to missionaries and Margaret Fund children.

We recall the words of Miss Fannie Heck when she said, "Strive for the conversion of those around you as faithfully as for the heathen as we see our women go with their baskets of provisions for the immediate relief of the needy, drawing no racial lines, helping Negro women to be more efficient Christians, holding cottage prayer meetings, services in institutions, organizing and fostering mothers clubs, homemakers clubs and carrying with them the love of Christ.

The organizations for young people are developing and expanding under the leadership of the young people directors in each Association. Separate meetings are being held and are well attended. And how the missionary organizations fill the need of the girls who are just out of school and do not know what to do with their lives.

As we face the new year the strong women of our Division must give of their time, talent, and means to the weaker ones, and learn that it is more blessed to give than to receive. We want to enlist the weak who by circumstances feel the need of placing themselves where they can be helped by the strong. Then we need those who are not very weak and not very strong, but who standing between the two, make the happy medium of communication transmitting the electric current from one to the other.

On March 20, 1915, Miss Heck said: "Bring all your powers into the best service for the best King. Thus shall your work abide and be abundantly blessed of God to your own joy and the joy of the world."

In Zephaniah 3:17 we read "Jehovah thy God is in the midst of thee, a mighty one who will save: he will rejoice over thee with joy: he will rest in his love: he will joy over thee with singing."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. R. STONE, Superintendent.

Wilmington Division, Miss Macy Cox.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

With joy, and gratitude to Him who has guided and blest the work of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Wilmington Division for the year 1939, we make this good report.

Deep spiritual purpose has been manifested in every Association. It was the happy privilege of the Superintendent to attend the annual meetings of Columbus, Eastern, New South River, and Wilmington associations; a special meeting in Bladen, Burnt Swamp, and Robeson; the July Divisional meeting in Little River, the young people's meeting in Eastern, the October Divisional meeting in Wilmington, and the Royal Ambassador Conclave in Clinton Church in the Eastern in November. Every meeting was filled with missionary enthusiasm and a desire to go forward in the Master's work. Mr. Harold Schaley brought wonderful messages in Bladen and Columbus associations of his country, Brazil. Mr. Honorio Espinoza, of Santiago, Chile, stirred the hearts as he spoke in Brunswick, Little River, Robeson, and Wilmington. Miss Wilma Bucy, field worker for Home Mission Board, was the guest speaker at the meeting of New South River, and Mrs. J. B. Boatwright, of Mullins, South Carolina for Burnt Swamp, and Miss Mary Currin in the Eastern. Mrs. W. D. Briggs spoke in several meetings. We pause to thank God for our last message from our beloved Mrs. Edna R. Harris, who spoke for us at the meeting of the New South River in April. Her face, her messages, her loyalty and beautiful life will ever live in our hearts and we are grateful to our Heavenly Father for having the privilege of working with her.

The Royal Ambassador Conclave was a complete success and a great blessing to the boys and others who attended.

Among other outstanding things are: the one hundred dollars given by Brunswick Association for Chinese Relief; Home Mission boxes sent by societies in Bladen and Robeson associations to frontier missionaries; one in Robeson, a box of toys to our orphanage; Wilmington Association supports medical dispenser on field with Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Powell in Africa. They gave $222.00 for this in 1939, and several societies sent gifts to their daughter, Mary Hester Powell at Meredith College on her birthday. First Church, Temple, and Winter Park in Wilmington each supports a native worker in China, and the Eastern still supports Miss Katie Murray and a kindergarten school in China. In Wilmington, First Church, an associational mission study class was taught by Miss Ruth Kersey, missionary to Africa. New South River had a school of missions and stewardship night. The women in Burnt Swamp Association have taken active part in helping to build new Sunday School rooms to several churches and erecting one new one, and have given more to missions than in any year previous. They look forward to helping to build an orphanage there for the Indians.

Columbus and Johnston are majoring on new organizations, and Columbus is active in soul winning.

We have three new churches in our Division, bringing the number to 369. Statistical report shows 240 Woman's Missionary Societies, increase of 7; 98 Young Woman's Auxiliaries, increase 21; 146 Girls' Auxiliaries, increase 29; 97 Royal Ambassadors, increase 7; 144 Sunbeams, increase 20; increase of young people's societies 77; total, increase 84. Number churches with 5 grades, 49; churches with societies, 242, still leaving 127 with no missionary organization. Membership of all grades, 10,594. Tithers, 816. Membership of 100,000 Club, 202. Bladen, Brunswick, Burnt Swamp, Eastern, New South River, Robeson, and Wilmington reached financial goal. Bladen and New South River made 10 points on Standard of Excellence; Burnt Swamp, Little River, Wilmington, and Johnston 9; Columbus, Eastern and Robeson 8; Brunswick 7. Nine Associations held separate young people's meetings. One hundred and five new societies were organized but 36 old ones were lost, the net gain, 69. Three hundred eighty-nine societies reported directed personal service; 472 mission study classes were held, a gain of 56; 3,504 enrolled in classes; 566 certificates, 1,188 seals. This shows large increase in mission study awards, and greater interest. One hundred and thirty-eight sent gifts to our Baptist Hospital, and 15 to our Margaret Fund students. Three hundred and thirty societies observed the seasons of prayer.

Gifts reported, $32,473.24. In spite of financial depression we made increase of $929.56.

The Divisional Banner was presented to Wilmington Association, having seven churches with five grades. In closing the report we pay special tribute to Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Bryan, of Shanghai, China, who gave such soul-stirring messages at our meeting in Southside Church, of Wilmington, in October, and to our beloved Mrs. W. N. Jones, President Emeritus, and Mrs. W. D. Briggs, of Raleigh, our Acting Secretary.

May we in the years to come, live up to our watchword—"Be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord."

Respectfully submitted,

MACY COX, Superintendent.

Recognition of New Divisional Superintendents: Mrs. I. A. Ward, Elizabeth City Division; Mrs. W. R. Stone, Raleigh Division; Mrs. Mott P. Blair, Charlotte Division; Mrs. Earl C. James, Wilkesboro Division; Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Hickory Division; Mrs. Sam Gibson, Bryson City Division.

Special music was rendered by Miss Helen Smith, Director of Music in the Wilmington First Church, who led the music throughout the Convention.

The President's message followed, "Our Unchanging Purpose."

OUR UNCHANGING PURPOSE

Someone has said, "Show me your scrapbook and I will tell you what kind of a person you are." So, if we would read the history of Woman's Missionary Union we might do so by a study of the watchwords and themes used through the years. These record the aims of definite years and show both the ideals and the needs of those years.

We start the year 1940 with a challenging watchword, and a thought provoking theme, both of which emphasize the great need of today.

That we are living in a changed and rapidly changing world, no one will dispute. There are changes everywhere. Discoveries and inventions have transformed living conditions so that we accept as necessities conveniences undreamed of by our parents. Industrial, business, social and even religious life have all been affected by these changes. Many of these changes have brought great blessings to humanity. Life is easier, disease better controlled, travel swifter, communication more prompt, but along with these has come a loss of high ideals, a lowering of ethical standards, and laxness of morals so often associated with ease and luxury.

It is not my purpose to discuss the changes confronting us nor attempt to interpret the meaning of world conditions today. I leave that to wiser heads than mine. I am deeply concerned about our attitude as a nation, our duty as individual Christians, our responsibility as a missionary organization.

In the midst of all the change and confusion, some things remain unchanged. The vital needs of life are unchanged, human nature is unchanged, sin is the same, the soul still hungers and thirsts for the things of God.

We are organized to meet this need, to satisfy this hunger. It is for this we were called into being. This is our purpose, and it is an unchanging purpose. Missionary organizations face the greatest challenge of their history as they give themselves anew to this unchanging purpose. There are in the world today great groups who follow a steadfast purpose but it is a purpose of aggression, greed and self-advancement. We would examine this purpose to which we are committed and see if it is good. First, does it have a worthy goal?

"A university professor was talking recently with a group of his students. He called on them to be men and play the game of life. 'But how are we going to play the game of life,' one of the students asked, 'when we don't know where the goal-posts are?'

"That is the trouble; how are you going to make a great life when you have no assurance that life itself has any meaning or purpose, or significance? If there are no goal-posts, there can be no game. Our first business is to find the goal-posts for the greatest of all adventures."

How true this is of the great missionary adventure. Our goal-posts have been set up for us in the eternal counsels of God. The field is the world. The goal-posts are set at earth's remotest bounds. The message that we carry is the message of life, eternal life. The goal is still far distant, but much progress has been made. In our own land, and in every land where our missionaries labor, there is the testimony that the goal is a worthy one. This testimony is recorded in redeemed souls, remade lives, and the heroic faith of those won. In the sixteen foreign countries where Southern Baptists labor we have this testimony recorded in the sixteen thousand baptisms last year and 956 restorations. While in the homeland more than two thousand baptisms are reported through Home Board missionaries.

But it is not enough to have a worthy goal, there must also be a dominant spirit, a spirit like that of our matchless leader. We think the times in which we live are perilous times, and so they are. What about the times in which Paul lived? Yet we hear him say "But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God."

Paul followed this same leader who, when peril and danger threatened, when friends would dissuade him, set his face steadfastly towards Jerusalem, knowing what awaited him there.

We rejoice in those who have caught his spirit and have followed in his train. Livingstone, pressing on in Africa, confident his life would be spared until his work was finished, or Judson and his little group of missionaries, who, when refused admission to India and ordered to return to America, fled to Rangoon, where bonds and imprisonment awaited them. Time would fail to call the long list of those who, from pioneer days down to the present time, have caught the spirit of their Master. Today our missionaries are measuring up in a splendid way. They are either back at their posts of duty or pleading to go. Scott Patterson has again gone to Africa, Ruby Daniel, whom we expected to have with us today, is back in Hungary. In China, the Chinese ask in wonder "Why do you not go home to your beautiful country? We have to stay here, but you—you can go. Why do you not go?" When the missionary answers "It is because I have a Master who bids me stay, a Master who bids me bring to you food and clothing and the message of His love"—then they are ready to listen to this message and great numbers are being won. Sometime ago a professor in one of our theological seminaries told of an experience he had in Hollywood:

"I grant you, that is a strange place to find a theological professor. But this one confessed, and revealed that one experience there at least had been good for his soul. One of the famous Hollywood directors said to this visiting theologian: 'You may be interested to know that we are endeavoring to produce a picture concerning David Livingstone and that in one particular we are having a great deal of trouble. It is not very difficult for us to build up scenes of jungle life in Africa, or to create atmosphere with natives and animals, but there is one thing that is causing us tremendous concern, and that is, How are we going to get across to the public the power that sent David Livingstone out to Africa and kept him there?' My friends, only as one faces the deep issue involved in that question can he come to the meaning of the missionary enterprise of yesterday or today or tomorrow."

Again the value of a purpose is proved by its results, by its fruits. For more than a hundred years we have been at this task, and Southern Baptists are within five years of their hundredth year as a separate organization. These have been years of unprecedented missionary endeavor. They have been years of marvelous expansion. Churches, schools, and hospitals were built, orphanages established, scientific agriculture introduced, leper work started, and the Bible translated into more than a thousand languages and dialects. It is said that at the height of the movement Protestant churches spent in a single year more than sixty million dollars and had twenty thousand representatives at work. We recall the thrill that came to us when our own denomination sent out a shipload of missionaries.

Today—we see churches and schools demolished, hospitals in ruins and our people scattered. Has it been worth the price, the price in men and in money? Has the work been a failure? In China where our greatest work has been done and where the suffering is the greatest today, schools are still carrying on, hospitals ministering to sick and wounded and churches are crowded; one at least has to hold two services to accommodate the crowd. At a recent meeting in Shanghai sixty were received for baptism. Everywhere there are open doors, hungry hearts, and eager listeners. There has also developed a marvelous understanding and unity of purpose unknown in other days. These words from C. T. Wang are most comforting and inspiring:

“I am proud of the fact that Christ is gaining the heart and sympathy of China. Believe me, that is happening. His footsteps become clearer and clearer in the good earth of China with every passing hour. Once we looked at the handful of Christians on the one hand and the massed millions of China on the other and said, ‘You better go home and forget it.’ But the handful stayed. Today the handful is winning.”

Dr. Rankin tells us that we cannot evaluate our missionary enterprise by stone and brick and mortar. Today there is a new spirit in China. Many of the leading officials are Christians and are outstanding in their Christian witness. Dr. Liu, that splendid Christian scholar, who stayed at his post of duty, gave shining testimony to his faith, and there are many many more just as faithful.

In times like these a greater loyalty than ever is needed. Every defeat the church has ever suffered has come from within, from the unfaithfulness of its own members. Persecution gives it strength. The mission enterprise was launched in persecution. Now, if ever, we must be unchanging in our purpose.

With war conditions as they are in Europe support of mission work from these countries will be cut off entirely in some cases, and in others greatly curtailed. We must supply the lack. It is our day of opportunity. It is also our day of responsibility. Dr. J. B. Lawrence was recently quoted as saying:

“It seems to me that world conditions make it necessary for us to give added emphasis to the evangelization of our homeland, and the mobilization of our homeland forces for a greater worldwide, mission program when the war is over. Right now the world is disturbed and perturbed. Conditions the whole world over are unsettled. Americans are not allowed to go to Europe. Japan and China are in a state of war. The only fields we have available and unaffected are South America and Africa.

"But during this period the United States is becoming more and more a world influence and power. What the United States says and does will largely determine the peace, progress and prosperity of the world in the future. Southern Baptists should be prepared for a great worldwide mission movement when the war is over. We can then, if we are prepared, launch a foreign mission program that will sweep the world from one end to the other. But we must get ready for it. We must evangelize our homeland and mobilize the evangelized forces for a great world movement when the war is over."

We are again giving Evangelism major emphasis in our plans. May you give it first place in your life?

In closing may I say that this purpose to which we have set ourselves as an organization will become effective only as it becomes the ruling purpose in your lives as individuals. We have tried to plan that you should hear as many of our missionaries as we could put on our program. They are your representatives. You can work through them, but only and in the same measure as you support them. Recently one of our religious papers carried a short item under the caption "The Modern Parable of the Loaves and the Fishes"—as follows:

"A Chinese boy living in Manila, age nine years, was saving his money for a two-wheel bicycle, when he overheard his mother and father talking about the starving Chinese children. Taking his total savings, he went to the nearest bakery and told the baker he wanted all the bread he could buy for fourteen pesos. Piling the many loaves onto his hand cart he rolled them to the Chinese Y. M. C. A., explaining to the secretary that he had brought bread for the starving children of China. The secretary being a man with imagination, thanked the little boy and helped unload the bread. Then the secretary got busy on the telephone and called the women of the Y. W. C. A. and the men of the Y. M. C. A., urging them to come to the center that night for 'big doings.' That evening the secretary related the story about the little boy and then auctioned off the bread. The next day he sent 1,254 pesos to China."

Shall we be less faithful in sending the Bread of Life?

Last December there came to the office in Raleigh a special delivery letter. When opened it revealed a hundred dollars in bills, with a brief note asking that it be used for Foreign Missions, preferably for work among the Jews. This is the explanation of the hundred dollars so designated in our Lottie Moon offering. Someone had this work on their heart and they did something about it. What will you do with the impressions and inspiration you receive from this meeting? Our Master launched His program through the eleven faithful disciples. As you return to your churches and your societies may you be faithful to this unchanging purpose to which we have set ourselves:

Live For Something

Live for something, have a purpose,
And that purpose keep in view;
Drifting like a helmless vessel,
Thou canst ne'er to life be true.
Half the wrecks that strew life's ocean
If some star had been their guide,
Might have now been riding safely,
But they drifted with the tide.

Live for something, and live earnest,
Though the work may humble be,
By the world of men unnoticed,
Known alone to God and thee.
Every act has priceless value
To the architect of fate;
'Tis the spirit of thy doing
That alone will make it great.

Live for something—God and angels
Are thy watchers in the strife,
And above the smoke and conflict
Gleams the victor's crown of life.
Live for something; God has given
Freely of His stores divine;
Richest gifts of earth and heaven,
If thy willest, may be thine.

STEADFAST AND TRIUMPHANT

MRS. EDNA RICHARDSON HARRIS

August 25, 1871—May 6, 1939

At the close of a week filled to the full with the many duties that make up the routine of her work, the summons to come home came suddenly, and quickly. When a friend said to her as the illness seemed to be abating, "You must be quiet and stay in your room tomorrow," the answer came at once "I will rest tomorrow," but before the morrow came she had entered into the rest prepared for the children of God. That final word was characteristic of a life that was filled to the uttermost with labor for our Woman's Missionary Union, for her loved ones and her friends. Rest was always to be on the morrow. Her thought always was for the completion of the day's task. She walked in the way of the Cross. Her prayer was ever

"Mould me O Christ
Beneath Thy swift creative hand
To do Thy will
To show God's love,
To make His world more free, more joyful,
To combat pain and wrong
To pay in our own flesh
Our share of what it takes to help and save."

She was steadfast in her work. Her heart was in it, all service was done as to God and not unto men. It was never a burden even when she faced a lessening of her physical strength and so she was joyful in her service.

She was steadfast in faith. A great sorrow that came to her early in her life caused her faith to become a more vital thing—a constant flame that lightened her pathway. She trusted God and He was sufficient for her every need. When she carried her burdens to Him, she left them in His keeping in calm confidence that He would keep them and so her life was not marred with anxiety, but calm and steadfast in her confidence that He would keep that which she had committed to Him.

She was steadfast in her love for her God and love for her fellow-man. The radiance of this love showed on her face and gave her an attractiveness that drew friends to her and made her an acquisition to any circle. The light of His presence showed in her personality in an unusual way. Because of her love for her Lord there was so much joy in her service that we think of her today as not having come to the close of her labors but as one who has entered into the perfect service that we believed awaited her in the land to which she has gone. Life does not end when death comes, "The western gates close only to let the eastern gates open." In the account of creation we read "And the evening and the morning were the first day," and each day began with evening and closed with morning. So it will be with the Christian. We come to the evening hour only to await the glorious morning. John in his vision on the isle of Patmos sees the redeemed glorified "Therefore are they before the throne of God and serve him day and night in his temple." No more frail bodies, no longer handicapped by limited abilities, but giving a perfect service.

"Rest He will give and labor He will give
In that day as in this,
For life is both and on through death we love,
And love, and nothing miss."

Triumphant

Not only a steadfast service but a triumphant service. Victor Hugo, the great French novelist, said when approaching death, "I feel in myself the future life, I am rising, I know, toward the sky. The sunshine is over my head. Heaven lights me with the reflection of unknown worlds. Winter is over my head but eternal spring is in my heart." I can say I have finished my day's work but I cannot say I have finished my life. My day's work will begin next morning." And so we think of the friend who loved us, and whom we loved, as radiant in the perfect service that has come to her in the glory land. "Death is but the gate of life." Our motto for the year is taken from the most triumphant expression of faith in the New Testament—the resurrection chapter, the fifteenth chapter of Saint Paul's letter to the Christians at Corinth. It is again the Easter season. All nature reminds us of the resurrection by the glorious awakening that comes each year to every bud and flower. "Because I live ye shall live also" is the divine message to every heart and life. Isn't this glorious resurrection connected with our steadfastness? Does the measure of our love and service depend on our faithfulness to the task to which He has assigned us?

Today we would not think of the hands that are stilled forever, nor of the loved face gone from our sight, but remembering her love and devotion we would ask ourselves of the heritage she has left us. Our loss is a call to new duties. Because she was untiring, because her love was unsparing, let us love more, let us serve more faithfully.

May we be steadfast, always abounding in the work of the Lord. It is our privilege. We too may live the triumphant life.

"We are too stupid about death,
We will not learn
How it is wages paid to those who earn :
Now it is the gift for which on earth we yearn.

"To be set free from bondage to the flesh :
How it is turning seed corn into grain
How it is winning Heaven's eternal gain
How it means freedom evermore from pain
How it entangles every mortal mesh.

"We are so selfish about death
We count our grief
Far more than we consider their relief,
When the Great Reaper gathers in the sheaf,
No more to know the season's constant change :
And we forget that it means only life—
Life with all joy, peace, rest and glory rife,
The victory won and ended all the strife,
And Heaven no longer far away or strange."

"Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life."
"Blessed are the dead."

MRS. W. N. JONES.

REPORT OF MARGARET FUND CHAIRMAN, 1939

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention adopted changes last year in the handling of special "love gifts" for Margaret Fund students. Each State W. M. U. was requested to secure an offering to be known as the "Burney Fund" in honor of Mrs. Frank Burney, for sixteen years the general chairman of the Fund. Amounts secured by the State Chairmen were to be sent to the General Treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Cox, Memphis, Tennessee. She was instructed to send five dollar checks to all of the students three times a year through the State Chairmen.

After receiving these instructions, the North Carolina chairman, after consultation with the Executive Committee, sent out letters to all of the Woman's Missionary Societies in the State asking for gifts for the Burney Fund. The letter stated the new plan and asked that no society give more than three dollars.

The response was most gratifying, and in the fall a check for $218.96 was sent to Mrs. Cox. She has sent, through your chairman two checks of $5.00 each to each of the fourteen students in North Carolina. She has in hand sufficient funds to send the checks that will go to the students before commencement.

North Carolina W. M. U. gave the largest amount to the Burney Fund, and a start has been made on the 1940 offering.

There have been fourteen students in the State this year and contact have been made with each of them. In one case where a student was not strong enough to keep up dining room service to supplement her expenses, a circle in a local society contributed the necessary amount. Other helpful things have been done, and the young people have written letters of deep appreciation. Several of them have received special honors in their colleges. Dorothy Green, of Nigeria, Africa, has been head of the Student Government this year at Meredith College and will be graduated in May.

It is recommended that at Divisional and Associational meetings, the Margaret Fund be given a place in the program, now that the money for the scholarships is provided in the Annie Armstrong offering and in the Lottie Moon Christmas offering it is necessary that only the "Burney Fund" be stressed. But the service of helpful interest and of prayer for the young people and their parents is urged.

Also there is the request that the Margaret Fund be remembered in wills. Amounts of ten dollars up are being asked and it is hoped that many will remember the Fund in making their wills.

With the new arrangement of Divisions in our State work, there are now ten Margaret Fund Divisional Chairmen. They are already at work and will keep in touch with the Associations and societies of their respective Divisions.

Knowing the devotion of the North Carolina W. M. U. to the Margaret Fund, there is all confidence in future loyalty and support in this branch of the Master's service.

STEWARDSHIP REPORT

In accordance with her original purpose Woman's Missionary Union has, from the beginning sought to stimulate the grace of giving among her women and young people. However, this year marks the first decade since stewardship was incorporated as a definite part of the plan of work in our W. M. U. organization.

These words spoken by the prophet, "Precept upon precept, line upon line," characterize in a measure the slow but sure progress which has been attained by the persevering efforts of those who have been faithful to the task through the years.

More and more we realize that our plans succeed in proportion to the faithfulness of the local stewardship chairman whose responsibility it is to execute them.

Some one has said that we cannot lead others farther than we have gone ourselves. How aptly this applies to those who lead in our program of stewardship teaching.

Let us not forget that the local chairman is jointly responsible with the young people's director for the stewardship education of the young people. We cannot place too much emphasis on this phase of our work.

May we suggest the necessary preparation for each stewardship chairman. First, order the literature on stewardship from the W. M. U. Headquarters in Raleigh. Second, study carefully the duties of the local chairman and the plans for promoting the stewardship education of the young people. Third, call a meeting early in the year of those who are jointly responsible with you for carrying out the stewardship plans. Fourth, remember to send in a quarterly report. We gratefully acknowledge our appreciation for the splendid work of those who have faithfully sought to carry out the plans and attain the objectives set for us.

As the statistical report of the past year was compiled, we have rejoiced in every sign of progress with gratitude to Him who giveth the increase, we record these facts relative to our special stewardship goals. First, A substantial increase in the number of tithers, 1,701. The total number reported being 7,410. Second, There were twenty-two W. M. S. organizations securing a gift to missions from every resident woman member of the church. Third, Number of memberships in the Hundred Thousand Club 1,362, which indicates a loss from the previous year. May we suggest that one person be appointed in every W. M. S. to keep this important feature of the work before the women. Fourth, Observance of stewardship night by our young people. Reporting on this point is incomplete. We do know that in eighty-eight churches such programs were presented. Fifth, Stewardship classes. Definite information is meager. We are assured, however, that there is greater interest manifested in stewardship classes than ever before.

It is with grateful hearts that we record the increased fruits of our labor. May we with ever increasing zeal—pray, plan, and work to the end, that the seeds of truth shall be implanted in the hearts of our women and young people concerning the use of talents and possessions. "Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap if we faint not."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. G. BOOMHOUR.

REPORT OF PERSONAL SERVICE

Personal Service was adopted in 1910 as one of the six fundamentals of Woman's Missionary Union on the recommendation of Miss Fannie E. S. Heck. It is also one of the points on the Standard of Excellence, so it is important. What is it? The name is descriptive. It is personal—something we do ourselves, not delegating it to another; and it is service, with the high aim of ministering to human needs and winning the lost to Christ. It is doing such things in our communities as we expect our good missionaries to do in their fields of labor in being friendly and a good neighbor to those among whom they live preparatory of telling the gospel message. Jesus said that one missionary program is to begin at Jerusalem. Now our Personal Service is our Jerusalem work done in an organized way by our society groups, and anything done within the bounds of our Association can be counted.

We Baptists claim the New Testament as our rule of faith and practice and we point to the life of Jesus as the supreme example of Personal Service. He fed the hungry, he also gave the Bread of life; He opened the eyes of the blind, He also revealed the Son of God; He cleansed the sick bodies, He also was the Great Physician of the soul; He quenched the thirst of multitudes with the water of Life. He tells us to go and do likewise. If we do not love the needy and unfortunate and lost around us how can we love those abroad on the foreign fields. Our Christianity is judged by the fruit it bears. Do you ask what you can do as Personal Service? Surely within your church, community and bounds of your Association there is much more to engage your time and efforts than you can possibly do. Write to our office in Raleigh for free literature. You may work among the sick, aged, underprivileged, shut-ins, foreigners, Negroes, new prospective and absentee members of your church or Sunday school, also in jails, prison camps, hospitals, sanatoriums, county homes, orphanages, homes for aged and among other peoples and places too numerous to mention, for every neighborhood offers a field of service. "Lift up your eyes and look on the fields for they are ripe unto harvest." Personal Service adds flavor and interest to our meetings, and work, and blesses those who participate.

The report blanks have been simplified and should be filled out and sent in quarterly.

Respectively submitted,

MRS C. L. GREAVES,

Chairman of Personal Service.

MISSION STUDY REPORT

A few followers of our Lord are able literally to obey His command, "Lift up your eyes and look upon the fields," by travelling through the world and actually beholding them, white already to harvest. Many more may listen to the burning words of those who declare unto us what they have seen and heard, and thus learn of the whitening harvest. All of us may, through the reading and study of God's Word and of missionary books and periodicals, lift up our eyes and look upon the fields.

Since its beginning our Union has stressed the dissemination of missionary information, through programs, tracts, and letters direct from missionaries, and in 1908 "Mission Study" was introduced as a definite phase of our work. In that year only 315 classes were held in the entire Southern Baptist Convention. Last year in our North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union there were reported 2,736 classes. This shows remarkable growth in thirty-one years; but we have by no means attained the number that should be reported from our 3,791 organizations.

The publication of the beautiful book, Fannie E. S. Heck, written by Mrs. W. C. James, was a source of especial gratitude on the part of our North Carolina Union. Mrs. James came to Raleigh in September, 1939, and most graciously and effectively taught this book in Miss Heck's home church to two classes with a combined attendance of over five hundred. Other classes have studied the same delightful book, and many individuals have read it, but still its use has fallen so short of being State-wide that our officers are recommending it as a basis for study and programs in observing Miss Heck's birthday in June.

Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence, Southwide Mission Study Chairman, some time ago asked this question, "Have we fallen into such a rut that our classes are routine, taken in order to conform to a standard?" If so, it behooves us to "bring back the glow to Mission Study," to realize afresh that "the books we study are life, if we can only feel with our hearts what we read with our eyes." And we shall find a glow of vitality in our study if, as we read, we lift our eyes and behold the fields, white already to harvest.

REPORT OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION TRAINING SCHOOL

Let us rejoice and give thanks for God's abundant blessings upon the Training School this year.

Again we are happy to report an increased enrollment over last year. With ninety-one (91) boarding students the school enrollment has reached a new high for the past several years.

North Carolina is happy to report that for the first time in perhaps fifteen years her number of students leads all the states. We have this year fourteen (14) young women from various sections of our State. That you may know them their names are included: Laura Bateman, Columbia; Julia Mae David, Swansboro; Victoria Tant, Spring Hope; Frances King Turner, Leaksville; Louise Bashford, Raleigh; Pauline Perry, Winston-Salem; Evelyn Mills, Charlotte; Mary Mills, Winston-Salem; Mary Ann Peebles, Raleigh; Martha Beck, Durham; Louise Pender, Burlington; Doris McKnight, Rutherfordton; Betty Claire Jennings, Thomasville; Anneal Tripplett, Lenoir. Misses Bateman, David, Tant and Turner are seniors, the other ten being first-year students.

Six of these young women are using State scholarship loan funds and Julia Mae David, of Swansboro, is using the Louis Castlebury fund.

The earnestness of our young women in preparing themselves for Christian service is shown in the fact that seven of these students are paying their own expenses. Some secured funds from other sources on learning that all scholarship loan funds were being used. More and more we would urge upon all applicants the wisdom of defraying their own expenses when there is any possible way of doing so.

Again we rejoice and give thanks that our students this year are so well prepared scholastically. Nine of the fourteen are graduates of senior colleges and four are Junior college graduates. This type of preparation we would urge for all those who apply for entrance to the school. Those who are to serve our Lord in definite phases of work should have the finest and best preparation possible. The women of our State in places of leadership in Division, Association and church can be of great help at this point by wisely giving counsel to any young woman who asks their advice concerning entrance into the school.

Let me remind you that our annual gift to the school for current expenses, $1,700 and scholarship loan funds $1,200, will be given during July and August. May we give increased attention to this offering, seeking to secure a gift from each W. M. S. and each auxiliary. In so doing we may increase our own usefulness through well trained young women, some of whom may go to the end of the earth to carry "glad tidings."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. C. FEEZOR.

REPORT OF N. C. BAPTIST HOSPITAL

As we write a new leaf in the history of service of the N. C. Baptist Hospital for the year 1939, there comes a new joy in realizing a wider interest in the ministry of healing, accompanied by a new desire and greater compassion for the suffering multitudes that Christ has committed to our care. For the last year you have shared with us in patience, in love, in gifts for the condition of an overtaxed hospital. For if it had not been for the loving contributions of the women of this great Union, our supply of linen would not have been commensurate with the needs of the extra beds that must be placed in every space that was large enough to accommodate a waiting patient.

We have treated in our hospital this year more than four thousand patients, one thousand of this number has been charity or part pay patients, or ten thousand, eight hundred and forty-seven days have been given to those who were not able to enter another hospital for treatment.

Our Mother's Day offering this year was $25,000, the largest in the history of our work, while we will receive $9,990 from the Duke Foundation, all of which will be used for charity work.

We have in our Nurses' Training School fifty-five young women, in preparation for a life of professional service either in this country or some other place. We feel that the courtesy and willing service rendered by our nurses are unsurpassed in any hospital. Under the wise leadership of Mrs. Smith Hagaman they have an A-1 Grace McBride Y. W. A.

After many hours of tireless service rendered the patients in the hospital, it is an inspiration to hear the monthly program so carefully prepared and to note 100 per cent enlisted in the mission study classes. We feel that the fine Christian atmosphere of our hospital is largely due to the wise management and Christian understanding of our Superintendent, Mr. Smith Hagaman, and assistants who come in such close touch with the patients separated from home and loved ones.

The establishment by Wake Forest of a Medical College on our hospital grounds by the Bowman Gray Foundation Fund, we feel came as a gift from heaven for enlarged service in teaching and healing. This offering is a worthy memorial to the name it bears as well as that of his Christian mother, Aurelia Gray, who was one of those instrumental in laying the foundation for the first hospital in Winston-Salem. We can truly say, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; for their works do follow them."

For this gift has stirred the hearts of the members of our great denomination and they with a larger vision have been inspired to press forward in united service and contributions that have made possible the necessary addition to meet the existing needs we face today in our hospital.

So early in the spring we hope to see the foundation of our new wing to the hospital a reality, but I would beg to remind you that with greater opportunity there comes the challenge of enlarged obligations on each church and each society represented here today. For as we have doubled the number of patients to serve in His name, we will have an increased responsibility in service in the Masters name. May we then hear that "still small voice say in as much as ye did unto the least of these ye did it unto me."

Lord speak to us that we may speak; In living echoes of Thy Word,

As Thou has sought; So let us seek, Thy suffering children lost and lone.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 14

The closing session was opened with singing "How Firm a Foundation," followed by a devotional by Mrs. A. R. Gallimore, China.

Minutes read and adopted.

Recommendations were read by Mrs. W. D. Briggs. Adopted.

It was moved and carried that minutes of this last session be submitted for approval to the Executive Committee in their next session.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION FOR THE YEAR 1940

With gratitude to God for His blessing upon our service and appreciation for the splendid cooperation of our women and young people, we face the challenging responsibility of this another year of missionary endeavor. We therefore recommend:

First, Watchword. "Be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord."—I Cor. 15:58.

Hymn—"How Firm a Foundation."

Second, Since our State Convention is again placing the emphasis on evangelism and because we recognize it to be of supreme importance, we would urge all organizations to enter into the plans as outlined by pastors and churches. We would further urge that Soul Winning be continually emphasized and promoted through Personal Service plans in local societies and that books on Soul Winning be studied.

Third, That we adopt the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention as our guide as to methods, plans and standards. We further urge that our women study this Year Book and as far as possible bring their organizations up to the high standard set. That special emphasis be placed on the fundamentals for which our Union stands, endeavoring thus to strengthen and deepen the spiritual life of our constituency. Also that our high moral standards shall be presented continually as a definite and much-needed witness for Christ in this present time.

Fourth, Goals.

- Increased gifts.
- Enlarged membership.
- More tithers.
- Additional Mission Study Classes.
- Vitalized Personal Service.

Fifth, Literature. That continued emphasis be placed on the value of our missionary publications and that we strive to increase their circulation and also their use, "Royal Service," "The Window of Y. W. A.," and "World Comrades," also to secure subscriptions to "The Commission," published by Foreign Mission Board, in Richmond, and "Southern Baptist Home Missions," published by Home Mission Board in Atlanta. That we reaffirm our loyalty and support of the Biblical Recorder and urge our constituency, especially the officers of societies to subscribe to it.

Sixth, Mission Study. That every Woman's Missionary Society and every Young Woman's Auxiliary study "Fannie E. S. Heck" during the year, and that every W. M. S. study "The Way of Missionary Education." That we advance from the minimum of two classes per year for W. M. S. and one for Y. W. A. to an ideal of four classes per year for W. M. S. (one each quarter) and two for Y. W. A. That increased emphasis be placed on reading missionary books and periodicals. That there be at least one Mission Study Institute in each Association.

Seventh, Missionary Education of Young People. That in view of the splendid spirit of interest and cooperation evidenced by this resolution passed at the recent Southern W. M. U. meeting coming as a request from the Brotherhood of the South. Viz.: "We recommend that the Woman's Missionary Union ask First, that the Baptist Brotherhood of the South arrange for the Brotherhood organization in the various churches of the Southern Baptist Convention and to study the work of the Order of Royal Ambassadors in at least one program annually, and to investigate the plans and needs of the Royal Ambassador Chapter in their own church. Second, that the Brotherhood train Counselors for R. A. Chapters using the Correspondence Course from W. M. U. Headquarters, Birmingham, Alabama, emphasizing the study of the "Guide for Counselors of R. A. Chapters. Third, that the Brotherhood furnish Counselors for Royal Ambassador Chapters wherever requested to do so by the Woman's Missionary Society of the church," we follow this suggestion and request help from local organizations of Brotherhood.

That we earnestly strive to have a full graded W. M. U. in every church.

That every W. M. U. have an active, alert W. M. U. young people's director and that we magnify her important position.

That each organization observe Focus Week at the appointed time.

That all organizations have one membership in the Baptist 100,000 Club or all young people's organization together have one membership.

That every Woman's Missionary Society study the book "The Way of Missionary Education," written by Miss Juliette Mather, which study will inform, inspire, and result in better missionary education of all our young people.

That at least annually the associational young people's leader plan for and have a day of study and conference with all counselors.

That our annual State Girls' Auxiliary House Party and Royal Ambassador Camp be held in two sections for the convenience of our young people and the development of our work and that our State Woman's Missionary Union accept equal responsibility for each, these to be held as follows:

Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Meredith College, June 16-19.

Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Ridgecrest Assembly, June 3-5.

Royal Ambassador Camp, Meredith College, June 19-22.

Royal Ambassador Camp, Ridgecrest Assembly, June 5-7.

That Royal Ambassadors and members of Girl's Auxiliaries in the Bryson City, Asheville, Wilkesboro, and Hickory divisions attend the House Party and Camp at Ridgecrest and Royal Ambassadors and members of Girls' Auxiliaries in the remainder of the State attend the House Party and Camp to be held at Meredith College.

That each association send a representative group of Y. W. A. members to Southwide Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest, July 2-12.

That each division have a Royal Ambassador Conclave in November directed by the divisional young people's leader and chief R. A. Counselor of each division.

That more societies in our cities foster the Grace McBride Y. W. A. for Baptist nurses.

That we develop Young Woman's Auxiliary by organizing the Associational Y. W. A. Council in each association.

Eighth, Margaret Fund. That continued interest in the Margaret Fund be sustained by the presentation of this work at associational meetings and also at local society meetings. That a small voluntary offering from societies be forwarded to State Margaret Fund Chairman, preferably during the summer months. This fund to be used to supply gifts of equal amounts to students three times during the school year. Since scholarships are now provided through the Annie Armstrong and Lottie Moon offering the special offering for this purpose has been discontinued. However, gifts to the Endowment Fund are welcomed and bequests through wills are encouraged. Societies should continue to solicit "Margarets" to be enrolled in the Margaret Memorial book. That contact be established with any Margaret Fund student attending college in your vicinity and friendly courtesies be shown to such student.

Ninth, Training School. That continued emphasis be placed on our W. M. U. Training School in Louisville, Kentucky. That because of increase in number of applications for scholarships we give added emphasis to the Training School program to be presented during the summer months, preferably in August, and recommend that where possible a Training School girl be secured for this program. That we take as our aim for special offering at this time $1,700.00 for current expenses of school and $1,200.00 for scholarships, this being in addition to the Castlebury Scholarship provided by Mrs. Joel Layton in memory of her father, Mr. Louis Castlebury. We also recommend that amount necessary to complete the aim of $8,700.00 of last year for the building program be supplied through the further financial plans of this year's work.

Tenth, Orphanage and Hospital. While we recognize that these causes do not come definitely in our mission program we urge continued and generous support through the churches of both the regular and the enlargement plans.

Eleventh, Expense Fund. A special offering for rent of rooms occupied by Woman's Missionary Union and for traveling expenses of Union representatives and for expenses of our annual meeting is asked from each society in the first or second quarter of each year, preferably in the month of May. An itemized account of this fund is published in the minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the report of the Treasurer.

Twelfth, Hundred Thousand Club. That we again pledge our hearty support to this splendid debt-paying agency. Since our State last year showed a decrease in gifts to this cause and our

W. M. U. failed to reach the high goal set we recommend that added emphasis be given to this work, soliciting individual memberships, also memberships from circles, societies, and other groups. Memberships are one dollar per month or more and are in addition to any other gifts either through Cooperative Program or to special causes. That we strive to double our memberships this year.

Thirteenth, Special Seasons of Prayer. Rejoicing in the increased gifts and the enlarged missionary service and vision made possible through the special seasons of prayer, that we enter earnestly and prayerfully into the plans as outlined by our Southern Union for Home Missions in March and Foreign Missions December 2-6. Recognizing the growing need because of world conditions we urge generous and prayerful support of relief work on mission fields and participation in seasons of prayer for world peace. That September be observed as State Mission month with a special program on State Missions on or near September 2. That the offering may exceed that of last year.

Fourteenth, Heck Memorial. That we again observe the birthday of Miss Heck June 16 with special program and offering. That the life of Miss Heck be studied and used as basis of program. That the Heck Memorial offering be designated as follows: $2,500 to complete apportionment for North Carolina, to the Building Fund of W. M. U. Training School in Louisville, Kentucky. Balance to be set apart for the establishment of a scholarship at W. M. U. Training School as a memorial to Mrs. Edna R. Harris. This scholarship to be awarded to student of outstanding scholarship, ability, and Christian character during her senior year.

Fifteenth, Total Financial Aims: That we take as our financial aim $270,000.00. This amount to include gifts to Cooperative Program, 100,000 Club and all special offerings of Woman's Missionary Union.

Summary of Financial Aims:

To Cooperative Program.....	$164,000.00
To Woman's Missionary Union Training School	1,700.00
To Woman's Missionary Union Training School Scholarship Fund.....	1,200.00
To State Expense Fund.....	2,000.00

Total aim, including all special offerings....$270,000.00

That each Woman's Missionary Society and Young People's organization strive to make at least a five per cent increase to Cooperative Program, which is the requirement for point three on the Standard of Excellence. We discovered what we could do in 1939. May we not do less, but more through our large number of organizations and increased membership.

REPORT OF APPRECIATION COMMITTEE

In behalf of those attending the fiftieth session of Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, we do resolve:

First, that we express our deep appreciation to the women of the First Baptist Church, and the women of the other Baptist churches of Wilmington, N. C., for their cordial welcome, their gracious hospitality, and their kindness and thoughtfulness for our every comfort. To Mrs. G. B. Phillips, General Chairman; Mrs. J. D. Freeman, Chairman Hospitality; and to the members of the local Y. W. A., Girls' Auxiliary, and Boy Scouts, who served as ushers for the Convention, for their innumerable deeds of service and courtesy.

Second, that we thank the pastors of the Baptist churches in the city, and Dr. Sankey L. Blanton, of the hostess church in particular, for their sympathetic co-operation in preparing for and in making the meeting a success.

Third, that we express appreciation to the press and all civic agencies, which have aided in making our stay in Wilmington a pleasant one.

Fourth, that we offer sincere thanks to Mrs. J. Clyde Turner and all other officers, and to the Executive Committee for arranging the splendid program of inspiration and information; that we commend them for their splendid leadership during the year past, and pledge to them our prayerful and loyal support for the "unpredictable year" of 1940.

Fifth, that we extend grateful appreciation to all who had a part on the program and contributed in song or word toward these days of mountain top experiences; to Miss Currin for the lovely presentation of our young people's work, to the Sunbeams, the Royal Ambassadors, and members of the Auxiliaries who appeared on the Young People's program; to Miss Helen Smith and the choirs of the First Baptist Church for their lovely messages in song; to Miss Juliette Mather, our Southwide Young People's Secretary, for her stimulating and inspiring messages; to Mr. M. A. Huggins, to Dr. J. F. Plainfield, to Miss Inabelle Coleman and to Dr. Sydnor Stealey; and to our missionaries who always challenge us by their messages of vision and inspiration.

Sixth, that as we begin another year, in the midst of a changing world of confusion, may we as blood bought disciples of Christ, who know Him and try to serve Him, be steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, at home and to the nations of the earth.

PROCEEDINGS
OF THE
WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION
OF NORTH CAROLINA
FIFTY-FIRST ANNUAL SESSION

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 11, 1941.

The Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention, met in its fifty-first annual session in the First Baptist Church, Greensboro, Tuesday evening, March 11, 1941.

Mrs. J. Clyde Turner called the meeting to order and, after announcing that the evening would be given over to the young people, introduced Miss Mary Currin, Young People's Secretary.

Opening hymn, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations," was sung and Miss Alma Graves, Fukuoka, Japan, led the devotional.

Special music was beautifully rendered by a trio of girls from Mills Home, Thomasville—Misses Ruby Lyons, Ruth Lyons, and Eloise Stancil, who sang "I'm a Child of the King."

The general theme, "That Youth May Know and Make Known His Way," was presented in an interesting way by Miss Mary Currin in her report, "Glimpses of Yesterday—Hopes of Tomorrow." She was assisted by Colvert Smith, one of the Royal Ambassadors of First Church, Greensboro, who displayed the posters during Miss Currin's report.

Miss Blanche Sydnor White, Executive Secretary of Virginia, was presented by Mrs. Turner, to speak for Mrs. W. J. Cox, who was not able to come. As usual, Miss White was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation whose hearts were stirred and inspired for further service.

After singing the hymn, "Jesus Saves," a beautiful and impressive pageant or colloquy was presented by the Ann Hasseltine Y. W. A. of Woman's College. This was written and directed by Miss Laura Bateman, Baptist Student Secretary at Woman's College of University of North Carolina, Greensboro.

The audience stood and sang, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," and the closing prayer was led by Miss Mary Currin.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 12

The 1941 session of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union was opened at ten o'clock Wednesday morning in the First Baptist Church, Greensboro, with Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, president, presiding.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and filled with delegates and visitors at that early hour. It was an inspiring setting for the great meeting, the theme of which was "That Thy Way May Be Known."

Hymn—"Jesus Saves."

Devotional—Mrs. A. S. Gillespie, Kaifeng, Interior China. Rev. and Mrs. Gillespie are supported by Greensboro First Church.

Motion by Mrs. B. Y. Tyner, Raleigh, that the program as arranged, with whatever changes may be necessary, be adopted as the order of business. Carried.

Motion by Mrs. John Wacaster, Cherryville, that the calling of the roll be dispensed with; that those whose registration cards have been deposited with the secretary up to this time be recognized as constituting the organization, and that the secretary be empowered to add to this list from the cards that may subsequently be deposited. Carried.

Motion made by Mrs. W. D. Briggs that a message of love and sympathy be sent to Mrs. W. J. Cox on account of the death of her mother. Carried.

Mrs. Turner called on Mrs. W. N. Jones, President Emeritus, to lead in prayer for Mrs. W. J. Cox and our missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McMillan, and their son John, who is ill.

Greetings—Mrs. Stafford Webb, Greensboro.

Response—Mrs. G. B. Phillips, Wilmington.

A number of visitors were then recognized—Miss Blanche White, Executive Secretary, Virginia; Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Fristow, one of the local Board members when W. M. U. headquarters were in Baltimore; pastors, J. Clyde Turner, S. W. Rutledge, G. H. Liner; missionaries, Mrs. P. E. White and Mrs. A. S. Gillespie; Mr. Satterfield, new representative of Biblical Recorder.

Shore, Reidsville; Mrs. Roy C. Bennett, Hendersonville; Mrs. Joseph Batchelor, Farmville; Mrs. R. H. Underwood, Murfreesboro; Mrs. V. C. Roberts, High Point.

Nominating Committee (consisting of one from each Division) was elected as follows: Mrs. I. N. Carr, Mars Hill; Mrs. C. F. Rogers, Franklin; Mrs. P. S. Vann, Charlotte; Mrs. G. A. Martin, Creswell; Mrs. L. S. Gaines, Lexington; Mrs. H. F. Lambert, Statesville; Mrs. C. F. Gaddy, Raleigh; Mrs. Gordon Maddrey, Scotland Neck; Mrs. I. P. Hedgepeth, Lumberton.

Hymn—"I Love to Tell the Story."

Mrs. Turner announced that the same procedure that was so satisfactory last year would be followed this year in the officers' and chairmen's reports. The outstanding achievements and goals were set forth impressively that "His Way May Be Known Through Organizations."

MAKING HIS WAY KNOWN THROUGH ORGANIZATIONS

In a broadcast from London recently, Mr. Winston Churchill, Britain's Premier, made the following statement in regard to the war in Europe, "Give us the tools and we will finish the job."

The job referred to by Mr. Churchill is that of saving from destruction the things we hold dear; ideals on which our civilization is based. The tools—guns, battleships and airplanes.

Woman's Missionary has a job which, though we cannot aspire to its completion, there is much that can and is being done toward its accomplishment. This job is that of making His way known among all nations; thereby saving from destruction the spirit of love, loyalty and sacrifice; ideals on which the Christian life is built.

Our tools—the large number of women and young people who make up our W. M. U. organization, putting into practice the six chief aims for which our organization stands, at the same time realizing the responsibility and privilege that is ours of presenting Jesus to a confused and unsaved world.

A few results will show with what effectiveness the tools at our disposal have been utilized in an effort to make His way known around the world.

Following the example of Him who said, "Men ought always to pray," 5,815 societies participated in the seasons of prayer for State, Home and Foreign Missions, this being 753 more than observed these prayer seasons in the preceding year. One thousand eight hundred seventy-three organizations observed the prayer season for State Missions, 1,955 for Home Missions, and 1,087 for Foreign Missions. An increase in the offering for each of these objects is evidence of the effectiveness of prayer as an instrument for good in the hands of Christian women.

A net gain of 111 organizations and 2,967 in membership was the result of the earnest effort of those eager to enlist others in the work of making His way known. At the beginning of 1941 there were 1,292 W. M. S., a net gain of 37 societies. Sixty-five were dropped from the roll for failure to report during the year.

Thirty-two churches had a full graded A-1 Union, as follows: Asheville, First; Asheville, Merrimon Avenue; Elizabeth City, First; Shiloh; Millbrook; New Friendship; Reeds; Burlington, First; Durham, First; Durham, Grace; Durham, Watts Street; Durham, West; Greensboro, Eller Memorial; Madison; Winston-Salem, First; Winston-Salem, North; Winston-Salem, Southside; Winston-Salem, Waughtown; Ramseur; Enfield; Farmville; Rocky Mount, First; Stoney Creek; Brush Creek; Siler City; Maiden, First; Badin, Harris Chapel; Colerain; Creekville; Jackson; Woodland. This shows a loss of two A-1 Unions, thirty-four having been reported during 1939.

Two hundred ninety churches have the full graded W. M. U. system consisting of at least one each of the W. M. U. organizations—Sunbeam, R. A., G. A., Y. W. A., and W. M. S. One hundred sixty-five churches have four of these organizations, 129 have three, 161 have two, and 518 have only one. What a vast opportunity is ours of bringing into our ranks the unenlisted in churches where there are only one or two organizations as well as in those churches which have none.

Our total number of organizations is now 3,902 and of this number only 597 were A-1 in 1940, divided as follows—W. M. S., 160; Y. W. A., 95; G. A., 140; R. A., 94; S. B., 108. Three hundred eighty-three reached class B, and 445 reached class C. Two thousand four hundred seventy-seven did not make enough points on the Standard of Excellence to reach any grade.

A splendid tool to use to avoid this failure in the future is the Standard of Excellence Chart, which may be kept before the society from the beginning of the year; thus enabling the members to know which of the ten points they are failing to make before it is too late to remedy.

Eighteen churches reported having secured a contribution from every resident woman member, as follows: Union; Mills Home; New Friendship; Kennedy Home; Dana; Tryon, First; Becks; South Fork; Mountain View; Swansboro; Winton; Orrum; Saddletree; Highland; Ansonville; East Hamlet; Gibson; Milton.

Total enrollment is now 81,187, a gain of 6,359 members during 1940.

Two associations in which there were no W. M. U. organizations before have organized societies during the past year. These are the Dock and West Liberty. The Elkin, which had previously been a part of the Surry W. M. U. Association, has withdrawn from the Surry and become a separate association.

The third tool—Mission Study—has been effectively wielded in the capable hands of Mrs. J. S. Farmer, State Mission Study Chairman. Through her efforts there has been created a greater desire to become better informed about the cause of missions and to pass this information on to others. To this end 318 more study classes were held than in the previous year. Our goal for subscriptions to Royal Service was 11,940 and we sent in 12,139, 199 over our aim. We are proud that North Carolina was one of six states to reach its quota. Our goal for 1941 is 12,750, this being a five per cent increase over the number of subscriptions sent in in 1940.

Six thousand five hundred twenty-nine are subscribers to the Biblical Recorder, our State denominational paper. By reading the Recorder and our W. M. U. magazines we can keep in touch with the plans of our denomination, and informed of the needs around the world.

Two thousand thirteen societies were engaged in directed Personal Service in 1940; thereby exemplifying the teaching of Him who said, "In as much as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me." Under the leadership of Mrs. G. K. Middleton, State Personal Service Chairman, many have been brought to the realization that the ultimate aim and purpose for which we strive, by whatever means, is the saving of those to whom His name is not known. That those at home and abroad may come to know His name and its saving power, the total gifts for 1940 were well beyond the goal set at the beginning of the year. However, the increase in gifts to the Hundred Thousand Club were disappointing, only a small gain having been made over the amount given in 1939. Beginning with 1941, Woman's Missionary Union will bend every effort to raise the amount for the Hundred Thousand Club which has been apportioned to North Carolina by the Southern Union. Under the direction of Mrs. Charles E. Stephenson, State Stewardship Chairman, plans are being made to distribute this amount among the 69 associations and the churches composing these, according to the strength of the churches. The report on the numbers of tithers was not an encouraging one, only 6,946 being reported against 7,410 for the previous year, a loss of 464. Only 621 new tithers were reported against 920 for the preceding year, a loss of 299. Since point four on the Standard of Excellence for this year will be a five per cent increase in the number of tithers reported at the end of last year, it is necessary that a correct list of these be kept.

In all our plans for making His way known, we would not forget to include our responsibility to our young people. They must be taught the Name that is above every name, and learn of Him who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me."

Thus we see that through the aims of Woman's Missionary Union Christian women find many opportunities for service and of making His name known among all nations, the foremost task of W. M. U.

During the summer three of our North Carolina girls who were studying at the Training School in Louisville, Kentucky, worked in three of the divisions for ten weeks. These were: Frances King Turner, Pauline Perry, and Mary Ann Peebles. Much good resulted from their efforts and many of the churches have expressed a desire for workers of this kind. We are therefore glad to be able to announce that the General Board is making it possible for us to have an all-time worker who will do work of this type. Someone suitable for this will soon be selected, giving to us the greatly needed help in carrying on the work in our State.

Our State was most fortunate in having two South-wide workers come to us during the year. In October, Miss Wilma Bucy came for a month's stay, speaking at the ten divisional meetings and visiting the schools and colleges throughout the State. We feel that the influence of Miss Bucy's messages was far-reaching and effective.

In December, Miss Kathleen Mallory, beloved South-wide secretary, visited Asheville, Charlotte, Greensboro, Rocky Mount, Raleigh, and Campbell College, speaking in the interest of foreign missions and the Lottie Moon Offering. Our increased offering for this cause was no doubt the result of the inspiring messages brought to us by one consecrated to the causes which Woman's Missionary Union strives to support.

REPORT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S SECRETARY

"Missionary Education—A Powerful Instrument"

In seeking an explanation for the seeming inadequacy of our so-called Christian nation, a recent editorial in Fortune said: "We have the peculiar spectacle of a nation which to some imperfect but nevertheless considerable extent practices Christianity. It practices Christianity because the teachings of the church have been absorbed in its culture; but it fails to believe in it because it is no longer being effectively taught." We fear that this indictment is too sadly true and Woman's Missionary Union would give itself anew to the "effective teaching of Christianity" through missionary education. A careful examination of the guiding principles of real missionary education reveal the truth that missionary education is based on best methods in the field of modern teaching.

In effective teaching, the individual is central. Thus, we must ever remember and be grateful for the ever-growing numbers of young people enlisted in this department of our church life. At one time it looked as if we might begin 1941 with by far the largest number in history—651 Y. W. A.'s, 982 G. A.'s, 619 R. A.'s, and 777 Sunbeam Bands. During the year 63 Y. W. A.'s, 124 G. A.'s, 89 R. A.'s, and 119 Sunbeam Bands had to be taken from our rolls. The number of G. A.'s and Sunbeam Bands is indeed alarming! How effective are we in our teaching? We began 1941 with 23 more Y. W. A.'s, 31 more G. A.'s, and 37 more R. A.'s, and, to our sorrow, we begin 1941 with 18 fewer Sunbeam Bands than at beginning of 1940. We would reiterate the principle that the basic concepts of life are formed in early childhood.

In this throng of individuals, we recognize with gratitude Y. W. A.'s on ten campuses and one Grace McBride Y. W. A. at the Baptist Hospital. These young women are treasures incomparable. We would place on local missionary societies and associational and divisional leaders the urgency of much love and fostering.

Such precious opportunities "to mold the shape of things to come" are within reach of every woman, every missionary society. "God's next year people," our boys and girls wait for the skilled and consecrated leadership of adults. Of the 30,000,000 boys and girls of America, 15,000,000 are receiving no religious instruction. That far too many of these are in North Carolina should make us pause and consider our way.

"If Christianity is to be effectively taught," we must have the best in leadership and use the best methods. We must have definite objectives in view and press on with zeal, prayer, and intelligence to reach them. Our plan of work for each organization, we call the Standard of Excellence. In 1940, 95 Y. W. A.'s, 140 G. A.'s, 94 R. A. Chapters, and 108 Sunbeam Bands did work worthy to be judged A-1. Two hundred twenty-five organizations did "B" grade work, and 245 qualified for grade C. We commend anew this excellent plan of work to guide us month by month.

The knowledge we would impart is the most precious knowledge one can possess and yet we plan sparingly along this line. With a little more than two copies of World Comrades for each organization and failing to reach our goal in 1940, we cannot do our best work. Let us seek to offset the backwash of hatred and prejudice which inevitably accompanies war by placing in the minds and hearts of children God's thoughts and plans for the world's people. More and more our young women are subscribing to their own magazine, The Window of Y. W. A., but, even so, there are hosts of young women who should be seeing through this "open window to the world." We had 1,725 subscriptions in 1940.

The preparation of our counselors must increasingly become a matter of deep concern to every W. M. S. It is a well-known and accepted fact that we learn by doing. Even so, if Christianity is to be effectively taught, we must lead youth to give practical expression to their beliefs. Real missionary education provides an outlet in purposeful activity. Nothing is so deadening as to constantly arouse the emotions and let the matter end there. Almost one-half of our young people's organizations carried on directed Personal Service month by month in their communities. Learning the needs in the State, homeland, and the world in regular program and at specially designated seasons, our young people expressed their interest through prayer and gifts. Their gifts were as follows:

	Co-operative Program	Lottie Moo	Annie Armstrong	State	100,000 Club
Y. W. A.....	$13,753.71	$3,058.63	$1,180.89	$780.53	$675.86
G. A.	6,437.44	1,352.98	749.47	503.07	236.66
R. A.	3,643.53	816.79	435.01	257.78	127.47
S. B.....	2,753.36	1,055.26	560.24	403.97	136.79

Each organization made a gain, the Sunbeams making the largest increase of $421.37.

Stewardship education of our young people must not be allowed to take a minor place. One thousand nine hundred forty-two of our young people reported as tithers in 1940. We are grateful for these, but we have not yet scratched the surface in real teaching at this point.

A fundamental fact in the learning process is the powerful influence of personality upon personality. "In the effective teaching of Christianity," we must also take note of this truth. Missionary education provides for this need in several ways. Friendship of counselor, of missionaries, of young people cherishing the same ideals may be the possession of every boy and girl through G. A. House Parties, R. A. Camps, and Y. W. A. Camp; through mission study and the reading of missionary books, and missionary magazines. Girls numbering 837 attended either the Ridgecrest or Meredith 1940 G. A. House Parties. Who can measure the lasting impression made by such personalities as Miss Marjorie Spence, missionary to Chile; Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Pryor, missionaries to Navaho Indians; Dr. Roberta Ma, China; Miss Elma Currin, our South-wide Young People's Secretary; Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mrs. Earl James, and many others. Mrs. H. M. Hocutt, Bryson City divisional Young People's leader, directed splendidly the Ridgecrest G. A. House Party, with Dr. and Mrs. Frank Woodward, China, Mrs. R. K. Redwine, the State Young People's Secretary, and many gifted leaders to make the hours meaningful for every girl. We would urge more careful selection of girls to be sent to these missionary meetings.

Our Royal Ambassador Camps were exceptionally fine, held also at Ridgecrest and Meredith. The Meredith Camp had the largest attendance in its history with the finest quality of boy-life. Rev. R. A. Pryor, Mr. Maxfield Garrett, and Dr. Roberta Ma made the Camp a vital experience. We cannot give too much praise to Rev. R. E. Powell, Rev. J. L. White, Jr., the two directors. Our special attempt to advance our R. A. work found expression in R. A. Conclaves in 7 Divisions with the R. A. divisional counselor and young people's leader co-operating with the State office and with associational leaders. About 900 Royal Ambassadors attended the meetings. In 1941, on November 15-16, we hope to have 10 such Conclaves.

The 1940 Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest brought to young women of the South, among whom were about 400 North Carolina Y. W. A.'s, the best in Christian leadership and missionary inspiration. Privileged indeed is the Y. W. A. girl who can share this exhilarating and deepening spiritual experience. Due to the fact that Ridgecrest is located in North Carolina, we are eager that our girls make reservations in the hotel, thus leaving the cheaper spaces for the girls of other states. Can we not have 100 Y. W. A.'s living in the hotel proper and many others in cheaper spaces?

Through the pages of books, many personalities have "come alive." We regret that only one-half of our organizations had the minimum of one Mission Study class last year. It's nothing less than tragedy to deprive our young people of such rich friendships.

The growth of Y. W. A. Councils in associations, which organization brings together the Y. W. A.'s twice a year, is making it possible for many of our Y. W. A.'s to touch life with missionaries and denominational leaders.

In the plans of missionary education, provision is made for the exceptional boy or girl in our organizations—The Forward Steps of Girls' Auxiliary and the Ranking System of Royal Ambassadors. Each year, our G. A.'s and R. A.'s are working with increasing intelligence and earnestness on these requirements which provide for the special talents of each individual. The Coronation Service for G. A.'s and Recognition Service for ranking Ambassadors is a major event in the life of each Camp and House Party.

We would urge that each Missionary Society have a well-chosen young people's director.

We would urge study by our women of The Way of Missionary Education. Countless women do not understand or appreciate the value of this special training.

We would urge every associational young people's leader to have at least one day of study in missionary leadership for counselors.

We would urge all chairmen to co-operate to the fullest degree with leaders of young people in working out plans in the various phases of our work.

The year has been crowded with treasured experiences. For the warmth of your welcome, I am thankful. The above excellent report is especially the work of 72 associational leaders, 10 divisional leaders, and 10 divisional R. A. Counselors, and leaders in every organization. For the gracious assistance of each of you and our State officers, I am sincerely grateful. "Let us dream a stronger, braver dream in His work for tomorrow, and march on." Let us major on missionary education now.

"I saw tomorrow passing by
On little children's feet,
And in their forms and faces
Read her prophecy complete.

"I saw tomorrow look at me
From little children's eyes,
And thought how carefully we'd teach
If we were wise."

Hymn—"Lead On, O King Eternal."

"His Way Made Known in the Divisions" was presented by the Divisional Superintendents as follows:

REPORT OF THE ASHEVILLE DIVISION

Scarcely could we accuse some enforcement of sleep, yet without our consciousness, from our side there was taken a rib, and of that rib was made the entire Bryson City Division. Even so, at the same operation there were taken other portions of our bone and flesh and the Avery and Three Forks Associations became a part of the Wilkesboro Division, and in the same operation there was another severing of our anatomy that the Blue Ridge Association might be used in the fashioning of the new Hickory Division; and the wound was left to heal. And so we may say that these three new divisions are all, or in part, bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh.

And God saw to the closing up of the wound, and the seven associations (organized) remaining, carried forward as the Asheville Division during 1940.

Every association reported her apportionment made, and the total gain in gifts for the seven associations was $1,216.16, or seven per cent increase. There were reported nineteen full graded unions, a gain of three hundred, seventy members, a gain of ten in the number doing organized personal service, and twenty-eight new organizations, making a total of two hundred twenty-nine societies. The gain in Mission Study was one hundred nine classes. Six hundred and twenty tithers were reported, which means a loss. There is an increase of sixteen in the number observing the Week of Prayer and Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions, and small gains in number observing Home Mission and State Mission seasons of prayer and special offerings. We have a gain of nine points on the Associational Standards. Young people's organizations have reached quota in 100,000 Club memberships. The Carolina Association reported thirteen A-1 organizations.

The largest gain in gifts was made in the Carolina Association, while the largest per cent of gain was made by the Mitchell, which made a gain of ninety per cent.

The Division as a whole lost in magazine subscriptions. The Haywood made the most substantial gains in Mission Magazine subscriptions, and a small gain in Recorder subscriptions. The largest gain in Recorder subscriptions goes to the Carolina. The Transylvania had the largest gain in Royal Service subscriptions. The Carolina showed most new young people's societies. The Buncombe had the most Mission Study classes among the young people, and her Personal Service Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Crenshaw, stands out for her system and care in reporting Personal Service.

The Mission Study Chairman of the Carolina, Mrs. A. W. Drake, deserves special mention for the promotion of Mission Study in her Association. She conducted five group study classes with fourteen Woman's Missionary Societies, with eighty-four women participating. The total enrollment for year of W. M. S. classes was four hundred and forty-three women and two hundred and twenty-five young people, in a total of seventy-four classes.

The Carolina Association also promoted an Associational School of Missions. Twelve churches participated. There were six classes taught and one hundred and ten average attendance. Mrs. Victoria Logan Laws and Mrs. W. W. Lawton very graciously assisted in this splendid school of information and inspiration for men, women, young people and children. The topic for study was Stewardship. There has also been an associational Library of Mission Study books established in the Carolina, books donated by stronger Woman's Missionary Societies, and by Miss Martha Sullinger, who though dead, yet liveth through her good deeds.

The Divisional Young People's Leader, Mrs. H. W. Baucom; Stewardship Chairman, Mrs. L. E. Jaechel; Mission Study Chairman, Mrs. Albert Drake (a former Margaret Fund student); Mrs. W. B. Sprinkle, Personal Service Chairman; Mrs. Nane Starnes, Associate Superintendent; Mrs. D. A. Green, Training School and Margaret Fund Chairman, are furnishing the Superintendent a splendid corps of helpers, Mrs. Jaechel has spoken for Stewardship in most of the associations, besides much writing and planning. Mrs. Drake also has been of invaluable aid to Mission Study.

Our Division was greatly handicapped by having lost, early in the year, our Young People's Leader, whom we were unable to replace until October. Associational young people's leaders rendered very worthy assistance to Division work, and therefore merit our sincere thanks. The Associate Divisional Superintendent, Mrs. T. K. Stafford, who was also Young People's Leader for the Buncombe Association, left the Division during the summer. Her most helpful services were greatly missed, as we carried on without a Young People's Leader or Associate Superintendent.

The Royal Ambassador Camp and Girls' Auxiliary House Party at Ridgecrest, in June, bore evidence of faithful, commendable services by Young People's Leaders, Counselors and others, who taught and otherwise assisted in these busy days. Both were well attended from the Asheville Division. We challenge for more consecrated and prayerful interest this summer.

The Royal Ambassador Conclave at the Asheville First Church, promoted by Mrs. H. W. Baucom in November, proved a worthy beginning for Mrs. Baucom and for the Conclave, this being the Division's first attempt at this. Rev. Mr. Powell, from Africa, spoke to our boys. The Carolina Association held an R. A. Conclave for boys of that Association, which was pronounced a success.

Merrimon Avenue Church of Asheville and First Church of Asheville reported full graded A-1 unions.

Buncombe and Haywood have associational Y. W. A. Councils, meeting quarterly, well attended and inspirational. They have had good speakers and programs.

Buncombe had association-wide R. A. and G. A. study classes in August, using four different books, with an attendance of one hundred and five. Buncombe also has quarterly meetings for Young People's Directors and Counselors.

Haywood has adopted quarterly meeting plan, using different groups to be responsible for programs, meeting in their sections.

One Buncombe church keeps a Bible woman on the foreign field.

In July, our associations had Young People's Rallies, which in most cases were well planned and reached many young people.

We find that love of the work is the secret of success with our leaders. Information and financial backing are obtainable for those who are deeply consecrated and sacrificial.

Mrs. J. L. Underwood, who formerly served as Superintendent in the Western Carolina Association, graciously took up the superintendent's duties in Transylvania. Buncombe, losing the faithful Mrs. D. C. Martin, was fortunate to come into the services of Mrs. D. L. Holland, who is consecrated and willing to give herself to W. M. U. service.

Mrs. N. G. Pittman, a former superintendent from Mitchell, resumes that office and is rallying to the cause. Organizations and gifts are increasing under her leadership.

Rev. R. E. Powell, who served well as R. A. Counselor for the Asheville Division, moved away and we are looking forward to having the services of Rev. H. M. Hocutt, who is to come into the Buncombe Association as a pastor, in our R. A. divisional work.

The Annual Meeting was one of the best. Held in Waynesville First Church, it brought the best representation ever. Women came looking for help and went away with new purposes.

Our appreciation goes out to Dr. Emmett Ayers, Miss Wilma Bucy, Mrs. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Mrs. Foy J. Farmer, Miss Mary Currin, Rev. Mr. Powell, Mrs. Lawton, Mrs. Laws, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Woodward, and many others who contributed their time and personality, prayer and service toward our year's work.

May the Heavenly Father be praised for anything we might have been able to accomplish in His name. May He forgive what we have done amiss, forgotten, overlooked or neglected. We are debtors to all those who have made possible the facts, and to those who have kept records and revealed them to us. We thank Him and the "least of these" who contributed their smallest bit.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF BRYSON CITY DIVISION

It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude and deep humility that we come to bring this our first report of the newly organized Bryson City Division of the Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina.

When we learned the Asheville Division was to be divided and the six western counties were to be called Bryson City Division, we hardly knew what to do because this meant we would lose Mrs. J. R. Morgan, our faithful superintendent, who had served us so efficiently seven years without money and without price. We appreciated so much her loyalty and devotion and the interest she had shown, and we felt ourselves adrift without her leadership.

On January 17, 1940, the first conference was held with the Bryson City Church. Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mrs. J. R. Morgan, and Miss Mary Currin came to help us. A large number attended, and there was much interest and enthusiasm shown. Our hearts took new courage, and the way which had seemed uncertain looked brighter. A finance committee was elected; and upon recommendation of the committee the group present voted to raise $50.00 for divisional expenses. Committees were chosen and plans were made for the ensuing year.

Under the leadership of Mrs. H. M. Hocutt, Young People's Leader, much has been accomplished. We are very fortunate to have her in our Division. She was director of the House Party at Ridgecrest which included Asheville, Bryson City, Wilkesboro, and Hickory Divisions. Three associations from our Division sent thirty-five girls to the House Party and three sent fifteen boys to R. A. Camp. Two associations sent nine girls to Y. W. A. Camp.

Three associational young people's rallies and two young people's leaders' conferences were held. Miss Mary Currin was with us for these rallies.

The R. A. Conclave, under the direction of Rev. H. M. Hocutt, was a complete success and a great blessing to the boys and all who attended. All five of the associations were represented. We were happy to have with us for that meeting Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Powell, missionaries to Africa.

It was a great privilege to have Miss Pauline Perry, one of our Training School girls, for ten weeks last summer. She reported thirteen mission study classes, eight conferences for young people's leaders, six societies organized, and eight talks.

It was the superintendent's privilege to visit each association during the year. I was especially happy to obtain an entrance, through Rev. J. C. Pipes, into West Liberty, the extreme western county, where there was no woman's work. Four societies were organized, and eight churches contacted. I am looking forward to going back and strengthening the work.

Statistical reports show 29 W. M. S., an increase of 7; Y. W. A., 11, an increase of 6; G. A., 12, an increase of 2; R. A., 5, no increase; Sunbeam Bands, 10, an increase of 4; tithers, 164; mission study classes, 60; number observing weeks of prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions, 48; number engaged in Personal Service, 50; Royal Service subscriptions, 129; Biblical Recorder, 113; The Window of Y. W. A., 48; World Comrades, 35.

Gifts reported, Hundred Thousand Club, $140.50. Total gifts, $1,817.98. Tuckasegee Association was the only one who met the five per cent increase.

The divisional meeting was held with Sylva Church on October 7. A large number attended. All of the associations were represented. We were very grateful to have with us, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Miss Wilma Bucy, and Dr. Emmett Ayers, missionary to China. These workers bring us so much inspiration.

I am grateful for the love, the co-operation, and the fellowship of all our women. Their splendid work and faithfulness have been an inspiration to me.

We are looking forward to the opportunities for growth and development that His way may be known here in our own hills and valleys, throughout our own State, and His salvation among all nations.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. SAM GIBSON,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

Charlotte Division of Woman's Missionary Union has six associations, with six loyal, co-operative superintendents, and officers. The divisional superintendent is grateful for the privilege of having fellowship with these and other workers of the Division.

The year 1940 shows gains in W. M. U. organizations and gifts. (Statistical tables of these are given elsewhere in the Minutes.)

Interest is growing in the 100,000 Club, which is one of our major undertakings. The goal for Charlotte Division is 280 memberships for 1941: 248 memberships for the 124 W. M. S., an average of 2 memberships each; and 32 memberships for the 182 Young People's organizations. We must stress the 100,000 Club without diminishing our efforts in other phases of our work.

Young People's work was emphasized in the Division during 1940, and we gladly welcome 28 new organizations. There was a gain of 5 full-graded Unions, making 22 in all. Pritchard Memorial Church, Charlotte, has an A-1 full-graded Union. Miss Mildred Brooks, Young People's Leader, and Rev. L. D. Munn, R. A. Counselor, planned a splendid Conclave for R. A. Focus Week in November. This Conclave met at the First Church, Wadesboro, was royally entertained, and was one of the most outstanding achievements of the year. Miss Mary Currin and Dr. J. F. Plainfield were guest speakers at the Conclave.

Six W. M. S. were organized during the year. Montgomery Association, with Mrs. C. B. Trammel, superintendent, reported four of these.

Mrs. R. R. Hunter succeeds Mrs. R. L. Crooks as superintendent of Cabarrus Association. Cabarrus leads the Division in number of tithers with 191, and in subscriptions to the Biblical Recorder, having 203 reported.

Mecklenburg, with Mrs. B. S. Blanton, superintendent, excels in churches organized. There are W. M. U. organizations, one or more, in 32 of the 34 churches in the association, and there were two or more mission study classes in each of these 32 churches. The Charlotte churches are fostering a Negro Day Nursery, and maintaining a Negro Mission, known as the Florence Brown Mission.

Mrs. R. L. Hardison, of Pee Dee, reports an A-1 association, having attained the 10 points on the Standard. This association has the honor of giving to the State the G. A. Queen for the year, Mary Elizabeth Davis, of Wadesboro.

Stanly, with Mrs. T. S. Crutchfield, superintendent, is justly proud of an Associational School of Missions, at which time Mrs. Boatwright taught "Day Dawn in Yoruba Land" by Dr. Maddry, and Miss Mary Currin also helped to make the School of Missions a success.

Union Association, with Mrs. Wilton A. Williams, superintendent, has the distinction of being first to entertain the Charlotte Division. The Annual Meeting was held on October 10 at the First Church, Monroe, and was well attended. Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Miss Wilma Bucy, and Miss Mary Currin brought splendid messages.

Gifts of Division, $26,193.66.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. MOTT P. BLAIR,

Superintendent.

W. M. U. ANNUAL REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

With joy and gratitude to Him who has guided and blessed the work of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Elizabeth City Division for the year 1940, we make this report.

The Chowan Association, with Mrs. A. D. Ward, of Hobbsville, as its able superintendent, has gone forward in every phase of the work. There are forty-seven churches with thirty-eight W. M. S., 21 Y. W. A., 37 G. A., 28 R. A., and 30 Sunbeam Bands, 14 full graded unions, and 4 new junior organizations were organized in 1940. There was an increase in gifts and tithers. Mrs. Ward feels that one of the most outstanding things in this association is the meetings held in the six counties. These meetings are very inspiring, the programs are planned and presented by local members, and often bring surprising results. They manifest a depth of thought and sincerity of purpose that otherwise would never be expressed.

The Pamlico Association, with Mrs. G. A. Martin, of Creswell, as its great leader, is small in number but great in service. There are 14 churches in the association, with 11 W. M. S., 3 G. A., 3 R. A., and 4 Sunbeam Bands. One new W. M. S. was organized in 1940. Their gifts were smaller last year, due to the fact that two of their churches joined the Chowan Association.

Mrs. Martin feels that the most outstanding work of their association is a better understanding of the real work of the W. M. U. among the societies. There was a great increase in Mission Study and the women are busy in all phases of the work.

The West Chowan Association, with Mrs. J. L. Carrick, of Murfreesboro, as its capable leader, is our largest association and is doing a splendid piece of work. There are 58 churches with 53 W. M. S., 30 Y. W. A., 35 G. A., 37 R. A., and 42 Sunbeam Bands. There were 54 A-1 organizations with 4 A-1 full graded unions. There was an increase in gifts, tithers, Mission Study, and Junior organizations. Mrs. Carrick feels the most outstanding work in this association can be expressed in the words "Steady Growth," and we are proud of the increase in the various departments of the W. M. U.

It was the happy privilege of your superintendent last year to visit each of the three associations in this Division and to have a part on the program at their regular annual meeting. She also attended the State W. M. U. meeting in Wilmington and attended six county meetings, taking part on each program, and taught four Mission Study classes. The Divisional Executive Inspirational meeting was held in Ahoskie in January and was well attended. There were splendid messages of information and inspiration brought by our State workers, Miss Currin, Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Farmer, and our beloved President, Mrs. Turner; also fine messages from our divisional workers.

An R. A. Conclave was held in Elizabeth City last fall and under the able leadership of Mrs. J. H. Bunn, Divisional Young People's Leader, and Dr. J. L. White, R. A. sponsor, a splendid meeting was held.

It is gratifying to be able to report that the work has gone forward in every phase. Personal Service, Stewardship, Mission Study, Prayer, training of our young people, Margaret Fund, and Training School have all been emphasized in our Division and the various chairmen in the Division have done splendid work, giving their time and talents in His service.

Our annual meeting, held in Edenton in October, was well attended and a good program rendered. Miss Currin and Mrs. Briggs added much to the program. Miss Wilma Bucy brought a wonderful message on Home Missions and Mrs. J. C. Powell on Foreign Missions.

Our women throughout the Division are "Steadfast and Abounding in the Work of the Lord." However, there is yet much to be done, "That Thy way may be known upon earth, Thy salvation among all nations," and may we continue to be "Laborers together with God."

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

I bring greetings from the new Greensboro Division, composed of five associations in the heart of the Piedmont section of our State.

We have over 200 churches with over 9,000 enlisted women and young people in our organizations. We find that our forces have been strengthened and multiplied by the plan of the new Division. Our ever-growing problems of organization and enlistment are still our great responsibility. Our objective, year by year, is to look upon the fields that lie closest to us, to help to strengthen the home base, and plan for larger things in Kingdom work.

From the time of our first conference last February, when all officers were elected and plans laid for the new year, there has been splendid co-operation on the part of officers and the women of the churches. Each superintendent has sent in reports of her work. The Liberty has a fine record of keeping in touch with all societies by correspondence and visiting the churches.

The most outstanding work in all of our associations is Mission Study. More women have attended the classes, bought more books and read them, received more awards, than ever before. The Pilot Mountain reports 162 classes, 58 of them for young people, 31 for Waughtown, 30 classes for First Church, 7 schools of missions; Liberty, 113 classes and 5 schools of missions; Piedmont, 98 classes,

1 school of missions; Randolph 43, 21 for young people; Rowan, 25. Total number of classes, 441.

The women of Winston-Salem were fortunate in having Mrs. Foy Johnson Farmer teach her own book in a city-wide study course, November 11, with 400 in attendance. The results of this class have been far-reaching. Randolph had two association-wide study courses, one taught by Mrs. Farmer and one by Miss Daniel; Piedmont had two Y. W. A. study courses. Mrs. H. A. Knight has been doing faithful work in Mission Study in her own group in High Point, and in Liberty and Pilot Mountain Associations.

A new emphasis has been placed upon the study of the Year Book in each association. The first meeting of the year being for study and planning for the work. Many have discovered for the first time the value of such study.

We have had the following guest speakers in our meetings this year: Miss Kathleen Mallory, Miss Wilma Bucy, Rev. I. N. Patterson, Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Gallimore, Miss Marjorie Spence, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Miss Mary Currin, Mrs. C. E. Stephenson, and Dr. L. S. Gaines.

Personal Service is carried on in all societies; helping the needy and distressed in local communities, sending linen to Baptist Hospital, boxes and canned fruits to Mills Home, and many are sewing for the Red Cross.

The weeks of prayer for Home and Foreign Missions are more widely observed and the special gifts increase from year to year. The new feature of the Circle program in Royal Service is meeting a long-felt need in many of our churches.

The following churches have full graded A-1 unions: New Friendship, Reeds, North Winston, Waughtown, First Church, Madison, Southside. Piedmont reports eight full graded unions, Randolph one, Pilot Mountain has 51 A-1 organizations.

The Young People's Rallies in each association were well attended. Miss Ellen Daniel reports good programs by the young people and each had an inspirational speaker. Much to our regret, Miss Daniel has accepted work as field worker for the Surry Association. Mrs. E. M. Donkle, of Salisbury, is taking up this part of our work.

Stewardship night was observed by 20 societies, reported. Many testify that this program is one of the best in the entire year. The Focus Weeks are observed in many ways, and in more societies each year, and the Meredith House Parties are more and more popular. Our first R. A. Conclave was held November 8 and 9 at Green Street, High Point. Rev. J. A. Neilson, R. A. Counselor, was in charge of the program and about 200 boys attended. Rev. I. N. Patterson spoke of his work and what Southern Baptists are doing in the Dark Continent, much to the delight of the boys.

Our annual meeting was held in October at Mills Home. The hospitality of these good people and the women of the Liberty W. M. U. was greatly enjoyed. The attendance reached 450. It was a great privilege to spend this day in the atmosphere of this much-loved institution. We were honored to have with us five of our officers from headquarters and to have them speak to us, also to have Miss Wilma Bucy bring the closing message of the morning session. All officers of the Division brought reports of their work. The young people of Mill's Home provided the special music and a playlet, "The Hindering Load." The meeting closed with a missionary message by Dr. L. S. Gaines, of Lexington.

Our annual meeting this year will be held at Asheboro, October 28. This church and the Randolph W. M. U. will be hostesses and furnish lunch.

One of the most important things before us now is the enrollment of new members in the 100,000 Club. Only one association has reported, but we hope all will reach their full quota and have a worthy part in the debt-paying plan by 1945. The total gifts of women and young people in the Division are $58,494.96.

As we face another year, our greatest challenge is the nearly 4,000 women and young people in our churches still unenlisted. What shall we do about it? We are grateful for the blessings of the past year and with faith and courage we will continue to witness in His name,

"That Thy way may be known upon earth, Thy salvation among all nations."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON, Supt.,

REPORT OF HICKORY DIVISION OF W. M. U. FOR 1940

When a divisional superintendent tries to sum up in a few words and figures the work that has been done in all the churches and associations of her Division by all the women and young people in her Division, she is overwhelmed with inadequacy. She has the feeling that comes to the modern woman, when the Government census taker says, "Occupation, please," and she, knowing that there is not an adequate word to describe her many duties in her home, her church and community, gives the customary answer, "Housewife." But even facts and figures are like magic, for if one looks closely, they come to life and open up windows through which may be visualized the real people and the actual activities that they represent. In our nine associations, we behold hundreds of little children in 79 Sunbeam Bands, see a multitude of boys and girls in 93 Girls' Auxiliary organizations, and 63 Royal Ambassador Chapters, see hosts of young women in 91 Young Woman's Auxiliary organizations, see a group of college students in one Ann Hasseltine Y. W. A. organization, and women in 180 Woman's Missionary Societies. Seventy of these 506 organizations are new ones, 48 of them being in four associations, namely, the Gaston, Kings Mountain, Sandy Run, and South Fork Associations. Each of these reported 12 new organizations. Due to the help of a summer field worker furnished by the State W. M. U., and to the faithful work of the superintendent, Mrs. T. B. Hull, our newly organized association reports 10 organizations this year.

See this host of 11,000 women and young people as they peruse the pages of 230 copies of World Comrades magazine, 318 copies of The Window of Y. W. A., 1,219 copies of Royal Service magazine, and 1,211 copies of the Biblical Recorder. They are planning programs, preparing parts for program talks, and becoming absorbed with other information to help advance the work.

Among this host there is a group who met last year, for the first time, to study missions in 34 Pioneer classes, while much larger numbers met to study in 465 classes. Gaston Association led with a total of 161 classes, South Fork moved up to second place with 103 classes, and Kings Mountain followed with 70 classes. That the activities of these women and young people are not mere form is shown in the fact that 1,524 of them honor the Lord with the tithe, and that these, with the other members, gave last year to the Co-operative Program $34,187.72, an increase of $1,572.58. This is much less than actual gifts, for there are several of the larger churches with unified budgets that have no plan for determining gifts made by women and young people to missions. We regret not to be able to report these gifts. Every association, with the exception of two, reached their goal for the year, and the reports for these two are incomplete.

If we follow this host of women and young people in 323 churches, we see groups pausing during the year for Special Seasons of Prayer and Special Offerings for Missions—211 organizations for State Missions, 245 for Foreign Missions, and 211 for Home Missions. We see groups, also, in 218 organizations going out regularly to "Present the Saviour" in their Personal Service work.

Young People's Work

When we behold our host of fine young people we feel something of the thrill of Wordsworth's words: "My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky." Truly our young people are the rainbow of hope in the sky of missions. Fifty-four of the 70 new organizations, and 326 of the total of 506 organizations in our Division, are for young people.

Honorable mention is due to be given the Y. W. A. Councils in the Gaston and South Fork Associations. Also to the W. M. U. of South Fork Association for its work of sponsoring a plan for helping girls to attend the Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest. Our Division had splendid representation at the G. A. House Party, the R. A. Camp, and the Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest last summer.

We are very proud of our one Ann Hasseltine College Y. W. A.—at Lenoir-Rhyne College, Hickory. It was one of the three A-1 College Y. W. A.'s in the State last year. God bless our youth and help us to lead them in the "more excellent way" that they may proclaim Thy way and Thy salvation to all nations.

We are indebted to the State W. M. U. for the splendid work of Miss Mary Ann Peebles, of Raleigh, who spent 10 weeks in the Hickory Division, in the following associations: Green River, Catawba River, South Mountain, and Blue Ridge. Her work, mostly among the young people, was constructive and will be lasting.

Associational Meetings

Follow this host of people from month to month and you will see them gathering in large groups for annual associational meetings for Mission Study Institutes, Leaders' Conferences, Young People's Rallies, and Y. W. A. Council Meetings. It was my privilege to attend 9 such meetings during the year.

Divisional Meetings

Some from these groups gathered three times during the year for divisional meetings. In spite of a six-inch snow, divisional and associational leaders gathered in January last year at the Front Street Baptist Church, Statesville, for the Divisional Conference. Our State officers were present to give us needed help and encouragement. Our organization was effected and plans for the year's work were made.

Last June, under the direction of our efficient Divisional Mission Study Chairman, Mrs. Wade Bostick, 250 women and young people, representing every association, met in the First Baptist Church, Shelby, for an all-day study of "Hidden Springs." We considered the day worth all the effort and expect to repeat it this year.

Our annual divisional meeting, last October, was held in the First Baptist Church of Hickory. Three hundred seventy-five women and young people registered by the plate-lunch method. Among the guest speakers who brought helpful messages were our State President, Mrs. Turner; our Executive Secretary, Mrs. Briggs; Home Mission Board Representative, Miss Wilma Bucy; Dr. Arch Cree, and Dr. Oscar Mangum.

Co-Laborers in Our Division

Only those who understand the promotional side of organized work can visualize adequately the load carried and the work done by leaders in the Division, the association, and in the churches. Mrs.

H. F. Lambert, Divisional Young People's Leader, has worked faithfully with the Divisional Superintendent and with Associational Young People's Leaders, promoting Rallies, Y. W. A. Councils, Mission Study, and every other phase of the work. Much of the success of the work in the Division is due to her devoted loyalty and efforts. Mrs. Wade Bostick's work as Mission Study Chairman deserves special mention, for she has served joyously and untiringly to promote the Mission Study work and has taught in many institutes and classes. To other divisional officers and chairmen much credit is also due. One sees the work of faithful Associational Superintendents and remembers the 6,000 miles they traveled in their work last year, the many days of voluntary service, the hours of planning for the work. Upon them and upon the fine group of Associational Young People's Leaders and other associational leaders we depend in a large measure for executing W. M. U. plans and methods. There are the pastors and their wives in the churches, the society presidents and leaders of young people's organizations. To these and all who love and serve is due much credit. One feels that in getting up a report of work done by so many, she is gathering together portions of human personality and divine energy and reducing them to mere prosaic words, for it is through the combination of these two forces that His work is done. All praise be to Him!

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. R. K. REDWINE,
Divisional Superintendent.

REPORT OF RALEIGH DIVISION

There is every evidence that the women of the Raleigh Division W. M. U. kept the watchword for the year ever upon their hearts and minds. Surely the number of miles traveled by the Associational Superintendents, the amazing number of letters written, the societies visited, and the meetings held are a testimony to their steadfastness. Increased interest through a gain of six new societies organized, an added number of subscriptions to the missionary magazines, evangelism-stressed through personal service and cottage prayer meetings, and the number of tithers more than doubled show that they are abounding in the work of the Lord.

Many junior organizations have been added to the roll and interest is shown and enthusiasm gained through the separate group and associational meetings.

The Royal Ambassadors held a well attended Conclave at the West Durham Church in November and the boys are looking forward to a great gathering at the next Conclave to be held in Henderson in November.

Our Divisional W. M. U. met at the Tabernacle Church in Raleigh in October and each association had a good delegation. Our next meeting will be held in Dunn, October 21. We have invitations through 1944.

On January 7 a conference for divisional leaders was held at the First Church, Durham. The feature of the day was the study of the Year Book for 1941. The State officers and divisional chairmen held separate conferences on methods and plans for work. We learned how to do many things and we learned also some things not to do. The superintendents followed this meeting with similar meetings in their respective associations and societies.

Each year is but a child standing upon the shoulders of the parent past with hands outstretched toward the future and so in the beginning of this new year, we look forward to the task before us. We have sixty-five churches in our Division with no missionary organization.

May we keep the watchword for this year constantly in our minds, "That Thy way may be known upon the earth, Thy salvation among all nations."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. R. STONE,

Divisional Superintendent.

REPORT OF ROCKY MOUNT DIVISION

The report of the Rocky Mount Division, which comprises three associations—namely, the Atlantic, with Mrs. L. B. Daniel, leading; the Neuse, under Mrs. J. C. Hough; and the Roanoke, under Mrs. W. D. Joyner, may be centered around the letter D. We can picture in three words—the Despairs, Delights, Desires—the work of our Woman's Missionary Union in our Division.

Perhaps our greatest Despair has been that so many of our women have gone complacently about their own business, casually attending and meagerly supporting their own churches and societies and maintaining a smug isolation and indifference. Should we not despair that every Baptist woman has not been awake and aware of this day in which we live and should be playing vital roles.

Among the Delights in our work during the past year is a realization of a better grade of work done in most of our organizations. In each association, all the group organizations have functioned for the first time, each meeting from one to four times annually. This means that many women are contacted in these group discussions who never attend any missionary meeting except that of their own society. We have twenty-two churches in the Division with full graded unions; three of these, Farmville, Rocky Mount First, and Stoney Creek of the Roanoke, were A-1 unions. There were more standard organizations, more mission study classes, and more societies reporting personal service work than in the previous year. The total gifts of the Division amounted to $20,769.93, a small increase over the preceding year.

The Neuse is especially delighted because there are only four churches in the association without missionary societies; the Atlantic rejoices because it has excelled in its work with the young people; and the Roanoke is proud of its large number of memberships in the Hundred Thousand Club.

Our greatest Delight, since our women have placed major emphasis here throughout the year, has been the work done with our young people under the excellent leadership of Mrs. Gordon Maddrey and her fine associational leaders. Well organized Y. W. A. Councils are functioning in all associations. In the Atlantic Association the summer young people's rally, in which members of all junior organizations participate, is an especially strong feature. Most of our missionary societies are keenly aware of our responsibility to these citizens of tomorrow. They are looking to us for understanding. May they never find us wanting.

Our annual divisional meeting at the First Baptist Church, New Bern, October 24, was well attended. We were delighted to have with us Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Miss Mary Currin, and Mrs. J. B. Boatwright.

In January all divisional and associational officers were called together for a conference in Kinston. The day was full of inspiration and information, plans were made, desires expressed. Each woman left feeling a personal responsibility and a continued devotion to duty. Among our Desires or goals was the determination to organize and foster more missionary societies in churches that do not have them, and more junior organizations, to emphasize an improvement in the grade of work done in every organization, to double our number of memberships in the Hundred Thousand Club and not to decrease any of our other contributions.

Over the entrance of Harvard University is this invitation: "Enter to grow in wisdom" and over the exit this admonition: "Depart to serve better thy country and thy kind." May we write such inscriptions over our whole program, but we desire to put into the word "wisdom" the blessing of knowing Him in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. This in itself will assure that our women shall "depart to serve better our country and our kind."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. B. BEASLEY,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE WILKESBORO DIVISION OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION OF NORTH CAROLINA

The Children's Activities magazine carries an article each month entitled the "Littlebit Family." The members of the family are Mr. and Mrs. Littlebit, Teeny and Tiny (the older boys), Wiff and Bitsy (the girls), and Squee, who is the littlest Littlebit of them all. The Wilkesboro Division of Woman's Missionary Union is perhaps the "littlest littlebit" of all the ten divisions of North Carolina, not in territory or in number of associations, but in number of organized missionary societies. There are thirteen associations in our Division, all of which have a superintendent and at least one missionary society. The first annual meeting was held in the North Wilkesboro Church, October 8, 1940, with ten associations represented. Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, W. M. U. President; Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Executive Secretary; Miss Mary Currin, Young People's Leader, our State W. M. U. officers, were with us to inspire and instruct us along all lines. Mrs. W. W. Lawton, retired missionary from China, now residing at Ridgecrest, brought us a splendid missionary message on China. Miss Wilma Bucy, Field Secretary of the Home Mission Board, thrilled us with stories of the missionaries and their work in our Southland. The women and young people of Wilkesboro and North Wilkesboro churches took part on the program.

Ten of the associations of the Division observed their own annual meetings. The Superintendent attended seven of these, namely: Alleghany, Ashe, Brier Creek, Brushy Mountain, Caldwell, Surry, and Yadkin.

There are four hundred two (402) churches in the Wilkesboro Division, ninety-one (91) Woman's Missionary Societies, and one hundred five (105) missionary societies for young people. This is an increase of thirty-five (35) societies over last year's report. There were ten full graded unions, two hundred forty-six (246) tithers, and one hundred fifty-four (154) mission study classes reported. The Caldwell and the Yadkin lead in number of societies and in number of mission study classes. Credit is due largely to the superintendents and mission study leaders of these associations. The total amount of gifts for the Division was $8,575.68.

Most grateful is the Superintendent for the faithful services of the superintendents and other officers of the thirteen associations. An accurate record of their labors is recorded only in the Lamb's Book of Life.

We are deeply appreciative of the services of Miss Frances King Turner during the summer of 1940. She helped to organize many new societies, taught mission study and encouraged the work and workers. Miss Ellen Daniel, full-time field worker of the Surry Association, is also doing much work for our churches and for Woman's Missionary Union in particular. Miss Ruth Keller is also doing some special work in the Division. Lenoir, North Wilkesboro, Mount Airy, and Elkin are the largest churches in the Wilkesboro Division, so our territory is largely rural. According to Mrs. Una R. Lawrence, in "The Trail of Seed," the rural section is one of Baptist's greatest opportunities today. Pray that we may not neglect this great opportunity.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. EARL C. JAMES, Supt.,

Wilkesboro Division.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

All praise to God for His continued blessings on the work and workers of the Wilmington Division.

The changes in the Divisions took from us two strong associations, Johnston and Little River, and gave us Dock, leaving us 316 churches. One hundred and thirty-two of these have no missionary societies. We can only give brief reports of specials in each association.

Bladen Association changed their time of meeting to the fifth Sunday in September and it was my privilege to attend their splendid meeting. The attendance was estimated at about seven hundred. Several pastors and a large crowd of laymen were present and the pastors asked for it to be continued on a fifth Sunday, taking the place of the regular union meeting. We had a fine divisional meeting in that association in the First Church of Bladenboro in October. Their work is progressing under the leadership of Mrs. R. J. Hall. Their gifts in 1940 were $1,390.08. Increase of $373.89 over 1939.

We attended the Brunswick meeting and assisted them in getting better organized. The women are very anxious to go forward along all lines of work. They lost their superintendent, Mrs. B. R. Page, who left the association, and Mrs. Carl S. Ward is her successor. Their gifts were $458.61. Gain over 1939 of $160.66.

Burnt Swamp continues to do fine work under the leadership of Mrs. M. C. Lunsford. They had a G. A. House Party last summer with twenty girls attending from seven churches. Our July divisional meeting was held with them. At that meeting one hundred and fifty dollars was given by the eight associations to furnish a room in the new wing of our Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem. This was given in honor of the Divisional Superintendent, for which she is deeply grateful. Mr. Smith Hagaman and Mrs. J. J. Roddick delighted us with their presence and messages. The money was presented to Mr. Smith Hagaman. Our Indians are doing a wonderful work. Their gifts were $448.28.

It was a joy to attend the meeting of Columbus Association under the fine leadership of Mrs. B. T. Watson. They are going forward along some lines of work and are anxious to increase their number of societies and membership and gifts. They held a mission study institute and made a love gift to the H. H. McMillans, missionaries to China from that association, and voted to make that a special love offering to them each year. Their gifts were $1,477.24. Increase over 1939 of $113.04.

In October we met with Dock Association and organized the W. M. U. for the association, with Mrs. M. L. Mintz, of Shallotte, for superintendent and a complete set of officers. Sickness has prevented her giving much time to the work during the winter but she has organized one W. M. S., one G. A., one R. A., and one Sunbeam Band. The prospects are good for several others. Mrs. Mintz is a product of our W. M. U. Training School and will put her best into the work.

Mrs. Grover Britt is doing good work in the Eastern and in many ways the work is going forward. One W. M. S. in the Eastern clothes three orphans in our orphanage, and the association continues to support Miss Katie Murray in China. The Magnolia Sunbeam leader supports a teacher in kindergarten school in China. Their gifts were $3,831.80, which was an increase over 1939 of $216.39.

New South River, led by Mrs. F. L. Young, has made advance along some phases of our work. Some societies have sent boxes to our orphanage. They do fine personal service work. They made large increase in gifts. They gave in 1940 $3,446.14, which was a $541.27 gain over 1939. This is the largest increase of any association in the Division.

Robeson has made good report in spite of the fact that their superintendent, Mrs. R. L. Pittman, has been ill nearly all the year; her officers and other co-workers have carried on the work in a fine spirit. They had a mission study institute, and a special meeting of the young people's leaders, with Miss Mary Currin in charge. They entertained the Royal Ambassador Conclave at Red Springs, which was a great success. Approximately 150 in attendance. Their gifts were $8,621.23. Increase over 1939 of $429.81.

We attended the meeting of the Wilmington Association and Mrs. W. C. Dicksey gave up the work. She did a good work, and her successor, Mrs. D. W. Merritt, of Rocky Point, has very enthusiastically entered upon her duties. They had their annual mission study institute. Temple Church in Wilmington gives $100.00 annually to support Bible women in China. The business woman's circle in First Church supports Chang Sui Ken Tsining, of Shan Tung, China. Winter Park W. M. S. supports Mrs. Pai Yu Hwa, Mrs. Yang, and Mrs. Li To, Aug En, on Miss Katie Murray's field in China. The gifts of Wilmington Association were $7,434.68. Total gifts from Wilmington Division, $27,108.06, an increase over 1939 of $1,835.06.

Number of societies in Wilmington Division in 1940, 180 W. M. S., 64 Y. W. A., 113 G. A., 80 R. A., 114 Sunbeam Bands—total, 551. Number full graded churches, 54; churches with societies, 184; number of societies, 483; tithers, 735; memberships of 100,000 Club, 172; number societies observing seasons of prayer, 321; number engaged in Personal Service, 263; number mission study classes, 303; number in classes, 2,137; miles traveled by superintendents, 1,115; letters and postals written, 319; meetings attended, 8.

God blessed us with wonderful messages from Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Powell, of Africa; Dr. T. W. Ayers, of China; Mrs. H. H. McMillan, of China; Rev. A. R. Gallimore, of China; and our State officers.

Respectfully submitted,

MACY COX.

After singing "Jesus Saves," Mrs. Turner gave her message.

THAT THY WAY MAY BE KNOWN THROUGH WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

We stand today at another historic milestone. Woman's Missionary Union has now reached her fifty-fifth year. Strong, vigorous, and forward looking, we face the future. Never have we so greatly needed wisdom, constant vigilance, high purpose and divine guidance, lest we lose the way.

Never in our generation have there been such distressing world conditions as exist today. While our own land thus far has been spared actual warfare, we face confused moral standards, perplexing financial problems, multiplied calls for service, and uncertain trends in world affairs. With our men in training for service, our factories producing their utmost in war material and equipment, and preparedness the motto of the hour, we need to give earnest heed to Christian preparedness. We shall need special training in the days ahead, extra supplies of faith, courage and endurance. We shall be called upon for additional service, heroic sacrifice, and generous giving.

And so again I would bring to you the Watchword of the year. This 67th Psalm is one of a group written to be used in the great religious feasts of the Jews, probably the Feast of Tabernacles. The first verse, "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us," is a prayer for the blessings of God, and the second verse, "That thy way may be known upon earth, thy salvation among all nations," our Watchword, pledges these blessings to the bringing of salvation to all the world. We are immediately reminded of God's word to Abraham, "And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing."

Like much Hebrew poetry, "That thy way may be known upon earth, thy salvation among all nations," repeats the same thought in each line with just a shade of difference to give emphasis. So we find the two expressions—thy way—thy salvation—essentially alike in meaning, and yet one seems to set forth the great purpose—Salvation—while the other shows the process by which this purpose is attained.

Since the selection of this Watchword I have been impressed with the frequent use of this word WAY. Especially today is the American Way eulogized. It is a mode of living, a way of acting, a system of ideals and laws which control conduct and govern habits. But there is a better way, a higher way. It is the divine way. We trace it through the Old Testament and find its glorious fulfillment in the New Testament. So faithfully did the early believers follow this way that they were called "people of the way."

Woman's Missionary Union has chosen this watchword because it is especially fitted to meet the needs of today. I would bring to you four characteristics of this way:

1. IT IS A WAY OF CONSECRATED LIVING.

Today we face confused moral standards. Ideals and standards of the past are being discarded. Christians are not only in the world, but decidedly of the world. The popular and final argument for questionable conduct is, "Everybody is doing it." May I say briefly, everybody is not doing it. If they were we would not have this splendid group here today. But we do need to re-emphasize the moral standards of Woman's Missionary Union, the Prayer Plans, the Bible Study, and all service for the development of Christian character. The insistent need today is for personal consecration, for Christians who will dare to be different, who will unhesitatingly stand, not only against the so-called big sins, but equally as firmly against the many insidious little sins which are sapping the vital strength of many of our members.

Susannah Wesley, the mother of nineteen children, among whom were the famous John and Charles Wesley, once said, "Whatever weakens your reason, impairs the tenderness of your conscience, obscures your sense of God, or takes off your relish for spiritual things—that is sin to you."

Mr. John R. Mott has said, "The supreme question of missions is how to multiply the number of Christians who, with truthful lives and with clear, unshaken faith in the character and the power of God, will, individually or collectively, wield the force of intercessory prayer for the conversion and transformation of men, for the inauguration and energizing of spiritual movements, and for the breaking down of all that exalts itself against Christ and His purpose."

A story recently published told of a Salvation Army couple who became greatly concerned for the souls in a certain village. They determined to move into this village. Friends tried to dissuade them, for the village was made up of bandits and promised certain death. This couple was convinced that here their duty lay, so they moved in. They did not preach a sermon. They held no service. But so convincing was the life they lived that, within a year, the village was transformed. You cannot contradict a life thus lived.

A few years ago when Dr. Truett celebrated his forty-second anniversary the newspapers carried many beautiful tributes, among them one which praised his public ministry, his unfailing kindness to those in sorrow, his neighborly thoughtfulness, and told also this very striking incident:

"One day, ten or twelve years ago, you were walking south on Field Street here in Dallas. You were walking with your head down—evidently in meditation. You didn't look up as you passed a man who was walking north on the same side of the street, but he did look up. He looked into your face.

"Now, it happened that he, too, was in meditation as he came toward you. The truth is that he was thinking about something that was not at all lofty or inspiring or creditable. He said nothing and you said nothing. You didn't even see him, apparently. But there was something in your very aspect and presence that shamed his unspoken thought. That man, sir, blushed as red as a new-born baby, and asked the forgiveness of God.

"That was a sermon you preached without ever knowing it."

As we walk the highways of life, what kind of sermons are we preaching?

"We are the only Bible
The careless world will read ;
We are the sinner's gospel ;
We are the scoffer's creed ;
We are the Lord's last message,
Given in deed and word ;
What if the type is crooked ?
What if the print is blurred ?"

2. DEFINITE DEDICATION TO SERVICE.

Not only is consecrated living important, but a dedication of talents and energies to the spread of the gospel is essential. We are entrusted with the gospel. Someone has aptly said, we must either give it away or give it up. We are commissioned to give it to others. It is His plan, His way. Jesus Christ, who proclaimed Himself as the way, not only lived a perfect life, but set Himself steadfastly to accomplish the great purpose for which He came to the world. Always was He urged on and on to other towns with His ministry and His message. And when at last He turned His face to Jerusalem and the cross it was with no reluctant step, but with the sure courageous tread of one who has already conquered. We need such dedication and determination today. Our missionaries have it. Woman's Missionary Union offers you the opportunity to uphold these messengers and also to be equally faithful at your post of duty. Never were there so many voices calling, never so many opportunities open to women. Many are the avenues of real service. It must be a matter of choice. I urge that you choose, not only that which is good, but that which is best.

"To every man there openeth
A way, and ways and a way,
And the high soul climbs the high way,
And the low soul gropes the low;
And in between, on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth
A high way and a low,
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go."

Woman's Missionary Union calls you to travel this high way. It is the best way, best in all round development of Christian character, best in service to church and community, most far-reaching in world influence.

Again I would urge that you consecrate yourself to this task because of the urgent need. Missions face difficult days ahead. The commission to go was given in difficult times. Paul labored under continual persecution. When Carey started the modern missionary movement, England was engaged in war, and when Judson and Rice went out, our own country was at war. They have left us glorious examples of faithfulness under difficulties. The days ahead will not be easy, they will call for the best in thought, in effort, and in determination.

3. HIS WAY OF STEWARDSHIP.

We face perplexing financial problems. Rich and poor alike face them. To meet these problems we have God's way of stewardship. It is no unknown way, but a way plainly marked. It is no untried way, but a proven pathway. I don't know why God should have ordained that His kingdom plans should depend so largely on us. But He has. He who created the gold waits on us to bring it back in dedication. Thus He honors us as co-laborers, and also saves us from utter selfishness.

Woman's Missionary Union is calling for an increased number of tithers this year, but beyond the tithe and special offerings we would stress the higher teaching of the stewardship of life and of all possessions. This is no time for ease and selfish indulgence. No Christian can afford to live extravagantly and spend wastefully in times like these. We must save in order to give. Relief money goes further now because of the good exchange possible, and also because of the low scale of living in war-torn countries. We must give sacrificially because our work calls for additional support. With missionaries coming home, some of whom had just returned to their fields, our Board is under terrific financial strain. Not only is this true, but we are the only great Protestant country which can give and give largely to missions. British, Norwegian, Danish, Belgian, French, and German churches can no longer support their mission work. Britain was proportionately the greatest giver before the war. It is to her we owe our missionary vision. Now is our opportunity to show our gratitude. Surely we are come to the kingdom for such a time as this.

Added to all this, our Foreign Mission Board faces the challenging opportunity of opening new mission fields in the great western section of China, a section hitherto untouched by the gospel. In Honolulu, also, where so many of our missionaries have stopped, a great work has opened up. Truly a great and effectual door has opened up, and there are many adversaries.

We must give because the need is great, the emergency is urgent. Life is so short. What we do we must do quickly.

4. THE WAY OF TRIUMPH.

One word more. His way is a way of sure triumph. We face uncertain trends in world affairs. This past year has held more of upheaval and disaster than any year we have ever known. Events have developed so rapidly that even yet we cannot know their real significance. In Europe heroic, peaceful nations have one by one yielded to the demands of the aggressor and joined the ranks of the dictator. Even now Britain is in the midst of the struggle. In the Far East the conflict continues. Because of these tragic conditions, and the resultant unrest in our land, there is a question in the minds of many as to the value of missions. Because iniquity abounds, shall our service wane, and our love wax cold?

Triumph has ever been won through struggle. It is so in triumph over self. It is so in world conquest. The way of the cross was no easy way, nor were those who followed it promised an easy way. Quite the reverse. "In this world you shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

Times like these demand clear thinking, wise planning, sure conviction. Think back to the cross. It looked like defeat. The Master slain, His followers scattered, persecuted, burned at the stake or thrown to wild beasts to make a Roman holiday. Yet the great Roman Empire fell. The church lived on. Again and again has it faced persecution and arisen stronger in its testimony. We look with distress on the disruption of our work in the Far East, and the recalling of so great a host of missionaries. In Japan our work seems closed. We have labored there just fifty years. Fine, constructive work has been done. It will not be lost. If you study the history of missions in Japan you will find that persecution of Christians is nothing new. More than three hundred years ago missionaries labored there with such success that authorities became suspicious and determined to stamp out Christianity. There followed a period of persecution which has given us stories of heroes who suffered even crucifixion rather than be untrue to their faith. Some who were banished to the bleak, bare islands of Japan have kept the spark of their faith burning through these long years. Let us continue to pray for Japan.

The Boxer Rebellion in China forty years ago claimed the lives of some of our missionaries, and yet it has been used to cement the friendship of China and America. Today brings another tragic day in China. May we so meet it that it, too, may be blessed. China is today a stronger nation than she was before the war. Nationally she is more united. Her great Christian leaders have won the admiration of the Christian world. The ability of her people to carry on, in spite of suffering and regardless of equipment, is nothing less than marvelous. We see it in churches, in hospitals, in schools and in industries. The stories we read are almost unbelievable.

In Palestine they tell us that the bombardment of Haifa and Tel Aviv has made the Jews and Arabs realize that they can live together in friendship. But many problems and difficulties continue.

England is well into the second year of war. Terrific has been the strain, but her spirit is unbroken. The beautiful, historic churches have been bombed, but the living church is still carrying on, sometimes meeting in the open country, sometimes in caves. Perhaps the destruction in England has touched us most deeply because of our familiarity with its people and its historic sites.

As we look upon this troubled, changing world, as we see the suffering far and near, may we pledge ourselves anew to use our bountiful blessings to hasten the triumph of the gospel to the ends of the earth.

Last year, when General Lord Gort, commander of the British Expeditionary Forces, accomplished the very remarkable feat of bringing his army safely from Flanders and was being welcomed home, he is quoted as saying, "It is not the arrival of myself that matters; it is the arrival of my army." Not self—but others.

"Others, Lord, yes others
Let this my motto be,
Help me to live for others,
That I may live like thee."

After special music, "I Am Satisfied with Jesus," sung by Mrs. H. E. Armstrong, Mrs. Turner introduced Dr. Wm. Harrison Williams, President, Baptist State Convention, who led the noonday devotional. His theme was "That Thy Way May Be Known to Me."

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 12

This session was opened at 2:30 o'clock, Mrs. Turner presiding. "Jesus Saves," hymn for the year, was sung, after which Mrs. Frank P. Lide, Hwangshien, North China, led the devotional.

Minutes read and approved.

A telegram was received from the Alabama W. M. U. in session. It was moved and seconded that the secretary send a telegram in response to the message from Alabama.

"His Way of Stewardship" was presented by Miss Mary Currin, for Mrs. Charles E. Stephenson, who was kept away by illness in her family.

STEWARDSHIP REPORT

"Christianity is a five-pointed star.

When the Christian prays, he communes with God:

When he studies God's Word, he learns from God;

When he seeks the unsaved, he works with God;

When he ministers, he shows forth God,

When he gives, he shares with God."

—JOHN E. SIMPSON, D.D.

No Christian's life is complete unless his star is complete.

One verse in every four in Scripture, including nineteen of Christ's major parables, deals with giving. Our great mistake has been in trying to force generous contributions from reluctant souls; our aim should be rather to educate, to enlighten, and to quicken the conscience to our responsibility and opportunity as Christian stewards.

More each year we realize our plans succeed in proportion to our own faithfulness. Let us keep on keeping on.

May we suggest a few things necessary for a stewardship chairman to succeed:

- (a) She is jointly responsible with young people's leaders for stewardship education of young people.
- (b) Study carefully duties of stewardship chairman.
- (c) Study Scriptures concerning stewardship.
- (d) Study South-wide Year Book.
- (e) Report quarterly and annually.
- (f) Pray as if everything depended upon God,
Work as if everything depended upon you.

We wish to thank each one of you who has helped to make the following statistical report possible. Number new tithers, 621; total number tithers, 6,946. Number W. M. S. organizations securing gifts to missions from every resident woman member, 16; number memberships in Hundred Thousand Club, 1,428.

With grateful hearts we thank God for giving the increase.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. CHARLES E. STEPHENSON,

Chairman.

Miss Blanche Sydnor White spoke to this report, speaking especially on "The Aim of a Debtless Denomination by 1945." North Carolina hopes to reach her high quota through memberships in the Hundred Thousand Club.

"His Way Illustrated Through Mission Study and Literature" was presented by Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mission Study Chairman. Adopted.

REPORT OF MISSION STUDY CHAIRMAN FOR 1940

In her Jubilee address, Mrs. Armstrong said: "How often one hears a missionary say 'The women know.' One can feel the sense of fellowship and support that the missionaries have in the assurance of this fact. Why do the women know? Because they have followed the only road to knowledge—they have studied. What vistas of missionary vision have thus been opened to them!"

As we look back upon the mission study record for 1940 we rejoice that so many women and young people in North Carolina have had "vistas of missionary vision" opened to them; yet there is deep regret that far too many are still unenlisted in this wonderful phase of our organizational work.

Believing that "giving will not move forward on the feet of ignorance, and that information begets willingness to give, to pray, to work, we urge every society to set higher ideals. Societies that fell short of the required minimum should be discontented until they have at least attained the Standard; societies that did all the required work last year will be eager to plan for extra classes.

Renewed emphasis on intensive study is urged, also new and strong emphasis on reading the numerous books of missionary interest for which no time can be found in class study. One association has taken for its goal 1,000 reading stamps awarded within the year. Will not others emulate this example?

There is encouragement in the increase in the number of classes, 492 more reported in 1940 than in 1939.

There is encouragement, also, in the growing interest and efficiency of associational and local chairmen. The variety of books studied offers encouragement, too, but there is still too decided a tendency on the part of many societies to be content with the small books written for study in preparation for the Seasons of Prayer.

The Sandy Creek Association deserves special mention for outstanding work on the Advanced Course. Already two Advanced diplomas have been awarded and others are working toward this coveted goal.

Mrs. Cox, in one of her presidential addresses, gives this high ideal which, if carefully and prayerfully studied and made a vital part of our efforts, will vitalize our whole mission study program: "Our constituency must be mobilized into a mind for missions. It is not information about missions that creates the mind for missions, although that is essential in its development. Only the truly regenerate are enthusiastic for missions. Dr. Speer says there are two reasons for the loss of interest in missions today: the absence of information and the absence of a religion worth giving to others. Organization alone does not interest people in missions. Mission study alone will not fling them into the missionary task. This holds a lesson for us. We must go beyond facts and figures and information. We must seek for and lift up the living Christ. We catch the Galilean vision that extends from Jerusalem to the ends of the earth, only from Christ. Methods must fade largely into the background, leaving the challenging Christ lifted up in our mission study. When we begin to study missions like that our people will move toward a Christ-like missionary program.

Through The Commission, Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, from Foreign Mission Board, Richmond, Virginia, presented the splendid mission magazine, The Commission.

Mr. M. A. Huggins, General Secretary of Baptist State Convention, was next introduced. He gave the closing address of the afternoon, with "Forward March" as his challenging subject.

Closing prayer was led by Dr. J. Clyde Turner.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 12

The Wednesday evening session convened at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church with Dr. J. Clyde Turner, presiding.

Hymn—"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," was sung by the congregation, followed by a quartette rendered by members of the church choir.

The devotional was led by Rev. Wilson Woodcock, pastor of College Park Baptist Church, Greensboro. Prayer by Rev. J. Ben Eller, pastor of Asheboro Street Baptist Church.

Dr. Turner introduced Miss Vena Aguillard, Opelousas, Louisiana, who is a missionary of the Home Mission Board working with the French people. Her subject—"Thy Way Made Known in the Homeland," was made vivid because of her personal relationship to the work.

Hymn—"The Kingdom Is Coming," was sung, followed by an address by Rev. H. H. McMillan, Soochow, China, and North Carolina, a missionary of our Foreign Mission Board for 28 years. Mr. McMillan, recently returned from China, gave a stirring and challenging story of our mission work in China.

The service was closed with the Hallelujah Chorus by the First Church choir, the audience standing.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 13

The Thursday morning session was opened at 9:30 o'clock by Mrs. Turner, the President.

The Woman's Hymn was sung and Mrs. P. E. White, Kweiteh, Interior China, led the devotional with the theme, "A Victorious Gospel."

Minutes read and approved.

Mrs. Turner announced that the registration desk reported the following number registered delegates, 770; visitors, 509; total, 1,279.

Mrs. W. N. Jones and Mrs. Wm. H. Williams were asked to serve as Resolution Committee.

"Thy Way Made Plain" through the Margaret Fund was presented by Mrs. T. M. Pittman. "Wisdom is better than weapons of war," motto of Margaret Fund, carried out through the training of fifteen Margaret Fund girls and boys in North Carolina this year.

REPORT OF THE MARGARET FUND FOR 1940

The word "again" seems to express our Margaret Fund work for 1940.

Again the plan adopted by the Southern Baptist Woman's Missionary Union two years ago was used to secure the Margaret Fund Scholarship. This plan was to include the Scholarship Fund in the Annie W. Armstrong Offering for our Home Missionaries' children ($6,000.00); and in the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for the children of our Foreign Missionaries' ($16,000.00).

Again the Burney Gift plan was followed. Contributions from the State Unions were sent to Mrs. W. J. Cox, General Treasurer. From her and through the State W. M. U. Margaret Fund chairmen these checks of $5.00 each were sent to the Margaret Fund students during the school year.

Again the Woman's Missionary Societies of North Carolina were asked for small gifts to this Burney Gift. The response was more than adequate, the contributions ranging from five cents to seven dollars. One hundred and seventy-three societies contributed the sum of $395.49. This money was applied as follows:

30.00 special help to Margaret Fund student.
10.00 special help to Chinese student at Wake Forest.
130.49 balance on hand December 31, 1940.

Again the societies are asked to contribute small amounts (not over $3.00) for the Burney Gift, 1941. It is requested that this money be sent to the Chairman of Margaret Fund, preferably in the summer months.

Again in 1940 the North Carolina Union had the pleasure of welcoming fifteen Margaret Fund Scholarship students to the colleges of the State. Satisfactory reports have come from all of these, some making exceptionally fine records.

Again we offer thanks that we are privileged to share in the joy of these young lives and in the responsibilities their parents bear.

"Through the W. M. U. Training School," by Mrs. Forrest C. Feezor. Mrs. Feezor brought greetings from the Training School, Trustees, faculty and students, especially the North Carolina Training School girls. She also read a telegram from the North Carolina group.

REPORT OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION TRAINING SCHOOL

The year 1940-1941 is an epochal one in the life of Woman's Missionary Union Training School. In March, 1940, the ground-breaking ceremony took place and on April first the actual work on the new building, to be located on Lexington Road, was begun.

Let us give grateful thanks unto God who has so wonderfully blessed this School through its entire history. Once again He has led in a great forward step. In a marvelous way the gifts from all states have poured in and the building is paid for in full. North Carolina women and young people this year completed the giving of $8,700.00 toward erecting this new House Beautiful. I am pleased to report that the beautiful and adequate library of this building is to be North Carolina's memorial.

The school enrolled 181 students this year, which enrollment includes both day and boarding students. During the year fifteen boarding students have had to leave the school because of illness or other personal reasons.

North Carolina, for the second year, led the states in number of students enrolled. We started the year with thirteen students. Five senior students and one junior student were granted the use of the six North Carolina loan funds. Miss Versa Russell used the Castlebury Fund given by Mrs. Joel Layton, of Lillington, in memory of her father. Six students paid their own expenses, thus making thirteen.

Again this year North Carolina is asked to give $1,700.00 for the current expense fund of the school and $1,200.00 for the six scholarship loan funds of $200.00 each. This offering is to be taken in July or August. Let me urge each society to thus have a part in the training of young women who are to go out as lightbearers for our King, Immanuel.

The names of our North Carolina girls follow that you may pray for them by name: Doris McKnight, Rutherfordton; Versa Russell, Troy; Mary Lennon, Wilmington; Louise Pender, Burlington; Louise Bashford, Raleigh; Evelyn Mills, Charlotte; Kathryn Abee, Hickory; Betty Claire Jennings, Thomasville; Laura Mae Hilliard, Cary; Mary Ann Peebles, Raleigh; Annie Ivy, Burlington.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. C. FEEZOR,

Chairman.

Mrs. R. N. Simms stated that the W. M. U. Executive Committee had voted to request that the library be called "The Sallie Bailey Jones or Mrs. Wesley N. Jones" Library and moved that the Convention express its approval. Mrs. Feezor seconded the motion and the Convention approved with a standing vote.

"Through Personal Service." Mrs. J. S. Farmer read Mrs. G. K. Middleton's report.

REPORT OF PERSONAL SERVICE

There have been thousands of sacrifices of love and deeds of kindness done this year by our women in the name of the Lord Jesus. He is gracious to promise certain reward for everyone. The Woman's Missionary Societies have responded in a very real way to the emphasis on soul winning which comes from every source and a wonderful place for fruition is found in the Personal Service department of the Woman's Missionary Union.

All of our activities are ways of approach to show God's love and to open hearts to His message of salvation. To stop with opening the doors and not follow through with the Gospel is as fatal spiritually as to have left them untouched. Social uplift, minus the presentation of a Saviour is not soul-winning. Building a social structure without the foundation stone of God's choice is vain. Communities and nations are changed as the individuals who compose them are changed. This change must be made in the hidden man of the heart. History, especially current history, proves only too clearly that culture and education, high standard of living and self-expression can be just as diabolic as ignorance and superstition and repression.

Why is this Rock so necessary for social structure? Jesus Christ Himself explains it, beginning in Matt. 16:21 and continuing till the moment of His ascension, opening the Scriptures to show—what? That Christ must suffer and die and rise again for the sins of the whole world. Salvation is the gift of God through faith in the Name: I am, Jesus Christ, Saviour, Son of God.

This, then, is our message, the power of God unto salvation. So, we find we have the opportunities. We have our ways of approach through Personal Service. We have our marvelous organization. Is anything yet lacking?

Results tell the story. Do they not? The statistics of the Baptist State Convention tell us that 2,562 churches, averaging 200 members, had 21,330 baptisms in 1940. That means slightly more than eight to a church, or one to every 25 members in a year's time. This pitifully small "birth rate" in the face of the darkening clouds of disaster that hang over the world and threaten our nation is what challenges us to seek out what it is we lack.

Is it not a supply of soul-winning instruments that we need just now? Here we see the intimate, personal side of this service from a subjective point of view.

Now, in every type of work, instruments are chosen to suit the specific need. For example, for cutting, we want a knife with a good sharp edge. For manufacture, we want machinery which, properly aligned and oiled, will produce results. For music, we want instruments with perfection of tone, tuned to satisfy the soul's desire for expression. The instrument for soul winning is a branch. John 15:1-8. This instrument, in order to bear fruit, must measure up to God's requirements, summed up in verse 4: "Abide in me, and I in you." "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away." The great husbandman considers a fruitless branch as useless. Why is this? Because He has made all necessary provision for fruitfulness, in the words, "Abide in me and I in you." But it costs to do this! Think what it cost Jesus! "He endured the cross!" Think, also, of the "joy that was set before Him," the light of which never left His face even when "it was marred more than any man." The joy that millions of souls are saved through eternity! "Hereby perceive we the love of God, because He laid down His life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren."

Our chief object in Personal Service this year will be to prepare instruments of soul winning, meet for the Master's use. There will be many helps and books, leaflets and outlines available for use in small study groups. It will take not a single class, or sporadic efforts, but a steady drinking in of God's Word and constant surrender. It is not a matter of studying methods but of getting the mighty soul-winner into our lives.

This is the day of questionnaires. I am offering you one concerning your spiritual maturity. The ushers will hand them to you as you leave at noon. I pray that the Holy Spirit will use them to create a hungering and thirsting in our hearts for His righteousness, then we shall surely be filled! May we, now, as individuals, first, see the need of others and heed their call; second, recognize our own need and hear God's call: "Study to show thyself approved unto God"; and third, be willing to pay the price for the joy of winning souls to Jesus!

March 13, 1941.

The three reports were adopted and the hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," was sung.

Mrs. J. J. Roddick presented the report of the Baptist Hospital and spoke to it. Her report, like all others, will be printed in the Minutes.

REPORT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA BAPTIST HOSPITAL

It is with grateful hearts that we are able to report larger service in the Baptist Hospital for the past year. More than 4,000 patients were treated and many sent to their homes rejoicing in renewed strength. Fifteen thousand days of service were rendered to charity or part-pay patients. We received from our Mother's Day offering $25,165.27; from Duke Foundation, $13,496.00; from linen donated by members of our Missionary Union, $1,276.00; and gifts from individuals amounted to $2,420.65, making a total of gifts to charity of $42,357.92. The remaining $19,000.00 was paid from the operating expense of the Hospital to meet the cost of free service rendered to those who came to us from all parts of the State. More than 1,000 mothers were treated. Pastors, missionaries, and little children were many of those who came to us in time of need. The State Convention sent to us $11,949.00, given through the Co-operative Program toward retiring the bonds on our building of the hospital.

Fifty-nine fine young women are in our nurses' training class, rendering valuable service in the hospital. A friend of the hospital living in High Point, realizing the opportunity of evangelism in the hospital, has employed and pays the salary of a full-time pastor to meet the spiritual needs of those separated from home and loved ones. Rev. Charles E. Parker, who is now serving as a minister, also teaches Bible in the nurses' training school. The years 1939-40 have been characterized by a large building program. The Bowman Gray Medical College will be dedicated in April. During the latter part of 1939, to meet the growing demands for added room in the overcrowded hospital, a State-wide campaign was launched. As a result of this campaign we have received from the Baptists and other citizens of Winston-Salem $136,241.50 and from Baptists from other parts of the State we have received $27,451.17, and from the Duke Foundation $90,000.00, making a total paid in of $253,692.67. We have paid out on building now under roof $228,760.15, leaving a balance of $24,932.52, which is due in bills for March 10th. Dr. C. C. Carpenter who is our medical director, together with Mr. Smith Hagaman, has rendered valuable service during the time of stress and strain of a large building program that will give us three times as many beds as we now have at a cost of approximately $450,000. It is only as we review the large service that has been rendered to the 50,000 patients since our doors were opened that we can catch a vision of our future possibilities in the ministry of healing as we face our enlarged program, and we would remind you that our success in the future will be limited by your prayers and your co-operation in furnishing linen, helping to furnish rooms, and your Mother's Day offering. Only one day in the year does our denomination make this offering. Will you not hear that voice come ringing down the centuries as it says, "In as much as ye did it unto the least of these ye did it unto me."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. J. RODDICK,

Trustee of Baptist Hospital.

Duet by Mrs. H. E. Armstrong and Mrs. Ben Spencer.

The final registration was 795 delegates and 614 visitors; total, 1,409.

Miss Blanche Sydnor White, Executive Secretary of Virginia, again spoke to us in place of Mrs. W. J. Cox. - Miss White paid beautiful tribute to the First Church, Greensboro, to Dr. and Mrs. Turner, and to Mrs. Wesley N. Jones, saying that Mrs. Jones had had more influence for good on her life than any other person. Miss White reminded us that God is calling on America to become missionary headquarters for His world program. Are we prepared and ready? Have we enough of His Spirit to share it with the whole world?

Hymn—"Have Thy Own Way, Lord," was sung by the congregation.

After announcements, Dr. Wm. Harrison Williams again led the devotional period. His subject, "That Thy Way May Be Known Through Me." Prayer by Dr. Williams closed the meeting.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 13

The last session of the 1941 Woman's Missionary Union Convention was opened at 1:30 o'clock by the President, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner.

Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Executive Secretary, read the list of those who had passed away during 1940, the audience standing in respect and sympathy. Solo—"Sunrise Tomorrow" was sung by Mrs. H. E. Armstrong.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF
THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION FOR THE YEAR 1941

With gratitude to God for His blessing upon our service and appreciation for the splendid co-operation of our women and young people, we face the challenging responsibility of this another year of missionary endeavor. We therefore recommend:

First, Watchword. "That Thy way may be known upon earth, Thy salvation among all nations."—Psalm 67:2.

Hymn—"Jesus Saves."

Second, That we adopt the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention as our guide as to methods, plans and standards. We further urge that our women study this Year Book noting changes in this year's plans and as far as possible bring their organizations up to the high standard set. That special emphasis be placed on the fundamentals for which our Union stands, endeavoring thus to strengthen and deepen the spiritual life of our constituency. Also that our high moral standards shall be presented continually as a definite and much-needed witness for Christ in this present time.

Third, Goals.

- Increased gifts.
- Enlarged membership.
- Ten per cent increase in tithers.
- Additional Mission Study classes.
- Vitalized Personal Service.

Fourth, Literature. That continued emphasis be placed on the value of our missionary publications and that we strive to increase their circulation and also their use, "Royal Service," "The Window of Y. W. A.," and "World Comrades," also to secure subscriptions to "The Commission," published by Foreign Mission Board, in Richmond, Virginia, and "Southern Baptist Home Missions," published by Home Mission Board in Atlanta, Georgia. That we reaffirm our loyalty and support of the "Biblical Recorder" and urge our constituency, especially the officers of societies, to subscribe to it.

Fifth, Personal Service. That we endeavor to keep our Personal Service plans in harmony with Southwide plans, and adapted to meet the rapidly changing activities around us. Conditions in and around our army camps offer a challenging opportunity for constructive service. The need continues for sympathetic understanding and help for the underprivileged, the foreigners, the Negroes, and the needy in our midst. That the purpose behind every service we render to our neighbors in need, be constantly kept in mind: Presenting the Saviour through Personal Service. That special emphasis be placed on leading individual members of our Woman's Missionary Societies to be Soul-Winners. Realizing that none can lead a soul to Christ, without the power and wisdom of a Spirit-filled Life, we urge that groups be formed in each society for prayer and personal preparation for personal service through Bible study and obedience to what is learned. We further urge that we in no way be satisfied with our service unless we see souls being saved.

Sixth, Mission Study. That we place increasing emphasis upon the study of missions, not being content with just the barest minimum of two classes for Woman's Missionary Societies and one for Junior organizations.

That we emphasize the study of the required books on Courses I and II, and other textbooks on Home and Foreign Missions, in addition to the small books designed for use in preparation for the Weeks of Prayer.

That women who have completed Courses I and II be encouraged to enroll in the Advanced Course.

That women and young people be urged to wide reading of missionary books, reading certificates and seals being awarded for same.

Seventh, Stewardship and 100,000 Club. That in view of the sincere interest and spirit shown by our women in the last Southern W. M. U. Convention in adopting as a goal one million dollars for our debts by 1945, we recommend that North Carolina accept the high goal assigned and make plans for proportionate division among Divisions and Associations. We recommend that each organization, including Young People, be urged to have a worthy part in this great goal.

Memberships are one dollar per month or more and are in addition to any other gifts either through Co-operative Program or to special causes.

That emphasis be placed upon tithing and signing of stewardship cards. That earnest prayers be made for these causes.

Eighth, Missionary Education of Young People. That in view of conditions prevalent throughout the world, we give the more earnest heed to the training of our young people in missions, conscious that missionary education is fundamental.

That we faithfully foster our young people following every plan as outlined in our 1941 W. M. U. Year Book (see page 25).

That we keep constantly in our thinking and planning that our young people's organizations are guided, by the same fundamentals as the Woman's Missionary Society with such varied and attractive plans as to make their work more appealing and that all chairmen of Stewardship, Personal Service, and Mission Study realize that they are to co-operate with counselor of young people in making effective all plans in these respective phases of work.

Stewardship:

That we teach stewardship in every organization, making use of stewardship education leaflets to be secured from State W. M. U. headquarters and using books on stewardship.

That every member of each young people's organization give through the Co-operative Program and to each of the special offerings.

That every organization give something toward the payment of our debt, taking as a minimum goal 250 memberships in the 100,000 Club in 1941.

Mission Study and Literature:

That no organization have less than one mission study class during the year and that we emphasize the reading of books of missionary interest.

That we see to it that we have an average of three "World Comrades" to each organization and that we encourage mothers to provide "World Comrades" for boys and girls and "The Window of Y. W. A." for their daughters.

Personal Service:

That we be more zealous in leading every young people's organization to perform challenging Personal Service. To lead them to change their community for Christ, should call forth the best in planning and performing the type of Personal Service which will result in the winning of many to Christ.

Meetings of Missionary Inspiration:

Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Ridgecrest Assembly, June 2-4.

Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Meredith College, June 8-11.

Royal Ambassador Camp, Ridgecrest Assembly, June 4-6.

Royal Ambassador Camp, Meredith College, June 11-14.

Young Woman's Auxiliary Camp, Ridgecrest, June 24-July 4.

Associational Young Woman's Auxiliary Meeting twice each year.

Royal Ambassador Conclave in each Division, November 15-16.

Associational gatherings for Girls' Auxiliary and Royal Ambassadors, as planned by Associational leaders.

That in the promotion of our Royal Ambassador work, we refer to our recommendation on page 55 of the 1939 Minutes, enlisting the Brotherhood wherever such exists.

That there be held in each Association at least once during the year a missionary leadership conference for young people's counselors to be directed by the Associational Young People's leader.

That our Baptist nurses in hospitals and girls on college campuses call forth our deep concern which will result in their missionary development through Grace McBride (for nurses) and Ann Hasseltine Y. W. A.'s (for College young women).

Ninth, Margaret Fund. That continued interest in the Margaret Fund be sustained by the presentation of this work at associational meetings and also at local society meetings. That a small voluntary offering from societies be forwarded to State Margaret Fund Chairman, preferably during the summer months. This fund to be used to supply gifts of equal amounts to students three times during the school year. Since scholarships are now provided through the Annie Armstrong and Lottie Moon offerings the special offering for this purpose has been discontinued. However, gifts to the Endowment Fund are welcomed and bequests through wills are encouraged. Societies should continue to solicit "Margarets" to be enrolled in the Margaret Memorial book. That contact be established with any Margaret Fund student attending college in your vicinity and friendly courtesies be shown to such student.

Tenth, Training School. That increased emphasis be placed on W. M. U. Training School in Louisville, Kentucky. Realizing that with the completion and opening of new buildings as anticipated at the fall term there will be an increase in number of applications, we urge that societies shall be very sure that applicants meet requirements for entrance before recommending them. That all applications shall be sent to Training School Trustee not later than June 1, and none shall be considered that come later than this date.

We again recommend that special emphasis shall be given to the Training School program during the summer, and that we take as our aim for the special offering $1,700.00 for current expenses and $1,200.00 for scholarship, this being in addition to the Castlebury Scholarship provided by Mrs. Joel Layton in memory of her father, Mr. Louis Castlebury.

Eleventh, Orphanage and Hospital. While we recognize that these causes do not come definitely in our mission program, we urge continued and generous support through the churches of both the regular and the enlargement plans.

Twelfth, Expense Fund. A special offering for rent of rooms occupied by Woman's Missionary Union and for traveling expenses of Union representatives and for expenses of our annual meeting is asked from each society in the first or second quarter of each year, preferably in the month of May. An itemized account of this fund is published in the Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the report of the Treasurer.

Thirteenth, Special Seasons of Prayer. Rejoicing in the increased gifts and the enlarged missionary service and vision made possible through the special seasons of prayer, that we enter earnestly and prayerfully into the plans as outlined by our Southern Union for Home Missions the first week in March and Foreign Missions December 1-5. Recognizing the growing need because of world conditions we urge generous and prayerful support of relief work on mission fields and participation in seasons of prayer for world peace. That September be observed as State Mission month with a special program on State Missions on or near September 8. That the offering may exceed that of last year.

Fourteenth, Heck Memorial. That we again observe the birthday of Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, June 16, with special program and offering. That continued emphasis be placed on the study of the life of Miss Heck.

That the Heck Memorial Offering be designated as follows:

To complete the Edna R. Harris Scholarship.....	$1,000.00
For building First Baptist Church, Temuco, Chile	3,000.00

That any amount above these items shall be designated by Executive Committee.

Fifteenth, Total Financial Aims: That we take as our financial aim $305,000.00. This amount to include gifts to Co-operative Program, 100,000 Club, and all special offerings of Woman's Missionary Union.

Summary of Financial Aims:

To Cooperative Program	$173,000.00
To Woman's Missionary Union Training School	1,700.00
To Woman's Missionary Union Training School Scholarship Fund	1,200.00
To Hundred Thousand Club.....	50,000.00
To State Expense Fund.....	2,000.00

That each Woman's Missionary Society and Young People's organization strive to make at least a five per cent increase to Co-operative Program, which is the requirement for point three on the Standard of Excellence. We discovered what we could do in 1940. May we not do less, but more through our large number of organizations and increased membership.

The proposed changed Constitution of Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, Auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention, was read by Mrs. J. S. Farmer. It was moved and seconded that the changes be adopted as read. Motion carried.

REPORT OF THE APPRECIATION COMMITTEE

In behalf of those attending the fifty-first session of the Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, we do resolve:

First, That we express our appreciation to the First Baptist Church and other Baptist churches of Greensboro, N. C., for the expression of their gracious hospitality in providing for our every need and comfort.

To the First Baptist Church our gratitude for the services of Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, our gifted president.

To Mrs. Nettie H. Hoge, chairman, and each of her co-workers for their careful and thoughtful planning in the anticipation of our every need.

To Mrs. T. Moody Stroud and her committee our appreciation for the beautiful arrangements of flowers.

Second, That we thank Dr. J. Clyde Turner, pastor of the hostess church and his fellow Baptist pastors of Greensboro for their co-operation in making the meeting a profitable one.

Third, That we express our appreciation to the press and all civic agencies which have served us during our stay in Greensboro.

Fourth, That we express our gratitude to Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, each officer, and the Executive Committee for their challenging leadership and careful planning of our well rounded program, which has inspired us anew to give ourselves that His way may be known among all men.

Fifth, That we gratefully recognize each person who has made a contribution to the program: to Miss Currin for the message of her Young People's program; to the following who assisted her: Mrs. W. F. Clegg, Elsie Moore, Betty Jane Doubles, Charles Bobb, Colbert Smith, and Henrietta Reed. To Miss Blanche White for her forceful message; to Miss Laura Bateman and the Ann Hasseltine Y. W. A. of Woman's College for the colloquy, "The World and the Cross," which so perfectly climaxed the program; to Misses Ruth and Ruby Lyon and Eloise Stancil, the trio from the Thomasville Mills Home for their message in song; to Dr. Wm. Harrison Williams and M. A. Huggins; to Roland Q. Leavell; and to our missionaries, who always give us a fresh vision of His Way for His children.

Sixth, That as we go from this place, our convictions are renewed that only as we "lift Him up from the earth will the peoples of the world be drawn to Him."

Respectfully submitted,

PROCEEDINGS
WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION
OF NORTH CAROLINA
FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL SESSION

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 10, 1942.

The Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention, met in its fifty-second annual session in the fifty-sixth year of organization in the First Baptist Church, Winston-Salem, N. C., Tuesday evening, March 10, 1942.

The opening night of the Convention was featured by the annual program of the young people, under the direction of Miss Mary Currin, State Young People's Secretary.

Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, W. M. U. President, opened the session, introducing Miss Currin, who presided during the remainder of the evening. With the theme, "Pass on the Torch," a splendid program was presented.

After the hymn—"The Light of the World Is Jesus," Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer led the devotional period, speaking on the theme, "Youth Radiant in Him." Miss Zentmeyer is the newly elected field worker for the North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union.

Sunbeam Watchword Hymn was sung by the Sunbeams of the First Baptist Church, Winston-Salem.

"Torches Along the Way," a presentation by young people of Waughtown Baptist Church and others, was directed by Miss Ora Motsinger, young people's leader of Pilot Mountain Association.

A recognition service for ranking Ambassadors, directed by Miss Currin, followed, and was most impressive and encouraging. Highest ranking Ambassadors of all the fine groups were Frank Tatum, Cooleemee, full ranking Ambassador; Jackie Barnes, Angier, Ambassador Extraordinary; Morton Miles, Jr., Henderson, Ambassador Plenipotentiary.

Following this ceremony, Miss Currin presented the speaker of the evening, Miss Mary Christian, Field Worker for Woman's Missionary Union, Southern Baptist Convention.

Hymn—"The Light of the World Is Jesus."

Motion by Mrs. Sallie C. Parker, Jackson, that the program as arranged, with whatever changes may be necessary, be adopted as the order of business.

It was suggested by Mrs. A. J. Smith, of Goldsboro, that in view of critical world conditions we pause in a special season of prayer during each session.

Reports of officers, with the following themes:

"Lamps Trimmed and Burning"—Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Executive Secretary.

LAMPS TRIMMED AND BURNING

In many places today the lamp has become outmoded as a means of illumination.

It has been replaced by more modern devices—mainly electric lights. But not yet anywhere have Christian people been replaced by more modern means of shedding abroad the light of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Christ's only plan for the promulgation of His Gospel message was given by Him to His disciples as He prepared to ascend to His Father, "As the Father hath sent me, even so send I you." We are His lamps, and as the primary function of a lamp is to dispel darkness so should the dominating purpose of every Christian life be to lighten the dark places of the world.

The lamp of itself is powerless to perform the function for which it was intended. It must have several essential parts—oil, a wick, a chimney. Even though the lamp have both wick and oil, there must be contact between the two, and a spark from some source before the lamp can burn. So must we be equipped for our task of lighting by having His Word hidden in our hearts and be in touch with the source of all light, before light can emanate from us. We have no light of our own, only His reflected in us. If the lamp is to shine brightly, the wick must be trimmed, and all charred particles removed, lest the chimney become smoked and the light indistinct. Likewise must our lives be pruned of useless pursuits which tend to obscure the light which Christian lives should shed.

During 1941 the more than 80,000 members of our Woman's Missionary Union organizations have been effective lamps, sending light to many dark places by their devotion to the task for which our Union was formed—making His way known.

Thirty-two churches maintained a full graded A-1 union. This is the same number as for the previous year. They are as follows: Asheville, Merrimon Avenue; Burlington, First; Clayton; Colerain; Conway; Creekville; Dunn; Durham, Grace; Durham, Watts Street; Durham, West; Enfield; Fair Bluff; Farmville; Fountain; Henderson, First; Madison; Millbrook; Mocksville; Morganton, Calvary; Mount Beulah; Mount Zion; New Bridge; New Friendship; Salisbury, First; Sanford, First; Scotland Neck; Stoney Creek; Shiloh; Winston-Salem, North; Winston-Salem, Southside; Winton; and Rockingham, First.

Eighteen churches secured a gift to missions from every woman resident member: this same number having been reported in 1940. These are as follows: Brevard, First; Cartledge Creek; Deep Creek; Elam; Ashley's Grove; Winton; Seaboard; Conway; Cool Springs (South Yadkin Association); Samaria, Dexter; Wilson, Five Points; Piney Forest; Corinth (Columbus Association); Orrum; Union; Kennedy Home; New Friendship.

There was a net gain of 54 W. M. S. after 52 were dropped from the roll for not reporting during the year. A net gain of 173 in the total number of organizations and 2,334 net gain in the total membership. A gain of 6 in A-1 W. M. S., but a loss of 54 in the total number of A-1 organizations. There are now 1,067 of our churches with no missionary organization.

A few other gains are of interest: 224 more organizations observed the Seasons of Prayer than in the previous year, 372 more subscribed to the Biblical Recorder, and there were 762 more tithers. Again we reached the goal set for subscriptions to Royal Service; exceeding this by 88 subscriptions. Our goal for 1942 is 13,480.

Although the goal of $50,000.00 for the Hundred Thousand Club was not reached, it is gratifying that there was an increase in all other gifts; showing that the more than $38,000.00 given was really over and above the regular gifts.

We were fortunate during the year in having inspirational messages from many of our foreign missionaries who are now at home on furlough brought to our Divisional and Associational meetings. Especially were we grateful for the fine messages brought to the Divisional meetings by Miss Pearl Johnson, of Union, South Carolina. The splendid Lottie Moon Offering in December was, no doubt, partly due to Miss Johnson's appeal as she laid on the hearts of those who heard her the need for a larger offering to meet the ever increasing demands made upon the Foreign Mission Board.

One association, the Pamlico, felt it best not to continue as a separate association, and the churches in that association which have W. M. U. organizations have become affiliated with its neighbor association, the Chowan. This now gives us 67 associations in which organized W. M. U. work is being carried on.

Of particular interest to everyone has been the acquisition of an all-time field worker for W. M. U. work throughout the State. We are deeply grateful to the General Board of the Baptist State Convention for making it possible for us to have Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, formerly with the Foreign Mission Board, to work in this capacity.

Since October 1 Miss Zentmeyer has been in the State and has rendered invaluable service in every section of the State.

A few comparisons in the records of 1940 and 1941 will show wherein we have and have not kept our lamps trimmed and burning.

MRS. W. D. BRIGGS,
Executive Secretary.

Mrs. Briggs presented Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, field worker, recently granted us by State Mission Board, who has already made a large place in the hearts of our people.

REPORT OF W. M. U. FIELD WORKER

In characteristic fashion, Sara Teasdale penned these lilting lines:

"Into my heart's treasury
I slipped a coin
That time cannot take
Nor a thief purloin,—
Oh, better than the minting
Of a gold-crowned king
Is the safe-kept memory
Of a lovely thing."

Into my heart's treasury has gone "the safe-kept memory" of many a lovely thing since I came to be your Field Worker last October. Little did I dream that when we came up to our annual meeting, in less than six months time, I would feel so completely home in a brand new field.

Among these safe-kept memories is the unfailing courtesy and thoughtfulness of those of you in whose homes I have been a guest overnight or for a longer period. How much this means you will never know, nor can you realize how much you are contributing, indirectly, to the work of the kingdom by the gracious welcome you have accorded me in your houses by the side of the road.

Also "among my souvenirs" I find new friendships which have blessed my life, for here and there I have discovered not only food and rest, but that rare and beautiful gift of understanding, revealing the heart of a congenial soul. This is just one of life's extras with which God blesses His children, without which our lot would be lonely and drab indeed.

Perhaps the most precious of all my safe-kept memories are the faces of those faithful workers, applying themselves intelligently and with utter consecration to the task, not wishing or receiving remuneration, except the deep satisfaction of the Master's "Well done." In Stewardship Parables of Jesus, Dr. Roswell C. Long tells how the Associated Press sent out over their service wires, in connection with the opening of the London Naval Conference in January, 1930, one of those matchless human interest stories that sometimes "break" through staid news of regular headlines. This story concerned a young man with a heroic sense of duty. Just a few moments before the speech of King George, opening the Conference, was to go on the air for world-wide broadcasting, Mr. Walter Vivian, on duty at the Columbia Broadcasting Station at New York's receiving and rebroadcasting studio, discovered that something was the matter with the wiring. He knew that it would take at least twenty minutes to make the necessary repairs, and that in the meantime the waiting thousands would miss the King of England's message. Without hesitation he grasped the ends of the broken wires, wires that were broken by someone's carelessness, and with one in each hand he restored the broken circuit. The shock of the two hundred and fifty volt charge and the leakage of the current shook his arms violently and burned his hands, but he held on at the peril of his life while the King's message went through—the King's message on peace. Just so, these faithful workers carry on, often at real sacrifice of personal funds, feelings and convenience, concerned only that the message of the King of Heaven get through. How patient you have been with this new apprentice and how you have inspired her to deeper consecration and more perfect understanding of the task to which she has been called.

Attending divisional meetings throughout October took me practically all over the State and afforded a bird's-eye view of the field and the workers. In November I was privileged to attend the meeting of the North Carolina State Convention in Asheville. Places visited, where I have participated on programs in one way or another, include: Andrews, Burnsville, Elkin, Wilmington, Severn, Greenville, Dunn, Troy, Asheboro, Shelby, Holly Springs, Waynesville, Burlington, Rockingham, Goldsboro, Lincolnton, Maiden, Newton, Kennedy Home, Charlotte, Dover, Gastonia, Bolivia, Mt. Pisgah, Nashville, Winston-Salem, Mt. Holly, Wingate, New Bern, Snow Hill, Union, Kinston, Falling Creek, Mt. Gilead, Raeford, Clayton, Farmville, Fountain, Wake Forest, and Garner.

"Two Thousand Candle Power"—Miss Mary Currin, Young People's Secretary.

"HOLD HIGH THE TORCH"

In his stirring volume, "Candles in the Wind," Dr. Allen Knight Chalmers brings us these timely words: "A candle in this windy world is not enough. It does not provide in the world a light that is adequate to let man see the world that must be. The torch is a better symbol of the light of Christianity. The torch is the symbol of those who care about the lostness of this world. We must have a torch to move in the darkness of the wind and the road." Our everlasting obligation is to:

"Hold high the torch

You did not light its glow,

'Twas given you by other hands, you know,

'Tis yours to keep it burning bright,

Yours to pass along when you no more need light."

Is it not true then that to look at the report of our young people's work, is to face squarely the question as Missionary Societies and as individual women, "Have we held high the torch?"

We began 1941 with 1,292 Woman's Missionary Societies fostering 650 Sunbeam Bands, 856 Girls' Auxiliaries, 523 Royal Ambassador Chapters, 571 Young Woman's Auxiliaries. By December we had increased marvelously as follows: 765 Sunbeam Bands, 1,011 Girls' Auxiliaries, 660 Royal Ambassador Chapters, 679 Young Woman's Auxiliaries, but the figures at the beginning of 1942 brought a little pang of disappointment for the increase was not what we had hoped for. We had 1,346 W. M. S. fostering 682 Sunbeam Bands, 901 Girls' Auxiliaries, 548 Royal Ambassador Chapters, 598 Young Woman's Auxiliaries, gaining 119 young people's organizations, which gives us now a total of 2,729 young people's organizations. Had the hundreds of boys and girls who for a season at least proudly held aloft the torch, been helped and encouraged when the going was a bit rough, we would have surpassed any previous year's growth. Think of the loss sustained to those young people, their churches, the cause of missions today and tomorrow.

We can proudly claim one new Grace McBride Y. W. A. at Watts Hospital, Durham, and one new Anne Hasseltine Y. W. A. at Indian State Normal School at Pembroke. In divisions where our 9 college and 2 Grace McBride Y. W. A.'s exist, we urge that our women show a spirit of interest and responsibility.

We can easily find how well we did our work in missionary education, for the Standard of Excellence will measure it for us. We can say "well done" to 208 Y. W. A.'s, 266 G. A.'s, 139 R. A. Chapters, 205 Sunbeam Bands. Only 379 made the grade "A," while 439 others received "B," and 208 merited "C" grade. We insist that the Standard of Excellence requirements are not rigid, and we believe if we purposed definitely to be A-1, many more could. Could it be possible that the serious and frequent absence of the W. M. U. Young People's Director (third vice-president) in the thought and plans of the Missionary Society could contribute to the small number of A-1 organizations? We have only 295 reported Young People's Directors.

"A torch has a special nature—it burns and is not consumed. It has the ability to drink up into itself and hold with sponge-like eagerness the oil which bears the light through wind and rain." What of the oil of prayer? The Seasons of Prayer found young people in an average of 1,236 organizations, a few less than half, feeding the flame through the oil of prayer. Verily, the lights from the many torches held in youthful hands could have been blended into a brilliant flame lighting the world's darkness, and hurried, scant preparation, the usual alibi, "No time," lack of knowledge as to the power of prayer—these and many more reduce to small number those organizations actually praying individually or in unison for this lost world. Can leaders not help youth to discover "Prayer, the lost word of our day"?

The flame must also be constantly replenished with the oil of knowledge. To know through the study of missions Christ's torchbearers ought to be the privilege of young and old in our churches. 1,415 mission study classes were held. Can we not do better? Through missionary programs and individual reading of World Comrades and The Window of Y. W. A. youthful minds and hearts can be stirred to action. We barely reached our goal in subscriptions to World Comrades and fell short of our goal to The Window of Y. W. A. by a small margin. Let's have no failure in 1942, but work towards a minimum goal of 3 World Comrades for each S. B., R. A., and G. A., which would be 6,393 subscriptions, and 2,500 to The Window of Y. W. A. Year after year a select group of G. A.'s and R. A.'s are gaining additional knowledge through the Forward Steps and Ranking System. Space does not permit the printing of the names of those in the highest ranks, but we are proud of each one.

With more sacrifice on the part of parents and leaders, we might have furnished the oil of inspiration and encouragement to inexperienced, easily discouraged youthful bearers of light. Many did this through our G. A. House Parties, R. A. Camps, and Southwide Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest. Judging these from a critical viewpoint we feel they excelled all others in the past. G. A. members, numbering 800, 297 at Ridgecrest and 502 at Meredith College, were thrilled and encouraged to become better torchbearers. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. H. M. Hocutt, Asheville, for her fine planning and direction of the Western G. A. House Party. Bessie Mae McManus, Sanford, and Kathryn Covert, Bryson City, were chosen to serve as queens in Eastern and Western North Carolina, respectively. Royal Ambassadors, 408 in number, attended our R. A. Camps at Ridgecrest and Meredith College. Rev. R. K. Redwine and Rev. J. L. White, Jr., our two camp directors, did a splendid job. Virgil Helms, of Scotland Neck, was chosen State Ambassador-in-Chief. Please refer to pages containing recommendations on young people's work for dates of these meetings in 1942. Our Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest as usual brought the best in missionary leadership to Y. W. A.'s with 400 of our North Carolina Y. W. A.'s sharing this unforgettable experience. The standards of Y. W. A. Camp are uncompromisingly Christian. Let us send only those girls who are willing to abide by such during these ten days. Our week-end Royal Ambassador Conclaves in November under the direction of the divisional R. A. Counselor and W. M. U. young people's leader brought together more than 1,000 R. A.'s for good fellowship, fun, and missionary messages. In many associations, our young people's leaders provided helpful rallies for G. A.'s and R. A.'s. Some had Y. W. A. Associational Council meetings which greatly strengthened Y. W. A. work. Let us continue this fine type of leadership.

I love to think that thousands of torchbearers, yellow, black, brown, red, white, have joined the well-nigh innumerable throng of torchbearers who follow in His train because of the devotion of our own young people. Their devotion was expressed through their witness of Him in Personal Service. 1,069 of our organizations actually performed and reported definite personal service in 1941. But, why not every organization?

Among our young people, we have 2,555 reported tithers. Had more practiced this principle, we would have passed the magnificent sum of $50,660.63, revealing an increase over 1940 of $7,425.65. Subtract the gifts of our young people from the grand total of 1941

W. M. U. gifts and you have $287,638.07 instead of $338,083.60. No small matter now! Certainly to be highly estimated in missions tomorrow.

Volumes could be written on the achievements of youth. As we aspire to greater things tomorrow, let us pledge ourselves to greater faithfulness.

1. Difficulties loom ahead, but we must in Him be greater than the obstacles. In a world ghastly with hate and destruction we must help our youth to reach across the barriers of war and clasp the outstretched hands of the youth of the world. No trivial excuse must hinder. Necessary adjustments can be made, but we are guardians of youth, guardians of tomorrow and we must be faithful in every missionary education activity.

2. Definite promotion and expansion of our Royal Ambassador work is just ahead. Let us co-operate to the fullest extent. Gratitude is expressed for the gift of $1,000 to use this summer, but we must remember that expenditure of money can be meaningless without corresponding expenditure of planning, prayer, and sacrifice. That we must furnish—each of us.

3. Study the statistical report on page 25. It particularly reveals what we have done in each division. It reveals what we have not done. Divisional leaders will find it especially helpful.

For the beautiful spirit of co-operation given me, I express thanks. Particularly for the sympathy, understanding and counsel of Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, our outgoing president, I and our young people will forever be indebted.

If we as women "hold high the torch," we believe that waiting, serving, eager youth will answer:

"Pass on the torch, pass on the flame
Remember whence the glory came Beyond the shining of the sun
Pass on the flame."

Statistical Report: Personal letters, cards, and circular letters added in with report of executive secretary. In addition to preparing suggestive materials for each quarter's work, writing the Heck Memorial and State Mission programs, planning for all Camps and House Parties, I traveled during 1941, 14,288 miles, made 68 talks, led 260 conferences, taught 18 mission study classes, attended 7 annual associational meetings, 5 young people's rallies, 6 divisional conferences, 10 annual divisional meetings, 2 R. A. Conclaves, helped in 2 Schools of Missions, visited 11 College and Hospital Y. W. A.'s, and attended 5 Conventions.

REPORT OF STEWARDSHIP CHAIRMAN

“Everything came into existence through him, and apart from him nothing came to be. It was by him that life came into existence, and that life was the light of mankind. The light is still shining in the darkness, for the darkness has never put it out.”—John 1:3-5 (Good-speed translation).

That light is the hope of the world today.

That we are witnessing the dawn of a new era is beyond question. There is little or no time for reflection as we rush with meteor speed into the future. Of tomorrow none may prophesy. However, we do know: Jesus is the Light of the World, and the darkness has never put this light out.

May we think of our large group of tithers—7,708 in all—as lighthouse keepers along the shore. The lighthouse keeper is never the owner. He is entrusted with sending out the light to protect seamen and ships. He handles that light as its keeper, not its owner. This is the Stewardship way of looking at life. All we have—our talents—our skills—our money—all possessions are ours, only to handle.

During the past year a number of new tithers, 1,480 have joined the group standing as beacon lights across our State.

The sad thing in this picture is the darkened candles which have failed to shine—representing some 75,000 women and children who are members of our Missionary Societies, but have missed the privilege of shining this year, by failing to give a tithe.

There are others who wish to better prepare themselves as stewards. Thus we find we have had 188 Stewardship classes and 251 churches observing Stewardship Night.

Shining especially bright are 18 churches in which every resident woman member made a gift to missions.

The lights also shone brightly in gifts to our Co-operative Program, special offerings and gifts to rid our Boards of debt. Although we gave $38,610.26 to the Hundred Thousand Club this year, we hope to raise $50,000.00 plus $11,389.74 in 1942.

Let us keep splendid loyalties,
For we are falling prey to lesser things.
What use are breath and strength if we no longer feel
The thrill of battle for some holy cause?
Or hear high morning bugles calling us away?
Let brave hearts dare to break the truce with things
Ere we have lost our ancient heritage.
Are we to gain a world to lose our soul,
Souls which can keep faith until death
And die, triumphant, in some crimson dawn?

Nay, we must keep faith with the unnumbered brave
Who pushed aside horizons, that we might reach
The better things: We cannot rest until
We have put courage once more on her throne;
For honor clamors for her heritage,
And Right still claims a kingdom of its own.

—Walter A. Cutter.

MRS. CHARLES E. STEPHENSON,

Chairman.

All officers filed reports showing splendid work and most gratifying progress, the financial report showing over $50,000.00 increase over 1940. Mrs. E. B. Beasley was asked to stand, as the Rocky Mount Division had exceeded its goal in gifts to the 100,000 Club. Mrs. Turner asked that all stand in appreciation of the fine work of these officers. These reports were adopted to be printed in Minutes. "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow" was sung.

Morning session was closed with Scripture reading, followed by duet, "Divine Redeemer," rendered by Kathryn Swain and Catherine Johnson.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 11

The Wednesday afternoon session opened at 2:30 o'clock.

Hymn—"The Light of the World Is Jesus."

The devotional period was led by Mrs. Dewey Moore, of Rome, Italy. She spoke of her recent experiences of blackouts in Europe. She said that Baptists in Europe are counting on us to keep the Light burning.

Minutes read and approved.

Mrs. G. K. Middleton, State Personal Service Chairman, presented her report. She also presented Miss Mary Christian, Southwide Personal Service Chairman, who spoke briefly.

Adopted.

PERSONAL SERVICE

The constant thought in our minds is that never before have we been faced with a challenge equal to the one that faces us now. We are asked to give up all of our lives and our dear ones to the all-out war. The things that have filled our thoughts and our days must be laid aside for the all-important task of winning the war. We are convinced at last that eternal values are under attack and that countless people will be robbed of their inalienable right to worship God after the dictates of their own hearts, unless we make a complete sacrifice to save this right.

This has been true of the spiritual warfare from the beginning. Did not Jesus Christ say, "Whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be My disciple" (Luke 14:33). We are convicted of the sin of having been satisfied with the little round of our own pleasures while others have suffered and starved and gone out into eternity without Christ. Now many are asking, "Where is God?" Secular writers are urging us to "get back to God." Young people are asking, "What is the use?" I see in these questions, the very result that God desires from this world condition: men's hearts, seeking God. He desires that men shall seek Him and Find Him. We must answer these questions by bringing men to Christ. "No man cometh to the Father but by Me," said our Lord.

Christians with breaking hearts are under temptation to doubt God. Unsaved people are frightened at what stares them in the face. Hearts are starved for the Word of God. We are responsible to God to "give them to eat." We have the bread of life. We have His own presence. We have His word of command. We have the vision of the need. There is not one to whom we minister food or clothes or instruction who does not long to know the answer to some or all of these questions. There are more than seventeen hundred local societies organized to serve in the name of Jesus. To these groups of Christian women the hungry, the suffering, the broken, the sinful are saying, "We would see Jesus," the Light of the world.

In this hour we are revaluing everything in the light of eternity. Let us who have Christ, exalt Him to His rightful place in our hearts and service. If He has this place, He will cause us to lift up our eyes unto the fields. He will make of us tithers, and soul-winners. This service of which we are now thinking must come before all other effort. Moreover, as individuals we cannot place the responsibility on another. To each one, God is saying, "Now I send thee to open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith that is in me" (Acts 26:18). But facing the fact of God's commission inevitably brings the sense of utter need and helplessness to be the kind of person a soul-winner must be. Being a soul-winner is far more important than the work one does. For this reason we are stressing the spiritual preparation needed to make us soul-winners. This can be had only as we study the Word of God which is "profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (2 Tim. 3:16, 17). Such a study is not a mental exercise but a spiritual one and must be approached according to God's instruction, with a child-like heart, trusting and responsive.

The activities suggested by our leaders for Personal Service are being used largely for soul-winning according to the reports we receive. Let us look for results as we are faithful to the commission, for "He is faithful that promised" (Heb. 20:23). He has come to "seek and to save that which was lost." How wonderful that we may share in His own work. May God forbid that we allow anything to take precedence over this, in our own community, in our good country, or in the broken, bleeding world. "God is not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance" (2 Peter 3:9).

In personal service it is our privilege to do in our own cities and communities, what our missionaries are doing on the home and foreign fields. First study the need—a survey, then go where the lost ones are; win their hearts through kindness, and lead them to the Saviour.

There is definite and growing interest in this department of the work. We are looking forward to greater things in the coming year. Christ is the Saviour of the world, and He is about His Father's business, even now.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. G. K. MIDDLETON.

A group of nurses from the Baptist Hospital sang, "O Zion, Haste."

REPORT OF N. C. BAPTIST HOSPITAL

It is with unmeasured joy and gratitude as we have been laborers together with God that I present to you the report of the N. C. Baptist Hospital for the past year. It has indeed been an outstanding year in the history of our hospital work. For the past year we have been able to treat nearly five thousand patients, who have come to us from all parts of our State. For the past several years we have presented to you our plans for larger buildings and better equipment that we might meet the increasing demands that we faced each year in the ministry of healing. Our hopes were partially realized when in October we opened the doors of our new building, thereby increasing the capacity from 125 to 300 beds. The new addition to the hospital was completed at a cost of $441,776.49, plus equipment needed making a total of $612,805.43. The value of the old building being placed at $229,147.54 makes a grand total value of the old and new hospital buildings and equipment of $841,952.97, which is invested in buildings and equipment of the most modern type and the very best.

Our Bowman Gray Medical College has been completed, and under the direction of Dr. C. C. Carpenter received its first medical students on September 10, 1941.

We have received from the Mother's Day Offering the past year $33,590.77; from the Duke Endowment Fund, $14,496.00; and individual gifts amounting to $1,392.80. At the last meeting of the Trustees, it was revealed that the hospital had contributed to its charity work more than $92,000.00 this year. This amount is over and above the free medical service rendered by our generous physicians. One of the most encouraging features of our year's work has been the endowment of $1,000.00 made by the W. M. U. of our State to furnish a cancer room. This endowment will make possible the treatment of sixty patients each year who would not otherwise be able to enter a hospital for the treatment of this dread disease. The radiologist reported that since the room has been opened, one hundred people have been X-rayed and fifty patients treated, illustrating the blessing of this gift.

Sixty-three student nurses are in training under the capable direction of Miss Edna Heinzerling. These nurses, aside from their professional duties, are engaged in Y. W. A. work and Bible Study Classes that are taught by Rev. C. E. Parker, Religious Director of the hospital. Our Superintendent, Mr. Smith Hagaman, has rendered unusual co-operation in this department aside from his other heavy responsibilities.

The report of our year's work would indeed be incomplete if we failed to note the generous gifts of linen, valued at $2,504.30, that have come to us from all parts of our State. The response to our needs that have come from 320 weak and strong churches have made possible the large amount of charity service rendered this year.

As we face the uncertainty of the future we would again plead for that loyalty and love that knows no discharge of duty until we are called to our eternal reward.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. J. RODDICK.

A message was read from Dr. John Lowe, missionary from China, asking that the Convention join the Alabama Convention in making an offering for Chinese Relief.

Mrs. Turner recognized Rev. R. H. Satterfield, circulation manager of the Biblical Recorder, who spoke on "Light from the Printed Page."

Mrs. J. M. Broughton, wife of North Carolina's Governor, was presented and asked to come to the front. Dr. Feezor spoke of her as being not only the Governor's wife, but an active supporter of all the work of her church.

Mr. M. A. Huggins, Secretary of Baptist State Convention, spoke encouragingly and urged those present to go forward in the work.

It was moved and seconded that the offering requested by Dr. John Lowe be taken.

Dr. F. C. Feezor, president of the Baptist State Convention, led the closing prayer.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 11

The Wednesday evening session was opened at 7:30 o'clock with Dr. Ralph A. Herring, pastor of the hostess church, presiding.

Hymn—"Oh God, We Pray for All Mankind."

Dr. Herring read the Scripture and the pastor of the Waughtown Baptist Church. Rev. Avery Church led in prayer.

Anthem—"Send Out Thy Light," was rendered by a vested choir composed of Ardmore and First Baptist choirs.

Dr. Herring introduced Rev. L. W. Martin, of the Home Mission Board, from Hindman, Kentucky. He brought a gripping message about the work in the mountain region of Kentucky. He emphasized the darkness of ignorance, sorrow, and sin, and the need of "Jesus the Light."

Quartette—"God Save America."

Rev. C. A. Leonard was presented and spoke briefly concerning the Commission, urging the women to subscribe.

In response to the telegram from Dr. John Lowe a collection was taken for Chinese Relief, which amounted to $133.25.

Hymn—"God Bless Our Native Land."

The closing speaker, Mrs. J. Hundley Wiley, Shanghai, China, spoke on the theme, "If the Light Fail." Her message stirred the hearts of her hearers and was a fitting close to a great day.

Closing prayer.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 12

The Thursday morning session of the Convention opened at 9:30 o'clock, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, presiding.

Hymn—"The Light of the World Is Jesus."

Devotional—Mrs. J. A. Herring, Kwelin, China. She spoke of how the light is still shining in China.

Minutes read and approved.

Registration: 577 delegates and 392 visitors.

Mrs. W. D. Briggs presented the ten Divisional Superintendents, who gave the "High Lights in Divisions."

ASHEVILLE DIVISION REPORT

Activities for 1941 began with a workers' conference held in West Asheville Church, January 16. Every associational superintendent was present, with good representations from their several associations. The divisional officers conducted the conferences and presented the year's plans. Rev. H. G. Hammett's inspirational speech presented responsibility of leadership. Buncombe, Carolina, and Haywood individually followed this up with like conferences for the officers in their associations.

The associational superintendents from Buncombe, Carolina, Haywood, and French Broad, together with representatives from ten churches, attended the annual meeting in Greensboro. Four general officers of the Division also attended that meeting.

Following closely the State meeting, five of the associational superintendents spent a day in conference with the Divisional Superintendents comparing experiences, laying plans, and assuming 100,000 Club apportionments. These were carried to societies at once.

The Divisional Superintendent attended six annual associational meetings and some quarterly meetings through the year. The Young People's Leader, Stewardship Chairman, Personal Service Chairman, and Mission Study Chairman visited and helped in some of the associational meetings. We have unitedly tried to lead our women to vision themselves as stewards of their offices and opportunities. Emphasis has been laid on importance of keeping records so reporting will not be burdensome. The 100,000 Club has been emphasized and magnified at all meetings.

The total gain in gifts was $1,531.49 over previous year. The gain for the 100,000 Club was $1,448.81. There was a small loss in gifts to Co-operative Program.

The Division gained 17.5 per cent in the number of tithers reported. There were substantial gains in number of new organizations, societies doing personal service, mission study classes, societies represented at associational meetings, Royal Service, Window of Y. W. A., and World Comrades subscriptions. The number of societies observing seasons of prayer remains about the same as last year. We have fifteen full graded unions.

There were losses in number of societies, members of societies, and Biblical Recorder subscriptions. There was a small loss in points made on associational standards of excellence.

Buncombe, Carolina, Haywood, Transylvania, and Yancey gained in total gifts. Carolina, French Broad, Mitchell, Transylvania, and Yancey report 5 per cent increase to Co-operative Program gifts. Buncombe, Carolina, Haywood, French Broad, and Transylvania made 10 per cent increase in number of tithers. The Yancey, Transylvania, and French Broad associations went beyond their apportionments to 100,000 Club. The other associations fell far short of their goals. Outstanding in gains along every line for the entire year is the Transylvania Association—Mrs. J. L. Underwood, superintendent. The Carolina deserves mention for mission study achievements, having had five pioneer classes. The Transylvania had one pioneer class.

The divisional and associational young people's leaders have co-operated with the State Young People's Leader, Stewardship Chairmen, and others as best we may to promote missionary education among our young people.

Haywood Association reports a school of missions, with an average attendance of about 200. A large number of women in various associations helped with Daily Vacation Bible Schools.

Two new associational leaders came to us this year, Mrs. E. C. Bostick, of the Carolina, and Mrs. A. Z. Jamerson, of the Yancey. These are co-operating in service.

We are very proud of our 45 A-1 organizations and Merrimon Avenue Church in Asheville, which is full graded A-1.

An offering for Chinese Relief, taken after Miss Pearl Johnson's speech, resulted in a $25.00 gift.

Our annual Divisional Meeting was held in Burnsville Church with the Yancey Associational W. M. U. as hostess. Miss Pearl Johnson, of South Carolina and China, Miss Zentmeyer, and Mrs. Clyde Turner were guest speakers. We used the occasion to bring linen for a shower to our Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem. There was a very creditable shower. We propose to repeat this plan for bringing linen this year. Superintendents and leaders can furnish measurements for linen. The 1942 meeting will be held in Brevard First Church in October.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN,
Divisional Superintendent.

BRYSON CITY DIVISION

With joy and gratitude to Him who has guided and blessed the work of Woman's Missionary Union of the Bryson City Division for the year 1941, we make this report.

The sincere desire and prayer of each officer and member through these dark and trying days has been, "Oh, send Thy Light into each heart that others may know, His Light dominates each impulse." Our repeated prayer, as we see the indifference of women and young people about us, has been, "Lord, lead them into the glorious light of God's love, even as we have been led."

The Tuckasegee Association, with Mrs. Chas. Allison as its capable leader, has gone forward in every phase of the work. The need, however, in all associations is more churches with missionary organizations. There are forty-two churches in this association, with seven W. M. S., five Y. W. A., five G. A., three R. A., and four Sunbeams. One full-graded Union. These report twenty-one mission study classes; fifty-four tithers; ten observed special seasons of prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions; twenty-six Biblical Recorders; fifty-five Royal Service; seven World Comrades; nine Window of Y. W. A. This was the only one in the Division that went over and above 100,000 Club gifts. They also made the five per cent increase in Co-operative Program gifts.

Macon Association, with Mrs. Roy Kinsland a devoted and consecrated leader, made increased gains over 1940. Ten new societies were organized; twenty mission study classes were reported and seventy tithers.

Western North Carolina reports more societies. A great many are young people. Much has been done in mission study, under the leadership of Mrs. J. V. Hall, of Marble. They report four full-graded Unions. Made five per cent increase in Co-operative Program gifts, and a good increase in all gifts. Mrs. Alvin Buchanan, of Murphy, was the newly elected Superintendent in Mrs. J. C. Ammons' place, who had served so efficiently so long.

Tennessee River Association has fewer missionary organizations. Bryson City is about the only church in the association that has woman's work. However, they are doing their part in all phases of the work. Mrs. A. W. Fleischmann, our field worker, last summer spent three weeks there, and she and Mrs. Franklin, their Superintendent, visited and contacted many churches and we hope did some constructive work that will yield results in the future.

The outlook for West Liberty, the association that had no woman's work until last year, is bright. The women are sincere and enthusiastic and enjoy the work. Mrs. J. M. Patterson, their Superintendent, is consecrated and devoted to the work.

Mrs. Hocutt, our young people's leader, moved away in the middle of the year, and Mrs. W. H. Covert, of Bryson City, served in her place. She is very capable and interested. We are much encouraged. They made a good gain in all gifts, especially to 100,000 Club.

The Royal Ambassador Conclave held in Franklin under the direction of Rev. W. H. Covert was a success. Dr. Stokes, pastor of the Methodist Church in Franklin, son of a missionary in Korea, touched our hearts with his impressive message.

Several of our young people attended the different camps for young people in Ridgecrest last summer.

The Superintendent, with Mr. and Mrs. Covert, were fortunate to attend all the associational meetings. They were well attended and much interest shown. Mrs. Tipton, a returned missionary from China, spoke at the Tennessee River and Tuckasegee.

Mrs. A. J. Smith, of Goldsboro, a former pastor's wife in Franklin, delivered an inspiring address in Macon.

Mrs. Briggs, Executive Secretary of W. M. U., attended all the associational meetings. We all love her and like for her to be with us.

The first associational meeting in the West Liberty was held and was indeed very inspirational.

The annual divisional meeting was held in Andrews. We were glad to have with us our president, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Miss Mary Currin, our new field worker, Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer and Miss Pearl Johnson, a missionary to China.

The Superintendent feels grateful, yet unworthy of the love, sympathy, and co-operation of all the women and young people.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. SAM GIBSON,

Divisional Superintendent.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

As we think this year of our Watchword, "Oh send out Thy Light and Thy Truth," Psalm 43:3, let us not be discouraged at the seeming darkness that permeates the world. A plain Bible-loving coal miner once said, "When you can't see Light and gladness anywhere, it's because it's sown, it's gone to be multiplied, it's taken away for a little while that it may come back in waving fields of golden blessings."

While we know that Charlotte Division has helped in sowing the Light during the past year, we are not satisfied with our accomplishments, but hope to do even more during this year. A Danish sculptor, found weeping by his latest statue, was asked if he were not satisfied with it. He replied that he saw no fault in it, so he knew that his imagination was in decay.

Grateful are we for the 127 W. M. S. and the 221 Young People's organizations in the 204 churches of our Division. A total of 348 societies sounds as if we are progressing rather well, and we are, but we must not rest on our laurels until we do something about the 81 churches in the Division with no W. M. U. organization. These unenlisted churches challenge us to increased effort. Taking into consideration the 10 organizations lost during 1941, we still had a gain of 31 new organizations, 5 of these being W. M. S. and 36 Young People's Societies. The number of churches having a full-graded W. M. U. has reached a total of 31, a gain of 9.

We would not lose the vision of a Debtless Denomination by 1945, and we hope this year to catch up the $300.00 we lacked in reaching our Hundred Thousand Club goal in the Division of $5,000.00. Realizing that plans for the H. T. C. at the beginning of last year were confused, we must not censure ourselves too harshly for the small deficit.

Under the supervision of our Young People's Leader, Mrs. John A. Bivens, and the Royal Ambassador Counselor, Rev. L. D. Munn, a conclave was held at Wingate Junior College. Despite the army maneuvers in our territory at that time, a goodly number of boys and counselors came together for this worthwhile conclave.

Among the Forward Steps in Girls' Auxiliaries, there were reported four Queens, one Queen with Sceptre, and two Queen Regents.

We regretted the loss of three Associational Superintendents who had faithfully served. These were Mrs. R. L. Hardison, Pee Dee; Mrs. T. S. Crutchfield, Stanly; and Mrs. Wilton A. Williams, Union. These were succeeded by Mrs. J. D. Nash, Mrs. George L. Hocutt, and Mrs. Mark Hill, whom we gladly welcome. Mrs. Walter H. Horton, of Charlotte, succeeds Mrs. H. Y. Ditto as Mission Study Chairman of the Division, Mrs. Ditto having found it impossible to continue her service.

Three divisional meetings were held during the year: Workers' Conference at the First Church in Concord in January; executive meeting at the home of the Superintendent in September; and the annual meeting with Montgomery Association at the First Church in Troy on October 24th. It was decided at the annual meeting to give a $50.00 Scholarship at Wingate Junior College. We were delighted to have with us at the meeting at Troy our beloved President, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Misses Mary Currin and Myrtle Zentmeyer. Miss Pearl Johnson, of South Carolina and China, brought the missionary address of the morning session.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. MOTT P. BLAIR,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

In reporting the work of the Elizabeth City Division for the year just passed, I am reminded of these words of St. John, "I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labor, other men labored and ye are entered into their labors." I am truly in that position today when I come to recount the labor and accomplishments of Mrs. I. A. Ward, the retiring Superintendent, and her faithful fellow workers. They have wrought better than they knew, but, as is always the case, there are many features of the record of which we are far from proud.

Seven new young people's organizations have been launched, but there are still too many of our churches where the Woman's Missionary Society flourishes and the young people are only partially organized. Three hundred and twenty mission study classes have been taught, but there is still great opportunity for more eyes to "look upon the fields white unto the harvest." The superintendents report three hundred and ninety-three tithers, a noble army, but much too small for the exigencies of the hour and not commensurate with the blessings we have received. An encouraging increase in gifts show that the heaven is at work and we see signs of a better day in the stewardship of possessions.

In one association, at least, major emphasis has been laid upon the formation of Hundred Thousand Clubs and the securing of individual memberships in the various W. M. U. organizations. And while we, in company with the rest of the State, failed to reach our goal, we did see an increase of more than one thousand dollars over last year's gifts. For this year we are striving with renewed vigor to reach the divisional goal, for we know that we must not be handicapped by debt when our day of golden opportunity for world-wide evangelism shall dawn, as it will dawn the moment this war is ended. We believe we can win the victory over selfishness.

There has been evident in the Division a growing interest in the work of the young people, which is the hope of the future. The Royal Ambassador Conclave at Murfreesboro was well planned and admirably executed by Dr. J. L. White and Miss Eloise Miller, of Elizabeth City. The attendance was good and the spirit excellent. Dr. Charles A. Leonard and his son contributed much to the interest and success of the conclave.

The counties are giving over the summer meetings to young people's rallies. Through these rallies we are reaching a great many of our college students and other young people in our effort to tie them more closely to the work of Woman's Missionary Union.

The Chowan Assembly, which is held every year within the Division, is becoming more and more a source of power and inspiration for all our W. M. U. family. Here the W. M. S. and all of her children except the Sunbeams, have mission study classes taught by the best talent that can be secured. Always at least one missionary is present to teach and speak to the Assembly. Last year more than one hundred were in attendance, the majority of whom were young people. In addition to our W. M. U. work, classes are offered for the B. T. U. and Sunday School Departments. The future of this institution and its influence upon every phase of our work cannot be overestimated.

We find our Mission Study Library, maintained in and by the West Chowan Association, for the use of the societies, a growing source of power and good. We are justly proud of this library, for it is a field in which we have pioneered and in which, to a large extent, we are still alone. We would recommend its adoption by other groups.

The Pamlico, for reasons which seemed to them for the best interest of the work, have disbanded as an association and the churches have affiliated with the Chowan, so that from now on the Elizabeth City Division will be composed of only the Chowan and West Chowan Associations.

And so the work moves on, too slowly, perhaps, but surely nevertheless, as we strive to become more conscious of the truth and depth of these words of Fannie Kemble:

"A sacred burden is this life ye bear:
Look on it, lift it, bear it solemnly,
Stand up and walk beneath it steadfastly.
Fail not for sorrow, falter not for sin,
But onward, upward, till the goal ye win."

Respectfully submitted,

SALLIE C. PARKER,

Superintendent, Elizabeth City Division.

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

We are happy to note a few evidences of growth in the work of the Greensboro Division. Each of our five associations has had its own problems, its goals and achievements, but we are grateful that all have made progress.

The missionary leaven has been working in the minds and hearts of our women and young people in our 206 churches. Each quarter new organizations have been reported to add to the list of our 441 Societies—146 women, 295 young people.

Mission Study is the heart of all of our work, and many Societies have majored in this important activity. Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence reminds us of Paul's advice to Timothy, "Be diligent in reading, in exhortation, and in teaching, grow, he who stops learning, stops growing." Four hundred eighty-one classes have used effectively the "Key of Knowledge," seven pioneer classes, ten schools of missions, and one Mission Study Institute. Pilot Mountain reports 252 classes, Piedmont 71, Randolph 40, Liberty 90, Rowan 30. It was my privilege to attend three associational meetings in my Division this year. It was a joy to share the fellowship of the women and the inspiration of their programs.

We have had a new feature in our State work this year. A conference held in Raleigh in November for all Superintendents, Young People's Leaders, and Executive Committee. The program of instruction, round-table discussion, and inspirational addresses, we believe, will be far reaching and will greatly strengthen our work.

Our three seasons of prayer and gifts for State, Home, and Foreign Missions have been widely observed this year. We have enrolled 1,912 tithers, a gain of 309.

The love of Christ has been the motive that promoted 267 Societies to do kindly deeds, speak words of comfort and cheer, and render service in His Name in their local communities, as they have observed the need. Some have chosen work in Mission Sunday Schools, Daily Vacation Bible Schools, helping needy families, and holding services for Negroes and prisoners.

The Liberty Association has made an unusual record in various kinds of meetings held: The study of Year Book in January, Personal Service and Enlistment Conference in July, Young People's Rally at Thomasville, one Mission Study Institute, and a new project which they hope to repeat this year, a Valentine Shower of small gifts to our North Carolina girls at the Training School.

Our annual meeting held at Asheboro was all that we had hoped for. The women of that good church and the Randolph Association proved their hospitality by their thoughtfulness of our every need and comfort, and by serving a bountiful lunch to the 400 women in attendance. Our program was one of interest and the women stayed until the close of the session. Our guest speakers for the meeting were Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Miss Pearl Johnson, Miss Mary Currin, and Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer.

Our annual meeting this year will be held at Reidsville, October 26. We shall be looking forward to this meeting with the women of that good church in that section of the Piedmont.

We are fortunate to have Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, our new North Carolina field worker, come to our Division November 2 to 13. She will be available for meetings in all five of our associations.

Mrs. Gilmer Cross, of Becks Church, was elected Young People's Leader at our annual meeting. She attended the Conference in Raleigh, has taught one Mission Study class in Piedmont, two in Pilot Mountain, and one in the book "Telling You How" to the 3rd Vice-Presidents of Liberty Association.

We rejoice at the reports of our Young People's Rallies, the G. A. House Parties, R. A. Camps, Focus Weeks observed by different organizations, Stewardship Night in the churches, and the growing interest in Young People's magazines.

Our second R. A. Conclave was held at North Winston Church, November 8 and 9. The program was under the direction of Rev. J. A. Neilson, R. A. Counselor and a committee from five co-operating churches. One hundred eighty-eight registered for the meeting. The program interested the boys through both sessions. Troy Bennet, of the North Winston Church, was elected Ambassador-in-Chief. The addresses of Rev. Wilbur Hutchins and Rev. Alex Herring were outstanding. Miss Ora Motsinger and her committees were happy to have the privilege of extending our hospitality to this fine group of R. A.'s and their leaders while in Winston-Salem.

The 100,000 Club has been our special this year and the gifts in some of the associations have doubled that of last year. Our women gave $6,328.81, Young People $694.83, a total of $7,023.64. We did not quite reach our goal of 10,000, but we made a good showing when we remember that it was in the second quarter before many societies knew their apportionment. We gave to the Co-operative Program $39,574.24, a total of $58,684.25. The Piedmont led all of our associations in gifts with $26,422.18.

In the new year we shall face a challenge to carry on our program of Mission work. Each one in our own churches will help to meet that challenge with our faith and our courage and our spirit of sacrifice. We do not know what the future holds for us. Many changes have already come to us; but we know there are some things that will not change. God's love and care for His own will not change, His promises and His plan of the ages to save a lost world will not change. He is saying to us, "Ye shall be my witnesses. Go ye into all the world" with the message of salvation. May our prayer this year be that of the Psalmist, "O, send out thy light and thy truth" to the ends of the earth.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON,

Superintendent, Greensboro Division.

REPORT OF HICKORY DIVISION

"We cannot be idle while the yearning of His (Christ's) heart for His brethren is unsatisfied." These words are in the findings of the Jerusalem Conference composed of Christian leaders of many nations gathered several years ago on the Mount of Olives. They express the highest motive for the Christian's participation in missions. Inspired with this motive, more than 11,000 women and young people in the nine associations of the Hickory Division have shared the past year in a great and glorious task. We express our desire to serve more worthily and effectively in another year of co-operative effort. We press toward the attainment of the following objectives in our work:

First, that we shall be "informed in Kingdom affairs." Every Christian can be an informed world citizen through the study of missions. Reports of Associational Superintendents show an increase of 167 classes in our division last year. Of the total of 677 classes, 226 were for young people and 411 for women. Mrs. Wade D. Bostick, capable chairman of Mission Study, reports that 53 different books have been studied in these classes. Associational Institutes, one-day classes, and associational schools of Missions enrolled 700 women and young people. Books studied also on Prayer, Stewardship, and Personal Service indicate eagerness for knowledge and effectiveness in Christian development.

Our missionary periodicals are another great source of information. Into more than 3,000 homes went one or more of these splendid magazines—the Biblical Recorder, Royal Service, The Window of Y. W. A., World Comrades, The Commission, and Southern Baptist Home Missions, bearing news from every land, furnishing material for programs, suggesting methods and plans, all giving to readers the realization of a glorious partnership with God and our missionaries. Days of Conference bring increased knowledge of how to do each task in Kingdom work, too. Our Divisional Conference at Rutherfordton last February was accompanied by the big snow of our winter but, in spite of the weather, seven of our associations were represented and the day was helpful to the work. I take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Briggs for her presence and for the service rendered that day in the absence of the superintendent. Eight associational conferences for the study of the Year Book and for study of Young People's work were held during the year. Through attendance at conventions, the Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest, the R. A. and G. A. Camps at Ridgecrest, and the Divisional R. A. Conclave, new knowledge has been coupled with new responsibility, producing new interest in the course of missions.

Second, that we shall be "active in Kingdom work." Knowledge must be translated into deeds lest "Having known our duty and failing to do it we lose our opportunity in the Kingdom." Last year 335 groups of young people and 347 groups of women sought to do something about the great needs of today, as they met to observe the Special Seasons of Prayer and gifts. Theory and practice are combined in the Christian's life as nowhere else. Personal Service gives us actual practice to prove our theory of missions. Through this channel 240 groups of women and 141 groups of young people witnessed personally to the needy ones close at hand. The Stewardship of Giving is both a result and an act. New knowledge of missions should always result in larger giving. Figures show an increase of 23½ per cent in gifts last year, the total being $43,121.75. Gifts by the women and young people to the 100,000 Club totaled $4,483.48, which was $1,100 short of our goal. We feel, however, that we can make this amount up and accept our requested goal for 1942. Young people's activities show up in the entire report because they are a very vital and large part of our work. Three hundred and fifty-three of the total 556 organizations are young people's organizations. Focus Weeks have brought special emphasis and added activities in many organizations. Stewardship Night has been observed in far too few churches.

Mrs. J. F. Lambert served our division faithfully for several years as Young People's Leader. Last fall she was forced to resign because of illness. She had, during the year, held a Divisional Conference for Associational Young People's Leaders, when Miss Currin was present to help plan the year's work. There were several Associational Leaders' Conferences and Young People's Rallies held also in the division. Before resigning, Mrs. Lambert had made initial plans for our Divisional R. A. Conclave. Rev. Boyce Brooks, of Spindale, was elected R. A. Counselor at our annual meeting. Under the leadership of Mr. Brooks and Miss Currin the conclave was held in the First Baptist Church, Spindale, the church of which Mr. Brooks is pastor. One hundred and sixty-six boys registered. Mrs. I. K. Stafford, of Stanley, was elected to succeed Mrs. Lambert as Young People's Leader. She has taken hold of the work in a fine way and we believe that under her leadership the work will make progress. We appeal to all "Childless Missionary Societies" and to those who foster one or more organizations to double efforts for youth. A missionary story told, or a program planned, may mean a life enlisted for missions.

Our annual meeting, held in First Baptist Church, Shelby, was perhaps our outstanding activity during the year. Our gratifying attendance was more than 500 and the day was a distinct contribution and boost to our work.

Third, that we shall be "united in Kingdom work." Dr. Stephen Cary, a student of world missions, makes this statement: "Our mission is so vast in its dimensions, so difficult and baffling in its demands that only by sharing counsel, uniting action, and massing latent forces can the world situation today be met." We know this, and we recognize the challenge of the many unenlisted women and the host of untaught youth within our reach. We are conscious of the untouched material resources that are needed in this vast undertaking and of the latent powers of talent, of fellowship and prayer that would greatly strengthen the work. Therefore we pledge ourselves to an earnest effort in the Enlistment of All of Life.

Out-of-State guests to our division during the year were: Miss Pearl Johnson, of China, and Mrs. J. B. Boatwright, of South Carolina, who last summer visited our newest mission field in Hawaii. Our own State president, Mrs. Turner, was with us in our annual meeting, together with Mrs. Briggs, Miss Currin, and Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, new field worker for North Carolina. Their messages were greatly appreciated. Mrs. Briggs, Miss Currin, and Miss Zentmeyer have worked throughout the Hickory Division in many capacities. For this service we are deeply grateful.

This report ties up in one bundle the work of many hands. It is a report of the work of faithful Divisional workers, of nine splendid Associational Superintendents, nine eager Young People's Leaders, many Society Presidents, pastors' wives (and pastors), Counselors of Young People's organizations, and the many who make up our organization membership. For each hand and heart we praise Him and pray His continued blessings.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. R. K. REDWINE.

REPORT OF RALEIGH DIVISION

If you want to see the high lights in the Raleigh Division, I wish you would attend one of our divisional meetings. We do have the best talks on methods of W. M. U. work and gain inspiration that sends us forth feeling that victory is sure. All we lack is time. I would like for you to attend the associational meetings in our nine associations. There you would see the high lights of each association.

This year the key word has been Study. The study of the Year Book has been a definite object in each association and society. This has resulted in the development of leaders, in the enlistment of new leaders, increased the number of societies, and has enlisted new members.

The Beulah Association, Mrs. R. L. Wilburn, Superintendent, has only one church in which there is no missionary society. All societies reported except one. Definite plans for mission study classes has resulted in increased study and attendance.

In the Central Association, Mrs. C. F. Gaddy, Superintendent, received a report from every society, reached every society with the Year Book, and at the end of the third quarter they had given $300.00 more to the Hundred Thousand Club than the entire amount given last year. They more than reached their financial goal.

One time when Mr. Huggins visited the Flat River Association he said they could have more good things to eat, come out in greater numbers, listen more intently than any association he knew of—then go home and do nothing about it. But Mrs. Carrington, Superintendent, is now pushing the work through group meetings and many people are taking part on programs who never attend State, divisional, and associational meetings, so leaders are becoming more enthusiastic and skillful.

Johnston Association, Mrs. W. A. Weston, Superintendent, has stressed the study of the Year Book and Stewardship. They reached their financial goal. The Division will meet with them in Clayton next October.

The Little River Association, Mrs. Dewey Whittenton, Superintendent, is well organized. They are stressing mission study through a good mission study library.

Mrs. John T. Craig, Superintendent of the Mount Zion Association, is an expert in planning for and teaching mission study. She had an exceptionally well attended and inspirational class for the study of the Year Book. The association led in gifts.

Sandy Creek Association, Mrs. E. M. Harris, Superintendent, has more than doubled their number of tithers. Personal Service is stressed as the men in service present a challenging opportunity for ministry. This association ministers to the girls at Samarcand and this year gave thirty-six New Testaments to the young converts. Two assistants have been elected to help Mrs. Harris, one to visit in the eastern part of the association and one to visit in the western part.

Tar River Association, Mrs. Ada S. Parker, Superintendent, more than reached their financial goal and a greater consciousness of stewardship is evident in all of the societies.

Raleigh Association, Mrs. Nathan Brooks, Jr., Superintendent, planned definite group meetings for the purpose of hearing Dr. I. N. Patterson, of Africa, Mrs. A. R. Gallimore and Mrs. Bunn Olive.

These are some of the high lights, and I pray tribute to these who carry the light with their visits, their letters, and their prayers.

But the light reveals also many dark places and there is much more to be done.

We face a future in which methods of doing the Lord's work will undergo a change, our mode of living will be changed—many days will bring experiences through which we have never gone. Upon the heart of each leader in W. M. U. work may the words of the Psalmist be written: "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path"—then on to Victory.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. R. STONE,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF ROCKY MOUNT DIVISION

As a preface to this report of Woman's Missionary Union work well done in the Rocky Mount Division, I would like for each of you to pay particular attention to see what it represents of deep spiritual purpose, of sacrificial effort, and of the great final goal. What a vivid and living glow the facts and figures thus acquire!

In all three associations emphasis has been placed on organizing new missionary societies and young people's organizations as well as enlisting more of our Baptist women in missionary activities. We can't boast of prideful accomplishments along this line, but there has been some progress made.

The Roanoke reports a gain of three missionary societies and all three associations show an increase in young people's organizations. Mission Study, Personal Service, and Stewardship have been stressed, and gains made according to reports.

The Atlantic Association, with Mrs. L. B. Daniel as leader, has held to its high standard of efficient work. Especially does it excel in its financial goal for the year, giving a five per cent increase through the Co-operative Program and nearly five times as much to the Hundred Thousand Club as in the preceding year, thus oversubscribing its quota by $37.00.

The Neuse Association, Mrs. J. C. Hough leading, has stressed Mission Study and Stewardship. This association also met the five per cent increase in gifts through the Co-operative Program and gave two and a half times as much as the preceding year to the Hundred Thousand Club, exceeding its apportionment by $88.00. The First Church, Goldsboro, through its Lottie Moon Christmas Offering of 1941, is supporting this year a missionary on the foreign field.

The Roanoke Association, under the leadership of Mrs. W. D. Joyner, has three new missionary societies and fourteen new young people's organizations. Fifteen churches have full graded unions, and five of these, Enfield, Farmville, Fountain, Scotland Neck, and Stoney Creek, are A-1 Unions. There was an increase in all gifts of over $2,000.00 in this Association. With a large quota of $2,800.00 to the Hundred Thousand Club the Roanoke gave $2,675.76, not quite making the full aim. Nevertheless we feel gratified, because it meant hard and prayerful work.

We are especially grateful that our Division went over the top in meeting its quota in gifts to the Hundred Thousand Club. This victory is pre-eminently significant, as we were the only Division in the State to meet its full quota. It represents a splendid devotion to the task on the part of all leaders and presidents of missionary societies.

Mrs. Maddrey writes: "The Lord has blessed the young people's work of our Division during the past year through the efforts of our unusually fine associational young people's leaders. We are everlastingly grateful for them, for their consecration, for their interest in Kingdom progress, and for their willingness to be used for Him in building for tomorrow through the missionary education of our youth.

In January of last year, all day conferences of W. M. S. presidents and counselors were held in each association. The meetings have proved of inestimable value in planning the work of the year and in aiding counselors new in the work to catch a vision of its scope and importance. All the organizations gave more to the 100,000 Club than was suggested by the State officers, with the exception of the Sunbeams.

Each association has a Y. W. A. Council, which met either annually or semiannually last year with splendid attendance and such fine speakers as Miss Elma Currin (now Mrs. Robertson) from the Southern Office and Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer from the State Office.

The Royal Ambassador Conclave held with the Kinston Church in November was gratifying. Approximately 175 boys came to think on "Being Ambassadors of Peace" and to hear Edward Chow, of Wake Forest and Shanghai, bring his great messages. Among the Girls' Auxiliaries and Royal Ambassador Chapters emphasis is being given to improving the type of work done through the Forward Steps and the Ranking System. At present we have among the G. A.'s of the Division several Queens and Queen Regents with prospects of Queens with a Sceptre by the G. A. House Party. We have two Ambassador Plenipotentiaries, and were honored at the Meredith R. A. Camp last June to have an R. A. from our Division, Virgil Helms, of Scotland Neck, named Ambassador-in-Chief.

We can't say too much in praise of our splendid young people's leader, Mrs. Gordon Maddrey. Because of her efficiency, willingness to serve, attention to detail and planning and consecration to duty and service in Kingdom work the work with young people has gone forward. After six years we are losing her because she has moved from our Division, but we trust we shall prove to her our love and loyalty by holding high the ideals she has set, and by making a steady improvement in young people's work.

Our Divisional meeting with the Immanuel Church, Greenville, in October proved one of the very finest. With nearly 500 in attendance and with such speakers as Miss Pearl Johnson, of Union, S. C., Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, and Miss Mary Currin on our program the result was a day full of inspiration and information.

I once heard J. Edgar Hoover speak on the increase in juvenile delinquency. He said this pertinent thing: "What America needs today is spirituality." I wish all our women in our Division could realize that we can have that without money and without price. Without money and without material price every missionary society, whether a large city society or a tiny group in a rural church, can be a group to which people can look and say: "That organization radiates spirituality." This is the ideal we pray for in the Rocky Mount Division.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. BRUCE BEASLEY,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF WILKESBORO DIVISION

The second annual meeting of the Wilkesboro Division of Woman's Missionary Union met with the Elkin First Baptist Church, October 9th. The attendance was doubled over the previous year, showing that our mountain women are getting more missionary-minded. Twelve of the thirteen associations of this Division were represented and reported some organized woman's work. All superintendents gave short reports of their work. At this time, I would like to present them by name. Time and space do not permit me to say for them all the beautiful things in my heart. Their faithfulness and loyalty have made this report possible.

A total of 92 women's societies and 112 young people's societies was recorded for the year. Nine new W. M. S. and 18 new young people's societies show a small but appreciable net increase over the previous year. One hundred and fifty mission study classes were reported and three hundred and twenty-one tithers. Our gifts for the year were $10,749.62 to Co-operative Program and $995.62 to 100,000 Club. We exceeded our apportionment to Co-operative Program but did not reach our goal of $1,500.00 for the 100,000 Club. We hope to reach this by the end of 1942. The divisional executive committee meeting was held in connection with the pastors' conference in February with Miss Mary Currin, of Raleigh, assisting.

We were inspired and encouraged in our annual meeting by the presence and contribution of our State officers: Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, President; Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Mary Currin, Young People's Leader; Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mission Study Chairman; Mrs. Gordon Middleton, Personal Service Chairman; also, Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, newly elected field work, all of Raleigh. The missionary inspirational message was given by Miss Pearl Johnson, of South Carolina, a missionary to China.

Miss Ellen Daniel, who has been acting Young People's Leader, has done a great deal of mission study, especially for the Surry Association, where she has been missionary during the year. We are grateful for her services. Also grateful are we for the services of Mrs. Paul Davis, Divisional Mission Study Chairman, whose skits and clever presentation of mission study books inspired to greater study. Mention cannot be made of all who have contributed to the missionary fervor of our group, but for each and all we express deepest appreciation.

In many of our associations the uneducated ministry and antagonism to organized woman's work reminds us of the spirit that prevailed in the South in 1888. How we need the light!

"To give Light and to save Life" was the beautiful motto inscribed upon the famous Eddystone Lighthouse, on the coast of England. What could be more appropriate to express the office of a lighthouse than these words? They express, also, with equal beauty, the office which Jesus came to fill as the Light of men and the Saviour of men. And Jesus said, "Ye are the light of the world." How well are His lights shining in the Wilkesboro Division W. M. U.? Let us keep them shining brightly.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. EARL JAMES.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

With joy and gratitude to our Heavenly Father who has led us through another year, I bring greetings from the nine associations in the Wilmington Division.

Our nine superintendents have been loyal to the work and to them I am deeply grateful. We pay special tribute to two faithful, untiring superintendents, who served several years, namely, Mrs. R. J. Hall, of Bladen Association, and Mrs. F. L. Young, of New South River, and welcome Mrs. W. F. Williamson, of Bladen, and Mrs. L. A. Gavin, of New South River, as their successors.

Some of our associations have had hindrances to progress but there has been a general spirit of enthusiasm to go forward and some very gratifying achievements have been made. Bladen, Brunswick, Burnt Swamp, Eastern, New South River, Robeson, and Wilmington Associations reached aim for Co-operative Program.

Bladen, Burnt Swamp, Columbus, Eastern, and Robeson went beyond goal for 100,000 Club.

Burnt Swamp has missionary societies in largest per cent of churches, and mission study classes. They had an all-day mission study for association for all grades and six churches were well represented.

Columbus Association established a permanent love gift for the H. H. McMillans of China. The young people in that association deserve honorable mention, they are doing fine work. They went $133.00 beyond their goal.

Dock Association, newly organized, reports two new societies.

One of the greatest joys of the Eastern is the continued support of Miss Katie Murray in China, and a kindergarten teacher in China, and four orphans clothed at Mills Home. Temple W. M. S. gave $100.00, and Winter Park, $63.00, in Wilmington Association, to support a Bible woman in China.

Robeson Association made ten points on Standard of Excellence. Mrs. Hedgepeth, with officers and leaders, held a wonderful meeting for old and young, which it was my pleasure to attend.

Four churches have been added to our Division; we now have 320; 191 W. M. S.; 70 Y. W. A.; 104 G. A.; 77 R. A.; and 116 Sunbeam Bands. We have gained 11 W. M. S.; 6 Y. W. A.; 2 Sunbeam Bands, and lost 9 G. A. and 3 R. A.; 37 young people's societies have been organized, making total young people 384. Members of W. M. S., 4,527; Y. W. A., 730; G. A., 1,088; R. A., 665; Sunbeams, 463; total, 8,401. One hundred twenty-six churches have no missionary society. Number full graded churches, 41. Number Recorders taken, 857; Royal Service, 1,048; World Comrades, 251; The Window of Y. W. A., 130. There is marked increase in Personal Service work and observance of Seasons of Prayer. Thanks be unto God for His blessings making possible the large increase in gifts cast into His treasury. Our gifts to 100,000 Club were $4,166.28. Increase over 1940 of $2,284.73. Total gifts, $33,169.51. Total increase, $6,061.45.

Mission study increases our vision and gifts. There were 337 mission study classes held, an increase of 34. Eight hundred and twenty-three tithers were reported, small gain of 88.

Every association had inspirational annual meetings and good attendance. The young people's meetings were very helpful.

It was my pleasure to attend the meetings of the Eastern and Wilmington and the young people's meetings in both; special meeting in Robeson, divisional meetings in July at Whiteville and October at Winter Park. These were wonderful meetings. At Whiteville we were thrilled with the presence and messages of Dr. H. H. McMillan, of China, followed with special offering of $52.00 for China relief, and every association carried white shower for our Baptist Hospital, amounting to more than $200.00.

At Winter Park we were blessed with the presence and messages from Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mrs. G. K. Middleton, Miss Mary Currin, State officers, and Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, our new field secretary, and the great message by Miss Pearl Johnson, of China. This was the twentieth year of the Divisional Superintendent's service, and she is grateful for the kind honors bestowed on her at the meeting.

The Divisional Conclave for Royal Ambassadors was held in November at Whiteville and about 200 were present. The meeting was a great blessing to all who attended, particularly the great messages of Rev. J. R. Allen, missionary from Brazil.

Miss Lila Watson, of Florence, S. C., missionary from China, brought blessings to some of our associations.

Miles traveled by Superintendent, 1,031; letters and postals written, 227.

May we more completely dedicate our lives and possessions to our Master this year, and as we pray, may we trust Him more fully to bless our service for Him.

Respectfully submitted,

MACY COX,

Divisional Superintendent.

These reports were followed by the president's message. Mrs. Turner chose as her subject, "Let There Be Light."

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Throughout this year we shall be thinking and talking about Light—Light with its unlimited possibilities of illustration and development. Light so familiar and yet so mysterious. Light so desperately needed in this day in which we are now living.

Our watchword is a prayer of the Psalmist that God will send out his light and his truth. May it become our prayer, a prayer that we will help to fulfill.

I want to say a few very simple things about Light. First, the source of light. All light comes from God. It was God who in the long ago said, "Let there be Light," and there was light. He set the lights in the heavens to rule by day and by night. There they have ruled ever since, save when God himself has occasionally called a blackout.

The study of these lights has proven a fascinating adventure, reluctantly yielding some secrets to the faithful devotees. But to the many they have declared the power and the glory of God, and, with the added pledge of the bow set in the clouds, are the assurance of God's continued care and His purpose for good. "While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease." This promise has been kept. It will still be kept. In these uncertain days we need to remind ourselves of these unchanging and unshakable realities.

But the lights set in the heavens were not the only lights God gave to man. Throughout the long and varied history as recorded in the Old Testament God spoke to Moses from the burning bush, led His people by the pillar of cloud and of fire and by the light of His truth. Then in the fullness of time God again looked out over a world of darkness, and again He sent Light—the Light of the World.

Perhaps the simplest and yet the most profound function of light is its power to dispel darkness. It was for this that it was created. It is the only power which can overcome darkness. We may grope our way through the dark. Many do. Sound can penetrate darkness. Only light can conquer it.

If this be true, then times of greatest darkness most urgently demand light. Were there no darkness, no light would be needed. To meet this need the Light of the World came.

In that beautiful first chapter of John's Gospel it is said, "And the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness comprehendeth it not." The modern translations render it a bit differently. Goodspeed translates it, "The darkness could not put it out." Nor has the darkness ever been able to put it out., Often it has been tried. Always it has failed. It is being tried again today. Again it will fail. The darkness cannot put it out.

In the last World War an eminent British statesman remarked, "The lights are going out all over Europe." Some did go out, but many others were lighted. Just recall the new mission fields we entered following that historic conference in London in 1920. Today there are those who would again cry out, "The lights are going out all over the world." Some are flickering. Some may be dimmed for a season, but others are already being lighted. "The light shineth in the darkness and the darkness cannot put it out."

There is no denying the fact that the day in which we are living is dark. It is a dark day on many of our mission fields, dark and threatening. It is dark here in the homeland, when we face the actual facts and figures. For this reason we must give heed that our own lights are kept burning. Some are burning, and burning brightly. Our gifts last year were the largest we have had, save for the year of our Ruby Anniversary. We report the greatest number of organizations and increased interest in mission study and other phases of our work. Our missionaries here are eagerly longing to return to their fields, and are preparing for increased usefulness when they do return. Those who have been allowed to remain in the Orient are bearing a marvelous testimony amid great hardship and grave danger.

The Chinese Ambassador to the United States, who is not a Christian, is quoted as saying:

"As an unreconstructed heathen, I wish to pay my respects to all the Christian missionary workers, Protestant or Catholic, who have aided China during these years of China's war of resistance to aggression. Throughout these years many of the missions have lost their property and have suffered casualties in personnel. Their women workers have been sent away and have suffered great indignities, physical hardships and misery because of wartime troubles.

"But as far as I know, no missionary worker has deserted his post, whether he be a member of the Mission for Lepers or a medical missionary or a teacher in a mission school. Their missions have become centers of refuge for thousands, and in some cases for tens of thousands of Chinese civilian sufferers, particularly women, children and the aged.

"It is this spirit of service, this devotion to work, this sympathy for the cause of China's independence and freedom that has won for them the warm admiration, high respect and love of the Chinese people. And I sincerely believe that it is not proselyting, but this truly religious spirit of service that will continue to win the sympathy and support of the entire Chinese nation for the Christian missions in all the years to come."

Yes, the light is still shining in the Orient. It shines, too, on other mission fields. We have been thrilled during the past year when two of our missionaries, rescued from the Zam Zam, again secured passage and arrived safely in Africa. One was young, the other mature, but the same spirit urged them on as they carry the light to this darkened land.

In places of less danger, perhaps, but always amid difficulty, is the light being carried to the darkened sections of our own land and around the world. In England, even amid war and devastation, they are not letting the Sesqui-Centennial of modern missions pass unnoticed. In a missionary sermon recently, the Secretary of the Church Missionary Society, after tracing the development of the missionary movement from the days of Carey, said:

"We stand, therefore, on the threshold of a new day. The Church of God has been called out, it is at work, it is witnessing in these days of war; but it is not called into being simply to help the world in a time of crisis. It reaches out in a new service to the days that lie ahead, so that, if my deduction is correct, then the greatest era of the Christian Church lies immediately ahead. The expansion of Christianity in the past will appear small compared to what may be if the Church will respond to the call of God in our day. When missionary work began in its modern phase through Carey and others, the prayers of Christian folk behind those missionaries changed the history of the world. The issues then as now depended upon the faithfulness of Christian people to carry out God's commission, and this is our challenge today. 'As My Father hath sent me, even so send I you.' Our Lord in His darkest hour bade His disciples 'Be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.'

The great modern missionary movement had its birth at a time when England was passing through dark, troubled times. Judson and Rice went out from America during the war of 1812. Let us now be preparing for the day which is sure to dawn.

Light has many meanings from "not dark, or condition essential to vision" on to "radiance or glow." Perhaps the condition essential to vision is most generally needed.

Light reveals, thus making possible a safe way of life. Light reveals dangers, discloses pitfalls and obstacles along the way. Especially grateful are we for traffic lights and highway flares. Thrice happy are those who heed such signal lights.

Light not only shows dangers, but it reveals the beauties of life. Indeed, many are they who have been led into a safe way of life by the sheer beauty of the way of light.

Again, light not only reveals, but it imparts life and health. Familiar fact this—even our plants must have light, and the proper light, else they wither and die.

"I asked the roses as they grew
Richer and lovelier in their hue,
What made their tints so rich and bright;
They answered, 'Looking toward the light.'
Ah, secret dear, sad heart of mine;
God meant my life to be like thine,
Radiant with heavenly beauty bright
By simply looking toward the light."

Even before the sunbath had gained its present popularity, the value of the sun's rays to health was widely recognized. Today the ultra violet ray, the X-ray, and many others are checking disease and relieving suffering. The discovery and development of radium, to which Madam Curie and her husband devoted their lives, seems almost a miracle, both in its results, and in the patient research which made these results possible.

Even more remarkable than these has been the miracle wrought on human lives through the power of divine light.

Through the light of His Word safe pathways have been found and ways of radiant living. In the light of His teaching old truths have become illuminated. In the light of His presence health, strength and vigor have come to weak and puny Christians. In the light of His fellowship commonplace Christians have become flaming evangelists, pointing others to the Light of the World.

Holman Hunt, an artist of a generation ago, gained his fame from his religious paintings. The best known of these is "The Light of the World." It used to hang in St. Paul's Cathedral in London. Perhaps some have seen it there; all have seen copies. Christ is represented as standing at the door knocking. A lantern is in His hand. It is night. In order to get the right effect of light and shadow the artist had to do much of the work at night. It is said that he would paint from nine at night until five in the morning, with his feet in a sack of straw to ward off the cold. May we as faithfully endure some discomfort in order to present the Light of the World to our generation.

Just one word more. It is the nature of light to shine. He who said, "I am the Light of the World," said also, "Ye are the light of the world." He further said, "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." I wonder if we become discouraged because we want the glory. But especially would I emphasize that He says, "Let your light shine," not "Make it shine." Light will shine if unhindered. Much might be said about trimmed wicks, clear sparkling lamp chimneys, and unfailing supply of oil. Or, with our modern lights, proper connection and suitable bulbs might be emphasized. All is contained in the one command, "Let your light shine." Do not obscure it, do not hinder it. Whatever is necessary for you to do, do it. Let your light shine.

Those of us who belong to an older generation have loved the picturesque figure of Harry Lauder, an entertainer of former days. Lauder, a Scotch nobleman, lost his only son in the last World War. Brokenhearted, he determined to give himself to cheering the soldiers in the camps with his songs and ballads and his bagpipe.

The story is told how on one occasion, after singing "Roaming in the Gloaming," he began talking with the soldiers in his whimsical way about Lamplighters as he had watched them in the gloaming. He said that, as he sat in his room, he could not see the Lamplighter but he did see the lights flash one by one, until the whole street became a stream of light. He could not see the man, but he knew where he was by the lights. And he appealed to those soldier boys to become Lamplighters for the sake of those who should come after them.

I bring this same appeal to you. We may be only in the Gloaming today. The blackness of the midnight may be ahead. A Chinese proverb says, "It is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness." Your candle will be needed. Other candles must be lighted, too. This is no time for a blackout of Christian testimony and mission activity. Here is one place where light may shine with all its radiance.

More and more are our women responding to the call of the Red Cross and other urgent activities. It is well that this is so. But let us guard sacredly our religious responsibility and mission activities. As we are cutting out luxuries for defense promotion, let us surrender the hours of social activity rather than those of religious obligation. Ours is a tremendous responsibility to strengthen morale, build up faith, and promote missions in such a time as this. Let us take as our slogan "Remember Jesus Christ."

On the famous Eddystone Lighthouse there is the inscription, "To Give Light and to Save Life." Erected at an especially dangerous spot, the present structure is the fourth tower that has been built. Each one has been more strongly built, and more securely anchored to its rocky foundation. What a challenge this presents! It was for this the Light of the World came. It was to send this Light that Woman's Missionary Union was organized. For this its many departments have been added. Let us see to it that our organizations are strongly built and securely anchored to the one foundation. Let us keep our lights burning, for to us is committed the privilege of giving light and saving life.

Hymn—"The Morning Light Is Breaking."

Under the subject of "Indirect Lighting," Mrs. T. M. Pittman, Margaret Fund Chairman, and Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mission Study Chairman, gave their reports.

REPORT OF THE MARGARET FUND FOR 1941

If the past year has been a time of great tension and uneasiness for all Americans, how much greater the anxiety borne by our missionaries and their families. Certainly the Margaret Fund students are bearing the heavy burden in their youth. In some cases both parents are in occupied China, while the children are in schools in our country.

With our North Carolina students there were fathers who returned to China. Mothers started out to join them but were turned back. This left mothers with from one to five children on this side while the men of the families were on the other half of the globe with no prospect of communication for the duration.

One boy, with the restraint of youth, wrote, "You may be interested to know that my father, so far as the Foreign Mission Board knows, is in the hands of the Japanese in Canton." A girl, with the optimism of the young, wrote, "Right now Daddy is in China, shouldering a gun probably. Somehow I can't get worried over whether or not he'll come out all right. I simply know without any doubt that he will." The same faith was shown by Mary Hester Powell, whose mother was on the torpedoed Zam Zam. So confident was she of her mother's safety, that news of Mrs. Powell's rescue came as no surprise.

Our sympathy and prayers have been with these young people and their parents separated by the terrible circumstances of war. May our faith in the Kingship of God and the certainty of the coming of His Kingdom hold through all of this time, and be passed on to these young lives.

The Margaret Fund had one hundred and eight students under its care in 1941, bringing up the total for the past twenty-six years to 433. In North Carolina there were seventeen Margaret Fund students studying in four Baptist colleges and one State College. While the societies are no longer asked to mother these young people, many have found ways of remembering them. A large box of pecans was sent to the five Margaret Fund girls at Meredith. One of the girls was beautifully helped in fitting out her winter wardrobe, and other thoughtful gifts could be mentioned.

The State Chairman had the happy privilege of sending out the three Burney Gift checks to each of the seventeen students. Their letters of appreciation would well bear quoting if there were space. Two of them wrote of their happy Christmas holidays spent with large groups of relatives. One said, "It reminded me of our good old African Christmases. The last I heard from Mother and Daddy told me about their Ogbomosho Christmas and a huge turkey, the gift of one of the kings. They seem to consider that they are in about the safest place they could be during the war." Another wrote, "Christmas this year made me think of the Christmases in China. All of the missionaries in Chinkiang used to have a common tree and draw names for small gifts. We had barrels of fun trying to pull jokes with our choice of gifts."

While there has been no stress on giving to the Burney Gift, the money has come in before it was needed. From the total of $555.25 the following payments were made:

To Mrs. W. J. Cox, Treasurer Southern W. M. U. Burney Gift..	$255.00
To Edward Chow, Chinese student, Wake Forest.....	30.00
To Anabel Calliero, student, Meredith.....	60.00
To John McMillan's operation.....	153.65
To W. M. U. Expense Fund, refund loan.....	50.00
Total paid out.....	$548.65
Balance in hand.....	6.60
Total.....	$555.25

These funds have been handled through the State Margaret Fund Chairman, the money being sent directly to her. This method was fully discussed at the meeting of the Divisional and Associational Superintendents held in November. The following suggestion was adopted at that meeting to be passed upon at this W. M. U. Annual Session:

"That the Burney Gift of the Margaret Fund be secured by Associational and Divisional Margaret Fund chairmen at their respective meetings, and through contributions sent to the State Margaret Fund Chairman."

In submitting this report the present chairman wishes to express her appreciation of the co-operation of the women and to ask that a new chairman be chosen for the coming year.

The Woman's Missionary Union may be reminded of the Margaret Fund permanent motto and of the watchword for 1941—"Keep that which is committed to thy trust" (1 Tim. 6:20). "As the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart" (Eph. 6:6).

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. T. M. PITTMAN,

Chairman of North Carolina Margaret Fund.

REPORT OF MISSION STUDY CHAIRMAN

It is with gratitude that the mission study for 1941 is reviewed. There has been an appreciable increase in the number of classes reported. A total of 2,054 classes are reported for Woman's Missionary Societies, an increase of 224 over 1940; the young people's organizations report 1,331, an increase of ten per cent. The total number of classes is 3,385, an increase of 331.

In 1940 six associational chairmen reported on time each quarter, and also sent the annual report, thus rating as "perfect reporters."

In 1941 this six again made a perfect record, and, in addition, nineteen others attained this distinction. Following are the names of these associations and their chairmen: Atlantic, Mrs. W. G. Dixon; Beulah, Miss Ella Thompson; Blue Ridge, Mrs. W. B. Connally; Brushy Mountain, Mrs. R. P. Casey, Caldwell, Mrs. J. A. Boldin; Carolina, Mrs. A. W. Drake; Chowan, Mrs. C. A. Arrington; French Broad, Mrs. B. M. Canup; Gaston, Mrs. I. E. Walters; Johnston, Mrs. H. F. Harrill; Kings Mountain, Mrs. W. D. Bostick; Liberty, Mrs. I. G. Greer; Little River, Mrs. R. F. Hall; Mount Zion, Mrs. C. C. Cox; Pee Dee, Mrs. W. H. Moore; Randolph, Mrs. Arthur Presnell; Roanoke, Mrs. L. P. Wooten; Sandy Creek, Mrs. W. E. Warner; South Fork, Mrs. J. L. Putnam; Tar River, Mrs. Martha White; Transylvania, Mrs. J. W. Glazener; Tuckaseegee, Mrs. Lucy Crawford; Wilmington, Mrs. Oscar Applewhite; West Chowan, Mrs. L. A. Perry; Yadkin, Mrs. P. P. Davis.

The rapidly increasing use of reading cards and stamps is a source of gratification. Just last week there came a letter from a small rural church reporting that thirty-five books of missionary interest have been read by the women of that society within the past year, and that nothing has ever so stimulated missionary interest among the members. Similar testimony comes from other societies, but many have not yet adopted this simple plan of increasing the knowledge of missionary endeavor and motive.

Though we give thanks for what has been accomplished, as we think of what a report would be, did each organization reach even the minimum requirements, we exclaim in the words of Miss Nannie Burroughs at our Interracial Conference last summer, "God forgive us for the petty done, the vast undone!"

REPORT OF W. M. U. TRAINING SCHOOL

A significant year in the life of the Training School was the year 1941. The dream of the past five years became a reality with the completion and occupancy of the new building on the beautiful site at 2801 Lexington Road.

In early September some 140 former students went to Louisville from all over the South for a home-coming and house-warming both in one. At this time the first service of the progressive dedication was held. The hearts of these former students were made glad because of the beauty of the building, and especially of the quiet, worshipful atmosphere of the Fannie Heck Memorial Chapel.

To visit the attractive library with its rows of steel shelving and its number of well ordered books would delight the women of North Carolina, since our gifts to the building were designated to the library as our North Carolina memorial to Mrs. W. N. Jones. An additional $1,000 we gave for the furnishing of this library, and thus it becomes a more worthy memorial.

The boarding students number one hundred (100) this first year in the new building. North Carolina claims eleven (11) of them. Their names follow:

Laura Hilliard.....	Cary
Annie Ivey.....	Burlington
Versa Russell.....	Troy
Kathryn Abee.....	Hickory
Martha Eller.....	Salisbury
Mabel Ruth Harrell.....	Edenton
Virginia Anne Craver.....	Boonville
Mildred Jennings.....	Lumberton
Sara Kanoy.....	Greensboro
Pearl York.....	Staley
Mary Lennon	Delco

Miss Versa Russell, of Troy, is using the Louis Castlebury Fund for the year 1941-42.

Continue to remember the school with your gifts for current expenses and loan funds and forget not to pray much that the school may be "as a light set on a hill."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. C. FEEZOR.

Both Mrs. Feezor and Mrs. Pittman resigned, much to the regret of the president, who expressed appreciation for their splendid service.

Mrs. Turner spoke of the library at the Training School and its furnishings, which have been contributed by our North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union in honor of Mrs. W. N. Jones, President Emeritus. She also reported that the Training School is now entirely paid for, both the building and its entire furnishings, and has been recently dedicated.

Miss Macy Cox asked that the audience express their appreciation to all the State officers by standing. It was then moved that the audience stand in appreciation of Miss Cox's twenty-one years of service today.

Rev. C. A. Leonard spoke briefly of the Commission and passed envelopes for subscriptions.

Miss Mary Christian was presented next as the closing speaker. She spoke from Isaiah 62. She called on all present to put all hate and prejudice out of their hearts and be disturbed over the needs of the people of the world and let the Light of Eternity shine and give us the proper sense of values and be completely dedicated to Him.

After united Scripture reading, we were dismissed with the solo, "The Lord Is My Light," Miss Margaret Bagby.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 12

The closing session of the Convention was opened with the song, "Jesus Shall Reign Wherever the Sun," followed by prayer by Miss Ruby Daniel.

Minutes read and approved.

Registration announced: delegates, 617; visitors, 436.

The Memorial Service followed, Mrs. Briggs reading the list of the deceased while the audience stood. The solo, "Lead Kindly Light," was sung by Mr. William E. Shields, medical student at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

The plan of work for 1942 was presented by Mrs. Briggs. After careful consideration of each phase of the recommendations as printed, they were unanimously adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION FOR THE YEAR 1942

With gratitude to God for His blessing upon our service and appreciation for the splendid co-operation of our women and young people, we face the challenging responsibility of this another year of missionary endeavor. We therefore recommend:

First, Watchword. "O send out Thy light and Thy truth." Psalm 43:3.

Hymn—"The Light of the World Is Jesus."

Second, That we adopt the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention as our guide as to methods, plans and standards. We further urge that our women study this Year Book, noting changes in this year's plans and as far as possible bring their organizations up to the high standard set. That special emphasis be placed on the fundamentals for which our Union stands, endeavoring thus to strengthen and deepen the spiritual life of our constituency. Also that our high moral standards shall be presented continually as a definite witness for Christ in this present time.

Third, Goals.

Increased gifts.

Enlarged membership.

Ten per cent increase in tithers.

Additional Mission Study classes.

Vitalized Personal Service.

Fourth, Literature. That continued emphasis be placed on the value of our missionary publications and that we strive to increase their circulation and also their use, "Royal Service," "The Window of Y. W. A.," and "World Comrades." That we continue to secure subscriptions to "The Commission," published by Foreign Mission Board, in Richmond, Virginia, and "Southern Baptist Home Missions," published by Home Mission Board in Atlanta, Georgia. That we reaffirm our loyalty and support of the "Biblical Recorder" and urge our constituency, especially the officers of societies, to subscribe to it.

Fifth, Personal Service. That we endeavor to keep our Personal Service plans in harmony with Southwide plans, and adapted to meet the rapidly changing activities around us. Conditions in and around our army camps offer a challenging opportunity for service. The need continues for sympathetic understanding and help for the underprivileged, the foreigners, the Negroes, and the needy in our midst. That the purpose behind every service we render to our neighbors in need be constantly kept in mind: Presenting the Saviour through Personal Service. That special emphasis be placed on leading individual members of our Woman's Missionary Societies to be Soul-Winners. Realizing that none can lead a soul to Christ, without the power and wisdom of a Spirit-filled Life, we urge that groups be formed in each society for prayer and personal preparation for personal service through the study of the Bible and obedience to its teachings. We further urge that we in no way be satisfied with our service unless we see souls being saved.

Sixth, Mission Study.I. That renewed emphasis be put upon:

A. Mission Study Institutes.

B. Church Schools of Missions.

C. Pioneer Classes.

D. The use of reading cards and stamps.

II. That there be continued efforts to enlist more women and young people in more mission study classes.

- III. That at least one of the recommended books on Missionary Bible study be studied each year.
- IV. That definite plans be carefully and prayerfully made for at least one year in advance by each Division, Association, and local Union.
- V. That more than ever before, in planning and preparation for Mission Study the guidance of the Holy Spirit be sought.
- VI. That definite results be expected—broader vision, deeper consecration, more earnest prayer, and increased joy in giving.

Seventh, Missionary Education of Young People. That the gravity of the world situation which affects peculiarly our youth and the missionary enterprise now and tomorrow, cause us such deep concern that we will dedicate our best efforts to their training in missions and that in promoting this work we follow the excellent plans laid down in the 1942 W. M. U. Year Book (pp. 23-25).

That all chairmen of stewardship, mission study, personal service in state, division, association, and church plan for these phases of young people's work with same interest and care as evidenced in work with women.

That we lead our young people into a deeper prayer life, urging individual and united prayer for world missions.

That we teach stewardship in every organization, making use of stewardship education leaflets to be secured from State W. M. U. Headquarters and using books on stewardship.

That every member of each young people's organization give through the Co-operative Program and to the Annie Armstrong, State Mission, and Lottie Moon Christmas Offerings and for relief of hunger and suffering.

That every organization give something toward the payment of our debt, taking as a minimum goal in 1942, 350 memberships.

That no organization have less than one mission study class during the year and that we emphasize the reading of books of missionary interest.

That we see to it that we have an average of three "World Comrades" to each organization and that we encourage mothers to provide "World Comrades" for boys and girls and "The Window of Y. W. A." for their daughters.

That we give a large place to the performance and reporting of directed personal service.

That we bring to all our young people missionary inspiration of highest type. We urge attendance upon the following:

Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Ridgecrest Assembly, May 31-June 3.

Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Meredith College, June 3-6.

Royal Ambassador Camp, Ridgecrest Assembly, June 3-6.

Royal Ambassador Camp, Meredith College, June 8-11.

Young Woman's Auxiliary Camp, Ridgecrest, June 23-July 3.

Associational Young Woman's Auxiliary Meeting twice a year.

Royal Ambassador Conclave in each Division, November 6-7.

Associational gatherings for Girls' Auxiliary and Royal Ambassadors, as planned by associational leaders.

That in view of the fact that many boys of Intermediate age in our churches may be drafted into the service of our country before the war closes, we place unstinted emphasis on our Royal Ambassador work, appointing in each Association an interested pastor or layman to help in the Association, promoting this work in co-operation with Division Royal Ambassador counselor and W. M. U. leaders in Association.

That there be held in each Association at least once during the year a missionary leadership conference for young people's counselors to be directed by the Associational Young People's leader.

That our Baptist nurses in hospitals and girls on college campuses call forth our deep concern which will result in their missionary development through Grace McBride (for nurses) and Ann Hasseltine Y. W. A.'s (for college young women).

Eighth, Margaret Fund. That continued interest in the Margaret Fund be sustained by the presentation of this work at associational meetings and also at local society meetings. That a small voluntary offering from societies be forwarded to State Margaret Fund Chairman, preferably during the summer months. This fund to be used to supply gifts of equal amounts to students three times during the school year. Since scholarships are now provided through the Annie Armstrong and Lottie Moon Offerings, the special offering for this purpose has been discontinued. However, gifts to the Endowment Fund are welcomed and bequests through wills are encouraged. Societies should continue to solicit "Margarets" to be enrolled in the Margaret Memorial Book. That contact be established with any Margaret Fund student attending college in your vicinity and friendly courtesies be shown to such student.

Ninth, Training School. That increased emphasis be placed on Woman's Missionary Union Training School in Louisville, Kentucky. Realizing that with the completion and opening of new buildings there will be an increase in number of applications, we urge that societies shall be very sure that applicants meet requirements for entrance before recommending them. That all applications shall be sent to Training School Trustee not later than June 1, and none shall be considered that come later than this date.

We again recommend that special emphasis shall be given to the Training School program during the summer, and that we take as our aim for the special offering $1,700.00 for current expenses and $1,200.00 for scholarships, this being in addition to the Castlebury Scholarship provided by Mrs. Joel Layton in memory of her father, Mr. Louis Castlebury, and the Edna R. Harris Scholarship.

Tenth, Orphanage and Hospital. While we recognize that these causes do not come definitely in our mission program, we urge continued and generous support through the churches of both the regular and the enlargement plans.

Eleventh, White Cross Work. That for the present year, supplies of linen for our hospital in Winston-Salem shall be promoted and reported through this department.

Twelfth, Stewardship and 100,000 Club. That emphasis be placed upon tithing and signing of stewardship cards by all members of Woman's Missionary Union organizations.

That each Woman's Missionary Society and Young People's organization strive to make at least a five per cent increase in gifts through Co-operative Program, which is the requirement for point three on the Standard of Excellence.

That we continue, with renewed interest to give to all Woman's Missionary Union special offerings.

That we adopt as our goal for the Baptist Hundred Thousand Club Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) over and above all other gifts. That this amount be divided proportionately among Divisions and Associations.

That each Associational Chairman contact the local churches, thus trying to secure their interest, co-operation and support in this our worthy goal, "A Debtless Denomination by 1945."

Thirteenth, Expense Fund. A special offering for traveling expenses of Union representatives and for expenses of our annual meeting and general office expense is asked from each society in the first or second quarter of each year, preferably in the month of May. An itemized account of this fund is published in the Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the report of the Treasurer.

Fourteenth, Special Seasons of Prayer. Rejoicing in the increased gifts and the enlarged missionary service and vision made possible through the special seasons of prayer, that we enter earnestly and prayerfully into the plans as outlined by our Southern Union for observance of Season of Prayer for Home Missions the first week in March and for Foreign Missions, November 30-December 4. Recognizing the growing need because of world conditions, we urge generous and prayerful support of relief work on mission fields and participation in seasons of prayer for world peace. That September be observed as State Mission Month with a special program on State Missions on or near September 7. That the offering may exceed that of last year.

Fifteenth, Heck Memorial. That we again observe the birthday of Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, June 16, with special program and offering. That continued emphasis be placed on the study of the life of Miss Heck.

That the Heck Memorial Offering be designated as follows:

$3,000.00 for work in China.

That any amount above these items shall be designated by Executive Committee—$125.00 for promotion of religious work at Baptist Hospital to have first place on list.

Sixteenth, Total Financial Aims: That we take as our financial aim $325,000.00. This amount to include gifts through Co-operative Program, 100,000 Club, and all special offerings of Woman's Missionary Union.

Summary of Financial Aims:

To Co-operative Program.....	$194,037.89
To Woman's Missionary Union Training School	1,700.00
To Woman's Missionary Union Training School Scholarship Fund.....	1,200.00
To Baptist Hundred Thousand Club.....	50,000.00
To State Expense Fund.....	2,000.00
Total aim, including all special offerings....	$325,000.00

REPORT OF APPRECIATION COMMITTEE

The report was presented by Mrs. A. J. Smith, of Goldsboro.

We, the delegates and visitors to the fifty-second session of the Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, wish to express our gratitude to the First Baptist Church of Winston-Salem for the gracious hospitality shown to us during the Convention.

We are grateful to the many who have opened their homes and entertained us so graciously, and to those who have provided means of transportation. We are grateful for the beautiful flowers that have added to the atmosphere of worship.

We wish to thank The Winston-Salem Journal and Twin City Sentinel for their fine interest and the excellent publicity given the proceedings of the Convention.

We wish to express our appreciation to the service stations which have extended the courtesy of convenient parking for our automobiles.

We are grateful to the Baptist Hospital and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine for arranging the tour of inspection through the new medical school and for the tea at the nurses home.

We wish to thank those who planned the luncheon for Meredith alumnae and the dinner for Training School alumnae.

We are especially grateful to the Program Committee, which arranged the interesting and worthwhile program for the session.

We wish to express our gratitude and affection for our President, who presided with grace and efficiency and who gave us such a splendid address, and to our secretary, who recorded with accuracy the proceedings of our meetings.

We are grateful to each speaker who has taken part on the program for the inspiration, the information, and the challenges we have received.

We are grateful to the organists and those who rendered special music, which has added greatly to the spirit of worship.

And to all those who have made this occasion both enjoyable and profitable we are grateful.

Mrs. Beasley read resolutions drawn up by the Nominating Committee in appreciation of Mrs. Turner during her six years of loyal, devoted and efficient service. The resolution included appreciation of the work of Mrs. Forest C. Feezor, retiring Training School Trustee, and Mrs. J. S. Farmer, retiring Mission Study Chairman.

Being mindful of the sane, consecrated, faithful leadership of Mrs. J. Clyde Turner during the six years she has served as our President, be it resolved that North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union express to Mrs. Turner our undying gratitude for her leadership. She has given herself with utter abandon to this great task, often at real cost of personal feelings and convenience. We deeply regret her conviction that she can no longer serve us in this capacity and we thank God upon every remembrance of her. Also included in this resolution of sincere appreciation are Mrs. F. C. Feezor and Mrs. J. S. Farmer, who have served so effectively and untiringly as Training School Trustee and Mission Study Chairman, respectively. Because of their zeal and sympathetic understanding of their work, the interest of North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union is more firmly established in these two great objects because of their efforts.

Mrs. B. A. Hocutt moved that all stand in grateful appreciation of Mrs. W. N. Jones and for her presence at this meeting.

The newly elected officers and Executive Committee were called to the platform and Mrs. Turner presented the new president, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, who in a few well chosen words accepted the great responsibility.

Mrs. J. Hundley Wiley, China, gave the closing devotional. In her message she spoke of whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world, and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our Faith.

Mrs. W. N. Jones, of Raleigh, led the closing prayer.

PROCEEDINGS
WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION
OF NORTH CAROLINA
FIFTY-THIRD ANNUAL SESSION

RALEIGH, N. C., March 10, 1943.

The Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, met in its fifty-third annual session in the fifty-seventh year of organization in the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Raleigh, Tuesday evening, March 9, 1943.

The President, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, called the meeting to order. The hymn for the year, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," was sung, and the W. M. U. Watchword, the Watchword for the year, and the North Carolina Watchword were repeated in unison.

Prayer, led by Mrs. J. Clyde Turner.

Mrs. W. D. Bostick, of Shelby, moved, and it was passed, that the calling of the roll be dispensed with, that those whose registration cards have been deposited with the secretary be recognized as constituting the organization, and that the secretary be empowered to add to this list from cards that may subsequently be deposited.

Mrs. John Wacaster, of Cherryville, moved that the program as arranged, with whatever changes may be necessary, be adopted as the order of business. Motion passed.

Mrs. J. M. Broughton, wife of the Governor of North Carolina, welcomed the delegates in behalf of the hostess church. Mrs. Farmer expressed appreciation for her gracious words, and on behalf of Mrs. Broughton extended an invitation to a tea for out-of-town delegates and visitors at the Executive Mansion Wednesday afternoon.

The three members-at-large of the nominating committee were elected as follows: From the west, Mrs. E. C. Horton, Canton; central section, Mrs. C. F. Gaddy, Raleigh; east, Mrs. J. L. White, Elizabeth City. Announcement was made of those already elected by their respective Divisions: Asheville Division, Mrs. R. L. Moore; Bryson City Division, Miss Margaret Wilson; Charlotte Division, Mrs. Mott P. Blair; Elizabeth City Division, Mrs. Sallie Parker; Greensboro Division, Mrs. Stafford R. Webb; Hickory Division, Mrs. John Wacaster; Raleigh Division, Mrs. Ford Burns; Rocky Mount Division, Mrs. E. B. Beasley; Wilkesboro Division, Mrs. A. O. Joines; Wilmington Division, Miss Macy Cox.

Mrs. Farmer presented the pages, who have been chosen to serve throughout the sessions: Jewell Wade, of New Bern, Queen with Scepter, and Eastern Girls' Auxiliary Queen; and Mary Sue Middleton, of Raleigh, Queen Regent.

Mrs. Farmer introduced Miss Mary Currin, State Young People's Secretary, who presided during the remainder of the evening. She presented her report, "Trophies for the King," assisted by Miss Kathryn Abee, the Tabernacle Sunbeams, Misses Wade, Middleton, and Eleanor Vereen.

TROPHIES FOR THE KING

"Go spread your trophies at His feet and crown Him Lord of all."

The most precious trophy we can lay at His feet is our youth, resplendent, shining radiant—with a vision clear, heart compassionate, hands outstretched to help. We pause to consider these, our gifts, to the King. We are under solemn obligation to grow this type of youth—to give missionary education to the church family. And what is it we are seeking to do as we measure up to this high demand? According to Missionary Education in Your Church, we are "seeking to cultivate in children, young people, and adults a Christlike concern for people of every class, race, and nation; give an intimate knowledge of how the Christian fellowship is being extended both at home and abroad: to promote a hearty participation in all endeavors to enlarge this fellowship of Christian faith and brotherhood until it covers the earth." Thus our work has three main objectives: the cultivation of Christlike attitudes, the giving of knowledge concerning missions, the call to action. The mother organization, the W. M. S., must be constantly reminded and urged on in perfecting such a program. The Young People's Director, the third vice-president, is the person for this important assignment. Doubtless, our young people's work could be improved 100 per cent if every Missionary Society had a working Young People's Director. Slightly more than 300 are on our mailing list.

Our field begins in the home with the mother teaching the tiny child to take missionary steps even as it begins to patter about on its own tiny feet. Every baby is a potential "Sunbeam Baby." Here and there, missionary societies are utilizing this important opportunity, but how few they are!

After the Sunbeam baby stage, how adequately are we enlisting our young people? At a recent Southern W. M. U. Convention, more than 200 Sunbeams sang:

"Let's form a chain of friendship
To reach the world around,
The links will be the girls and boys
Wherever they are found.
No matter what their color is,
Nor what their race may be:
Let's form a chain of friendship,
To reach the world around."

As in childlike eagerness they skipped around welcoming the children of other nations, I contemplated this fertile but virgin mission field in more than 1,700 North Carolina churches. We have 658 Sunbeam Bands, a slight net loss over 1941. Of these, 79 did A-1 work—121 made B and C grades.

Highest honor must go to our girls, for we had a net gain of 73 G. A. organizations, giving us 974 Girls' Auxiliaries at the beginning of 1943, leaving a few more than 1,460 churches without a missionary organization for girls; 109 were A-1, a pitifully small percentage; 141 reached B or C grades.

Only one-fourth of our churches have a Royal Ambassador Chapter, 539 chapters at this year's outset. Will we ever change the tomorrow of missions unless we can give vital missionary training to a larger majority of our boys? Only 63 chapters are A-1.

Even as in the case of our boys, so it is true with young women—we are enlisting far too few. In 559 organizations, which is a loss of 39, we have young women studying missions; 89 of these reached A-1 goal.

In addition to Ann Hasseltine Y. W. A.'s at Campbell, Chowan, Eastern Carolina Teachers College, Gardner-Webb, Lenoir-Rhyne, Mars Hill, Meredith, Pembroke, Western Carolina Teachers College, Woman's College, Wingate Junior, we can proudly add a Y. W. A. at Appalachian State Teachers College and Wake Forest College. Our Y. W. A. at the Baptist Hospital continues its A-1 record. Also our Y. W. A. at Watts Hospital in Durham is an example of what Baptist women could do in hospitals in their localities.

A careful study of our program of missionary education will reveal clearly the three main objectives and plans for realizing each. How well or how poorly we do it is the problem of each W. M. S. and each counselor. We seek to cultivate Christlike attitudes towards all people. However, this first is a by-product of all the varied activities of the group composing the organization. The influence of the counselor cannot be overestimated. At this point, are we bringing the finest workmanship to the cause of missions? The training of missionary education leaders must have an ever larger place in all our plans. In building Christlike attitudes, our emphasis on prayer for missions, individual and united, surely wields powerful influence. Of our 2,730 missionary organizations, 1,184 observed the Season of Prayer for State Missions, 1,099 for Home Missions, 1,114 for Foreign Missions. How could the counselors of the other half fail to make full use of this fruitful opportunity!

Through a never ceasing plan, we seek to develop Christlike attitudes in children and youth toward material things. Our plan includes the learning and understanding of what God's Word teaches concerning that which we wrongfully call "Mine"—294 counselors ordered the stewardship education leaflets and used them. Co-operative, creative projects as making stewardship scrapbooks, writing original stories on tithing, making posters illustrating what our money does—this type of stewardship emphasis is potent. In 291 churches the W. M. U. family shared such information with the entire church in Church Stewardship Night.

How did we measure up in meeting the second great objective, giving knowledge concerning missions? The regular meeting, with study of God's Word, a missionary program from World Comrades or The Window of Y. W. A., presents our best opportunity at this point. With 3,538 World Comrades subscriptions coming to North Carolina in 1942, an average of 1½ subscriptions to each organization, are we not playing at this job of giving knowledge? We have some wise, far-seeing parents who see that World Comrades is in the home. Printer's ink was never so potent as now. With 2,117 Window of Y. W. A., we have an average of almost 4 to each Y. W. A. Good, but not when we consider the 11,178 Y. W. A.'s who should be reading this up-to-the-minute missionary magazine.

Three hundred and ten Sunbeam Bands, 428 Girls' Auxiliaries, 209 R. A. Chapters, and 415 Y. W. A.'s had a special mission study class, thereby gaining knowledge concerning missions. Our new A-1 requirement is two mission study classes during the year. Perhaps this higher demand will call forth added emphasis on this important phase of our work.

In addition to the required work in local organizations, our program gives much emphasis to extra means for giving knowledge as missionary House Parties and Camps for young people and Forward Step work for Girls' Auxiliary and Ranking system for Royal Ambassadors. At our Western and Eastern G. A. House Parties we had 965 girls in attendance. May we not pause for a moment and speak words of praise of Mrs. H. M. Hocutt, who so splendidly planned and directed our Western G. A. House Party almost since its beginning? Her going on February 25 has taken from us a leader equipped in mind, heart, and hand. Her impress on western North Carolina, and particularly on her girlhood, will forever bless and challenge. Both House Parties were acclaimed by leaders and girls as the best yet.

Each year finds an ever-increasing number of G. A.'s and R. A.'s gaining knowledge through the Forward Steps and Ranking system work.

The event in the life of every Y. W. A. is Ridgecrest Y. W. A. Camp. 297 North Carolina Y. W. A.'s shared in 10 days of experiences, thrilling and inspiring.

Likewise our Royal Ambassador camps at Ridgecrest and Meredith, directed by Rev. J. Boyce Brooks and J. L. White, Jr., respectively, exceeded in attendance and spirit over all others. Our November R. A. Conclaves in ten divisions provided missionary inspiration for 1,115 R. A.'s and more than 100 pastors.

The unprecedented emergency facing the boys of our land should call forth immediate and deep concern on the part of every adult. This concern cannot be expressed in much talking and tears, but in strengthening each boy for service to God and country through better R. A. Chapters. In the majority of our Associations we now have a selected interested pastor who is giving thought and placing emphasis on R. A. work.

What place do we give for action? Under the term giving, which means much more than missionary offerings, let us see how our young people responded. Our giving takes two forms, the rendering of nonfinancial service and the giving of money. 1,260 organizations "engaged regularly in some face-to-face act of friendliness and service in the Spirit of Christ." Leaders of half of our organizations failed at a vital point because they did not lead those entrusted to them in some Community Missions project month by month.

The giving of actual money in 1942 represents a wonderful spirit on the part of many of our young people's groups. Our 2,790 organizations gave for objects beyond the local church $56,079.06, an increase of $5,418.43 over 1941. Of this amount, Sunbeams gave $7,489.93, G. A.'s $13,560.89, R. A.'s $8,336.48, Y. W. A.'s $26,691.76. Our goal for the 100,000 Club was $4,200, but we gave more than $6,000.00.

The main objects of our gifts were shared in by the various groups as follows:

	S. B.	G. A.	R. A.	Y. W. A.
Co-operative Program	$3,070.55	$7,152.22	$4,684.52	$15,812.33
100,000 Club	681.73	1,434.32	910.51	2,978.16
State Mission Offering.....	602.96	815.19	427.26	1,165.42
Annie Armstrong Offering....	722.87	949.14	521.55	1,456.09
Lottie Moon Offering.....	1,388.00	1,902.39	1,059.69	3,473.69

Thus we have come with trepidation conscious that we could have done much better, with rejoicing that as mothers in the home, counselors, divisional and associational superintendents and young people's leaders we can bear to the foot of the cross our gifts of love, time, energy in the form of youth with vision clear, with heart compassionate, with hands outstretched to help. Because of our love thus expressed, thousands of our boys, girls, and young women can also bring their trophies to the King of kings.

"I Worked for Men"

"I worked for men," my Lord will say
When we meet at the end of the King's Highway.

"I walked with the beggar along the road.
I kissed the bondsman stung by the goad.
I bore my half of the porter's load.
And what did you?" my Lord will say,
"As you traveled along the King's Highway?"

"I made life sweet," my Lord will say
When we meet at the end of the King's Highway.
"I smoothed the path where the thorns annoy.
I gave the mother back her boy.
I mended the children's broken toy.
And what did you?" my Lord will say,
"As you traveled along the King's Highway?"

"I showed men God," my Lord will say,
"As I traveled along the King's Highway.
I eased the sister's troubled mind,
I helped the blighted to be resigned;
I showed the sky to the souls grown blind.
And what did you?" my Lord will say,
When we meet at the end of the King's Highway.

—ROBERT DAVIS.

"And what did you? Did you show youth God?" This eternally important question we must answer each day in the months ahead. Let us show youth God through missionary education.

Adopted.

In Our Organizations—Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Executive Secretary, and the Divisional Superintendents, spoke to their reports, each emphasizing one phase of the work.

ACKNOWLEDGING HIS SOVEREIGNTY IN OUR ORGANIZATIONS

"And Jesus called unto Him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two, and gave them power over unclean spirits. And they went out and preached that men should repent. And when they were returned, they gathered themselves together unto Jesus and told Him all things, both what they had done and what they had taught."

Since that time Jesus has been continuously sending forth His followers to witness for Him. That is the work of every member of our Woman's Missionary Union organization. It is fitting, therefore, for us to relate what we have done and what we have taught. Are we conscious that it is to Him we are relating our achievements and our shortcomings, for there have been both, and do we feel that our record would merit His "Well done"?

Twenty-one societies can tell of having maintained a full graded A-1 Union during the year. These are: Asheboro First, Badin, Brush Creek, Cashie, Colerain, Conway, Creeksville, Dunn, East Flat Rock, Elizabeth City First, Fountain, Harris Chapel (Tar River Association), Leaksville, Lexington First, Madison, New Friendship, Salisbury First, Sanford First, Shady Grove, Spencer First, Waughtown, and North Winston.

In twenty-one churches every woman resident member made a contribution to missions. A list of these will be found in the report of the State Stewardship Chairman.

We began 1943 with 1,331 Woman's Missionary Societies, and a total of 3,976 W. M. U. organizations. Four hundred and eighty-three new organizations were added during 1942, but because of the large number which failed to send a report to the office, there was a slight loss in organizations for the year.

However, a membership of 85,563 is an increase of more than 2,000 over the previous year, and there was quite an increase in the number of titheers reported.

Again we are proud of our record for subscriptions to Royal Service, having exceeded our goal for the past three years.

For the first time since setting a goal for the Hundred Thousand Club the aim of $50,000 was reached. Again we will have the same goal to meet this year; each Society being expected to give at least as much as was given last year.

During October we had the pleasure of having Miss Ethel Harmon of Kentucky, missionary to Africa, speak at the ten divisional meetings, and visit the schools and colleges in the State. Miss Harmon's timely messages meant much to those who attended the meetings. During the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions in December Miss Mary Christian, Southwide W. M. U. Field Worker, spoke in several churches in the interest of the Lottie Moon Offering for Foreign Missions, inspiring her hearers with a desire to render better service and to give more liberally to the mission cause.

With genuine regret the resignation of Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, State W. M. U. Field Worker, was accepted, January 1. However, we were fortunate in being able to secure, February 1, Miss Kathryn Abree to succeed Miss Zentmeyer. Miss Abree, a North Carolina girl, is a graduate of the W. M. U. Training School in Louisville, Kentucky, and is well prepared for the work she has undertaken. We welcome her as a co-worker in this great task of worldwide missions.

Asheville Division, Mrs. J. R. Morgan, "Co-operative Program."

REPORT OF ASHEVILLE DIVISION

The Asheville Division has had a good year according to our measuring rods and computations. Our gain to the Co-operative Program was $1,685.54, and to the Hundred Thousand Club was $561.30, making a total gain over 1941 of $3,218.75.

It seems that every association in the Division made the 5 per cent increase in gifts to the Co-operative Program, and French Broad and Mitchell associations made their apportionments to the Hundred Thousand Club.

There was a gain of three full graded unions, seven societies, and 174 members. World Comrades subscriptions increased thirty-two, and Biblical Recorder subscriptions seventy. There was a slight increase in the number of societies observing seasons of prayer for State and Home Missions and Annie Armstrong Offering.

Reports indicated that the division has made progress in the work of Community Missions, in helping needy families, soul winning, and work in Vacation Bible Schools. A few have taken advantage of the hour for our work in camps, government hospitals, and with the transient service men. There has been an increase in Community Missions work by the young people's organizations. We are praying that God may use our Community Missions chairmen this year to instruct and inspire those that they may contact.

Mission Study has shown a decided decrease in numbers during the past year. We do not give figures, for we know many have failed to report all of the year's work, and so our firm conviction is that the women have done more thorough work than in the years past. Due to world conditions, we are persuaded that our women and young people are more "world minded," and are more deeply interested in the progress of missions. There is, also, a noticeable yearning on the part of our women for more Bible and prayer studies. We are thankful that Mission Study in all of its phases will better prepare us for a greater world of peace on earth, good will toward men.

Although we do not have gas and tires, our young people are not "walking." We have more than made our quota in the Hundred Thousand Club memberships. We have 150 more young people's societies, with 1,598 members. Eighty-two G. A.'s attended the House Party, twenty-eight R. A.'s attended R. A. Camp. We have twenty-three Queens, one Queen with Scepter, eight princesses, twenty-seven Ladies in Waiting, eighty-nine Maidens, twenty-nine Pages, ten Squires, two Knights, five Ambassadors, two Ambassadors Plenipotentiary—the highest R. A. rank.

There were eighty-one mission study classes in the young people's organizations, some of them association-wide with missionaries teaching.

Miss Zentmeyer's visit in our Division was a great inspiration to our young people. With faith in our young people, and their leaders, we face the future with courage.

Since January, 1940, our Stewardship work has been based upon three things: Information, Inspiration, and Work. The Divisional Chairman has kept in close contact with the Stewardship Chairman and Superintendent of each association by writing cards and letters as often as necessary for the progress of their work. She has attended each year the annual meetings of the seven associations, where she had opportunity to present the work to all the women assembled. She has also attended each annual meeting of the Division, as well as all the Executive Committee meetings of the same, thus providing further means of personal teaching and directing of the work. During the first year she stressed the Bible meaning of Stewardship, presenting later opportunities for service offered to every woman through Stewardship of personal possessions and talents, through tithes and offerings.

The results in general have been most gratifying. The Lord has graciously blessed the work. Some of the tangible proofs are: increased interest; more careful selection of chairmen capable of spiritual leadership; marked increase in gifts and offerings; as well as a deep desire to study Stewardship literature. Much has been accomplished; very much still remains to be done.

The Executive Committee is trying harder to co-ordinate our work than ever before, to get the best personnel in divisional chairmen, and to challenge each to lead the associational chairmen to "Places of joyous responsibility."

We regret to lose our faithful Mrs. H. W. Baucom as Young People's Leader from this Division to another part of the State. The work has grown under her leadership—always resourceful and optimistic. We pray for a worthy successor.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN,

Divisional Superintendent and Divisional Chairman.

Bryson City Division, Mrs. W. H. Covert, in absence of Miss Louella Brown, "Literature."

REPORT OF BRYSON CITY DIVISION

The leaders of the Woman's Missionary Union of Bryson City Division do pray "That all the Kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the Lord, even thou only." We are doing our bit toward bringing this about. However, over here in the mountains we cannot boast such visible results nor report large figures as some other Divisions. We are nevertheless marching steadily on without seeing great gains. We feel that our best work is to win and train individuals, one here, one there, until we have some leaders who can take over these organizations and lead them, care for them and keep them going. In this way we will have a more permanent structure than if we work for numbers.

The West Liberty Association, organized in 1941, met for the second time in June. This year they felt they were ready for a young people's leader, so elected one. Her work this year is to look after one Y. W. A.; to study manuals, books in young people's work, and to study her field by watching for leaders in which locality a society could foster a young people's organization most effectively.

Last summer we had Miss Zentmeyer with us for ten days. Some of this time she spent at Tapoco, where she organized a missionary society. This society is being looked after by our Associational Superintendent, Mrs. E. H. Corpening, Jr. Miss Zentmeyer spent the rest of the time in Western North Carolina and Macon associations.

In spite of gas and tire shortage, the Tuckaseegee Association continues to hold its quarterly associational meetings.

The Bryson City Church reports a school of missions held this February. It was a delightful and profitable week. They had with them Dr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, our home missionaries to the Cherokee Indians, and Mr. Alex Herring, of Cullowhee, formerly of China. Seven different classes were held each night during the week.

We have recently learned that Mrs. Sam Gibson has been appointed by the State Convention as a missionary in this Division. We know Mrs. Gibson and we know the needs of our Division. She will be a great help to us and we are looking forward with prayerful expectation to a better report next year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. H. COVERT,
Divisional Young People's Leader.

Charlotte Division, Mrs. C. B. Trammel, in absence of Mrs. Mott P. Blair, "Community Missions."

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

Charlotte Division began the year 1942 with a Workers' Conference at the First Baptist Church, Charlotte, on January 15th. This conference was well attended and a most worth-while meeting. Departmental leaders of the Division conducted group conferences, and the inspirational address was given by Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, who used the subject, "A Light That Shineth in a Dark Place."

The six associations of the Division have a total of 209 churches. There are W. M. U. organizations in 125 of these churches, leaving 84 churches in which the women and young people are yet to be enlisted. Mecklenburg is the only association reporting W. M. U. organizations in every church, and this splendid record is largely due to the years of faithful service by Mrs. B. S. Blanton, Superintendent.

Stanly Association had a successful year under the leadership of Mrs. George L. Hocutt, who reported 15 A-1 organizations, and one A-1 full-graded W. M. U. Mrs. T. S. Crutchfield, of Albemarle, is succeeding Mrs. Hocutt.

Cabarrus Association has also re-elected a former Superintendent, Mrs. L. R. Crooks, of Concord. Mrs. J. A. Seymour has been serving since Mrs. R. R. Hunter gave up the work.

Mission Study is ever a means of stimulating a missionary spirit among the women and young people of our churches. Two hundred and fifty-three classes were reported. Groups of churches, and whole associations in some cases, gathered together for Mission Study classes, to be taught by Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer. How thankful we are that we were privileged to have had Miss Zentmeyer with us for the year! Mecklenburg and Union associations reported the largest number of classes, and since Union lacked only one tying with Mecklenburg, we feel that a word of commendation should go to Union's Superintendent, Mrs. Mark Hill, and her co-laborers.

It is always a joy to learn of churches having a full-graded W. M. U. Twenty-three were reported in the Division, 18 of these being in Mecklenburg and Pee Dee associations, and in this case Pee Dee had an equal number with Mecklenburg, which speaks well for Mrs. J. D. Nash, Superintendent of Pee Dee, and her leaders.

Montgomery Association, with Mrs. C. B. Trammel, Superintendent, reports one rural church supporting a full-time native worker in China.

Young People's work is moving forward under the leadership of Mrs. John A. Bivens. With the help of Rev. W. M. Stallings, R. A.

Counselor, the Division had another fine Conclave in November. This Conclave met at St. Johns Church in Charlotte, and had as missionary speaker Rev. D. F. Stamps, of China. Roy Baucom, of Marshville, was elected Ambassador-in-Chief of the Division.

The Annual Meeting of the Division was held at the First Church, Concord. Several of our State Workers were present and contributed to the program. Our guest speaker was Miss Ethel Harmon, of Africa, who used as her subject, "Expect Great Things from God—Attempt Great Things for God." She brought thrilling accounts of conditions in Africa and presented challenging work to be done by women of our Southern Baptist Convention. It was brought out in reports that the two greatest evils hindering God's Kingdom in this country are alcohol and race prejudice. Miss Harmon appeared to be vitally interested in report of work being done by white women of Charlotte to assist Negro Baptists in employing an all-time Negro woman to aid in development of young people and to help pastors in their work.

Grateful are we that we reached our goal of $5,000.00 to the Hundred Thousand Club. Several associations went beyond their goals. Total gifts for all objects, $43,100.14.

Let us "Attempt Greater Things for God"—"that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that Thou art the Lord, even Thou only."—Isaiah 37.20.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. MOTT P. BLAIR.

Elizabeth City Division, Mrs. Sallie Parker, "Enlistment."

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

"Ah, but a man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's a heaven for?"

These words of the immortal Browning have been both an inspiration and a comfort to the women of the Elizabeth City Division during the year just closed. They have inspired us to reach for even greater heights, and yet, as we looked at what we held in our hands of concrete accomplishments, and were a bit discouraged that they were not so great as we had hoped, we were comforted that our reach should have exceeded our grasp, and pressed forward, being careful to keep our reach always extended.

Looking more closely at some of the objectives we have been able to grasp this year, we find much for gratification and real joy. In spite of many difficulties of war-time restrictions upon the use of automobiles, which has been a greater handicap upon our predominantly rural division than upon some others, our women, nevertheless, have had the best year in the history of their organization. A steady growth has been evident all along the line. Evidence of this improvement is found in the July issue of Royal Service. Here are listed the churches in which every resident woman member made a gift to missions. Of the fifteen such churches in North Carolina, seven are in the Elizabeth City Division. Only two of the fifteen churches were also A-1 unions, and both of these, Conway and Winton, belong to us. Since there were only fifty-eight of these unions in the Southland, we are particularly grateful for these two in North Carolina and happy that we could furnish them for our State. Twenty-seven of the unions in our State were listed as full-graded unions, and of these we could claim five, or nearly one-fifth of the total.

For a long while we have been reaching for the attainment of our Hundred Thousand Club allotment and this year we grasped it, with some to spare. Also the two associations met their financial goals, contributing in excess of twenty-seven thousand dollars. But, we have reached for more tithers and here our reach has exceeded our grasp, for we need a few yet to make even the tithe of our membership. The number is growing, however, and we have the firm conviction that they will continue to do so.

In the matter of organizations, we have again reached higher than we were able to grasp. While our territory is comparatively well organized and most of the societies function well, we shall never be happy or satisfied while we have fourteen churches without a missionary society or auxiliary. Fourteen new organizations were reported this year, two are Woman's Missionary Societies.

Our Chowan Assembly was about as full of vigor as any activity carried on in our Division last year. Since travel was not easy, the young people came and stayed, overflowing the college buildings and sending some of the adults out in town to seek shelter. We acknowledge our gratitude to our Young People's Secretary for her contribution to the success of the assembly. Every year we are more convinced of the potential power house we have in this assembly and are grateful indeed for the ever expanding hold it is gaining upon the hearts and support of our people in both associations.

The reports from the Royal Ambassador Conclave held in Edenton were very satisfactory and encouraging. The superintendent regrets that it was impossible for her to attend the sessions, due to the conference in Raleigh on that date, but expresses appreciation for the fine work done by Dr. J. L. White and those who worked with him to promote the interests of the Royal Ambassador Chapters in our Division. We should like to pay tribute to the impetus given to all of our work by the visits of our former Field Worker, Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer. While we were unschooled and unskilled in the best use of the Field Worker, we have nevertheless felt the impact of the spiritual inspiration brought by her to every section or group she was able to touch.

And so we make this our report for the year 1942, grateful for the awards of service we hold in our hands, but ever reaching upward with our eyes toward heaven, remembering, "'Tis looking downward makes one dizzy."

Respectfully submitted,

SALLIE C. PARKER,

Superintendent, Elizabeth City Division.

Greensboro Division, Mrs. B. K. Mason, assisted by Mrs. Hodge, "Tithers and Stewardship Night."

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

The year 1942 has been one of uncertainty, anxiety and sacrifice, because of the great World War in which we all find ourselves engaged. Many changes have come in our way of life in our homes, our churches, and societies, but our women and young people have been faithful and loyal to Woman's Missionary Union. God's blessing has been upon us and we report the best year in our history.

We want to give honor to whom honor is due. Our superintendents, Mrs. J. J. Roddick, Pilot Mountain; Mrs. Nettie Hoge, Piedmont; Mrs. L. S. Gaines, Liberty; Mrs. Arthur Presnell, Randolph; Mrs. J. L. Kirk, Rowan, have led their women in a great program of work and gifts. They report 396 Mission Study classes, 1,835 tithers, 98 A-1 organizations, 8 A-1 full-graded unions, 20 full-graded unions. Each has reported splendid Annual Associational Meetings, with large attendance, helpful programs, with representatives from Division and State Headquarters to help and to encourage the women. In our Division we have 208 churches, 145 of these enlisted through 462 societies of all grades; 346 have been actively engaged in Personal Service.

The women of the Liberty Association enjoyed Miss Ethel Harmon in various meetings for five days in December. One church, New Friendship, in that association, has an outstanding record. For nine years they have had an A-1 Graded Union and for five years have received a gift for Missions from every resident member. All organizations contributing to the 100,000 Club. The association's special to the Training School girls this year was Valentine gifts of cabinets of Monogram Stationery. We congratulate the Liberty as the only A-1 association in the Division.

Our annual meeting of Division was held with the First Church, Reidsville, in October. About 350 were in attendance; the largest delegation came from Liberty Association. The Superintendent, with the co-operation of the good pastors, made this possible. A full program for the day had been planned, which proved interesting and helpful throughout. Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mission Study Chairman, spoke on "William Carey." Miss Ethel Harmon, returned missionary from Africa, told interestingly of her work there and of the field so ripe unto harvest in the Dark Continent. Ten minutes was allowed a representative of Meredith College, Mrs. R. B. Wilkins, of Durham, who presented the advantages and opportunities of this institution to the young women of our State.

A new feature of our program was the Departmental Conferences held just before the noon hour. These were presided over by the Divisional Chairmen and the State officers. In the afternoon, Mrs. Gilmer Cross, our Young People's leader, brought her report and presided over the Young People's hour. Miss Mary Currin and Rev. J. A. Neilson spoke of the plans for the Young People's work. We were very happy to have so many of our State officers with us for this meeting. Our annual meeting this year will be held with the First Church, Salisbury, October 26. We shall look forward to this, the first Divisional meeting in the Rowan Association.

The third R. A. Conclave was held at First Church, Greensboro, in November. A splendid program had been prepared by the Counselor, Rev. J. A. Neilson. A good attendance was on hand for the banquet supper and the evening session. The inspirational speakers held the interest of the boys with their timely messages until the close of the sessions.

Our Young People's Leader reports a busy year attending various meetings and teaching seven Mission Study classes. The Young People report 317 organizations, 518 subscribe to their missionary magazines. 510 groups of these Young People thought it worth while to observe the three seasons of prayer and gifts. Miss Ruth Scott, of Piedmont, reports six meetings for her Young People. Each association had Rallies, with outstanding speakers. Interest is growing in the observance of Focus Weeks, but too few have realized the value of Stewardship Night. All associations had Young People to attend the various camps in the summer. Ridgecrest had the largest number. The Division total is 68.

We are grateful for the large number of State and Southwide workers who have helped and inspired us during the year. Miss Mary Christian, Birmingham; Miss Ethel Harmon, Kentucky; Mrs. Charles Leonard, Miss Mary Herring, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Miss Mary Currin, Miss Ruby Daniel, and Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer.

One of the greatest blessings of the entire year came to our Division in the itinerary of Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer. The 13 days allotted to us had been equally divided among five associations, making it possible for her to have at least four meetings in each. The results of prayer and planning have been evident. Many Mission Study classes, using the book, "If Two Agree," and a book on Stewardship, Schools of Missions, and one Mission Study Institute, were some of the visible results; also more interest and larger attendance at our Seasons of Prayer and Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. Miss Zentmeyer said our women kept her "very busy but very happy" in the Greensboro Division.

We raised this year $8,652.62, a gain over last year of $1,628.98, for which we are grateful. Our total gifts to all objects are $71,149.06; the largest in our history. We would thank every Society and every individual that has had a part in making this report possible. We take up our task anew with happy hearts that we can be laborers together to bring in the kingdom.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON,
Superintendent, Greensboro Division.

Hickory Division, Mrs. C. N. Royal presented Mrs. W. D. Bostick, who spoke on "Mission Study."

REPORT OF HICKORY DIVISION

"The church must be the best in the worst time," says one of our beloved leaders of Woman's Missionary Union. The women and young people organized in missionary efforts in the nine associations of the Hickory Division have striven to be better in each phase of the work during the past year. Although some gains have been small, there is revealed a deep earnestness on the part of all members as they are made, by the exigency of the time, to realize as never before that the paramount motive and hope of Christianity for the nations of the world are to be found in our watchword—"That all the kingdoms of the earth may know that THOU art the Lord, even THOU only."

To the consecrated and competent Associational Superintendents much praise is due for, it is they who with their zealous Young People's Leaders inspire and direct the Kingdom work that is accomplished by the societies, organizations, and individuals.

Outstanding in the work of the Hickory Division is Mission Study, under the leadership of Mrs. Wade D. Bostick, whose loving heart and active mind would indeed guide us to "study geography until there is for us no foreign land, and study humanity until there is for us no foreign man." Mrs. Bostick has been aided and associations have been blessed by the unflagging interest of Mr. Bostick, whose help in establishing Mission Study Clubs and church libraries has been notable. Five hundred and sixty-four classes are reported for 1942. Reports from Associational Mission Study chairmen have been 100 per cent.

The figures of $51,050.17 show an increase of more than 20 per cent to total gifts. A gain of 23½ per cent in total gifts in 1941 makes us humbly grateful for the shared blessings of the two years. Though gifts to the 100,000 Club have fallen short of the goal, more contributions are now being made than ever before for a debtless denomination this year. Many societies plan to have at least one Centennial membership.

Associational Leaders' Conferences for women and young people were held in almost every association early in the past year. Some of the associations held such conferences quarterly.

Many of the young people of the Hickory Division attended camps and house parties at Ridgecrest. Who can estimate the eternal returns through enlarged vision of investment there? Focus Weeks have been emphasized and generally observed. The Royal Ambassador Conclave, which met at the First Baptist Church of Hickory, November 13-14, was well planned and carried out under the able leadership of Rev. John Searcy, of Avondale, Divisional Royal Ambassador Counselor. He was assisted by Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Redwine and Misses Mary Currin, Kathryn Abee, and Helen Harris.

Records show a net increase of five young people's organizations. Since the instituting of the Hickory Division, a number of new young people's organizations have been reported each year. This fact, together with a substantial increase in gifts, would indicate that our women are preparing for our day of golden missionary opportunity,

"When the war drums beat no longer,
And the battle flags are furled."

May we "Give of our sons to bear the message glorious; give of our wealth to speed them on their way." We cannot emphasize too highly the importance of our young people's work in the training of soldiers of the cross. We would make this one of our major objectives.

"These are the World Rebuilders.

These must bring order to chaos, comforting to pain,
And light in blasted fields new fires of spring."

"Dear Lord, Thy childish hands were weak and small,
Yet, had they power to grasp a world withal.
Grant these, Thy little kindred, strength as true.
They have so much to learn, so much to do."

The annual Divisional meeting was held on October 30 at the First Baptist Church of Morganton. Guests taking part on the program were Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Miss Mary Currin, Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, and Miss Ethel Harmon, missionary to Nigeria. Their presence was greatly appreciated and their messages were most helpful.

We were bewildered at our annual meeting when Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Superintendent of the Hickory Division since its organization three years before, tendered her resignation. She has since moved to another Division, to which we bespeak her loving interest always in Kingdom causes. Mrs. I. K. Stafford, Divisional Young People's Leader, had moved from the Division just prior to our annual meeting. Her efficient work will continue to bring us benefit. Miss Helen Harris, Educational Director of the First Baptist Church of Morganton, was elected Young People's Leader. Other Divisional officers not previously mentioned are: Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Jenkins, Boiling Springs; Community Missions Chairman, Mrs. J. J. Tarlton, Rutherfordton; Stewardship Chairman, Mrs. George Grice, Gastonia; Literature Chairman, Mrs. B. F. Bray, Marion; Training School and Margaret Fund Chairman, Mrs. W. S. Lander, Lincolnton.

If space allowed, I would by name give "Honor to whom honor is due, praise to whom praise," in the work of the Hickory Division. As Divisional, Associational, and local officers and members, may we work unflinchingly for His power and glory in the spirit of Paul, who said, "I have planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. N. ROYAL,

Superintendent, Hickory Division.

Raleigh Division, Mrs. Ford Burns for Mrs. W. R. Stone, "100,000 Club."

REPORT OF RALEIGH DIVISION

If I had been asked to give my report in three words instead of within three minutes, I could have done it. These three words would be "More of everything." We have had more changes in leadership, more resignations, more offices filled, more leaders giving more time, more meetings, more in attendance, more trouble getting places. We have more organizations, more members, more tithers, more money given to all objects of the Convention, more money in the treasury, more members active in Personal Service, more mission study classes, more teachers, more young people's leaders, more girls attending the House Party at Meredith, more boys enjoying Royal Ambassador camps, more young people taking part in Association programs.

More reports have been sent in on time, more letters written, more miles traveled, more phone calls made.

And what do we see in the year before us? More opportunities for service, more preparation, more members willing to give their time and their talents and their money. There must be more self-denial, more faith, more prayer.

We start the new year with a fully organized Division, each Association with an earnest and capable Superintendent, each Association with a young people's leader.

The most helpful feature in our work is the conferences for leaders.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. R. STONE,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF ROCKY MOUNT DIVISION

As I bring you a résumé of the work of the Rocky Mount Division, it is with a deep sense of appreciation of the co-operation of the entire membership that has made the work a joy, and that has contributed to whatever success has been achieved. There has been nothing spectacular to mark it, but a steady pursuit of the ideals and objectives for which we are organized.

Our Associational Superintendents, Mrs. L. B. Daniel of the Atlantic, Mrs. J. C. Hough of the Neuse, and Mrs. W. D. Joyner of the Roanoke, are still trying to hold high the torch in our woman's work, though there have been many discouragements and handicaps. Mrs. W. B. Sprinkle has assumed the leadership of our young people's work and is doing a splendid job in carrying on this important phase of our work.

We have in the Division 123 churches; 90 of these have some organized W. M. U. work. Mrs. Daniel reports that every one of the 19 Woman's Missionary Societies of the Atlantic reported each quarter as well as sent in an annual report. Her desire is to organize more missionary societies during this year in the 13 unenlisted churches. Fifteen churches of the Roanoke and 5 in the Neuse are still without any missionary organizations.

There are fewer A-1 organizations than in the previous year and we have only 7 full graded Unions in the Division. Fountain of the Roanoke is an A-1 full-graded Union. We attribute this loss to conditions brought about by the war, yet we realize that we must work more tirelessly than ever before to maintain our standards.

Much emphasis has been placed on mission study, there being 305 classes held. The Atlantic Association had a Mission Study Institute and the Goldsboro First Church had a School of Missions. Five different stewardship books were studied throughout the Division.

We find that 278 organizations were engaged in directed personal service. Of this number, 32 helped foster Mission Sunday Schools and 88 Vacation Bible Schools; 140 were engaged in definite soul winning. Interracial work, rescue work, cottage prayer meetings, and work with transients and friends of Israel were included in the activities.

In young people's work we have tried to maintain the same grade of work as in previous years. A better grade of work is being done through emphasizing the Forward Steps and the Ranking System in Girls' Auxiliaries and Royal Ambassador Chapters. We sat up with pride when we noted that three of the Ambassadors serving at our State Convention as pages were from our Division, and again, at this meeting Miss Jewel Wade, State Queen, of New Bern, is one of the pages. Each group of young people's work gave more to the 100,000 Club than the amount asked for by the State officers. Young Woman's Auxiliary Councils were held in each association. These were well attended and were most inspirational. The Royal Ambassador Conclave for the Division was held in the New Bern First Church. In spite of the gas and tire shortage, it was well attended and Mr. Roger Bell, of Scotland Neck, had arranged for a splendid program.

We are especially proud of our record in the matter of our material gifts. Each association gave over a five per cent increase in their gifts through the Co-operative Program, and each one exceeded its quota to the Hundred Thousand Club. Our goal was $3,500.00 and we gave $4,333.35. We are indeed happy that for two consecutive years we have met or exceeded our apportionment.

We began the year 1942 with a conference in the home of Mrs. L. B. Daniel, New Bern. Here plans were made for the year's work and we feel that the result has been in part creditable. The annual meeting was in Kinston with the First Church. It was well attended and we were so glad to have Mrs. J. S. Farmer, our State President, and Miss Ethel Harmon, of Africa, as our guest speakers.

There is still a great opportunity for earnest, faithful effort and no woman in our Division need feel that she cannot play an active part in the affairs of the Kingdom because of lack of opportunity. In these days fraught with anxieties and strife may each one of us be more alert and more devoted to the cause of our Master.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. BRUCE BEASLEY,

Superintendent.

Wilkesboro Division, Mrs. R. K. Redwine for Mrs. E. C. James, "Associational and Divisional Meetings."

REPORT OF WIKESBORO DIVISION

The third annual convention of the Wilkesboro Division of Woman's Missionary Union was held at Taylorsville Baptist Church, October 9, 1942. The hospitality, Christian fellowship, and deep spirituality were indeed notable. One pastor, who had attended all three, declared this one the most inspirational. Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, State Mission Study Chairman, gave the keynote for the day on "The Work and Influence of William Carey." Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Executive Secretary, Miss Mary Currin, Young People's Secretary, Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, special missionary, all from the State office in Raleigh, contributed in many ways to the program. Miss Ethel Harmon, of Africa, brought a most stirring message, after which the women divided into conferences. In the afternoon, echoes from the conferences were given by the State officers who led the various groups.

Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer of the Raleigh office spent some time in our Division contacting four of the associations in some capacity. Miss Ruby Daniel, missionary from Hungary, appeared on some of the annual associational programs. Her message was vital and her fine Christian personality won a place in the hearts of our women. Mrs. Hipps, of Asheville, brought much missionary interest to our Division and Association.

A new undertaking in the Division was in connection with the boys' work. Mr. Paul Forsythe, of Boonville, was selected Divisional R. A. Counselor. He, with the assistance of Miss Mary Currin, planned and sponsored an R. A. Conclave in North Wilkesboro Church the latter part of November. The attendance and spirit were fine. We are grateful for the hospitality of this fine church. Mr. Edward Chow, Chinese student of the Bowman Grey School of Medicine at Winston-Salem, was a visiting speaker. Our fine pastors also aided in the program.

A similar Royal Ambassador meeting was held in the Yadkin Association, promoted by Mr. Forsythe, the pastor of Boonville Church, and Mrs. D. H. Craver, Superintendent of the Yadkin Association. The response was gratifying.

The young people's leader of the Brushy Mountain Association promoted a Young People's Rally, assisted by Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer.

Eleven of the thirteen associations held their annual associational meeting during the year. Due to transportation difficulties, the attendance was not up to normal times, but the interest was good.

We are grateful to report that we exceeded our goal in 100,000 Club gifts and in gifts to the Co-operative Program this year. Also in number of mission study classes and tithers. The praise belongs to our Associational Superintendents, who have wrought well, namely: Mrs. A. O. Joines of the Alleghany, Mrs. Walter Harrington of the Alexander, Mrs. J. T. Whittington of the Ashe, Mrs. R. T. Teague of the Avery, Mrs. J. Marshall Wright of the Brier Creek, Mrs. R. T. McNeil of the Brushy Mountain, Mrs. C. A. Bowman of the Caldwell, Mrs. C. N. Myers of the Elkin, Mrs. Winfrey Luffman of the Stone Mountain, Mrs. W. A. Jackson of the Surry, Mrs. D. P. Coffey of the Three Forks, and Mrs. D. H. Craver of the Yadkin.

We welcome Mrs. Winfrey Luffman, secretary, Mrs. John W. Kincheloe, young people's leader, and Mrs. C. E. Echerd, community missions chairman, to our ranks as new officers, and pray for courage and increased faith and devotion for the new year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. EARL JAMES,
Superintendent.

Wilmington Division, Miss Macy Cox, "Seasons of Prayer."

Miss Zentmeyer was a great blessing to our Division. Dr. J. W. Beagle was a great messenger at the meeting of the Wilmington Association. The Wilmington Association gave for Dispenser in Africa $256.42, and $164.00 for Bible women in China. The Eastern still rejoices to support Miss Katie Murray in China, and Magnolia Sunbeams take care of a kindergarten native teacher there.

The July Divisional meeting at Cedar Creek was deeply spiritual and well attended. The messages of Mrs. H. H. McMillan and Rev. George M. Kelly, returned missionaries from China, were full of pathos and inspiration. At that meeting we gave the largest white shower to our Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem on our record. The amount was $313.72.

At our October Divisional meeting in Mount Olive we were thrilled with the messages of our new State President, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Miss Ethel Harmon, returned missionary from Africa, and Rev. L. W. Jacobs, Indian pastor of Pembroke. It was with deep regret that we lost Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Lunsford, missionaries to our Indians of Burnt Swamp Association, who gave up the work on account of ill health, but rejoice that God gave to us Rev. and Mrs. P. A. Underwood, who are putting their best into service there. Mrs. Lunsford has done a wonderful work among the Indian women, serving as Associational Superintendent. Mrs. Underwood is Superintendent now. We lost two other most faithful Superintendents, Mrs. R. L.

Pittman of Robeson Association, and Mrs. B. T. Watson of Columbus. Welcome to Mrs. Carl Lewis, the new Superintendent for Columbus, and Mrs. I. P. Hedgpeth for Robeson. We are grateful to Rev. S. L. MACY COX,

Divisional Superintendent.

These reports were all adopted.

A telegram was read from Dr. F. C. Feezor, former pastor of the Tabernacle Church, and Mrs. Feezor.

Special Music—Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Alden and Miss Dorothy Phelps, Meredith College.

The President's message followed. The subject was "Crown Him Lord of All."

CROWN HIM LORD OF ALL

"'The Lord God Omnipotent reigneth!' I am saying this over and over to myself, for this is my strength and comfort in these terrible days."

So wrote an elderly missionary in Japan, who, in ill health, desolated by the death of her husband and her sister, was rudely uprooted from friends dear to her and from the country which had been her field of service for nearly fifty years, and forced to seek refuge in a faraway land, among strangers. That she did find comfort and strength is evidenced by these lines, written as she sailed through tropical seas to her new home in Australia.

"Whittier's lines keep coming to my mind—

'I know not where His island lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care.'

I am seeing the 'fronded palms' now," she continued, "and increasingly I realize His love and care."

"The Lord God Omnipotent reigneth!" What other source of comfort and strength have we today? Soon after the first World War, Dr. Mullins wrote, "Something violent has happened to the world from which we are just beginning to recover. A Negro boy asked his aged father what an earthquake was and received the following reply, 'About once in so often de atmosphere comes into violent collision with de hemisphere, and den and der you gits a yearth quake.'" Today we feel that the atmosphere must have come into violent collision with both the hemispheres, for the whole world is rocking; never before has there been such a time as this.

Our beloved Mrs. W. N. Jones, addressing the Union a few years ago, spoke words that seem strangely appropriate today. "In a vision of the world today as it is, there is despair and death; in a vision of God and His Gospel, there is life and hope. A vision of the nations as they are today shows the unspeakable need of all mankind for the transforming remedy of the Gospel, and it also shows that men are hungry for the Bread of Life."

Fear disappears, strength comes, sorrow is sanctified, faith is confirmed when He whom we have accepted as our Redeemer is acknowledged as our Sovereign Lord. If He is to be acknowledged as Lord of all, His rule must begin in individual hearts. Phillips Brooks wrote, "O my dear Friend, look for your Master. Be satisfied with none until you find Him, who, by His love and His wisdom and His power, has the right to rule you. Then give yourself to Him completely. Resist all other men's intrusion on your life because your life belongs to Him."

If I crown Him as Lord of all in my heart and life, then I become His willing slave. Quoting again from Dr. Mullins: "What a strange, glorious slavery is the slavery of Christ. It has sent men leaping and singing to the stake. He put His iron chain on Edward Caswell and he sang,

" 'Jesus, the very thought of Thee
With sweetness fills my breast,
But sweeter far thy face to see,
And in Thy presence rest.'

He put His chain on Samuel Stennett, and he sang,

" 'Majestic sweetness sits enthroned
Upon the Saviour's brow
His head with radiant glories crowned
His lips with grace o'erflow.'

Thousands of Christ's slaves sit together in congregations all over the world and sing

“‘All hail the power of Jesus’ name
Let angels prostrate fall,
Bring forth the royal diadem
And crown Him Lord of all.’”

Just now may we question ourselves seriously, “Is Jesus truly regnant in my heart? Can I truthfully say with David Livingstone, ‘My Jesus, my King, my Life, my all, I dedicate my whole self to thee?’ If so, then all life and service is enriched beyond expression. He must be crowned Lord of all if He is to be crowned Lord at all. Enthroning Him, then, involves the breaking down of all idols, for He cannot share His throne with any. In an old book, dated 1898, and underscored throughout by my mother's pencil, I read the story that ‘when Mahmoud, the Mohammedan conqueror of India, had taken the city of Gujaret, he proceeded, as was his custom, to destroy the idols. There was one, fifteen feet high, which its priests and devotees begged him to spare. He was deaf to their entreaties and seizing a hammer he struck it one blow, when, to his amazement, from the shattered image there rained down at his feet a shower of gems, pearls and diamonds—treasure of fabulous value, which had been hidden within it. Had he spared the idol he would have lost all this wealth. Let us not spare our idols. If we shatter them there will rain about our hearts the very treasures of heaven, the gifts and graces of the Holy Spirit, but if we spare our idols we will miss riches unsearchable.’” (From the Spirit Filled Life, by John McNeill.)

Many years ago I heard Dr. W. L. Poteat preach in this pulpit. One sentence he uttered that day has been a challenge to me since. “Every home should be a little sphere of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth.” How can this be unless Jesus is crowned Lord in our home? A beloved Christian leader, now well advanced in years, relates that when he married and established his first home he was showing his father through it. It was a much more elaborately furnished home than either had known and the son felt sure his father would be duly impressed. He was impressed and appreciative, but he did surprise his son by saying: This is a lovely home and everything in it is fine, but there isn't a thing in the entire house that makes me know that Christians live here. What is there in our homes that gives evidence that Jesus is supreme there? One saintly woman whom I knew well saw to it that there was a copy of God's Word in every room in the house. She also had a habit of clipping poems, items of missionary interest, inspiring paragraphs, and pinning them to the curtains, or near the mirror, in her children's rooms—and woe betide the child who took them down, or even spoke lightly of them! As the children have grown older, they realize what a potent influence these clippings have had on their lives. In a Christian home, there will be found magazines of religious and missionary interest, and the denominational paper on the table, along with other clear, wholesome publications: books that are Christian will be found in the book cases; sacred music on the piano, with other good music. And, somehow, the mother must lead the children to use these books, magazines and music. In a home that is “a little sphere of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth,” family worship is a part of every day's life—the whole family gathering around the Throne of Grace bringing praise and homage to the King.

Close to homes come schools, and we think particularly now of our Baptist colleges. If these colleges are to fulfill the high purpose for which they were founded with sacrifice and prayer, Christ must be enthroned Lord of all. The purpose of every Christian school, as of every Christian home, is to raise up laborers for His kingdom. Has it weighed on your heart and mind that while in years far past North Carolina furnished many missionaries to our foreign fields—indeed, the Central China Mission has been called the “North Carolina Missions”—in very recent years volunteers from our North Carolina colleges have been few? Is not this in part, at least, our fault? Is it not possible that we have sinned against Jehovah in ceasing to pray for our colleges—that Christ may be pre-eminent on the campuses and in the classrooms, and that God will call forth students who will be heralds of the King on mission fields all over the world? It is said of Dr. Chas. E. Taylor that he was rarely heard to pray that he did not voice a petition that young men would be called into the ministry. If we pray earnestly and regularly and with faith that God will honor our young people by thrusting them out into the fields already white unto the harvest, He will answer our prayers as He did Dr. Taylor's. It is possible that His answer will require great sacrifice on our part. You may recall instantly the story of Dr. Luther, who, after preaching a strong sermon on foreign missions, made an appeal for volunteers for this service. When his own daughter, Anne (afterwards Mrs. W. B. Bagby, who died last December after sixty-three years of service in Brazil), came down the aisle, the preacher exclaimed, with tears in his eyes and voice, “I didn't mean you, Daughter, I didn't mean you.”

We have a brand new name for one of the departments of our Union work. Instead of the familiar “Personal Service,” we are now accustoming ourselves to saying “Community Missions.” Both names signify the same great ideal—exalting Christ in our own communities. A wise teacher wrote these arresting words: “The vividness and reality of our sense of the lordship of Jesus will determine the power we possess to transform the world. The Kingdom of God will come when the lordship of Jesus is transferred to His people and they become lordly in moulding and guiding human progress." There is no better place for exercising this wonderful power, the power of lordship transferred from sovereign to subject, than in our own communities among those who come in contact with us, His followers, every day. How glorious it will be when, as a result of our prayerful, faithful efforts to enthrone Jesus Christ, my community and yours become truly "spheres of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth."

We have just observed the Season of Prayer for Home Missions and have given the Annie Armstrong offering that Christ may be crowned Lord of all over the entire South. In September we shall have an especial Season of Prayer, and bring an offering for Kingdom building in North Carolina. Even though we conscientiously observe these seasons of prayer and give liberally, we have not fully discharged our obligations as Christian citizens. Dr. Mullins said: "The purpose of the changeless Christ is to make men worthy sons of God in a perfect moral kingdom." Men and women, becoming worthy sons of God, will not find our beloved State, nor the South, a "perfect moral kingdom" in which to live as long as the nefarious liquor traffic goes on sanctioned by law: as long as the sacredness of God's Day is disregarded, as long as minority groups suffer injustices in legal matters, in education, in the distribution of public utilities. If He is Lord of my life and yours, then we will bestir ourselves to help wipe out these evils, to help make our State and our country "A perfect moral kingdom" in which live worthy sons and daughters of God.

We read in Revelation 11:15 "The kingdoms of this world are become the Kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever." As we catch a vision of the world today, full of death and despair, we realize that this prophecy is far from fulfillment. Our task as a missionary union is to "bring all our powers into the best service of the best King" that He may be worshipped and served as supreme Lord from the "rising of the sun to the going down of the same." As long as there is a single person in the whole wide world who has not accepted Him as Saviour and acknowledged Him as Lord, our task is incomplete.

The outlook in many of our foreign fields is not encouraging. When we think of doors that were wide open, but have been closed because the help we sent was "too little and too late," our hearts are heavy. we pray that God will give us another chance, and we resolve not to fail in the countries whose doors are still open.

Even now we must be planning and preparing for a great advance for the Kingdom of God when victory has come. We are told that the Roman Catholics have nearly one hundred priests studying the Russian language to be ready to enter Russia at the earliest possible moment. We feel complacent when we hear that Dr. Maddry has sent one couple to study Russian, and that a few volunteers are studying in the Chinese Language School in Berkeley. We should have a host of young people preparing to go at the earliest opportunity to every country on the globe, to tell of the love, the compassion, the healing power, the glory of our King. The young people can be found, for surely they will respond to such a challenge. We who cannot "wear the purple of Royal service" on mission field will have the glorious privilege of giving the money needed for this great enterprise, and of holding those who prepare and those who go, in our love and in our prayers.

Did you ever have a new and fascinating task ahead of you and find it hard to plunge into it whole-heartedly because some unattractive duty, incomplete, stood in the way? When you set yourself with a will to the disagreeable job, and finished it, with what a happy spirit the new work was begun. Let us set ourselves with new courage to paying the very last of our debts, so that we can with enthusiasm begin to accumulate a fund for post-war work. A few more members in the 100,000 Club, an increased amount from those of us who have already been giving, the price of some shoes we aren't allowed to buy—and soon not only our south-wide debts, but every one of our State debts will be wiped out.

Some years ago an eminent minister spoke ten minutes in a noon-day prayer meeting using the text, "What ye will—shall be done." Some five years later a young preacher asked him if he remembered that prayer meeting, and said, "I want to tell you that ten-minute talk built a church." The older minister, expressing surprise and pleasure, asked how such a thing could be.

"When I came to the prayer meeting and heard you speak, and you stressed the fact that God wants us to will things, I saw a great light. I am pastor of a suburban church, which was trying to build. We had raised all the money we could. I had given up, and the congregation had given up, and we had decided to postpone the building into the indefinite future. But when I heard the truth from you I went back home and gave it to my people; within a year we built the church." The older minister asked, "What had been the trouble?" and received the reply, "We had surrendered to difficulties and had ceased as Christians and church members to will things."

Surrendered to difficulties! Is that what some of us are doing? You leader of a Sunbeam Band, of an R. A. Chapter, President of a W. M. S.? It is what some of us have done, at least partially, thus losing the standing we have had for many years of Full-Graded

A-1 Union. Some societies and organizations have surrendered to the point of non-existence. As a State Union, we did not surrender to difficulties in our financial endeavors last year, for with thanksgiving we have heard our Treasurer report the largest total we have ever had. But this year promises greater difficulties along this line, as larger and larger demands are made upon our resources for prosecuting this terrible war. But when we remember with grateful hearts that we serve a King whose power and wisdom and love is unlimited we may be assured that "what we will—shall be done" and go forward in His name.

Dr. Fosdick, in Living Under Tension, tells that after the death of Polycarp, the greatly loved Christian leader who himself knew some of the disciples who had known Jesus, the church in Smyrna, where he was martyred, dated an account of the martyrdom, "Statius Quadratus being proconsul, but Jesus Christ being King forever." "Fill the words in today as you may choose," concludes Dr. Fosdick, "but the truth is still there: Statius Quadratus being proconsul, Jesus Christ King forever!"

Mr. M. A. Huggins, General Secretary of the Baptist State Convention, spoke on "He Shall Reign in Our State."

The following committees were appointed:

Greetings—Mrs. C. G. Maddrey, Raleigh.

Resolutions—Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Mount Airy, and Mrs. C. T. Doughtie, Edenton.

Appreciation—Mrs. Yancey Elliott, Lincolnton; Mrs. D. Mac Johnson, Enfield; Mrs. B. G. Henry, Tryon; Mrs. W. D. Bostick, Shelby; Mrs. Grady Patterson, Wake Forest.

Time and Place—Mrs. P. S. Vann, Charlotte; Mrs. E. L. Davis, Beaufort; Mrs. B. V. Chamblee, Asheville; Mrs. M. B. Newton, Stedman; Mrs. B. A. Hocutt, Clayton.

The hymn, "Majestic Sweetness Sits Enthroned," was sung.

Dr. J. Clyde Turner closed the morning session. His subject was "The Exalted Christ."

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

The Wednesday afternoon session opened with the hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Mrs. H. H. McMillan, of Soochow, China, and Whiteville, led in the devotional period. She read selections from Jeremiah and Luke and told of the conversion of a Chinese woman.

Dr. L. L. Carpenter, editor of the Biblical Recorder, spoke on "Give Heed to Reading."

Motion made and carried to send telegrams to Dr. and Mrs. Feezor, the Alabama W. M. U., now in session, to the Kentucky Convention, Mrs. W. W. Lawton, and Mrs. J. J. Roddick.

The Recommendations of the Executive Council were presented by Mrs. W. D. Briggs and discussed by the departmental chairmen and others as follows: Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Miss Mary Currin, Mrs. T. M. Pittman, Mrs. R. K. Redwine, Mrs. G. K. Middleton, Mrs. C. E. Stephenson, Mrs. F. W. Armstrong, Mrs. Farmer, and Miss Macy Cox.

Reports of departmental chairmen and Young People's secretary were adopted.

REPORT OF MARGARET FUND

The Margaret Fund scholarships have been awarded to fifteen students who chose North Carolina colleges in 1942-43. All of these remained in the colleges through '42. Since then five or more of the boys have been called or volunteered in army or navy service and are now in U. S. A. training camps. Again the hearts of all W. M. U. women go out to the parents who are experiencing this new form of separation from their sons.

All students have done gratifying work this year. Special mention must be made of John McMillan who, like his older brother, Arch, received the Elizabeth Lowndes Scholarship as the outstanding student of 1942. Charlotte Green is also following the footsteps of her sister, Dorothy, in receiving high honors at Meredith College, being President-elect of the Baptist Student Union. Robert Lide and John McMillan made Phi Beta Kappa Honor Fraternity at Wake Forest College.

During 1942, Burney Fund gifts were received from 282 societies, the amount being $613.52. From this $500.00 was paid to Mrs. W. J. Cox, Treasurer of Southern W. M. U.; $25.00 paid to Miss Alford for help to Edward Chow, Chinese student. Balance, December 31, 1942, $88.52.

It has been a pleasure to serve as your State Margaret Fund Chairman during these years, and the work is relinquished with the knowledge that it is dear to all W. M. U. hearts.

Margaret Fund Students in North Carolina, 1942-43:

Meredith College: Mildred Blackman, China; Charlotte Green, Africa; Emily Olive, China; Page Rankin, China.

REPORT OF MISSION STUDY

The report that I bring to you is not a heartening report, but it should prove to be an arresting report. It should be so arresting that you will go home and do something about it. It has been said that we learn more from our failures than from our successes. May this prove true in our mission study.

Last March, when Mrs. Farmer became our President, the nominating committee failed to secure a chairman for mission study. This responsibility was passed on to the Executive Committee. After they made several unsuccessful efforts to secure a suitable chairman I undertook to finish out the year as your chairman. This change and uncertainty together with changes in leadership in a number of the associations may account in some measure for the backward step our report reveals.

For the two previous years there had been a steady and gratifying increase in classes reported. This past year there has been an alarming decrease. The W. M. S. report shows 1,786 classes held which is 268 fewer than in 1941. In some instances there has been a failure in reporting, but that would hardly be true of so large a number. We are glad to report 1,375 classes for the young people which is an increase of 44 over 1941.

Fourteen associational chairmen sent reports for each of the four quarters, but there were twenty-one from whom no report came during the entire year. Some of these are weak associations where the work is difficult, others are strong associations where the work should be well established. In some instances I know that classes have been held, but unless reports come to me they cannot be included in my report.

It is gratifying that twenty-three Schools of Missions were held and one Institute. There were four district classes and two Pioneer classes held.

It is recognized that difficulties in transportation may have hampered the work in some localities. We are now becoming adjusted to present conditions. Our handicap may prove a blessing. It will be delightful and helpful for neighbors to gather and spend the day studying. Plan wisely and let us have many such classes reported.

There has never been a time when there was greater opportunity nor greater need for mission study. Today people are thinking in world terms. They are studying geography and poring over maps as never before. They have boys, yes, and girls, too, in far distant places, and they are eager to learn about conditions and customs of these strange lands. Those who have been diligent in mission study are already informed about many of these lands. Now is the time when we can relate mission study to life; we can make mission study live. In one of her reports Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence quotes a radio announcer who uses the expression, "Only an informed American can be an invincible American." This is especially true in mission study. Let us pledge ourselves to become "Informed." Only thus can we really pray and give to missions. May we make this year our best in mission study.

REPORT OF STEWARDSHIP

In John 1:14 we read, "And the word was made flesh and dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of grace and truth."

It was the WORD that became flesh and dwelt among us. Dr. John E. Simpson in his book, "Faithful Also in Much," reminds us that "these four letters include the Manger of Bethlehem, the earthly ministry of Jesus, the Garden of Gethsemane, Calvary and Joseph's tomb. No investment of history ever involved so great price."

This investment was made for you and for me, that we might glorify and honor His name here while preparing for eternal life there.

Every life has the possibility of yielding something for Him. Therefore, recognizing our stewardship and wishing to glorify Him in all things, we are happy to make this following statistical report.

This report has been made possible by 39 of the 70 associations, 19 of which have reported every quarter.

May we commend the Elizabeth City Division for reporting every quarter and on time.

There were 21 churches listed elsewhere, in which a gift to missions was secured from every resident woman member. The list follows: Crabtree, Canton First, Troy, Shady Brook, White's Memorial, Roper, Earleys, Winston, Conway, Seaboard, Webster Memorial, Baptist Temple, Mills Home, Mocksville, Burnell, Bethany, Antioch, Pittsboro, Vandemere, Piney Forest, Riverside.

New tithers, 1,105; total number of tithers, 9,333; stewardship classes, 143; number of churches using plans for stewardship education of young people, 377; number churches observing stewardship night, 291; amount contributed to 100,000 Club, $50,027.13.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. CHARLES E. STEPHENSON,

Chairman.

REPORT OF W. M. U. TRAINING SCHOOL

Dr. W. O. Carver says, "The order of Jesus in planning a kingdom ministry was call—training—commission—empowering of the Holy Spirit with his varied gifts." He says also "The minds that must serve the gifts of the Spirit must be informed to understand, and trained to do and direct." For this reason the Woman's Missionary Union established our Training School in Louisville, Ky. Viewing the beautiful grounds and building which is now the home of this great school, one sees a glorious alchemy of the vision, wisdom and labors of the past and the present. We of this generation rejoice to be privileged to share in the perpetuation of this institution, so vital to our program of missions.

Last September the school opened its second year of work in the new building on the campus adjoining the Seminary campus. The enrollment was 168. Of the 93 boarding students enrolled, 16 were from North Carolina, this being the largest state group.

The return to co-educational classes in the Seminary has worked out satisfactorily and gives to our girls the very best the Seminary faculty has to offer.

Though our North Carolina group is larger this year, we are asked for the same amount of money for running expenses of the school. This apportionment of $1,700.00 added to the $1,200.00 scholarship loan fund makes a total of $2,900.00 to be raised this year. Six of our girls are using loan scholarships this year. Louise Paschal of Reidsville is using the Louis Castlebury Fund given by Mrs. Joel Layton in memory of her father. The Edna R. Harris honor scholarship was available last fall for the first time, and was awarded to Sarah Kanoy of Greensboro.

A survey of last year's graduates reveals that there is a growing demand for well-trained women at this time. Miss Littlejohn, principal of the school says, "We cannot begin to supply the demand for church workers and Bible teachers. Churches in towns adjacent to army camps or defense plants are striving to multiply their service through trained workers. This constitutes a missionary appeal in our own country at this time of crisis." Let us encourage our choicest young women to accept the challenge of these and other open doors.

Pray for these girls. They are our girls, your girls. Surprise the girl from your church or association by a letter or some other expression of interest. Their names follow: Evelyn Adams, Conover; Margaret Jane Childs, Lincolnton; Rose Dupree, Charlotte; Martha Eller, Salisbury; Ella Sue Gravitte, Roxboro; Kathleen Hoots, Winston-Salem; Sarah Kanoy, Greensboro; Mildred Jennings, Lumberton; Louise Paschal, Reidsville; Myra Motley, Fuquay Springs; Ruby McCrosky, Durham; Julia Swann, Statesville; Gladys Terry, Siler City; Elizabeth Tucker, Winston-Salem; Pearl York, Staley.

MRS. R. K. REDWINE,

North Carolina Trustee for W. M. U. Training School.

ANNUAL REPORT OF PERSONAL SERVICE FOR NORTH CAROLINA

(For the year ending December 31, 1942)

The Woman's Missionary Societies of North Carolina have done many a lovely deed this year for Christ's sake, and verily, they shall be rewarded, for He has promised. In addition to this, there has been much work done in the definite pattern of Personal Service, and an increased interest in more tangible results. Many souls have been brought to Christ. The figures in the accompanying statistical report are, in some cases, lower than last year, but we feel sure that this is due to a clearer understanding as to what is to be reported, and a lessening of duplications.

The change of name to Community Missions has been welcomed, because it denotes quite clearly the nature of our work, and will help to give it the emphasis we want.

We still find the need to stress study, that we may be "approved workmen." We have the impetus of the new Guide to Community Missions, which all the societies will want to have for one of their Mission Study classes. The Guide will afford many helpful and practical suggestions for finding and organizing the work. May we obey the resultant urge to reach out for those in our midst who need the Saviour.

Even as our home and foreign missionaries take extensive and intensive training, so should we, as missionaries at home. For this reason, we plan to study also the Epistle to the Ephesians. Here we shall find God's purpose and provision for His children, not only for salvation but also for service and Godly living. As we avail ourselves by faith of His resources of overflowing grace, we shall "walk in the works" that he has prepared for us. As we pray for help and guidance, we find that God has fully provided, and we hear His voice, saying, "Wherefore criest thou unto me? Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward."

We have prepared a few suggestions in leaflet form, calling it "Approach to Bible Study for Community Missions." This is available on request.

In obedience to His command we shall go forward, for "He is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think," and He will help us that we be not unfruitful, but living to the "Praise of the glory of His grace."

REPORT OF N. C. BAPTIST HOSPITAL

As we review the 20th year of service of the N. C. Baptist Hospital to the people from all parts of our State, our hearts are filled with gratitude for the enlarged service we are able to record for the past year. For, notwithstanding the difficulties, all our hospitals have suffered in this unusual day of global warfare. Our records show that we have been able to treat more than 12,000 patients, or more than three times as many as recorded in any other one year. Of this large number, more than 4,000 have been charity patients, treated at a cost of $104,953.49. For this we have received $22,671.00 from Duke Foundation for charity work; also, from Mother's Day and religious sources, $41,999.13, leaving a balance of $40,000.00 to be contributed by the Hospital to our needy sufferers.

We regret to report that for the first time in some years our gifts of linen from the women of our State have not measured up to that of past years. We are requesting that each Division leader will bring the growing need of larger supplies of linen. During the past year, the Yadkin Association and the Wilmington Division made outstanding gifts to supply our linen closet.

When our new wing was added to our Hospital we hoped we had made the necessary addition to meet the needs of our State for many years. But today we again face the problem of enlarged buildings to meet the needs of our needy Baptists, who have no means to pay for the medical aid they so much need. And as we realize the need for larger Hospital facilities, we must face the fact that the offering for only one day each year is not sufficient to care for the large operating expenses of our charity work in this day of increased cost of living. Shall we not then pray that our boards will make some plans that we may meet the challenge of our Master when he said, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these ye did it unto me."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. J. RODDICK,
Trustee of Baptist Hospital.

Recommendations of Executive Council were adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF EXECUTIVE COUNCIL TO 1943 SESSION OF W. M. U. OF NORTH CAROLINA

WATCHWORD: That all the kingdoms of the earth may know that Thou art the Lord, even Thou only. Isaiah 37 :20b.

HYMN: "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Deeply grateful for the Divine blessing which has crowned our work in the past year, and keenly conscious that unprecedented world conditions demand the consecrated effort of every Christian that Christ may be crowned Lord of all, we recommend :

I. Prayer.

1. That we place increased emphasis on prayer, individual and united.
2. That we covenant anew—
 - A. To observe the nine o'clock prayer hour.
 - B. To use the Calendar of Prayer and the "Pray Ye" paragraph in Royal Service consistently.
 - C. To encourage the establishment of family altars.
3. That we enter heartily into the plans outlined by the Southern Union for the observance of the Season of Prayer for Home Missions, March 1-5, and for Foreign Missions, November 29-December 3; that we participate earnestly in seasons of prayer for world peace.

4. That September 13-18 be observed as a Season of Prayer for State Missions, with at least one special program.

II. Study.

1. Mission Study.

- A. That today, when people are so keenly world conscious, we place more emphasis on world missions and endeavor to create a deeper interest in the study of missions.
- B. That the plan inaugurated a few years ago of studying four books each year in the W. M. S. be continued.
 1. That one book each quarter be considered a good plan and that a varied and well balanced program of study be planned at the beginning of the year.
 2. That the W. M. U. Year Book shall be used as the basis for books studied, with new books to be recommended by state mission study chairman when such are published.
- C. That emphasis be continued on books required for Courses I and II. That classes be encouraged to get seals awarded for such study, both for these and all other books.
- D. That all young people's organizations be encouraged to follow plans outlined for study in their specific group and that W. M. S. help in every way possible in providing for and in promoting classes.
- E. That all groups be urged to read more widely mission study books and books on related subjects. Where possible, let a mission library be started to stimulate interest in missions.

2. Literature.

- A. That continued emphasis be placed on the value of W. M. U. missionary publications, Royal Service, The Window of Y. W. A., and World Comrades, and that we strive to increase their circulation, and also their use.
- B. That we continue to secure subscriptions to The Commission, Southern Baptist Home Missions, and that the material in these valuable magazines be used to enrich the monthly meetings.
- C. That we reaffirm our loyalty to the Biblical Recorder and urge our constituency to subscribe to it.

III. Missionary Education of Young People.

Believing that "missionary education is the priority in Kingdom strategy," and believing that our young people stand in deep need of our unceasing interest and prayers, we would reiterate our firm conviction that to foster missionary training is a primal and pre-eminent obligation of every Woman's Missionary Society and that in carrying forward this important work, we follow the plans as outlined on page 63 of the 1943 W. M. U. Year Book.

That every chairman of stewardship, mission study, community missions and literature plan for and magnify these fundamentals in our young people's work.

That every counselor of an organization promote a never ceasing program of stewardship by programs, and by using special stewardship education leaflets.

That every member of each young people's organization give regularly through the Co-operative Program; to all special offerings; to world Emergency Relief; and to the 100,000 Club, taking as a minimum goal in 1943, 500 memberships.

That we make plans to have two mission study classes during the year according to the new requirement in Standard of Excellence for our young people's organizations.

That we work intently on getting more subscriptions to World Comrades and The Window of Y. W. A., not only for program material but for general reading.

That we urge every young people's organization to participate in Community Missions regularly.

That we give added emphasis to attendance of our young people upon the following meetings:

Eastern Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Meredith College.

Western Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Ridgecrest.

Eastern Royal Ambassador Camp, Meredith College.

Western Royal Ambassador Camp, Ridgecrest.

Young Woman's Auxiliary Camp, Ridgecrest, June 17-24.

That we press forward in enlistment of young people, every association setting a definite goal for new organizations among young people.

That we take unusual care not to lose organizations now existing.

That the Royal Ambassador counselor in each association be especially diligent in beginning new Royal Ambassador Chapters and providing for one overnight mission study camp for boys of his association.

IV. Christian Education.

1. Margaret Fund.

- A. That the Margaret Fund Scholarship money continue to be secured through the Annie Armstrong Offering for the children of Home Missionaries, and the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for the children of Foreign Missionaries.
- B. That the Burney Gift of the Margaret Fund, which is used for sending spending-money checks three times a year to Margaret Fund students, be contributed by societies in amounts not more than $3.00 to meet the sum needed for the students who are at colleges in North Carolina.
- C. That the W. M. U. of North Carolina endeavor to handle the Burney Gift of the Margaret Fund as simply and easily as possible. To that end the following resolution was adopted at the W. M. U. Council, November 12, 1942: Resolved, That contributions to the Burney Gift of the Margaret Fund be sent by societies to the Associational meeting and paid to the Associational Margaret Fund Chairman; that she forward the amount to the State Margaret Fund Chairman and send a report of the same to her Divisional Margaret Fund Chairman.

2. W. M. U. Training School.

- A. That increased emphasis be given our W. M. U. Training School, Louisville, Kentucky. That we encourage only the finest young women to make application for entrance. That we insist on applications being made by June 1.
- B. That we accept again a goal of $1,700.00 for current expenses of the school and $1,200.00 for scholarships, in addition to the Castlebury Scholarship and the Edna R. Harris Scholarship.

3. Other Training Schools.

That we continue to give to the Training Schools at Southwestern Seminary and Baptist Bible Institute sympathetic encouragement.

4. Our Denominational Colleges.

- 1. That we give increasing loyalty to our denominational colleges.

2. That we pray regularly for teachers, officers, and students.
3. That as individuals we respond liberally to the appeals of the colleges for support.
4. That we encourage our boys and girls to matriculate in these colleges.

V. Benevolent Institutions—Hospital and Orphanage.

1. While we recognize that these institutions do not come definitely in our mission program, we urge the continued and generous support through the churches of both the regular and enlargement plans.
2. That continuing through this year, supplies of linen for the hospital be promoted and reported through the White Cross department.

VI. Community Missions.

1. That we endeavor to enlist all our women and young people in missionary work in the community.
2. That we study the new Guide to Community Missions.
3. That we make careful survey to be sure that none for whom we are responsible are neglected.
4. That we emphasize and manifest Christ's uncompromising standard for Christian daily living in all relationships, family, church, civic, and racial.
5. That we heed God's call to become fishers of men, availing ourselves, by faith, of the character (life) and power of the Son of God for this work, humbling ourselves before Him that His grace might flow through us in a mighty river to the salvation of souls.
6. That we manifest Christian fellowship toward unaffiliated Baptists and toward the sick and sorrowing in our community, also toward the young men in the service of our country who visit our community, and other transients.
7. That we have in each society a class study of the Epistle to the Ephesians, that through the response of child-like faith in our hearts God may make of us vessels meet for the Master's use; missionaries in our own communities. That Book Method of Bible Study by Evans and Ephesians by Wilson (Baptist Book Store) be used as help to the leader when desired.

VII. Tithes and Offerings.A. Stewardship.

That we keep God's plan of giving ever before our people, thus securing a 10 per cent net increase in tithers. That we encourage the study of Stewardship books and literature; having at least one such study course during the year.

B. Co-operative Program.

That each W. M. U. organization plan for its contributions to Co-operative Program; taking as its goal a 5 per cent increase to same.

C. 100,000 Club.

That we become not over joyous in the fact that some of our Southwide Boards will perhaps be out of debt in 1943, remembering that North Carolina is still in debt and we will not have a debtless denomination until ALL debts are paid. Therefore, we will co-operate with debt-paying plans of the N. C. State Convention.

D. Special Offerings.

That we pray for and encourage special offerings for objects designated by our Southern Union, as well as special State Mission Offering.

E. Expense Fund.

A special offering for traveling expenses of Union representatives and for expenses of our annual meeting and general office expense is asked from each society in the first or second quarter of each year, preferably in the month of May. The amount asked from each W. M. S. is 10c per member. An itemized account of this fund is published in the Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the report of the Treasurer.

F. Fannie E. S. Heck Memorial.

1. That the Scholarship Fund and Current Fund for the W. M. U. Training School be the preferred item each year in the Heck Memorial Offering, and that the Training School be included in the program material.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

2. That the 1943 Heck Memorial be appropriated as follows :

To Baptist Hundred Thousand Club.....	50,000.00
To State Expense Fund.....	2,500.00

Total aim, including all special offerings..$350,000.00

VIII. Methods—Plans—Standards.

That we adopt the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention as our guide as to methods, plans and standards. That our women be urged to study this Year Book, noting changes in this year's plans and bringing their organizations up to the high standard set. That special emphasis be placed on the fundamentals for which our Union stands, and that our high moral standards shall be presented continually as a definite witness for Christ in this present time.

REPORT OF APPRECIATION COMMITTEE

There are times when one looks on some unsurpassed beauty of God's own handiwork, or when one makes an effort to express deep gratitude for some beautiful deed of loving service, he feels that words would mar such beauty, and are far too inadequate to give truest expression.

The Appreciation Committee has just this feeling in trying to express for the North Carolina Baptist Woman's Missionary Union Convention how much we really do thank you.

But, if we may use a Scriptural phrase, "I would not have you ignorant, sisters"—

First, of our very deepest appreciation for every kindness shown each one of us from the very time of our arrival to the time of our departure.

It has been a blessed privilege during this time of war and greed; destruction and hatred; separation of families, sweethearts and friends, to come together in brotherly love, and experience once again the joy of Christian love and fellowship in this grand old church which we have enjoyed to the fullest, but in which many of us have lost our way in its long halls, its numerous rooms and spacious auditoriums, but always a kind shepherdess would take a few more gentle words to get us back into the narrow way.

You have given your time, your attention, and used your precious gas for us.

Not a smile has been left unsmiled,
Not a turn has been left unturned.
Not a deed has been left undeeded,
Not a lovely thing has been made unlovely.

You have done it all for us. The beautiful flowers in the church, too, have played their part in our happiness. They have implanted a keener sense of beauty in our memories.

You have made us feel so welcome in your church, in your cordial homes, on the streets and in your hearts, and now we have an increased love, appreciation, and admiration for you.

Second, that such expression of gratitude be given also to the other Baptist churches in the city who have joined themselves in this hospitable entertainment.

Third, we would not forget our Pages, who have served us well and have caused us to have a deeper desire for girls in our own churches, not only rating in higher "Forward Steps" but also of Christian character, such as these fine girls.

Fourth, we feel so highly honored to have been the tea guests on Wednesday afternoon of North Carolina's First Lady, Mrs. J. M. Broughton, at her home in the Governor's Mansion. You can't know how much better our reports to our local societies back home are going to sound because of this. They won't be "as usual." But aside from that, the spirit and atmosphere of the home renewed the joy in our hearts that Mrs. Broughton and her lovely Christian family grace our Governor's Mansion so beautifully and so well, and because they are faithful, loyal members of our hostess church.

Fifth, that we express gratitude to our Executive Board for the spiritual program they have given us; and to our new President, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, for the capable, gracious and uplifting manner in which she has led our Convention.

Also, to every speaker and every leader we want to say "Thank you" for the information, the inspiration and spiritual guidance you have given us. In the words of a Sunbeam boy looking up at the stars and the moon above, said, "Mother, God has given us so many lovely things they make me want to pray." You have given us so many lovely thoughts which make us want to pray more and work harder as we return to our homes and our churches doing God's Kingdom work.

Sixth, and last, we thank our missionaries who have been in our midst, giving their spiritual and guiding influence. With Paul we want to say, "I thank God upon every remembrance of you."

Respectfully submitted,

Hymn—"O Zion Haste." Prayer by Mrs. W. D. Briggs, former Executive Secretary.

Miss Ora Alford, of Raleigh, moved that the program as arranged, with whatever changes may be necessary, be adopted as the order of business. Carried.

Mrs. Cooper Taylor extended words of welcome. Mrs. Farmer responded, and then presented two Pages—Mary Frances Craig, Stanley, and Mary Glynn Stone, Thomasville—both outstanding members of Girls' Auxiliary.

The following ladies were elected to complete the nominating committee: Mrs. Gordon Maddrey, Ahoskie; Mrs. Wade Bostic, Shelby; Mrs. H. G. Hammett, Waynesville. Members of nominating committee elected at the Divisional meetings: Mrs. Sam Gibson, Franklin; Mrs. E. B. Beasley, Fountain; Mrs. R. L. Moore, Mars Hill; Mrs. David Bobbitt, Charlotte; Mrs. W. G. REPORT OF W. M. U. YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

Leading Youth Into Paths of Joyous Responsibility

The invitation, "Come," has never been given with greater imperative than that with which it is given in The Woman's Hymn in the second verse, "Come, clasping children's hands." It was Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, the author of this hymn, who also said, "Lead the young women into places of joyous responsibility." Surely, in such a day as ours, this great lover of young people would urge even more emphatically that we come, leading our young people into paths of joyous responsibility.

A Chinese proverb tells us that a journey of a thousand miles begins with the first step. Many Woman's Missionary Societies have taken this initial step in the missionary education of young people by organizing and maintaining full-graded Woman's Missionary Unions. They seek to clasp the hands of young people along the pathway of missionary education through an alert, active Young People's Director who leads in a program of fostering. How relatively few Missionary Societies have realized the fruitful results of the work of a Young People's Director! Only 349 were reported in 1943.

There are paths that ramble on aimlessly with no clear-cut destination, but the paths along which we lead our young people must have well-defined points of destination. Further, these must be very clearly understood in the minds of those of us who lead. We must lead our young people very gently, but very surely, into paths of joyous responsibility. Harner and Baker, in Missionary Education in Your Church, outline the inevitable results of an effective program of missionary education: a world-wide interest and sympathy, sacrificial financial support of the missionary cause, youth offering themselves for missionary service. How surely did we lead our young people toward these ends in 1943?

The pathway of mission study leads to a world-wide interest and sympathy. In 1943 we sought to double our advancement in mission study by the new A-1 requirement of two mission study classes for each organization. In the 2,631 organizations, 1,791 young people's classes were reported as follows: Young Woman's Auxiliary, 482; Girls' Auxiliary, 646; Royal Ambassador Chapters, 324; Sunbeam

Bands, 322. This represents an increase of 416 classes. While it is certain that the higher standard has challenged some organizations to more and better mission study, many of our organizations have failed to keep step. How our pace needs to be quickened as we lead our young people in mission study that we may meet the overwhelming need for a Christian insight in a world blinded with hatred and strife!

Not only through definite mission study classes do we lead toward a world-wide interest and sympathy. Our young people study missions through regular missionary programs. We seek to lead them to interpret missionary knowledge in the light of Bible study. We advocate constant reading of missionary books and periodicals. Reading cards give added interest to extra missionary reading. Our attractive young people's magazines, World Comrades and The Window of Y. W. A., provide splendid missionary programs, plans and stories. During 1943 our North Carolina subscriptions to World Comrades mounted to 4,312, an increase over the previous year of almost 800. This is a splendid increase, but it represents slightly more than two subscriptions for each organization. 2,233 subscriptions to The Window of Y. W. A. came to North Carolina in 1943. This is an average of over four to each Y. W. A. Yet, even so fine an average as this leaves leeway for hundreds of young women to continue without any direct contact with vital missionary knowledge.

World vision and missionary interest are indeed quickened in the hearts of our young people in summer House Parties and Camps. Approximately 200 young women from North Carolina attended the South-wide Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest last summer. Almost 1,000 members of Girls' Auxiliaries attended the two G. A. House Parties at Meredith College and at Ridgecrest. Over 600 boys attended the two R. A. Camps at Meredith and at Ridgecrest. Increasingly our summer camp program contributes to the lives of our young people.

It is indeed with joyousness that members of Girls' Auxiliaries and Royal Ambassador Chapters are led into paths of responsibility through the rich missionary knowledge gleaned from Forward Steps and Ranking System work. It is gratifying to see the increased number participating in this work.

The pathway of prayer leads toward world-wide interest and sympathy and, at the same time, becomes a more frequented pathway because of increased world vision. The emphasis on prayer in 1943 can be partially indicated by the observance of the Season of Prayer. Of our 2,631 organizations, 1,023 observed the Season of Prayer for State Missions; 1,016, for Home Missions; 1,057, for Foreign Missions.

The second aim of missionary education, sacrificial financial support of the missionary cause, is anticipated and planned for in the stewardship education plans for young people. The stewardship education leaflets were ordered and used by 512 organizations. A Church Night of Stewardship program was presented in 313 churches. In spite of the increased use of these plans, there is still a tremendous need for more adequate preparation of our young people for entering into their responsibility as stewards.

This deeply felt need for more intensive stewardship education does not underrate the fine increase in gifts in 1943. The total gifts of our young people to all causes beyond the local church amounted to $68,215.11, an increase of $12,136.05 over 1942. Of this amount the Sunbeams gave $8,915.19; the G. A.'s $16,646.53; the R. A.'s $10,092.02; and the Y. W. A.'s, $32,561.37. The gifts to all objects for each organization are as follows:

	Sunbeam	G.A.	R.A.	Y.W.A.
Co-operative Program	$3,757.43	$9,099.58	$5,644.81	$19,744.11
100,000 Club	827.53	1,417.11	1,028.63	3,126.81
State Mission Offering.....	700.16	1,073.17	539.66	1,399.09
Annie Armstrong Offering....	880.58	1,257.05	715.20	1,941.53
Lottie Moon Offering.....	1,602.95	2,308.09	1,235.50	3,854.04

The third aim of missionary education, youth offering themselves in missionary service, may be thought of in terms of general and definite service. 1,080 of the 2,631 organizations reported participation in regular and directed Community Missions activities. Are we seriously leading our young people into paths of responsibility when we fail to lead them to see and meet immediate needs in communities where most of them will live most of their lives? Over 1,000 young people's organizations failed in 1943 to give this opportunity for direct missionary service.

One of the happiest experiences of a young people's leader is to watch young lives developing along the pathway of missionary education and answering the call for definite service in our Master's work. Each year at Y. W. A. Camp, at our G. A. House Parties, at our R. A. Camps, and in our churches we see many earnest young people enter into the realization of this joyous responsibility. Yet, are we leading our young people to hear the call for definite missionary service as surely as we might? Our debt-free mission boards are ready to send volunteers. Unless they are found along the pathway of missionary education, they will not be found.

Woman's Missionary Union has planned carefully to lead youth into these paths of responsibility through Young Woman's Auxiliaries, Royal Ambassador Chapters, Girls' Auxiliaries, Sunbeam Bands, and Sunbeam Baby work. As counselors lead these organizations to follow the plan of work outlined in the Standard of Excellence, they lead into these paths of responsibility. In 1943 we had a net increase of one young people's organization, making a total of 2,631. 274 of these organizations followed the plan of work successfully and qualified as A-1 organizations.

It is alarming to note that the greatest loss of organizations is in Young Woman's Auxiliaries at a time when the needs of young women are so great. The net loss was 30, leaving 529 organizations. Of these, 67 were A-1. A great impetus to Y. W. A. work has been Y. W. A. Council work in several cities and associations. In these days when young women are restless, dislocated, and unsettled, the paths of responsibility must be pointed out more clearly to them than ever before.

Young women who are temporarily away from their homes need the guiding hand of Young Woman's Auxiliary. We now have twelve Ann Hasseltine Young Woman's Auxiliaries on college campuses at Mars Hill, Western Carolina Teachers' College, Appalachian State Teachers' College, Gardner-Webb, Lenoir-Rhyne, Wingate, Meredith, Campbell, Pembroke, Woman's College, Eastern Carolina Teachers' College, and Wake Forest. Gardner-Webb, Mars Hill, and Wingate did A-1 work last year. Besides the Grace McBride Y. W. A.'s at Baptist Hospital and Watts Hospital in Durham, we can add the newly organized Y. W. A. at Mercy Hospital in Charlotte. The 1942 Heck Memorial Offering made it possible for Ann Hasseltine and Grace McBride Y. W. A. presidents to attend Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest. Six found it possible to take advantage of this opportunity. Every Missionary Society adjacent to a college or hospital has a definite responsibility for the Baptist girls in these institutions.

There was a net increase of 21 Royal Ambassador Chapters. Of the 560 Chapters, 54 were A-1. Our R. A. work was greatly strengthened by the field work of Mr. David Byrd last summer. Approximately 1,400 boys received the splendid inspiration and practical training at the ten divisional conclaves in November. Increased emphasis on the work of Royal Ambassador counselors in associations and divisions has done much to enlist and train masculine leadership for our boys. The increases in Royal Ambassador work indicate the potentialities of our missionary educational program for boys.

Our largest organization, Girls' Auxiliary, had the same net increase as that in R. A. Chapters, 21, making 895 organizations. 86 of these did A-1 work.

Amidst the crying needs of our older groups of young people, we must not be slack in our training of the little children. Again we are concerned at a net loss of 11 Sunbeam Bands. Of the remaining 647, 67 were A-1.

The importance of the home in leading our young people into paths of responsibility cannot be overestimated. Realizing this, Woman's Missionary Union has well outlined plans for constant contacts with homes from the birth of the child until he is old enough to become a member of a Sunbeam Band. Very few Woman's Missionary Societies have elected Sunbeam Baby Visitors to project these plans which are so fundamental to our whole missionary educational program.

An enthusiast is content to examine well trodden paths. The pioneer looks at the untrodden paths. There is still a great frontier in our missionary educational program for young people. A comparison of the number of young people's organizations with the 2,609 churches in North Carolina indicates a great host of young people unreached by definite missionary education. In churches where our Young People's organizations do exist, an alarming percentage of the young people are not enlisted. Still fewer young people are receiving well rounded missionary training as indicated by the relatively few organizations doing A-1 work, and A-1 work represents only a minimum of good work. Far too many young people receive an average of only one hour in missionary training a month. How well can such disconnected training be retained and carried over into life attitudes and practices? Should we not think in terms of more meetings, more time devoted to missionary education? Ahead of us is a challenging task of organization, improving, enlisting, and enlarging our work.

These sobering thoughts prepare us to lead our youth more surely into paths of joyous responsibility. We come to realize our weaknesses only as we study past achievements. We pay tribute to W. M. S. members, counselors, young people's directors, and associational and divisional young people's leaders who have made these achievements possible. We who would serve the Lord Christ tread the same paths into which we seek to lead our youth, and we cannot render acceptable service to Him until we come, clasping the hands of young people. Let us come with a resoluteness of purpose to lead our youth into paths of joyous responsibility—"That the generation to come might know."

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY'S REPORT

His Service—A Golden Cord

In his volume God in These Times Dr. Henry Van Dusen likens Christianity to a cord. We have often compared Christianity to a chain, no stronger than its weakest link. He maintains that it is more nearly like a cord closely interwoven with strong strands helping the weak. I like the symbol. As we ponder our varied, manifold W. M. U. work in 1943, I like to think of it as a strong cord! How much stronger could we have woven our cord if all Baptist women were helping in this mighty task. At the beginning of 1943, we had 1,331 societies. Thirty failed to report at all, giving us 1,301 in January, 1944. However, this is better than in 1942, for we lost 69 societies that year. The loss of every organization means the weakening of our cord of service. Of the 1,361, 106 achieved distinction, reaching the A-1 goal. 106 made a grade of B. 167 made a grade of C.

"How well are we doing in enlistment?"

1942	3,976 organizations

Ardmore, Winston-Salem	Fountain

Since each chairman discusses adequately achievements in the chief aims, this brief comparative study will help us to know where we are. We could well think of our cord as composed of five strands: Prayer, Study of Missions, Community Missions, Stewardship, and Missionary Education of our Young People.

Meetings

Our usual annual associational meeting, 65 of them, were unusual in attendance and interest. Our ten divisional meetings in October vied with each other in the high quality of the program and the splendid attendance in spite of rationing and restrictions. Miss Mary Christian, field worker for Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to S. B. C., Miss Alda Grayson, and Mrs. J. Hundley Wiley, missionaries from China, were our guests for these meetings. In November, 125 superintendents and young people's leaders of divisions and associations gathered in Raleigh for a two-day conference. The results of this careful planning can never be estimated.

Mass meetings were held in Asheville, Marion, Hickory, Salisbury, High Point, Winston-Salem, Henderson, Lumberton, and Wilmington during the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions. The Southern W. M. U. graciously let us have Miss Juliette Mather as speaker for those meetings. In September, our general secretary co-operated with us in a special emphasis on State Missions. During the entire week of prayer nine of our State Mission workers gave themselves unstintedly. They made a great impact for State Missions.

During July, three interracial institutes were held in Elizabeth City, Raleigh, and Shelby. Approximately 650 were in attendance at the three meetings. Miss Kathleen Mallory, Executive Secretary of Southwide W. M. U., Mrs. D. F. Stamps and Miss Bonnie Jean Ray, missionaries from China, and Mrs. Mobola Ayorinde, Nigeria, Africa, were our stimulating speakers. We would love to voice here our appreciation of the wonderful co-operation of the leaders of our Negro Baptist Woman's Missionary Societies in North Carolina. Also, many of our Woman's Missionary Societies were instrumental in getting gifted Negro women to attend.

Repeated Victories in Royal Service Subscriptions

For four successive years North Carolina has exceeded her quota for subscriptions for Royal Service. Only Illinois can share this distinction with us. Even so, we do not have enough issues coming to our State.

Second Business Women's Conference

Up to beautiful Ridgecrest journeyed 37 members of business women's circles in North Carolina to share the missionary fervor of the Second B. W. C. Conference. Miss Mary Christian skillfully directed the days' activities. Every B. W. C. should send at least one representative to this excellent meeting.

A-1 Associations

Highest commendation must go to two associations, the Little River and Kings Mountain. They were A-1 in 1943, meeting all 12 points on the Standard of Excellence. Mrs. Charles Howard is Superintendent of the Little River and Mrs. John Wacaster the Kings Mountain.

Special Field Work

During July and August Miss Kathryn Abee, Louise Bashford, Mrs. John Wacaster, Mrs. Charles Stephenson, Mrs. L. L. Carpenter, Mrs. W. H. Covert, and I engaged in field work, some working for only one week. 30 churches were enlisted and 83 classes taught during this special period of work. It is hoped that we can repeat a similar project during the summer of 1944.

The year which has just passed has been a year of changes. Early in 1943 Miss Myrtle Zentmeyer, our gifted field worker, felt led to another field of service. She made an estimable contribution to our work. Miss Kathryn Abee, of Hickory, was invited to fill this vacancy, which she did admirably. In April, Mrs. W. D. Briggs, who had served lovingly and faithfully as Executive Secretary since 1939, resigned. I was asked to take up the work she left. For April, May, and June I tried to do the work of both Executive Secretary and Young People's Secretary, and since they are such busy months the going was a bit difficult, but God was our strength. Miss Kathryn Abee became our Young People's Secretary in July. In September our cheerful, efficient office secretary answered Uncle Sam's call and became a WAVE. She is now serving with distinction in Washington, D. C. Mrs. J. F. Buffaloe took her place and has already made a fine contribution to our work. During the summer months Mr. David Byrd was called to serve as R. A. field worker. His engaging personality and four square Christianity made a tremendous appeal to our boys and pastors.

The work could have hardly survived these rapid changes except for the unselfish service of our president, our faithful office workers and many experienced workers in W. M. U. who answered many calls for help. In spite of changes, in spite of deep personal sorrow of many of our women, in spite of unusual difficulties, we present with gratitude this best report of Woman's Missionary Union. For every leader in a conspicuous place, for every member of every society large and small, I give grateful thanks. For your loving kindness and patience I am inexpressibly grateful.

Our hearts beat with high joy as we present our cord of service to be woven into that cord of love and service which binds our hearts to His and to all mankind.

"In Him shall true hearts everywhere
Their high communion find
His service is the golden cord
Close binding all mankind."

Personal Report

During the year I have attended 13 associational meetings, two divisional meetings, taught 16 classes, made 72 talks, led 95 conferences, traveled 10,500 miles. I planned for and directed the Girls' Auxiliary House Parties and R. A. Camps. I worked out all associational schedules. In addition to caring for the heavy correspondence at all times, I planned for nine state mission workers to speak in every section of our State in September. I also worked out the R. A. field worker's schedule for the summer and the work for special field workers. No record was made of many conferences in the office. I assisted in preparation of the Heck Memorial program and the State Mission program. I helped plan the program for the three interracial institutes and made necessary preparatory plans for same.

ASHEVILLE DIVISION REPORT

Our women who were faithful are grateful to have been victorious in making a few goals set for 1943. To these there is always that merited "She hath done what she could."

There is a gain in total gifts and gifts to Hundred Thousand Club. There are modest gains in number of full-graded unions, and in number of societies sending representatives to their own associational meetings. We had forty-four more Mission Study classes, five of which were Pioneer classes. More societies observed the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions and Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. Five more Points on Associational Standard were reached.

Haywood Association made larger gains along more lines of endeavor and reached more Points on her Associational Standard than any association.

A successful Leadership Conference conducted by Divisional officers in January challenged associations to follow. The Divisional Superintendent attended the seven associational meetings in June. The Divisional Young People's Leader led for Royal Ambassadors Camp and Girls' Auxiliary House Party participation, and the Royal Ambassador Division Counselor promoted "A Best" R. A. Conclave. All our Divisional officers were zealous in co-operating with Associational Chairmen in learning how.

Transylvania Association responded to three special W. M. U. workers sent them for teaching and organizing in the summer. The Associational Missionaries in some counties helped largely.

The Divisional Young People's Leader, Divisional Superintendent, four associational superintendents, and one associational young people's leader attended the Executive Council Conference at Raleigh in November.

The Divisional Meeting in October brought good reports, uplifting speakers, and fair attendance.

We need deeper consecration for we know, with Ella Wheeler Wilcox, that:

"'Tis the set of the soul that decides the goal,
And not the storms or the strife."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN,
Divisional Superintendent.

REPORT OF BRYSON CITY DIVISION

As I bring you a report of the Bryson City Division, it is with a deep sense of appreciation of the co-operation of the entire membership that has made the work a joy and that has contributed to whatever success has been achieved. There has been a steady pursuit of the ideals and aims for which we are organized. We have not worked as faithful perhaps as we should with the missionary education of young people, but pledge ourselves anew to developing new leaders for young people.

We were loathe to lose Rev. and Mrs. Covert, our young people's leader and R. A. Counselor, from our Division, but were glad Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Marchman of the Franklin Church could be had to fill their place.

Several of our young people attended the Y. W. A. Camp and G. A. House Party at Ridgecrest.

The R. A. Conclave was held with the Sylva Church, under the leadership of Rev. J. F. Marchman. Seven churches were represented, with an enrollment of 63. Rev. Alex Herring was the missionary speaker. We cannot emphasize too highly the importance of young people's work.

The five associations of the Division have a total of 189 churches; only 63 missionary organizations were reported, 37 of which were young people's. Eighty-seven mission study classes were reported—49 for the young people. Almost every society reported mission study classes and observance of seasons of prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions.

Tuckaseegee and Tennessee River reported one full-graded Union each. Western North Carolina had three full-graded unions. Macon fell behind on A-1 societies, but in our January conference Mrs. J. G. Benfield laid stress upon importance of marking the standard and we are looking forward to some in 1944. West Liberty, the new association, reports one new society, and by planting seed here—there's hopes for a harvest in the near future.

We have gone over our apportionment for the year in 100,000 Club gifts. Total gifts for the year, $3,047.86. Total young people's gifts, $637.05. This is a good gain over 1942.

The Divisional Meeting was held in the Bryson City Church. Guests taking part on the program were Miss Mary Christian, Miss Kathryn Abee, Miss Alda Grayson, Miss Mary Currin and Mrs. Mary Tipton. Their presence was greatly appreciated, messages most helpful.

Mrs. Mary Tipton and Miss Alda Grayson created a greater missionary interest in several of the churches in Macon and West Liberty associations. The offering for Chinese Relief was more than $100 in churches in which they visited.

There is still a great opportunity for earnest, faithful effort in all phases of W. M. U.

May we devotedly give ourselves to the Master, that the generation to come might know.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. SAM GIBSON,

Supt., Bryson City Division.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

In the Charlotte Division the women and young people are earnestly endeavoring to acknowledge Him in a very humble but meaningful way through prayer, study, giving, missionary education of young people and community missions.

The superintendents who have worked so faithfully are due great praise and honor—Mrs. L. R. Crooks, Cabarrus; Mrs. B. S. Blanton, Mecklenburg; Mrs. C. B. Trammel, Montgomery; Mrs. J. D. Nash, Pee Dee; Mrs. T. S. Crutchfield, Stanly; Mrs. Mark Hill, Union.

We are happy to report an increase in W. M. S. and in young people's organizations, also an increase in number of mission study classes and in number of titheers.

No report would be complete without special mention of young people and children. Phillips Brooks once said, "The nation marches forward on the feet of little children." Our young people are progressing under the fine leadership of our new young people's leader, Mrs. A. B. Wood, and Rev. C. R. Hinton, R. A. Counselor. Young people from five associations attended our camps last year. The R. A. Conclave held in November was very fine and helpful, with 154 attending. Here, we pay special tribute to Rev. W. M. Stallings, R. A. Counselor at that time, who has since left our Division.

It is our joy and privilege to have one scholarship at Wingate Junior College, thus promoting in this small way the education of youth.

A fine piece of Home Mission work is being done in Charlotte by the women of both the white and colored races. They are supporting on a fifty-fifty basis Capitula Wilson, a Christian Negro mission worker, who works in an untiring way among her race. Her reports show definite results.

Mrs. Mott P. Blair, who served the Division so faithfully, gave up the work as Superintendent last October. It was with deep regret that the women accepted her resignation.

The Charlotte Division made definite aims for 1944 at the Workers' Conference in January and we know that "He shall direct our paths."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. DAVID E. BOBBITT,

Superintendent, Charlotte Division.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

The superintendents of the associations report that they have had the best year of any since they have been in the work. This, in spite of all the obstacles occasioned by the war, and lack of transportation in a truly rural division, gives us great cause for rejoicing. Surely, we are made to realize once again that "Man's extremity is God's opportunity." Thus, He has worked through seemingly unsurmountable difficulties to give us a great year in His service. To Him be the glory and the gratitude.

Along all lines we have noted improvement, but in the field of an increased sense of individual stewardship has the growth and progress been most apparent. We exceeded our goal for the 100,000 Club by more than $1,000, and gifts to the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering was in excess of $3,700, as well as increases for the Co-operative Program and other objects. Along with this there went, as a natural consequence, an increase in the number of tithers.

The young people's rallies held in the summer were eminently successful, both from the large attendance and the high quality of programs planned and given by the young people themselves. These rallies are coming more and more to assume a place of real importance in our Woman's Missionary Union life. Here is a work unlimited in its possibilities for greater interest among the young people and for training an intelligent leadership for the future. Supplementing this there was also the usual summer assembly for young people and older ones at Chowan College. As in the past, it was again attended by a large and enthusiastic group, "studying to show themselves approved unto God."

The Leadership Conferences in both the Division and associations were real working conferences, and we feel sure the results will be shown when the record of the year's work shall be written. We are most grateful for the help and inspiration rendered us from the State office in making these gatherings of such invaluable aid to the greater efficiency of our work.

The weakest link in our organization is the number, though small, of the unenlisted churches, and the far greater number of unenlisted women and young people in the churches already at work. Upon this problem we have centered our energies and our prayers during the year just passed, and upon it we shall concentrate again in the year now before us and on until all shall know that our invitation, "Come with us and we will do thee good," is not just an idle gesture.

The Division records its gratitude and satisfaction in the safe arrival upon the Gripsholm of its own missionary, Miss Roberta Pearle Johnson. Heaven alone can reveal what impetus and inspirations the women of the West Chowan have received through the years from this happy relationship. God be praised for His care of her. Something of the same relationship exists between the women of the Chowan and their girls at the Training School and holds them to the great missionary task.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLIE C. PARKER,

Supt., Elizabeth City Division.

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

For the last decade it has been my privilege to report progress each year in all phases of Woman's Missionary Union work.

This year has brought some changes in the leadership of the Division. Mrs. J. Ben Eller of Piedmont and Miss Ora Motsinger of Pilot Mountain have taken up the work of Mrs. Nettie Hoge and Mrs. J. J. Roddick, who have faithfully carried on the work as superintendents of their associations for a number of years.

We have 217 churches, 373 societies of all grades, 36 new organizations, this year; 36 full-graded unions, 32 A-1 organizations, 12,000 women and young people enlisted. These have held 614 prayer services during the three seasons of prayer, and their faithful work has made this report possible.

We are happy to have Mrs. Willard A. Brown of Madison take up the work of our Young People's Leader in the Division. The report shows 280 organizations, 18 new societies, 219 Mission Study Classes, 504 subscriptions to the magazines. Many young people have attended the camps and house parties during the summer. The fourth R. A. Conclave was held at Lexington in November. A splendid program was arranged by the Counselor, Rev. J. A. Neilson. The boys report a fine meeting.

Mrs. H. A. Knight, Mission Study Chairman, has a most encouraging report. Four hundred seventy-one classes, 5,327 women and young people enrolled, four Pioneer Classes, 16 Schools of Missions, 2,575 awards received. Randolph Association had 49 classes, one association-wide class in the book "More Than Conquerors," with an attendance of 65. Liberty had 98 classes, Rowan 27, Piedmont 67, Pilot Mountain 199. We congratulate our chairman on her own personal record. First and second Silver Official Seals, one Continuation Course certificate with three seals, two Honor certificates, 12 Honor seals; a total of 17 seals for the year.

The Stewardship chairman reports all quarterly reports received. One thousand nine hundred and ninety Tithers, a gain of 155 over last year. A number of churches observed Stewardship night.

The chairman of Community Missions reports 12 Bible classes, 138 special efforts for soul-winning, with 49 conversions. Two hundred and six Woman's Missionary societies and 116 Young People's organizations are engaged in this part of our work.

The Division Planning Conference at Winston-Salem in January was a great success, and the Associational Conferences report good attendance and much interest manifested.

Our annual meeting this year was held at First Church, Salisbury, in November. The hospitality of those good women was unsurpassed. The program had been carefully planned and the presentation was inspiring and helpful throughout. The conferences in the afternoon held the interest of the women, and Mrs. J. Hundley Wiley brought the closing message. She spoke so interestingly of her experiences in China that the women stayed overtime. The annual meeting this year will be held at First Church, High Point, Tuesday, October 24. We shall look forward to this meeting.

The Business Women's League had a banquet supper and conference at Lexington in November. Miss Mary Christian was the guest speaker.

The following speakers have been a great blessing to the churches in our Division: Miss Mary Christian, Miss Juliette Mather, Mrs. J.

Hundley Wiley, Mr. Edwin Perry, Mr. David Byrd, Dr. J. F. Plainfield, Dr. L. C. Quarles, Miss Attie Bostic, Rev. Hudson MacMillan, Dr. G. T. Sadler, Miss Bonnie Jean Ray, Miss Kathryn Abee, Miss Mary Currin, Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Miss Mary Herring, and Mrs. G. K. Middleton.

Our gifts for the year are most gratifying. For 100,000 Club, $10,352.91. Total gifts for all objects from women and young people, $72,622.90. The largest in the history of Greensboro Division.

Through another year of stress and strain from war, God's blessings have been upon our work. We praise and glorify His name.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON,
Superintendent of Greensboro Division.

REPORT OF HICKORY DIVISION

As the reports came in to the superintendent her heart was thrilled to see how Christ has been exalted during the past year in each of the nine associations of the Hickory Division. Yet each of us would say, "Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto Thy name give glory for Thy great mercy and truth's sake."

In January of 1943 each association held an all-day conference of officers, W. M. S. presidents, and counselors. At these conferences the Year Book and plans for Young People's work were studied. These meetings have proved of inestimable value in carrying out the program of the year. Perhaps this evidenced zeal for learning better how to serve as officers has been the outstanding feature of our general work. That it is a growing desire was manifested in the gratifying attendance at our associational conferences in January, 1944.

Six hundred and one Mission Study classes were taught during the year. Added emphasis has been placed on soul winning as the paramount aim of Community Missions. The Community Missions Guide has been efficiently taught in many societies. The Inter-racial Conference held in Shelby was most helpful and enlightening.

The Hundred Thousand Club apportionment of $6,500 was exceeded, gifts being $6,680.81. Total gifts for 1943 amounted to $65,680.41. This shows a gain of about fourteen per cent during the year. The gain in two years in total gifts was thirty-three and a third per cent and in three years more than fifty per cent. We are grateful for this when we remember that the Hickory Division, as such, is only four years old.

There are forty-three new missionary organizations and forty-two Full-graded Unions. There are, however, only two A-1 Full-graded Unions reported.

The fact that there are still one hundred and forty-seven unenlisted churches among the three hundred and thirty-seven Missionary Baptist churches of this Division makes us realize sternly that there is much yet to do in our Judea.

Many young people of the Hickory Division attended the Y. W. A., G. A., and R. A. Camps at Ridgecrest. Focus weeks were stressed by a number of local organizations.

The Royal Ambassador Conclave held at Calvary Church, Morganton, was attended by more than two hundred boys. This occasion was planned by Rev. James W. Ray of Spindale, R. A. Counselor for the Division, and by Miss Kathryn Abree. Miss Helen Harris of Morganton, Divisional Young People's Leader, assisted ably also. Rev. W. W. Lawton of Charlotte was the inspiring missionary speaker.

Members of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church of Lincolnton were most gracious hostesses to the more than four hundred women who attended the annual meeting October the 29th. Mrs. Hundley Wiley, Miss Mary Christian, and Miss Kathryn Abree were present and unstintingly gave us information and inspiration. At the close of Mrs. Wiley's stirring speech an offering of $116 was received for Chinese Relief.

It was with deep regret on her part that because of change of residence the superintendent resigned from her office, January, 1944. She has found the women of the Hickory Division to be co-operative, responsive, and truly zealous "That all the kingdoms of the earth may know" Him. It has been a joy and privilege to work with these handmaidens of the Lord. In the capable hands of Mrs. John B. Wacaster of Cherryville, for twenty-four years superintendent of the King's Mountain Association, we pray and believe that the Master's work will go forward gloriously.

MRS. C. N. ROYAL.

REPORT OF RALEIGH DIVISION

The Raleigh Division had an exceptionally well-attended meeting in October with the Watts Street Church, Durham. There was an average attendance throughout the day of 275-300.

All of the associations and conferences have been well attended, as well as the Divisional Conference for leaders which was held in January. Many letters to me stated that more was learned the one day through the conferences than could possibly be had through any other method.

The special seasons of prayer with offerings have been held in the majority of the churches throughout the Division.

The study of the Year Book and "The How and Why of W. M. U." has been very general and has proven very helpful, especially to newly elected officers. Mission books other than the seasonal requirements are being stressed for reading and study. Reports show an increase in classes for the study of the Bible, stewardship and community missions.

The Mount Zion Association has established from voluntary contributions a loan fund providing scholarships in Shaw University for those wishing to take religious training. Sandy Creek Association is doing outstanding work in ministering to the patients at Sanatorium, the girls at Samarcand, and to the boys in service in camp. Little River Association has a "contact worker" for the Margaret Fund students at Buie's Creek.

There are six girls from the Raleigh Division studying at the Training School in Louisville. Two come from Mt. Zion, one from Beulah, one from Central, one from Sandy Creek.

All associations met their financial goal except the Central.

Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt, Clayton, is the newly-elected Young People's Leader. She and Miss Abee were with us in our divisional meeting in October and also in our January Leaders' Conference. Our young people's work is progressing well under their leadership.

Mr. E. Norfleet Gardner, Henderson, is the R. A. Counselor in the Division and reported a well attended and enthusiastic Conclave.

Mt. Zion Association led this year in the number of full-graded unions, while the Little River Association was the only one to make the twelve points on the Standard of Excellence.

Thousands of letters and cards written have been reported. Hundreds of hours spent waiting in bus stations and on the road side with flat tires have been reported, trying to get to or from a meeting. Statistics cannot show the effort made, but through it all there has been joy, courage, determination and faith.

MRS. W. R. STONE,
Supt., Raleigh Division.

REPORT OF ROCKY MOUNT DIVISION

In these difficult days fraught with anxieties and strife, and in more strenuous days yet to come, the work of Woman's Missionary Union of the Rocky Mount Division has faced a harsh strain on its activities. Many of our leaders and members have continued to put "first things first," letting no obstacle, however apparently insurmountable, thwart their aims. The faithfulness of these women, just keeping on, through sometimes the most hopeless aspect of keeping on—when others have been ready to quit, has made this report possible.

The Neuse Association had the misfortune to change leaders in the early part of the year. The new superintendent, Mrs. C. M. Billings, has faced the hardships entailed in changes in a marvelous way. Mrs. L. B. Daniel, Superintendent of the Atlantic, and Mrs. W. D. Joyner of the Roanoke have continued to direct the work in their respective associations with the same persevering loyalty as in other years. In spite of efficient planning and untiring devotion, there have been losses in number of organizations and members in all three associations. The Atlantic and Roanoke have retained the same number of missionary societies as in the preceding year. The Atlantic made gains in the number of mission study classes and tithers.

We realize that a statistical report shows decreases instead of increases, yet we feel that the year has been a creditable one, taking all things in consideration. Since our territory is a large one and predominantly rural, we could not but expect to lose organizations and members due to gas and tire shortage. The keen enthusiasm of our faithful presidents, young people's leaders, and individual members and their determination to carry on His work has brought joy to our hearts, for in many cases the sacrifice has been real. Those women who have helped make the record what it is deserve the greatest praise.

Financially we have met all goals. Our division as a whole increased its gifts to all causes over ten per cent. The W. M. U. of the Roanoke Association alone gave to the 100,000 Club more than the Division quota, thus paying its debt to the Neuse and Atlantic for putting the Division across in 1942 when it failed to meet the apportionment.

The young people's work suffered some, we know, because we lost our divisional leader, Mrs. W. B. Sprinkle, in early spring. However, the splendid associational young people's leaders have held high the torch. As a result enthusiastic and well attended Y. W. A. councils were held in each association; many G. A.'s were in attendance at the house party at Meredith. The R. A. Conclave, under the counselorship of Mr. W. W. Finlator, was held in Scotland Neck with 116 boys present. This meeting was full of "pep" and inspiration. It has been well planned and was voted by the boys to be the best one yet.

For the coming year we have chosen to hold high the banner in young people's work. We believe Mrs. Daniel, because of her love for and interest in young people and kingdom work, will tie together many broken threads and help our associational young people's leaders gain back any ground that has been lost.

The Divisional meeting at Morehead City was a splendid one. We were delighted with the attendance under the existing conditions. In January the conference held in Goldsboro was filled with earnestness and spiritual fellowship. As a result of this most joyous getting together, excellent conferences were held in all three associations on January 25. Under His leadership and guidance, we believe the present year is bright with hope and promise, and that our women are going to assume the responsibility "That the generation to come might know," as we never have before.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. BRUCE BEASLEY,
Supt. of Rocky Mount Division.

REPORT OF WILKESBORO DIVISION

The meeting of the Wilkesboro Division was held at the First Baptist Church of Lenoir, October 28, 1943. Mrs. Earl James, who had so faithfully served since organization of the Division, resigned, much to the regret of all our women. Mrs. O. R. Mangum was elected for one year, until a superintendent could be found.

In studying the reports of our Division, one could not but be appalled at the magnitude of the task before us. The following figures speak for themselves:

There are 12 associations in our Division. Two of these are unorganized. There are 318 churches; 229 have no W. M. S., 289 no Y. W. A., 289 no G. A., 306 no R. A., 272 no Sunbeams, 106 no Mission Study.

One of our associations, Caldwell, has for several years had a full-time worker, Miss Ruth Keller. One needs only to study the reports of Caldwell Association to realize what she has meant to the progress of all our work in that county. She has been called into a larger field of usefulness with our State W. M. U.

This matter of enlisting, organizing and training our Baptist women and young people in Wilkesboro Division calls for a worker who can give her full time to it. For this we shall be praying.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. O. R. MANGUM.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

As I view the work in the Wilmington Division I note nothing outstanding, but I do see a quiet, steady growth. For this we are grateful. High goals were set in the beginning of the year and some of these have been attained; we are striving to reach others.

It is with joy that we realize we have gone over the top with our gifts. We went far above our goal for gifts to the Hundred Thousand Club. This, we feel, was a worthy goal and was not easily attained. Much of the credit for this attainment is due to the untiring efforts of our former Superintendent, Miss Macy Cox. She has taken every opportunity to keep the movement before our women, and they have become debt conscious. Our earnest desire now is that we may retain this consciousness until North Carolina is free from all indebtedness.

Our goal for Mission Study has not been reached, although we have the feeling that our records have suffered because many Mission Study classes have not been reported. Reports are being stressed, but many societies have not made reports. Because the Mission Study phase of our work is so important, great stress was placed upon it in our One-day Conferences. We emphasized the various plans for Mission Study: as presented in Institutes, Schools of Missions, and classes. Our Mission Study Chairman, Mrs. J. N. Evans, Jr., has set high goals for this year, and through her leadership, with God's help, we believe that we shall attain these goals.

In spite of the conditions brought on by the war, the Associational Superintendents of the Wilmington Division found it possible to organize and foster forty-seven new organizations. We have adopted the twin-sister plan for organization and are confident that the number of organizations will grow. We look with pride upon the work done in Brunswick and Wilmington associations along this line. Each Superintendent in the Division has done wonderful work, and only God knows the time and effort and money expended in the effort. Eternity alone will be able to judge the results of their great work.

Our young people's work is especially encouraging. As I looked out upon the number of young people from the division attending the Meredith Girls' Auxiliary House Party my heart swelled with pride. Many had come more than two hundred miles for this meeting. In our G. A. and R. A. work we are emphasizing the Forward Steps and Ranking System and, as a result, a better type of work is being done. The Royal Ambassador Conclave was held in Chadbourn and, in spite of the location and the shortage of gas, the group was larger than ever. This meeting was a great inspiration to the boys. We were happy to have Rev. David Byrd, the summer R. A. field worker, to visit the division. His inspiring efforts resulted in the organizing of several new Royal Ambassador Chapters. We are looking forward to the possibility of a full time or part time field worker. The young people's work is going forward in a fine way and we are expecting great things from our youth in the coming years. We are working now "that the generation to come might know."

We would not close this report without saying that we are extremely grateful to our Superintendent Emeritus, Miss Macy Cox, for her many years of leadership as Divisional Superintendent. She has an unexcelled love for the work and has been untiring in her efforts and unselfish in the giving of her time; as a result she has given us a firm foundation upon which to build. May Wilmington Division build thereon a work of which God can be proud.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. G. CARL LEWIS,
Superintendent.

Miss Currin presented Miss Ruth Keller, the new field worker.

Miss Kathleen Mallory spoke on "The Value of Enlisting the Business Women."

Motion made and seconded that reports presented be accepted. Carried.

FOR YE SERVE THE LORD CHRIST

In 1886, Miss Fannie E. S. Heck asked young Miss Sallie Bailey (Mrs. W. N. Jones) to select a motto for the newly organized Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina. In the last conversation I had with Mrs. Jones she told me about this request, how she prayerfully searched the scriptures and was divinely led to a clause in Colossians 3:24—"For Ye Serve the Lord Christ." "Miss Fannie was pleased," said Mrs. Jones, with a beautiful light in her eyes, "and this has always been the motto of our Union. I love the verse."

Throughout the sessions of last year's annual meeting God graciously permitted Mrs. Jones to be with us, and what a benediction was her presence! Today we rejoice as we realize that she is one of "that great cloud of witnesses" with which we are "compassed about," and we are using as our theme the words that she chose as the motto of our State Union, words which her life truly exemplified, and this whole meeting is dedicated in humility and gratitude to the memory of Mrs. W. N. Jones. "Oh, God, to us may grace be given to follow in her train."

In this watchword, "For ye serve the Lord Christ," we find the supreme motive for all missionary endeavor, the real reason for the very existence of our Union. In this supreme motive there are two factors; both lead to joyful, obedient service. The first of these factors is gratitude. A woman who had received great kindness from her brother and his wife in a time of deep distress and sorrow and need, exclaimed with tears, "I can never tell them how grateful I am. Were I to get down on my knees and scrub their floors the rest of my life it would not be enough to show my gratitude!" In all our human relationships gratitude is a beautiful motivating power. Then how infinitely more compelling is the gratitude we owe our Saviour—"Ye are not your own, ye are bought with a price" (1 Cor. 6:20), and what a price! "Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, but with the precious blood of Christ" (1 Peter 1:19).

More potent even than gratitude, love constrains us to obedience to the commands of our Lord. "The love of Christ constraineth us." "We love Him because He first loved us," and as we love, we obey. Edwin Lewis writes in The Practice of the Christian Life, "Christianity sets out to make love the law of life, and service is the law of love. We do not love Him as we should unless we do His will, and His will is that because of His love to us we shall give ourselves in loving service—not merely to those who love us (that is easy!) but to those who love neither Him nor us. There must be proper motivation—no motivation is adequate which does not spring from love for Christ."

Every day we are having impressed upon us the need for preparation for service. Our government is spending vast sums preparing young men and women to serve efficiently in prosecuting the war. Then surely we realize that when we enter the "best service of the best King" we must make adequate preparation. First of all, there must be a complete surrender of life to the Lord Jesus. "No man can serve two masters," and our divine Master demands our all. We want to be "always abounding in the work of the Lord," and the complete yielding of self is truly essential.

After we have said, "None for self, and all for Thee," and have "handed over our lives to Him" we must keep in close touch with Him through prayer, meditation, and Bible study, else we cannot know what He would have us do and how He would have us do His bidding. "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth" is the attitude of His worker. Dr. S. D. Gordon puts it thus: "Prayer precedes true service, and produces it and sweetens it. Only the service that grows up naturally out of this personal contact with Jesus counts for the most."

Dr. Joseph Fort Newton prayed, "Teach me the glory of a lighted mind," and to be worthy servants we must have "lighted minds." So we are grateful that study is included in the plan of work of our Union. Dr. Carver in speaking to the Executive Committee of the Southern W. M. U. in semiannual session in Birmingham last month complimented the Union on the splendid advance in mission study. He referred to the W. M. U. as "the most enlightened group in missionary undertaking among Southern Baptists," and as "the great school of missions of the Southern Baptist Convention." But just when we were feeling complacent and self-congratulatory, he hastened to show us how much there remains for us to do toward "lighted minds" and challenged us to broader and deeper study. Some of the subjects he suggested for inclusion in our course of study and reading are: The Religions of the World, The Philosophy and Science of Missions, Religious Freedom, International Relations, Interracial Questions, Social Betterment. He brought us to realize that we are as yet but in the primary grades in mission study.

If as individuals, and as organizations, we are keenly aware that we do "serve the Lord Christ," if our hearts are filled with gratitude and love, and if we have, guided by the Spirit, prepared ourselves for service, will we be content with anything but truly excellent work? There is a story of a little housemaid who applied for church membership, but who could answer none of the questions the pastor asked her. Finally he said, "Well, then, just tell us why you think you are a Christian?" To which she quickly replied, "Oh, sir, before I became a Christian, I always swept around the door mat, now I always pick it up and sweep under it!" Is not that a fine illustration of the effect on all our service of the full realization that "one is your Master, even Christ?"

Once the Vice-President of the United States came to Raleigh to speak, and to relieve the tedium of waiting the great crowd was being led in singing. "America" was being sung in a dull, listless fashion until the third stanza was reached—then such a change! Everybody stood erect and smiled, and sang with fervor, for the Vice-President had arrived! How different would be our attitude were we constantly conscious that our Master, the supreme Ruler, is ever present! We have his own words, "Lo, I am with you always."

For instance, take a matter that we often speak of, that we emphasize, that we hammer on so incessantly that one enterprising chairman has made up a song using just the one word—Report! Did we truly recognize that it is to the Lord Christ that our reports are really made, would all this emphasis be necessary? Would we not promptly, carefully, and joyfully give Him an account of the service we have rendered? We believe that our organization has been perfected through divine leading, so through our regular channels we are giving an account of our stewardship to Him.

Many years ago I was mission study chairman in my circle. There was one member who could neither read nor write, but who was present at every meeting of the class, listening eagerly to all the discussions. When she appeared on the day set apart for the written examination a very tactful friend said to her, "You sit by me and we will write our examination together," thus avoiding what might have been an embarrassing situation. When I told Mr. Farmer of this incident, commending the thoughtful friend, he said to me, teasingly, "I believe you said the book must be read, and the answers written before a seal is given? Now you are reporting to Miss Elsie that Mrs. Blank is to have a seal; Miss Elsie will report it to Birmingham; Birmingham will report it to heaven, and heaven will know that Mrs. Blank neither read the book nor wrote the answers!" This was spoken in jest, for truly Mrs. Blank had done her utmost, and heaven expects no more, but is there not truth in the jest? Would we ever be willing to do slipshod work if we realized that His loving eye is upon us at all times? Would we hurry through a mission study book with one eye on the clock, letting the "teacher" do all the work, and report a class? "Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord negligently" (Jeremiah 4:10 RV) is a verse Mrs. Turner brought to our attention some time ago, and I have not been able to get away from it.

The same is true of our gifts—all too often we not only say but really feel that we "give to the Co-operative Program, to the 100,000 Club," and so on. A little crippled girl listened to the earnest appeal of a pastor for funds for some special work for the Master. She had no money, but she was deeply moved, and when the offering was taken, she put into the plate her one treasure—a little gold ring. Others seeing this sacrifice, gave far more liberally than they had planned, and when the money was counted there was more than necessary for the planned project. So the pastor took the ring to the girl, and told her that he would give it back to her, as there was money enough and to spare. "But I didn't give it to you," was the little girl's astonished reply. She had sensed in a real fashion what all of us know theoretically, yet all too often we fail to practice. Our offerings are not made to a pastor, or a Board, or a W. M. U., or a cause, or a program, or a budget, but through these agencies to our Master "whose we are, and whom we serve." Jesus sits over by the treasury today and sees how we cast in our gifts.

What are the rewards which the Lord Christ gives to His servants? Not material things, He does not promise our recompense in silver and gold.

He gives His workers courage; Dr. Carver used a beautiful phrase, "the courage of consecration." In his sermon last Sunday my pastor said, "Courage is the most dynamic moral force in the world today." As we look into tomorrow, we realize the need of courage, for the future is dark and uncertain. Many of our missionaries have been forced to return home, some are still in prison, native workers and Christians are suffering, some fields are closed at present, problems are prevalent. Here at home difficulties are challenging us. Hatred and ill will are paramount; grief and anxiety and suffering fill our hearts and homes. We are endeavoring to lead the generation to come to know His laws and to follow them, but there is more juvenile delinquency than has ever been known. Race relations present perplexing problems; no true estimate can be made of the suffering and shame caused by increasing consumption of alcoholic beverages. Who is sufficient for combating all these evils? "One is your Master, even Christ." Dr. Carver gave us this translation of John 5:17, "My Father has been continuously working right up to the present, and I fell in with His everworking." "All power is given unto Me," our Master tells us, and we may claim that power as we too fall in with the ever-working of the Father, and the courage we need will be ours. "Casting all your care upon Him for He careth for you," may be translated: "Casting all your care upon Him for He has you in His heart." So, servants of the Most High, why need we fear? Our Lord has us in His own loving heart.

There is great reward, too, in the richness of the fellowship of the task. What joy it is to come to a meeting like this, and greet old friends and new! What a rare privilege to know personally these missionaries who are with us! Friends, too, whom we have never seen, but whom we know through our missionary books and magazines, through letters, through programs, make our lives rich and full. The Master himself is our friend, for He says: "Ye are my friends if you do whatsoever I have commanded you. Henceforth I call you not servants, but friends, for the servant knoweth not what his Lord doeth; but I have called you friends, for all things that I have heard of the Father, I have made known unto you."

In the Woman's Hymn Miss Heck wrote of one great blessing of service: "Christ your reward shall speak, joy evermore." Only those who have experienced this joy can really understand how great it is, for it is "joy unspeakable." It is not just an ordinary, fleeting sensation of happiness, it is strength. Once, I said to my mother as we walked from church, "You walked so slowly as we went to church, but I can hardly keep up with you now." "It always gives me renewed physical as well as spiritual strength to go to church," was her reply. And I thought of the words from Nehemiah, "For the joy of the Lord is your strength."

Perhaps greatest of all the rewards is the coming of increased opportunities for service. The satisfaction of work well done can only be fully enjoyed as we plunge into greater and more challenging tasks. Recently, in a grocery store, I overheard a conversation between two women. One said, "Have you consented to take that group?" And the answer was, "No, I was on the telephone committee all last year and I think it is time for me to rest." My heart was sad—not for the group that she would not "take" (Dr. Fosdick points out the great difference in "taking" a class in Sunday school and really "teaching" a class: we all have had unhappy experience with women who will "take" an organization, but never "lead" it)—so my heart was sad, not for the group but for the woman who had not yet sensed the joyous privilege of increasing opportunities for serving the Lord Christ.

One of the most beautiful bits of information about heaven is found in Rev. 22:3, "And His servants shall serve Him." A consecrated woman who had given forty years on a mission field "doing earthly things in a heavenly manner," which Dan Crawford once stated as Africa's greatest need, said not long before her death, "No heaven for me with a harp and crown. I want a heaven with some blueprints in it—something more to do." Another expresses the same thought thus:

"I ask no heaven till earth be Thine:
No glory crown while work of mine
Remaineth here.
When earth shall shine among the stars,
Her sins wiped out, her captives free,
Her voice a music unto Thee,
For crown, more work give Thou to me.
Lord, here am I!"

RECOMMENDATIONS OF EXECUTIVE COUNCIL TO 1944 SESSION OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION OF NORTH CAROLINA

WATCHWORD: That the generation to come might know. Psalm 78:6.

HYMN: "The Morning Light Is Breaking."

Deeply grateful for the Divine blessing which has crowned our service in the past year, and keenly conscious that the unprecedented world conditions demand the consecrated effort of every Christian in serving the Lord Christ to the end "That the generation to come might know," we recommend:

I. Prayer.

- A. That we place increased emphasis on prayer, individual and united.
- B. That we covenant anew—
 - 1. To observe the nine o'clock prayer hour.
 - 2. To use the calendar of Prayer and the Pray Ye paragraph in Royal Service consistently.
 - 3. To encourage the establishment of family altars.
- C. That we enter heartily into the plans outlined by the Southern Woman's Missionary Union for the observance of the Season of Prayer for Home Missions, and for Foreign Missions, December 4-8; that we participate earnestly in Seasons of Prayer for World Peace.
- D. That September 11-15 be observed as a Season of Prayer for State Missions, with at least one special program.

II. Methods—Plans—Standards.

- A. That we adopt the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention as our guide as to methods, plans and standards. That our women be urged to study this Year Book, noting changes in this year's plans and bringing their organizations up to the high standard set. That special emphasis be placed on the fundamentals for which our Union stands, and that our high moral standards shall be presented continually as a definite witness for Christ in this present time.

B. Membership.

1. That we vigorously seek to organize new societies, the superintendent assigning to each strong society the obligation of organizing and fostering a new society for the entire year.

C. Business Women's Circles.

1. That we organize Business Women's Circles wherever there are unenlisted Business Women.
2. That each Business Women's Circle send one representative to the B. W. C. Camp at Ridgecrest, August 16-22.

D. Standards.

1. That each Woman's Missionary Society work consistently towards the A-1 goal and constantly aspire to a full graded A-1 W. M. U.
2. That each associational Superintendent use as a guide to greater achievement the Standard of Excellence for Associations.

III. Study.

A. Mission Study.

1. That today, when people are so keenly world conscious, we place more emphasis on world missions and endeavor to create a deeper interest in the study of missions.
2. That the plan inaugurated a few years ago of studying four books each year in the W. M. S. be continued.
3. That one book each quarter be considered a good plan and that a varied and well-balanced program of study be planned at the beginning of the year.
4. That the W. M. U. Year Book shall be used as the basis for books studied, with new books to be recommended by state mission study chairman when such are published.
5. That emphasis be continued on books required for Courses I and II. That classes be encouraged to get seals awarded for such study, both for these and all other books.
6. That all young people's organizations be encouraged to follow plans outlined for study in their specific group and that W. M. S. help in every way possible in providing for and in promoting classes.
7. That all groups be urged to read more widely mission study books and books on related subjects. Where possible, let a mission library be started to stimulate interest in missions.

That all local mission study chairmen and Counselors be urged to notify W. M. S. President promptly of all classes to be reported to the Associational Superintendent or Young People's Leader. That the end of the month following the close of each quarter be the time limit for State Mission Study Chairmen to receive reports from Associational Mission Study Chairmen.

2. That we continue to secure subscriptions to The Commission and Southern Baptist Home Missions; and that the material in these valuable publications be used to enrich the monthly meetings.
3. That we reaffirm our loyalty to the Biblical Recorder and urge our members to subscribe to it.

IV. Missionary Education of Young People.

2. That the counselor of each organization plan to guide in systematic study of stewardship, using, adopting and enlarging upon the plans outlined in the stewardship education leaflets and looking forward to Church Night of Stewardship in October or November.
3. That every member be led to definite, regular expression of stewardship through the Co-operative Program through the local church, through special offerings, through gifts to world emergency relief, and through the 100,000 Club, anticipating a debtless State Convention with 1944 gifts equalling those of 1943.

4. That we place unusual emphasis on mission study for young people, planning for at least two classes a year in each organization and encouraging the use of reading cards for further missionary reading.

3. That the Burney Gift of the Margaret Fund be sent by societies to the Associational meeting and paid to the Associational Margaret Fund Chairman: that she forward the amount to Miss Ora Alford, Treasurer, 214 Biblical Recorder Bldg., Raleigh, and send a report of the same to her Divisional Margaret Fund Chairman.

3. That we have in each Society a class study of the Epistle to The Philippians, that through the response of child-like faith in our hearts, God may make us vessels meet for the Master's use—missionaries in our own communities.

C. Methods.

1. That we emphasize and manifest Christ's uncompromising standards for Christian daily living in all relationships—family, church, civic, and racial.

REPORT OF COMMUNITY MISSIONS CHAIRMAN

There has been in 1943 decided increase of interest in the real purpose of Community Missions. The associational chairmen, having seen the need of stressing soul winning, have prayerfully and faithfully laid it before the women, with the result that there is now added interest in the Bible classes and definite results of our work. There have been one hundred and eighteen Bible classes in the State, and there are reported one hundred twenty-four conversions as a direct result, at least in part, of the local effort in Community Missions. We are mindful of the fact that we can, of ourselves, do nothing, and that all the results we see are entirely the working of the Holy Spirit. But we are grateful that He has found willing instruments with which He can draw men and women and children to the Saviour.

The State Chairman regrets that she could make so few personal contacts with the organizations in the State, but she is grateful for the co-operation of the associational chairmen, and for the grace and power of the Lord to answer prayer and work out in our labor for Him that which is beyond our own limits of time and strength.

Many of the local societies have made a study of the "Guide to Community Missions," but we have no way of knowing how many. This study has led in the making of two hundred sixty-eight surveys during the year. This will certainly enlarge the work and the results.

The results of the Bible classes are not to be tabulated. We have in our church plans, other instruction in the Scripture, and other studies which are needed to fit us for the Lord's work, also we have the well-planned course of study that is outlined by the Mission Study department of the Woman's Missionary Union. But these studies in Ephesians, which we have had this year, have been made with the express purpose of searching out the power which God has in store for us as we go out to labor in His vineyard. Having seen something of His great power toward us, shall we not humble ourselves before Him till we do become mighty instruments in His hands? Continued Bible Study along these lines will inevitably strengthen us as soul-winners and will serve to stir up those societies which have not yet caught the vision. Many are the women who are saying, "We want to do something real in this work." That desire is the impulse of the Holy Spirit. It is with a real faith the work of Community Missions offers the finest opportunity to do something, not only real, but also eternal for the Master and for our neighbors, that your chairman offers this report of the year's work, with the prayer that Jesus Christ may have His way in our hearts and lives in the coming year.

The demands of the times upon us have never been so strong. Many of our women have had to divide their attention with the Red Cross and other war work. But these demands have also been the means of driving us to our knees in prayer for those who need comfort and salvation. Our hearts have been softened by suffering and we see, as never before, the vast opportunities that are ours to "lay down our lives for the brethren" and to minister to them as He has commanded. As we can do so little for those far away, our attention has been turned to those in our midst. May God grant that we shall heed the call of the Lord with greater earnestness and fruitfulness.

REPORT OF MARGARET FUND

Administering the Margaret Fund is one of the greatest channels of service that challenge us today. What more worthy project is there than providing a Christian education in happy surroundings for the children of our missionaries? These parents, having answered God's call, leave in our trust their sons and daughters, ten of whom are now in North Carolina colleges.

All of these students are doing excellent work in their studies, and, at the same time, are performing definite Christian service. A few weeks ago, I heard a Meredith Margaret Fund Senior give an excellent talk before a missionary circle of the First Baptist Church of Raleigh. Last week my small son returned from "Sunbeams" and talked quite enthusiastically of "Miss Green and Africa, where her mother and father teach." Charlotte Green, senior at Meredith College, had talked to them about Nigeria! Other students are doing likewise.

Let us remember these students in our prayers so that we may say to our missionaries in all the field, "Go, be our representatives on Home and Foreign fields. We will do our best to be your agents here at home to make your children happy Christians as they pursue their studies near us."

The Margaret Fund scholarships have been awarded to ten students who chose North Carolina colleges this year of 1943-44. Most of the boys of college age have answered the call of their country. We have only two boys at present who are North Carolina Margaret Fund students.

Burney Fund receipts, $672; disbursements, $300.00; balance, $372.12.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. L. R. HARRILL,

Margaret Fund Chairman.

REPORT OF MISSION STUDY CHAIRMAN

Mission Study is fundamental in the work of Woman's Missionary Union. It was in the heart of God that Missions had its birth. In the Bible we find the plan and purpose of Missions. And according to these plans is the program of Woman's Missionary Union outlined.

It was our Lord Himself who said, "Lift up your eyes and look upon the fields"—this we do through Mission Study. It is here that we see the needs and accomplishments of missions. It is here we learn of plans to meet the needs. Thus are we constrained to pray and to give to missions.

Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence in her recent mission study report quotes a radio announcer who nightly uses the phrase, "Only an informed America can be an invincible America." Most aptly does she apply this to our mission study task. Only an informed Christian can be an invincible Christian. She further says that as our government furnishes its service men with booklets giving information as to customs, culture and religion of countries to which they are bound, so Christian soldiers must know the conditions, needs, and progress on our mission fields, both far and near. How else can we pray for these fields? How else can we give?

In making the mission study report a year ago, it was necessary to report a loss in Mission Study classes as compared to the previous year. I am gratified that this is not the case again this year. There has not been a spectacular advancement, but there has been some increase in classes, for W. M. S. last year 1,786 classes were reported. This year we report 2,071—a gain of 285.

For the young people the increase is somewhat greater—1,375 last year, 1,791 this year—a gain of 416. This is indeed gratifying. As it is vitally important that our young people shall be trained in Mission Study, it is also largely accounted for by classes taught at our splendid summer camps for young people and by classes in Vacation Bible Schools. We would caution those whose young people do not have these privileges to be doubly diligent in promoting classes. Last year only two Pioneer classes were reported. This year, there have been 36. Schools of Missions have also increased from 23 last year to 58 this year. There was only one Mission Study Institute held last year. This year there have been two. This is probably explained by the difficulty in transportation. A number of Associations have held "group classes," or "County Classes," according to the divisions prevailing in the various Associations. These number 19. While these figures reveal our progress in concise form, to me they are not the most encouraging feature of our work. As best I can judge, there is increased interest in mission study. Perhaps we were aroused and ashamed because of our poor report last year. Perhaps we have been moved by world conditions. Whatever the cause, I have been gratified to receive reports from chairmen not previously reporting. Also from chairmen of following associations there has come a report for each quarter and a yearly report in addition—Atlantic, Beulah, Brushy Mountain, Burnt Swamp, Carolina, Green River, Johnston, Liberty, Macon, Mt. Zion, Randolph, Robeson, Roanoke, Sandy Creek, Tar River, Wilmington, and Yadkin. You will notice that these associations vary widely both in size and in strength.

In the Bryson City, Greensboro, Raleigh, and Rocky Mount Divisions, reports came from every association in the division. Another encouraging fact is that in two associations in the far west where the chairmen failed to report, individuals teaching classes reported ten classes held.

These facts are most encouraging, but let us bear in mind that there are 14 associations who have made no report. Three have sent reports for only one quarter and some who reported for four quarters have waited until the end of the year to send all four reports. May I urge that in the present year you report regularly at the end of each quarter? That each chairman become familiar with our State recommendations for mission study—and with the plan in the Year Book—that they read and heed the letters from State Chairmen of Mission Study and watch the page in the Biblical Recorder for additional information.

In closing this report, may I again express deep and sincere appreciation for the many faithful chairmen who are responsible for the advancement herein reported. May we all go forward in this most vital department of our Lord's work.

REPORT OF STEWARDSHIP CHAIRMAN

Woman's Missionary Union through the years has consistently believed in intensive constant teaching of the great stewardship principles. And that must continue to be if the generation to come is to know. What did we do in 1943 along this line?

Tangible Results of Teaching Stewardship

Naturally we look for and expect results from our Stewardship Training Program. Always there are the intangible results revealed in greater devotion and loyalty to the services of the church, more generous use of time for His glory, more careful spending of the 9/10 we have left for our use—in fact, a whole-hearted dedication of all to Him. Rightly does Dr. Walt N. Johnson say: "Stewardship is not man's method of raising money; it is rather God's method for making men."

Below you will find some revealing figures which measure in a large way our love for Christ.

What of the Future?

We are hearing much of the Post-War World. Are we as stewards ready to enter that world? There must be a constant and diligent training of our young people and adults.

Our immediate task now must be to rid our Baptist State Convention of debt, so that we may go forward in His name unshackled.

Let us put a new emphasis on the Co-operative Program, that we may never again find it necessary to go in debt to carry on His work.

What a privilege is ours to help lay the foundation for the second century of our Baptist life! As the foundation goes, so goes the structure. Immense possibilities are before us. Will we grasp them?

May I thank each of you for your co-operation and your help in making this report possible.

MRS. CHARLES E. STEPHENSON,

Stewardship Chairman.

REPORT OF W. M. U. TRAINING SCHOOL

In a recent article in Think magazine, written by Kathryn McHale, Director General of the American Association of University Women, we are reminded that, "The direction of a free world adventure, perhaps to a greater degree than we can now realize, will come to women, for thousands of men will die on battlefields." It is likely that if this tragic thing we call war continues, the responsibility of building and maintaining a Christian world will fall largely on women. What a challenge to young womanhood; yes, but what a challenge to adult womanhood, to make possible the necessary training of the young women who respond to this challenge. How marvelous that the Spirit-led leadership of Woman's Missionary Union has been alert to world needs and have been so vitally concerned that we have a "Training Center" for those who go out into the big business of building a world. It is not accidental that when post-war programs and new horizons are being discussed today on every page of papers and magazines, that we have the up-to-date equipment ready for the necessary training of those who are to fill the places of leadership in the post-war world. We are rightly proud of our Seminary and our new Training School adjoining its campus in Louisville, Kentucky.

The enrollment of the Training School has reached the highest peak since 1925-26. The total number of resident and day students is 109. North Carolina has 20 young women in school, this being the largest state group. Next comes South Carolina and Tennessee with an enrollment of ten each.

Six of our group are using N. C. scholarships. Margaret Jane Childs, Lincolnton, was chosen to be the recipient of the Edna Harris honor scholarship while Ella Sue Gravitte, of Roxboro, Beulah Association, was granted use of the Castlebury Memorial Scholarship.

We rejoice in the increasing opportunities made possible for students in our Training School and Seminary. The formal opening of the "Department of Church Music," by the Seminary, offers specialized training in this widening field of Service. Thirteen Training School girls are enrolled in this newest department of training. This school, which occupies such a vital place in the missionary program of our denomination, merits our deepest interest and loyal support. North Carolina is asked for $1,700.00 this year for current support of the school. Added to this will be the $1,200.00 necessary for scholarships. The Heck Memorial Offering gives to each member of every W. M. U. organization the privilege of sharing in the wonderful work of training the missionary leadership of tomorrow.

Dr. Cornell Goerner, Professor of Missions in our Seminary, points out the importance of a reserve of Missionary manpower (this includes womanpower) for the post-war program of missions. "The normal supply of prepared men and women will not be adequate. Just as we must build up a reserve fund of money, so must we build up a reserve of trained personality." Miss Carrie Littlejohn, Principal of our Training School, tells us that the demand now, in our own country, for trained workers in churches and in sections adjacent to army camps and defense plants is far beyond the supply. Missionary minded women should be on the alert to seek out and present to our choice young women in our churches, colleges and in business, the challenge to prepare themselves for the urgent demand for service in the greatest of causes.

SALLIE BAILEY JONES

Sallie Bailey Jones was born in Greenville County, Virginia, on January 29, 1868, in the home of a popular Baptist minister and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Bailey. Moving from Virginia, Dr. Bailey held pastorates in the historic towns of Edenton and Warrenton, North Carolina. These were but childhood memories to the little daughter, for at the age of nine she was brought to Raleigh, Dr. Bailey having been chosen editor of the Biblical Recorder. From that time to her recent death, November 25, 1943, Raleigh has been home to Mrs. Jones.

The eldest in a family of four children, the three younger being sons, she early learned home duties and co-operation. The atmosphere was of Christian culture and Biblical hospitality. Mrs. Bailey, her mother, was of a calm, unruffled disposition and no number of unexpected guests brought home by her husband seemed to disturb her. The hospitable table could always accommodate any number and in those days of plenty, the dishes seemed never empty. Mrs. Bailey was kindness itself as neighbor, ever willing to be called on in emergencies of illnesses, empty pantries, or frightened young mothers with crying babies. A lady of the old school with hand and heart open to the needs of others, Mrs. Bailey was much loved by the whole city. It was from her mother that young Sallie Bailey learned the hospitality, fine neighborliness and readiness to help those in any kind of need that marked her whole life.

Between Sallie Bailey and her father there was a unity of interests that made them devoted companions. She was a small, fair-haired child, never robust and more fond of books than of play, and of driving with her father than of association with those of her own age. Dr. Bailey gave careful training to her naturally fine mind. He impressed upon her the importance of clear thinking and of quick and sure decisions. These traits remained wonderful assets in her years of leadership, and made all associated with her marvel at her immediate grasp of a subject and at her accurate insight and wise judgment.

She received her formal education at Hobgood's School and Peace Institute, both in Raleigh, and at Richmond Female Institute, now Richmond Woman's College. But with her, real education was in constant reading and study. Her reading ranged through all subjects, fiction, poetry, history, politics, biography, travel, philosophy and science. Her retentive memory seemed to hold it all and to yield the facts desired, with always a clear expression of reasons for her approval or disapproval.

In her nineteenth year, she was married to Wesley Norwood Jones and there began a union of devotion to the Kingdom of God and a usefulness in His service seldom attained. "A virtuous woman whose price was far above rubies. The heart of her husband safely trusted in her. He was known in the gates when he sat among the elders of the land. She did him good all the days of her life."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jones became members of the First Baptist Church of Raleigh in their youth. He was made deacon in his early manhood and later became senior deacon. Mrs. Jones was chosen among the first deaconesses when that office was revived by the church. The deep interest and wise council of these two extended to every branch of church life, and their names will stand always for spiritual advancement.

Both husband and wife taught in the Sunday school for more than fifty years. Both built up large well organized classes that now bear the name of their respective teacher. No one who ever heard Mrs. Jones teach a Sunday school lesson or deliver an address but realized that she knew the Word of God and that the spirit of the law illumined her words. Her chief reading and deepest study was put on the Bible. Her delight was in the law of the Lord. She hid it in her heart, made it a light unto her path and a lamp unto her feet. And those who received the inspiration of her teaching felt that Mrs. Jones walked in this light and that she was a personal friend who might be called upon for advice or help in any emergency or difficulty.

She held strictly to the command to keep holy the Sabbath day, and allowed no secular interest to interfere with its observance. Always in her place on Sunday and at the prayer meeting, she was a support and an inspiration to her pastor and an example to others. Her devotion to the church in all of its work was undeviating and held first place in her life.

In the Woman's Missionary Society, she held every office from its day of small beginning and remained a trusted leader and deeply interested member to the end of her life. Her gifts to all objects of the denomination were liberal and commensurate with the large means entrusted to her. To mission causes they were outstanding.

Her prayers went with her gifts, and all who knew her were conscious of her communion with the heavenly Father. The church looked to her for guidance because she "held the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience." This faith was truly the anchor of her soul that held within the veil of deep sorrows that came to her and was shown in her submission to the will of God. Through her own faith in sorrow, she was enabled to offer comfort to those whose hearts were bowed in grief. Usually the first to reach a stricken home, she had a special word for each one, giving renewed courage and trust in God.

Mrs. Jones extensive mission work and church activities were never allowed to interfere with her home duties. "I must be more careful than others," she said, "for so often women in mission work are accused of neglecting their homes and families." Her large house was always perfectly kept, even when overflowing with her children and their numerous friends. With open-house hospitality she welcomed all ages and varying types. She sewed beautifully, making lovely clothes for her young daughters, even finding time for dainty embroidery, needle point and crocheting. She loved growing things and directed successfully the planting of a garden of vegetables and flowers.

Just two things Mrs. Jones admitted she could not do: cook, and drive a car. But since she always had willing service in her kitchen and a house full of car drivers, these were not handicaps to her.

In her well-rounded life, Sallie Bailey Jones was a devoted and helpful daughter; a companionable sister; an unsurpassed wife; a faithful nurse to an invalid mother-in-law; a model mother to her own children and young niece; an understanding and indulgent grandmother; a friend who loved at all times; and a woman whose influence reached to the ends of the earth and enriched the lives of countless thousands. Truly of her it may be said: "Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all."

ELIZABETH BRIGGS PITTMAN.

SEEDTIME AND HARVEST IN NORTH CAROLINA

Woman's Missionary Union had its beginning in January, 1886, when the Woman's Central Committee was organized with Miss Fannie E. S. Heck as President and Miss Sallie Bailey, Secretary. Both were young women of high courage, keen minds and broad vision. These they dedicated to the promotion of Missions.

Those early years were difficult years, years to test one's faith and determination. They were years of soil preparation, seed planting and patient cultivation. Sallie Bailey Jones, with a rich heritage of religious training and endowed with rare personal gifts, was especially fitted for the task she assumed, and has the unique record of having been active in the work from its beginning, a period of fifty-seven years. During this time she held office continuously except for the years when her children were quite small. Even then she still served on the Executive Committee.

In 1900, as Mrs. Wesley N. Jones, she again became Secretary, with the added responsibility of Treasurer. In 1916, following the death of Miss Heck, she was elected President. When North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union celebrated its Jubilee in 1936, Mrs. Jones resigned the presidency but she did not retire from service. She was elected President Emeritus, and as long as she was able was present at monthly executive meetings, ever ready to counsel, guide and serve. Last year at our annual meeting in Raleigh her presence proved a benediction. We are conscious of her absence today, and yet she has so closely woven her life into the fabric of our organization that she will always be a very vital part of it.

To few is granted so long, so rich, so abundant service as was hers. Coming into the work as a young and gifted girl, she brought the enthusiasm, energy and courage needed in a cause then so unpopular. Always a student, her interest in the Bible and world missions increased with the years and her consecration deepened. Trained in youth to make quick decisions, her powers of discernment and discrimination developed to a remarkable degree. Her judgment was relied upon, her advice sought. She was especially fitted to direct the period of growth, expansion and intensive cultivation of recent years. Through the long years she never faltered in her high purpose, but, with clear vision and determined will, she led the Union with unselfish service.

The years were good to her. She kept her faculties and her keen interest in kingdom work to the very last. To her it was given to see of the fruit of her hands. From the breaking up of the soil, the planting and watering, the intensive cultivation, she had labored; she also shared in the harvest. The fourteen organizations, giving $1,000.95 that first year, had grown to 3,976, giving $387,728.60 last year. Into the years between there were crowded unnumbered hours of prayer and planning, constant study, unfaltering faith, and ceaseless ministry. Were it possible to have personal testimonies, I am sure there are many here who would joyously tell how she encouraged their faltering efforts, strengthened their feeble hands, and led them into lives of greater usefulness.

At the service held for Mrs. Jones in Raleigh two passages of scripture were read, passages Mrs. Jones had herself selected for her husband's funeral. A verse in each was especially symbolic of the life and work of Mrs. Jones. The 103rd Psalm, a hymn of praise, begins "Bless the Lord, oh my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name." This was her purpose in life; to this she dedicated her splendid talents.

The other passage, the glorious resurrection, chapter 15 of 1 Cor., closes with these words, "Therefore my beloved brethren be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord." You who have known her through the years will testify that this describes the character of the marvelous service she rendered.

"Servant of God well done!
Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle's fought, the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy."

MRS. J. CLYDE TURNER.

"LABORERS TOGETHER"

The minutes of Woman's Missionary Union gratefully record many proofs of what we personally know to be true—namely, that Mrs. Wesley N. Jones was an exceptionally valuable co-laborer in the Union's work for at least thirty-five years, even as she was an active participant in the work of the North Carolina W. M. U. for a much longer period. From 1908 through 1912 and then from 1916 through 1937 she was the North Carolina vice-president for the general Union; for the last three years of her life she was an honorary member of its Executive Committee. For most of those many years she attended the W. M. U. annual meetings, serving with marked ability on many of the most important committees. Also for at least a score of those meetings she prepared the report from her State. The study of such reports is very illuminating, for they show how alert Mrs. Jones was not only to the trends and the needs of the time, but also how co-operative she was with the Union's effort to "serve its generation according to the will of God." Thus she urged the heartiest participation for the Church Building Loan Fund of the Home Mission Board; she gratefully mentioned scholarships and other special gifts to the W. M. U. Training School; her missionary zeal stimulated enlistment of other women; she rejoiced when the general Union and then when her State decided to have secretaries responsible for the missionary education of the young people; her keen mind and her studious habits led her to promote the Union's mission study courses, even as she proudly reported as to A-1 churches, thus showing her approval of the Standards of Excellence as upheld by Woman's Missionary Union.

In studying the reports as rendered by Mrs. Jones and in recalling conferences with her, it can be said with assurance that she rejoiced in victories but was not discouraged by unmet goals, that she believed in her constituency but that her chief dependence was upon God. These facts are very readily realized in studying what she wrote in praise of the remarkable total pledged by North Carolina W. M. U. members to the Seventy-five Million Campaign, her reminders being constant that every such pledge should be faithfully redeemed, her praise being high when at the end of the five years it was known that far more than the large total pledged had been loyally and lovingly paid. In clear contrast was her announced disappointment when her State failed to reach its financial goal in the Union's Ruby Anniversary, but she did not fail to rejoice over other victories resultant from that anniversary.

All through the writings of Mrs. Jones there is also a yearning that all of her co-laborers should really sacrifice to reach each high aim as set by Woman's Missionary Union. During the years of the depression she expressed sympathy for those who did not reach their financial goals, but she never failed to render thanks for the sacrificial gifts that were ingathered. Noticeable then as always was her thanksgiving to God, "Our hearts full of gratitude" being her expression.

It is cause for unmeasured thanks that Mrs. Jones participated actively in the Golden Jubilee of Woman's Missionary Union as observed in Richmond in 1938. Since none other had been more continuously active, it was most appropriate that Mrs. Jones should represent the one who presided when the Union was organized. However, the past was only a sector in life for Mrs. Jones: just as clearly defined in her plans and purposes was the future. Therefore, it would seem fit to use as a proof of her unending interest in the work of Woman's Missionary Union the challenge which she gave in one of her reports to the Union: "There remaineth yet very much land to be possessed."

KATHLEEN MALLORY,

W. M. U. Executive Secretary.

SOWING BESIDE ALL WATERS

In the very heart of the most densely populated section of the city of Soochow, China, there stands a building—tall and stately, overlooking the crowded streets below. Within this building the youth of China are being prepared for kingdom service. Here those of all ages meet to study the Word of God. In the chapel on the third floor truly "the upper room," flooded with light and sunshine, the membership of the church meets for worship.

While the nations were locked in war, this building was erected by the Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina in memory of the one whom we know today. When the plan is completed the church will stand between this educational building and one of the main streets of the city.

Through this institution Mrs. Wesley N. Jones will continue to exert her influence through evangelism and Christian education, not only upon the people of Soochow but throughout the land of China.

There is yet a monument more lasting than that of stone. Through the lives of all the missionaries who have come under the blessed influence of Mrs. Jones as they have gone out from North Carolina and the southland to all nations, she is even today "sowing the seed of the gospel beside all waters," and these seed are bearing abundant fruitage to the glory of God and to the extension of the kingdom of His Son.

This is a time when we do well to pause and meditate upon the meaning of her life. We thank God for her whose love to God so beautifully revealed itself in fruitful service to humanity.

May we here assembled today, one and all, rededicate our lives to all those phases of kingdom service that were more than life itself to her. May the work of love for the Master continue, and may we share with all mankind those Christian graces that made her life so radiant and so rich.

H. H. MACMILLAN.

Report of Appreciation Committee:

RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION

Some one has said, "No metaphysician ever felt the deficiency of language so much as the grateful." Truly that is our feeling as we try to voice appreciation for the manifold blessings that have been ours in this 54th annual session of Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina. "What shall we render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward us?"

Coming from the lowlands and the highlands with some misgivings as to the weather, we found Charlotte bathed in sunshine and bedecked with flowers. We are grateful for the inexpressible joy of greeting friends across the length and breadth of this vast State. Never has a local committee prepared more adequately or graciously for our every need, and we return to our places of service with hearts more closely knit with those of our fellow laborers here in Charlotte.

Victor Hugo once said, "There are moments when, whatever be the attitude of the body, the soul is on its knees." Again and again we have found our souls on their knees as we have gained a more intelligent grasp of the task that is ours, have been given a new vision and lifted to the throne by the sincere and heartfelt messages of those who have taken part on the program, a program so wisely planned and reverently executed by our beloved state officers. To Mrs. Farmer, Miss Currin, Miss Abee and their co-workers, most of all to God, we say, "Thank you from the bottom of our hearts." Rather, let Grace Noll Crowell say it for each of us:

"Lord, you have been good to me,
I would praise You ceaselessly,

Through the prayers that I pray,
Through the words that I say,
Through the things that I do,
I would have them honor You.
Lord, you have been good to me,
Year-long, life-long.
Help me find the high, clear words
For my grateful song!"

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. PAUL P. DAVIS,
MRS. F. O. MIXON,
MRS. CARL WILLIAMSON,
MYRTLE H. ZENTMEYER,

Committee.

Mrs. Farmer recognized Mrs. Cooper Taylor and the entertaining committee.

Registration, 744 delegates and 708 visitors. Total, 1,452.

Address: "In Royal Service," by Miss Kathleen Mallory.

Hymn: "The Morning Light Is Breaking."

Address: "The Call to Victorious Service," Miss Inabelle Coleman.

Closing meditation and prayer.

A WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

We are sending this year, instead of the regular minutes of the Convention, this book of reports containing the minutes of the extraordinary Executive Committee Meeting of February 21, which was attended by the ten divisional superintendents; the treasurer's reports; the reports of officers; and the plan of work for this year. You will notice with gratification the report of gifts of each society for the Co-operative Program as well as for the total gifts is listed. This will guide you in finding your goal of 5% increase for Standard of Excellence and of 20% increase for the Centennial Year.

Because of the government restrictions, we could have no annual meeting, as you are aware. We miss the inspiration that comes always from the days of the meeting, but is there not inspiration in the challenge of our high Centennial goals—one hundred thousand souls won to Christ, 500 new organizations, 20% increase in total gifts? We miss the fellowship of these days together, but God grant that we may learn afresh the deep joy of real fellowship when

"Though sundered far, by faith we meet Around one common mercy seat."

As never before each one of us must do her part and loyally give of her best to the Master in order that we do not disappoint Him in this year of great significance. "Lead on, O King, we follow not with fears," but with gratitude and courage, because we are blest with the privilege of "having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth and to every nation and kindred and tongue and people."

MRS. J. S. FARMER.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, 1944

A Decade of Progress

Southern Baptists in 1945 are turning the pages of history. Would we not be in vogue to look at the past ten years of W. M. U. progress in North Carolina? How true is that word, "I am a part of all that I have met." This is true of organizations and individuals. What a high personal privilege has been granted me to work with the great souls who have led in the way of progress! A glance at these years 1934-1944 must begin with a word of sincere praise to those with whom we have labored. Let us gratefully salute the brave spirits of those who now are in "the cloud of witnesses"! The undaunted missionary spirit and keenly intelligent mind of Mrs. Wesley N. Jones guided with unswerving, loving hand through the long years and until her work was done on earth; the glowing, steadfast heart of Mrs. Edna R. Harris combined with a tireless energy caused the work to glow and grow wherever she touched it; the painstaking accuracy and gentleness of Miss Elsie Hunter can never be fully appreciated except by those who knew her best. And what word is adequate to appraise rightly the contribution to missionary training of youth made by Mrs. Elizabeth Briggs Pittman! How often did she speak the encouraging word when the writer first came to serve in W. M. U.! How wisely and well did Mrs. J. Clyde Turner take up the work Mrs. Jones laid down! The constancy and beauty of Mrs. J. S. Farmer's life and work has lifted our work to a level of highest influence and usefulness. As others have come and gone, Miss Ora Alford, always faithful and true, has been helpful in a thousand ways. These ten years have brought two leaders of young people's work—the writer and Miss Kathryn Abee. It has been a unique and joyous experience to watch Miss Abee take such a large responsibility and measure up so finely.

Thus this comparative report which shows the measure of our achievement for the past ten years is but a composite picture of the realized aspirations of these gifted leaders and the combined efforts of thousands of children, youth, and women. We build today on the firm foundation well laid by others. And it is beyond expression to describe the benediction which leaders everywhere have brought to my life.

We are beginning 1945 with the largest number of organizations on record, making a net gain of 223 in 1944. We now have 4,164 active missionary organizations. We have added 1,295 organizations in the past ten years, as follows:

	W.M.S.	Y.W.A.	G.A.	R.A.	S.B.
1934.....	1,050	408	544	333	534
1944.....	1,329	527	960	641	707

Our Centennial goal of 500 new organizations will put us well beyond 4,600 missionary groups. More than 1,200 churches remain untouched. Why do we continue to lag in enlistment?

One surprising and discouraging aspect is the almost negligible increase in number of organizations maintaining Standard work. In 1934 we had 509 Standard organizations; in 1944, 994 maintained this quality of work. How can we be satisfied with less than our best? But we rejoice greatly and point with pride to the achievement of 22 (an increase over 1943) superlative churches. The following maintained during 1944 an A-1 full graded union:

Ahoskie	Enon (Flat River)
Ardmore, Winston-Salem	Elizabeth City, First
Asheville First	Goldsboro First
Badin	Grace, Albemarle
Bethel (Roanoke)	Harris Chapel (Tar River)
Cherryville	Hayes Barton, Raleigh
Clayton	Lexington First
Creeksville	Millbrook
Edgemont, Durham	Orrum

Proctorville
 Roanoke Rapids
 Swansboro
 Tabernacle, Raleigh

Wallace
 Watts St., Durham
 Woodland

The Johnston and Stanly Associations did A-1 work in 1944. Mrs. J. E. Wilder and Mrs. T. S. Crutchfield, superintendents, are to be highly commended. Honorable mention must be made also of the Little River, Flat River and Wilmington Associations, each of which met eleven points on our twelve-point Standard of Excellence.

Intercessory prayer for a lost world has permeated and held together our work. More and more organizations are observing these seasons of prayer. More observed the Seasons of Prayer for Home and Foreign Missions than in 1943. We suffered a slight loss in this emphasis in behalf of State Missions. More than 850 W. M. S. observed each of the Seasons of Prayer. Looking back through the past decade, our united prayer record stands as follows:

	State	Home	Foreign
1934.....	1,072	1,052	1,176
1944.....	1,903	1,960	2,053

The discerning eye of Christian compassion is more and more focused on needs in our own communities through community missions activities. In 1944, 1,988 or half of our organizations turned word into deed month by month—an increase of 63 over 1943. As we glance at our 1934 record, we can see a good increase, but how far short we yet fall in meeting the acute and growing needs:

1934—784 organizations.

1944—1,988 organizations.

How different is this 1945 world from the world of ten years ago—this world which daily shrinks in size and about which we must study, study! It is interesting to note the decided increase in number of classes.

1934—1,802 classes.

1944—3,783 classes.

Our number of Royal Service subscriptions has increased more than 7,000 in this same period with a total of 17,468 in 1944.

Surely the emphatic tones of Mrs. Edna R. Harris' voice when she oft quoted, "The tithe is holy unto Jehovah," added fuel to the growing fire of Stewardship in the hearts of our women and young people.

We have grown in tithers as follows:

1934—4,673 tithers.

1944—13,393 tithers.

Naturally our gifts have increased as members have been added through new organizations, but even so, there is a deeper desire prevalent that women shall be faithful stewards of what they possess. How grateful we are for the great growth in this respect:

1934—$181,423.96.

This 1944 gift is the largest in our history. We made an increase over 1943 of more than $88,000 in total gifts.

Our women and young people need everywhere to be commended for their generous support of the Baptist 100,000 Club. North Carolina W. M. U. members gave a total of $265,348.50 to this great cause which triumphed gloriously earlier than any had hoped. We gave in 1944 the largest Lottie Moon Christmas Offering in history. Mrs. M. A. Huggins, our new Stewardship Chairman, has begun well and she will lead us to new heights in the expression of Christian stewardship.

Our 1944 inter-racial institutes were fine in spirit, attendance and program, and we hopefully believe made and will continue to make immeasurable contribution to the common good of the Negro and white races. Mrs. D. F. Stamps, Missionary from China, brought a great message to each meeting. Mrs. Cora Ann Johnson (now deceased) Negro Baptist leader in New Orleans, will be remembered and honored always for her unique and powerful messages in each meeting.

Four rising Seniors at our W. M. U. Training School and Mrs. W. F. Randolph, a graduate of the Training School, devoted themselves with great enthusiasm to W. M. U. field work during the summer months. They were Hilda Mayo, Fannie Terrell, Mrs. W. F. Randolph, Frances Winstead. Praise of their work has come freely and we hope to continue this means of strengthening our work.

The one-day associational conferences in January preceded by the divisional leadership conferences were well attended and most valuable. Many superintendents are frank to express wonder that we used to manage without them. All of the annual associational meetings came in the second quarter and it was a high joy of the State officers and missionaries to touch all sections of the State.

The October divisional meetings brought to North Carolina Misses Kathleen Mallory, Juliette Mather, Rose Marlowe and Mrs. Rosalee Mills Appleby. These meetings were surpassingly fine. In early November we experienced unusual blessing and help in the coming together of more than 100 Superintendents and Young People's Leaders of divisions and associations. This meeting of the State W. M. U. Executive Council has become our most useful and promising tool in promoting all W. M. U. work. The fellowship was priceless.

The third Business Women's Conference at Ridgecrest in August found 77 registered from North Carolina. This proved a fine stimulus in our B. W. C. work. Our first city federation is Greensboro. The Gaston County B. W. C. federation is well established and growing in influence. Others are ready to be organized.

New personalities have come and gone in our Raleigh office family—Miss Ruth Keller took up her position as field worker March 1, 1944, and already she has become indispensable. A. T. Greene, Jr., came in June as part-time R. A. secretary, but seeing two states too difficult a task and he resigned in December, 1944. His love for boys and devotion to Christ and missions was an ideal combination and we regretted his resignation. We thank him for his every effort. Our prayers will follow him. Lillian Cgburn, Garner, came in September as stenographer. She does her work with enthusiasm and accuracy.

We present with deep gratitude this wonderful report. We look and say "It is good," but what does the Master say? How small it looks in the face of the immensity and urgency of the need!

The year of years, the Centennial of Southern Baptist life, has well begun. Our inability to hold our usual State W. M. U. Convention places upon every W. M. U. member the obligation to pray, study, give to an extent hitherto unknown. If we gain the tangible and intangible victories of 1945, we must "Consecrate ourselves this day unto the Lord."

Lead on, O King Eternal,
We follow not with fears,
For gladness breaks like morning
Wh'er thy face appears.
Thy Cross is lifted o'er us,
We journey in its light,
The Crown awaits the Conquest,
Lead on, O God of Might.

Personal Report

During the year, I have traveled 11,800 miles, spending 26 weeks on the field. I attended 19 annual associational meetings, made 76 talks, led 85 conferences, taught 22 mission study classes, helped in 4 schools of missions, attended 3 Conventions, six divisional conferences, five annual divisional meetings, and the B. W. C. conference at Ridgecrest. I secured missionary speakers for all associational meetings, directed the summer field work of five Training School students, edited all material for W. M. S. Heck Memorial and State Mission programs. Plans for many other meetings have been my responsibility and the weighty correspondence has naturally taken much time.

REPORT OF W. M. U. YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

Widening Circles of Missionary Education

The result of missionary education is very clearly and simply expressed in the words of a familiar hymn:

"Wider grows the Kingdom,
Reign of love and light."

These words imply the extension of the Kingdom of God unto the ends of the earth and into every area of life. Certainly there is no more fundamental teaching in missionary education than this universal nature of the Kingdom. Since this is true, we have capitalized upon the fact that the knowledge and interests of young people have never been as world-wide as today. Were world-wide interests the only prerequisites for missionary-minded young people, missionary education would become a process of mass production today. Indeed, broadened knowledge and interests do provide unusually fertile soil for missionary education.

However, there is grave danger that broadened interests will not be enlisted and directed into Kingdom strategy. World-wide interest which is not accompanied by a simple Christian faith and a zeal for lost souls is not missionary interest. The immature thinking of young people does not automatically relate the Gospel message to the needs and problems of our world. This important process must be planned for rather than expected. This is the task of missionary education.

Both extent and intent are important in missionary education. The motive of missionary education is simple, but the extent is complex and world-wide. The scope of missionary education might be demonstrated by a series of concentric circles. The word "concentric" implies, of course, that the circles have a common center. In the center of the far-reaching influence of missionary education is Christ, the Saviour of the world. Let us see the ever-widening circles of missionary education in North Carolina in 1944.

"The reign of love and light" must begin in the heart of a man or woman, boy or girl. We immediately realize that the nearest circle of influence is the home. Any tendency to minimize the importance of the home by the widening interests of our day must be overcome. The home is the first and foremost arena for missionary training and practice. Every other circle of missionary education is bound inseparably to this circle. Woman's Missionary Societies recognize the need for missionary-minded mothers in our homes. Sunbeam Baby work is a further attempt of Woman's Missionary Union to enlist the young mother and to link the child to missions from its birth. Interest in this phase of our work has increased considerably this year.

The sphere of missionary education widens to include a full-graded program for young people. The W. M. U. Young People's Director leads the Woman's Missionary Society in fostering these definite organizations for the missionary education of young people. It is gratifying to have 521 Young People's Directors reported in 1944 in comparison to 349 in 1943.

As we have tried to enlist young people in our organizations this year, we have made marked increases in the number of organizations. Royal Ambassadors lead with a net increase of 81 Chapters. Girls' Auxiliaries had a net increase of 65 organizations, and Sunbeam Bands followed closely with a net increase of 60 Bands. Only in Young Woman's Auxiliaries do we have a slight loss of two organizations. Our total net increase is 204 organizations, as follows:

	S.B.	G.A.	R.A.	Y.W.A.	Total
1943.....	647	895	560	529	2,631
1944.....	707	960	641	527	2,835

The extent of the influence of this circle is determined largely by the quality of work done in each organization. The improvement of the quality of work, as indicated in our Standard of Excellence record, is ever one of our greatest needs. However, in spite of the serious interruption of our work caused by the polio epidemic during the summer months, we show increases in A-1 organizations in every group except Sunbeam Bands and Royal Ambassador Chapters, as follows:

	S.B.	G.A.	R.A.	Y.W.A.	Total
1943.....	67	86	54	67	274
1944.....	62	90	49	73	274

The B and C ratings are as follows:

	S.B.	G.A.	R.A.	Y.W.A.	Total
B	30	50	30	35	141
C	42	58	24	48	166

Missionary educational organizations are not limited to the local church. An adjacent circle must be added for Young Woman's Auxiliaries in our colleges and hospitals. We now have Ann Hasseltine Y. W. A.'s on twelve college campuses, as follows: Meredith, Wake Forest, Mars Hill, Campbell, Gardner-Webb, Wingate, Woman's College, Appalachian State Teachers' College, Western Carolina Teachers' College, Lenoir-Rhyne, Eastern Carolina Teachers' College, and Pembroke. We are happy to add to the Grace McBride Y. W. A.'s at Baptist Hospital and Mercy Hospital in Charlotte three new organizations at James Walker Memorial Hospital in Wilmington, Presbyterian Hospital in Charlotte, and Highsmith Hospital in Fayetteville, making a total of five. The Y. W. A.'s at Mars Hill, Appalachian State Teachers' College, and Baptist Hospital were A-1 during 1943-44. Again last summer the sum appropriated from the 1942 Fannie E. S. Heck Memorial Offering enabled the presidents of our Ann Hasseltine and Grace McBride Y. W. A.'s to attend Southwide Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest. Most of these Y. W. A.'s were able to have missionaries for mission study classes last year through this appropriated sum, also.

A circle which has been widened during 1944 is that of associational Y. W. A. Councils. Several new Councils bring our total to fourteen. The opportunity to meet together with other Y. W. A.'s has done much to prevent greater losses in Y. W. A. organizations in these uncertain days for young women.

The sphere of missionary education widens to include our summer Camps and House Parties for Young People. Approximately 250 young women from North Carolina attended Southwide Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest. The two Girls' Auxiliary House Parties at Meredith College and Ridgecrest reached over 800 girls. Approximately 500 boys attended the three Royal Ambassador Camps at Meredith College, Gardner-Webb College, and Ridgecrest. A host of these young people accepted Christ as Saviour during these meetings. Another large group came earnestly as volunteers for definite Christian service. What a challenge we have to enlarge our summer program in the days to come!

The Royal Ambassador Conclaves in the fall belong in this circle. These ten divisional Conclaves, which were directed by our ten capable Divisional R. A. Counselors, were attended by over 1,400 boys. Mr. A. T. Greene, Jr., and one missionary attended each Conclave.

These concentric circles of missionary education have been the means of projecting the "reign of love and light" to every area of life in our communities, our State, our country, and to the ends of the earth. As we examine the work of our young people's organizations, we find some very definite ways in which the influence of missionary education has been widened to include the entire world.

Prayer forms a radius for every young person from the center of the circle to the most remote circumference. The observance of our Seasons of Prayer is indicative of the emphasis given to prayer in our organizations:

	Season of Prayer for State Missions	Season of Prayer for Home Missions	Season of Prayer for Foreign Missions
1943.....	1,023	1,016	1,057 •
1944.....	1,053	1,131	1,222

Mission study enables the vision of young people to reach to a world-wide circumference. The number of mission study classes is one of the weakest parts of our young people's work during 1944:

	S.B.	G.A.	R.A.	Y.W.A.	Total
1943.....	322	646	324	482	1,791
1944.....	320	624	361	473	1,778

The regular missionary programs and missionary reading are very important parts of mission study. During 1944, 5,324 World Comrades came to North Carolina, an increase of 1,012 over 1943. This represents an average of well over two copies to each organization using World Comrades. North Carolina leads the South in subscriptions to The Window of Y. W. A., with a total of 2,846, an increase of 613 over 1944. This is an average of over five copies for each Y. W. A. in our State.

Young People not only reach circles encompassing their own communities, but the whole world, through Community Missions activities. 1,162 Young People's organizations reported directed Community Missions during 1944, in comparison to 1,080 in 1943.

Young people have the opportunity to help complete arcs into circles through the practice of stewardship. Stewardship education has become increasingly important in our young people's organizations. An increased number of organizations used the stewardship education leaflets in 1944. 346 Church Night of Stewardship programs were presented. This is an increase of 33 over 1943.

The total gifts of young people in 1944 amounted to $79,507.66, representing an increase of $11,292.55 over 1943:

	S.B.	G.A.	R.A.	Y.W.A.

1943 Total Gifts.....	8,915.19	16,646.53	10,092.02	32,561.37

There has been a growing interest in Forward Steps in Girls' Auxiliaries and the Ranking System in Royal Ambassador Chapters. More and more local and associational Coronation Services and Recognition Services are being held.

The circles of missionary education have been widened in North Carolina lives through the consecrated lives and untiring efforts of many people. Mr. A. T. Greene, Jr., who served as our part-time Royal Ambassador Secretary from June through December, meant much to the present and future progress of our Royal Ambassador work. Our divisional and associational young people's leaders and Royal Ambassador Counselors, our Young People's Directors, our counselors, and many others have moved the compass that has drawn enlarged circles of missionary education.

"Wider grows the Kingdom,
Reign of love and light."

As we sing these familiar words, may we trace, circle by circle, the widening circles of missionary education which seek to establish the "reign of love and light." Let us ever see both the Center and the farthestmost circumference in close relationship to each other. The circle is off-center without the farthestmost circumference, for Jesus, who should be at the center, said, "Go ye unto all the world." The circumference cannot endure without the Center, for the Lord has said, "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth." We who lead in missionary education are responsible for the series of widening circles between the Center and the circumference. Let us begin with a child in whose heart has been planted the seed of "love and light." As we widen the circle through the home, the missionary educational organization of the church, and every ramification of these, we shall seek to mold ideas and attitudes which will be simple and applicable in everyday living, and, at the same time, extend into every area of life and to the farthest corners of the earth.

FIELD WORKER'S REPORT

"Don't Fence Me In" has become the theme song of this humble field worker as over hill and dale I have traveled to peoples of all trades. They have laid hold on the work and have held on according to the vision and urge within their hearts. Their hunger is reflected in the prayer of a lady after the organizing of a W. M. S., "Lord, we thank you for this. You know we have longed and prayed for this for years," and in the pleas of another lady, "Oh, can't you come again tomorrow? I have other children to bring to hear you."

To be present when youth makes the great decision for Christ or the full surrender to Him for service; to have a part in the birth of an organization when the air seems to throb with the destiny in the act; to be used to say something in formal address that causes the listeners to inquire of new ways to serve and give—all of these assure one of the divine joy and fellowship of being a "laborer together with God." How the fields need urgent help to seed and cultivate and harvest. How few are the seasoned, toughened, hired and volunteer hands. Let us pray for more!

In the nine months with you last year these figures reveal something of my labors.

REPORT OF ASHEVILLE DIVISION

Beginning with a well attended Divisional Leadership Conference, followed by Associational Conferences in January and continuing through all the meetings of the year, there has been a tendency on the part of our leaders to try to follow plans of work and to co-operate with general W. M. U. leadership.

The study of the Year Book seems more appealing each year and there is a growing recognition of it as a work book for societies.

There were gains in the number of organizations (especially young people's), in number of full-graded missions, mission study classes and societies engaged in community mission work.

The increase in tithers and subscriptions to Biblical Recorder, Royal Service and World Comrades could be taken as a barometer for the general pulse of our members. Surely these will produce fruit for the Master soon.

Buncombe, Carolina, French Broad, Mitchell and Transylvania Associations each made 5 per cent increase to the Co-operative Program. The total gain in gifts to all objects from the seven associations is gratifying. Most of them stood by the Hundred Thousand Club to the end, feeling Baptist debts are our debts.

The Associational Missionaries have in places rendered splendid help to our work. Particularly would we thank Miss Hilliard for her help to W. M. U. leaders in the Yancey and French Broad.

We are saying, in cases, that because we are industrially employed, we can't be leaders, which causes a question as to whether we are letting monetary prosperity deprive us of God-given opportunities, rather than plan our meetings to conform with our duties, still giving God a chance. All too few are studying our work and following in Calendars and Seasons of Prayer. Not always do we ask God where He wants us. By study and prayer only can needed consecration come.

The Divisional Officers have been faithful and have tried to fully enlist associational chairmen for service.

None of the associations made twelve points on the Associational Standard of Excellence.

Notwithstanding pouring rain, the Divisional Meeting in October had a splendid representation.

The R. A. Counselor reports a good conclave and a willingness to serve fully as needed.

The Young People's Leader gives glowing accounts of our part in camps and house parties at Ridgecrest. She is most faithful in service.

There was a good offering at the Divisional Meeting for linen at Baptist Hospital. This is becoming a custom.

Compiled figures can never show the efforts put forth, nor the difficulties overcome under very unfavorable conditions often, to carry forward our work. Hundreds of letters, cards, reports, prayers, programs can't be evaluated here, but are well planted for God's watering we do not doubt.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. J. R. MORGAN.

REPORT OF BRYSON CITY DIVISION

During these difficult and trying days, each filled with anxieties, the W. M. U. work of the Bryson City Division has faced a heavy strain on all its activities. In spite of this fact, our leaders have looked beyond to one who said, "My grace is sufficient for thee." They are realizing more and more that "first things" must come first if we are to do the will of the Master.

There are 189 churches represented in this Division, forming five Associations. There were 75 missionary organizations reported, 46 of which were young people's. Good reports were given on observance of Seasons of Prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions.

Western North Carolina reported 3 full-graded Unions, Macon and Tennessee River only one each. Macon reports three A-1 organizations. Also, a school of missions with Dr. and Mrs. D. F. Stamps and Gretchen Johnson as teachers. Tennessee River held a school of missions at Bryson City, studying books on China.

Mrs. J. F. Marchman, our Divisional Young People's Leader, reports 11 R. A.'s with the divisional counselor attending the encampment at Ridgecrest and 1 young man attending the youth conference at same place. The Divisional Conclave was held at Bryson City in November. Rev. A. T. Greene and Miss Kathryn Abee, State workers, were present. The missionary speaker was Rev. P. W. Hamlet. There were more than 30 boys present. Several were promoted in the Ranks. There are 16 Pages, 2 Squires and 5 Knights. This meeting was a great inspiration to all the boys. Mr. Marchman is to be congratulated on the fine work done with these boys. Our G. A.'s are doing a good piece of work, too. During the year there were 10 girls reported reaching Forward Steps of Maiden and 14 Ladies-in-Waiting. The financial report of the Young People is lower than the previous year, due to two associations failing to report. Mrs. Marchman is doing a splendid work with our young people throughout the Division. Much praise is due her. May we help with our young people and work with them.

Now "that the generation to come might know."

I should like to mention our Business Women's Circles. They are doing some outstanding work in fostering and in Community Missions. We hope to get them more fully organized during this year.

We are unable to give an accurate report on the 100,000 Club gifts or total gifts, since two of the Associations did not report. There would have been a good gain, I am confident, had all reports been given.

Our annual Division meeting was held at Scott's Creek Church. Our guest speakers were Miss Rose Marlowe, Miss Kathleen Malory, Kathryn Abee and Ruth Keller. We were delighted with the presence of each one and greatly inspired.

Woman's Missionary Union has a great task before them, so let us as co-laborers with our Master take courage, and determine more than ever before to go forward in a glorious way in the work of the Master. Mrs. C. M. Warren of Sylva is our new 1945 Divisional Superintendent.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. SAM GIBSON,

Divisional Superintendent of Bryson City Division.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

In the midst of war and the uncertainties of such a time, the Woman's Missionary Union of the Charlotte Division, has gone forward, not in a spectacular way, but with a steady increase in most all phases of the work.

The Associational Superintendents report with zeal and enthusiasm the interest and support of the women and young people in their attendance at meetings. This is being done in spite of the fact that gas and tires are scarce and buses are over-crowded. The conferences for leaders, held in each association, have been a source of great help to the local societies. The Divisional Leadership Conference was one of information and inspiration, with definite goals set for the Centennial year.

The annual meeting of the Division was well attended, being held at the Pritchard Memorial Church, Charlotte.

One association, Stanley, Mrs. T. C. Crutchfield, Superintendent, reached all points on the Standard. Much credit is due Mrs. Crutchfield and Mrs. L. W. Fields, Young People's Leader.

There was an increase of 51 more organizations during the year; however, there are 92 churches with no missionary organizations now. More societies reported organized community missions and there seems to be a better understanding among the women concerning this phase of our work. The study of the Guide Book has helped. There was an increase of Mission Study Classes, of tithers and of subscriptions to all magazines. Gifts amounted to over $55,000.00. Each association reached the goal set in gifts.

We are happy to have Mrs. W. W. Lawton, Charlotte, take up the Young People's work in the Division. She reports a successful R. A. Conclave under the leadership of Rev. C. R. Hinton, Albemarle. Mr. Hinton, in co-operation with our State R. A. Leader, gave help to each association in their work with the boys.

The Mecklenburg reports an active, wide-awake Y. W. A. Council.

The Division is now providing two scholarships for students at Wingate Junior College.

Many encouraging letters have been received of work done and of the untiring efforts of hundreds of women and young people. As we continue to pray and to stress praying on the part of our members, it is believed that the earnest efforts will be doubled, even trebled, in this our Centennial Year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. DAVID E. BOBBITT,

Superintendent, Charlotte Division.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

The annual meeting of the Elizabeth City Division was held with the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church of Elizabeth City in October, 1944. The ladies of this union were most gracious hostesses to the large group of women attending. Miss Juliette Mather, Mrs. Rosalee Mills Appleby, Miss Mary Currin and Mr. A. T. Greene, Jr., were present. Each bringing a most helpful and inspiring message. Mrs. Sallie Parker, who has served so faithfully as superintendent, resigned. Her clear vision, keen interest in Kingdom work and charming personality won for her our love and confidence. Therefore, it was with much regret that her resignation was accepted. Mrs. A. D. Ward was elected to this office. Mrs. M. T. Griffin of Edenton succeeded Mrs. Ward as Community Missions Chairman.

The Leadership Conferences in both Division and Associations inspired officers and counsellors to undertake greater things for God. Our workers seemed to get a clearer conception of their duties through discussions with both State and local leaders.

Our statistical report does not show any outstanding increases. Yet in consideration of present-day conditions and the fact that the large territory is mainly rural, we do not feel discouraged. Our faithful presidents and young people's leaders manifest a deep interest and a determination to carry on in His work.

Mrs. W. E. White, Superintendent of the West Chowan, reports great improvement in mission study and observance of the special seasons of prayer. Mrs. T. Sloane Guy, Sr., the new superintendent of the Chowan, also notes an increase in the number of societies observing the seasons of prayer and gives a small gain in community missions.

There has been an increase in subscriptions to Biblical Recorder, Royal Service and World Comrades. These gains in both study and prayer should produce future results.

The young people's leaders in both associations gave encouraging reports, showing 217 organizations, ten new organizations, 169 mission study classes and 438 subscriptions to magazines. Each association carries a scholarship to the Training School. One of our girls is now back in the Chowan. Her presence, her influence and especially her work among both the women and young people are proving more helpful than most of us realize.

God has greatly blessed the efforts of our faithful leaders and we pray that we all may go forward in every phase of our Lord's work.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. A. D. WARD,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF GREENSBORO DIVISION

Another year of stress and strain from a global war has come to a close. Our work has been carried on with many difficulties, yet o'er the tumult the call "Follow Me" has sounded very clearly and the record of our activities for the year, in some degree, measures our response to that call. Notable progress has been made in all five of our associations. All scheduled meetings were held, with helpful programs, good reports, and inspirational speakers.

We have 221 churches, 4 new this year; 43 new societies, making a total of 405 organizations of all grades. Full-graded unions, 34; A-1 organizations, 32; with 8,812 members enrolled. These women and young people are subscribing to more missionary literature than in any previous year—2,324 copies of our magazines and 1,123 Biblical Recorders, and in addition many are reading The Commission and Southern Baptist Home Missions. Two associations, Piedmont and Liberty, have made the full Standard of Excellence.

Under leadership of Mrs. H. A. Knight, Mission Study Chairman, we have made gains in mission study. Last year she visited all associational meetings and held conferences with associational chairmen throughout the year. She reports 565 mission study classes, 6,568 enrolled with 158 certificates, 2,584 seals, 389 reading stamps, 6 pioneer classes, 39 schools of missions. Piedmont had 195 classes and Pilot Mountain, 190.

A new era in mission work is dawning in our Division. Three of our associations had association-wide schools of missions, under the leadership of associational missionaries. Pilot Mountain had 51 churches co-operating with 29 missionaries as guest speakers from night to night in those churches; many having a missionary to speak in their churches for the first time. We cannot estimate the value of these efforts to our program of enlistment.

We are happy to welcome Mrs. H. K. Masteller of Asheboro as our new Young People's Leader. Her first work was to be hostess to the R. A. Conclave that met in her church in October. She assisted the Councilor, Rev. J. A. Neilson, in making plans for the meeting. The program was interesting and instructive at both sessions. Mr. A. T. Greene and Dr. George W. Sadler were the speakers.

Mrs. Edgar T. Howell, Community Missions Chairman, gives the following report: Number of societies engaged in the work, 229; Bible Classes, 8; attendance, 202; surveys of local communities, 47; cottage prayer meetings, 71, with 237 conversions. We would urge more Bible classes with a new emphasis on soul-winning.

The Division Leadership Conference was held at First Church, Greensboro, in January. An intensive study of Year Book, led by Miss Currin; the Departmental Conferences with discussion of plans for the Centennial Year, were the leading features of the program. Similar conferences were held following that in all five associations.

Our divisional meeting was held at First Church, High Point, in October. The hospitality of that good church and other churches of the city was unexcelled. The program throughout was one of the best we have had. The officers from headquarters and our guest speakers, Mrs. Rosalee Mills Appleby and Miss Juliette Mather, brought information and inspiration to all present. The meeting this year will be held at Asheboro Street Church, Greensboro, in October.

Our Stewardship Chairman reports 3,395 tithers, a gain over last year of 2,405. Many are experiencing, for the first time, the joy of giving according to God's Plan. Number of classes, 40; societies using Stewardship leaflets, 105; Stewardship Night, 94, with three churches trying the "Prove Me Plan" and five churches have secured gifts to missions from every resident woman member of their churches.

Mrs. E. C. Getzman of Asheboro, Training School and Margaret Fund Chairman, brings most excellent reports to the annual meeting. She is one of our own Training School girls and delights to keep us informed about these objects.

Our gifts have been on the increase for five years. This year they are the largest in our history. Our hearts rejoice when we remember that our gifts are helping to bring in the Kingdom.

In this Centennial year we will endeavor to keep ever before us the challenging goals set for us by our leaders, and strive to put soul-winning first in all of our plans; for "he that winneth souls is wise and they that turn many to righteousness shall shine, as the stars forever and ever."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. K. MASON,

Superintendent of Greensboro Division.

REPORT OF HICKORY DIVISION

Despite the fact that the Hickory Division possibly suffered more from the polio epidemic and ban than any other Division in the State, we can still report progress made. The Division not only suffered from the polio ban which prohibited all young people's organizations from meeting, but from loss of Divisional leaders also. We are reminded of that verse of Scripture which says, "one plants, another waters, but God gives the increase." Mrs. Redwine, our first Superintendent, did much planting, Mrs. Royal watered and helped the work grow. Now it's my happy privilege to see the Lord increase the work they so ably started.

Our young people's leader, Miss Helen Harris of Morganton, resigned, and after much prayer and many conferences Miss Sarah Stephens of Hickory was elected to this position. Mrs. Wade D. Bostick, our efficient mission study chairman, found it necessary to give up her position also. Mrs. R. J. Drye has been elected to this place.

With such capable, consecrated leaders that have gone before, we tremble to follow after, at the same time their work is a challenge and calls for the best we can give.

As I compare the reports with former years, I find we have a net increase of 87 organizations in the division, an increase of over $15,000.00 in gifts. Cherryville First Church had every resident woman member making an offering to missions.

I am sorry to report a falling off of mission study classes, but I think the ban on young people's meetings accounts for that. We have one new associational superintendent, Mrs. Terry Smart of the Sandy Run. She is a fine leader and has the work going nicely.

Our Divisional meeting was held in Statesville with a splendid attendance and a good program. Miss Mallory was at her best as she spoke on "God's voice above the tumult." How we enjoyed Miss Marlowe as she brought the opening and closing message of the day. Rev. James Ray, R. A. Counselor of the Division, Miss Kathryn Abee of Raleigh, Edward Elliot of Cherryville, and others, brought helpful talks and opened our eyes anew to the need for our young people's organizations.

Our all-day divisional conference was held in Henrietta early in January, despite the rain, a goodly number from each association attended. They went away feeling it was good for us to have been there. The conferences and talks were helpful and practical. Following this an associational leadership school was held in every association in the division. From these conferences and schools the women went back to their local churches determined to pray, and work, and give, and live, and thus celebrate a Century for Christ in a fitting manner.

In the 12th chapter of Hebrews we are told that we "are compassed about with a great cloud of witnesses." In that band I imagine I see Lottie Moon, Ann Hasseltine Judson, Henrietta Hall Shuck, Fannie E. S. Heck, Annie Armstrong, Sallie Bailey Jones, and many others, saying, since you "have the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth and to every nation and kindred and tongue and people," we add this message. Press on, carry on, follow on, go on, pray on.

The Hickory Division pledges her best toward Consecrating the Centennial to Christ—we look up and say:

Lead on, O King Eternal, we follow not with fears:
For gladness breaks like morning wher'er thy face appears.
Thy cross is lifted o'er us; we journey in its light:
The crown awaits the conquest; Lead on, O God of might.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. JOHN WACASTER,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE RALEIGH DIVISION

I bring you greetings from the eight Superintendents of the Raleigh Division W. M. U. They are with us in spirit today. How much they would have liked to send in better reports. They all wanted to reach their financial goal and they all wanted their associations to make the twelve points on the Standard of Excellence. Anyway, the annual reports all reached me on time. I liked that.

All associations report the observance of the seasons of prayer with offering. There was a total of 404 organizations for State Missions, 351 for Home Missions, and 379 for Foreign Missions.

All associations report an increase in mission study classes—a total of 715 classes.

All associations report organized work in Community Missions. Mount Zion Association, Mrs. George Harward, Superintendent, reports three full-time scholarships to three young women of the Religious Education Department of Shaw University.

We have one Association that made the twelve points on the Standard—the Johnston, Mrs. J. E. Wilder, Superintendent. They made it even if thirteen churches in this association have no missionary organization. What do you think of that?

Little River Association, Mrs. Charles Howard, Superintendent, just missed perfection because they lacked $80.50 of making their financial goal. That's a shame. Little River was our prize winner last year.

The Flat River, Mrs. W. D. Poe, Superintendent, almost made the Standard, too, 11 points. They reached their financial goal, but something else happened. However, they do have 18 organizations that are A-1 and have an A-1 union at Enon.

Tar River, Mount Zion, Beulah Associations all met their financial goals, too. Mrs. Funderburk, Superintendent, said they tried to get every resident member to contribute to missions. Beulah Association has only one church without a missionary organization.

We have 345 churches in this Division, 43 graded unions. There are 83 churches with no missionary organization. So you see we have all kinds of Christians. I hope with the Superintendents in this Division that our reports will all be better next year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. R. STONE,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF ROCKY MOUNT DIVISION

Another year has passed into history and again we bring the annual report of our W. M. U. work. We are perhaps the largest Division in area in the State, predominantly rural; therefore, there have been many difficulties to overcome caused by gas rationing and tire shortage. However, we point with just pride to the steady activities and growth in almost every phase of our work, realizing the increase has been due to the untiring services of those whose only compensation has been increasing loyalty, unselfish devotion and persevering service.

We began the year 1944 with a Workers' Conference in Goldsboro First Church. Here plans were made, objectives mapped out and inspiration received. Mrs. Farmer attended this conference and caused each one of us to feel that we should give nothing except our best in the Master's service.

Under the efficient and consecrated leadership of the three Associational Superintendents, Mrs. L. B. Daniel of Atlantic, Mrs. C. M. Billings of the Neuse, and Mrs. Chas. R. Daniel of the Roanoke, progress has been made along many lines. There has been a small increase in number of organizations and in membership and a larger number of Standard organizations than in the previous year. Each Association can take joy in at least one full graded A-1 Union. Swansboro in the Atlantic, Goldsboro First in the Neuse, Bethel and Roanoke Rapids in the Roanoke. Fountain, Stoney Creek and Rocky Mount First of the Roanoke barely missed being A-1. The Atlantic and the Roanoke Associations each made nine points on the Associational Standard of Excellence and the Neuse eight.

Under our diligent and faithful mission study leader, Mrs. A. J. Smith, interest in mission study has been most gratifying. Even though there has been a slight decrease in the number of classes, the grade of work has improved according to the enthusiastic reports. Goldsboro First Church awarded eleven official seals to W. M. S. members, nine for course number I and two for course number III. This church put on a most effective dramatization of the book "Wings Against the Blue," inviting the whole association. This created enthusiasm for the cause of missions in both young people and adults.

There has been a very definite gain in the number of tithers and gifts in each Association, the gain in gifts being about twenty per cent. Our Division was loyal to the 100,000 Club until the last, for even this year, where interest waned because of Southwide debts having been paid, we met our quota.

The work with our young people has proven a bit more difficult than heretofore. A better grade of work is being done in many organizations, yet a few are struggling to maintain their very existence. There are several causes for this: the multiplicity of home duties because of lack of servants, many women have re-entered the business world, thus causing a scarcity of leaders. And, too, it is very hard to assemble young people in rural communities. There have come to us splendid accounts of promotion programs, and these have added impetus in creating interest in young people's work. Young Woman's Auxiliary Councils were held in each association. These were well attended and inspirational. The Royal Ambassador Conclave of the Division, under the direction of our most capable leader, Rev. W. W. Finlator of Weldon, met in Goldsboro with the First Church as hostess. A splendid program was arranged and the reports were very satisfactory and encouraging.

Our societies are realizing more and more the real meaning of community missions, and we feel that many souls have been brought into our Father's Kingdom because of work done through our missionary organizations.

The annual divisional meeting was held in Tarboro with each association well represented. A large crowd was present and many said the program was the best we've ever had. Miss Juliette Mather and Mrs. Rosalee Mills Appleby were our guest speakers.

A certain solemnity faces this year's work. These days demand all our fortitude. The fiber of Christian people is being put to a test greater than for many years, but we trust that fiber will hold. An unparalleled challenge beckons to us. The challenge is imperative and imperious. We must know our purpose, chart our course and make definite reckonings. We cannot rely on expedients, new theories, momentary impulses or passing emotions. We must go to our Heavenly Father, as the source of strength, to guide, lead and direct us. The challenge, the immediate, the imperious challenge is our rededication to the things of the spirit. As Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence has aptly said: "Surely we need women of flaming hearts for the days ahead. God give them to us, and give us grace to be willing to burn out in love for God in Christ Jesus in this day of blazing fires of hate and bloodshed and mad grasp for power."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. BRUCE BEASLEY,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF WILKESBORO DIVISION

The Wilkesboro Division of the Woman's Missionary Union held its annual meeting at the First Baptist Church, North Wilkesboro, in October, 1944.

It was with regret that the resignation of Mrs. O. R. Mangum from the office of Superintendent of the Division was accepted. The work that she had done the year she was in office was very efficient and commendable and it was hoped that she would continue in the work.

The nominating committee recommended Mrs. C. N. Myers for Superintendent of the Wilkesboro Division and she was duly elected at that meeting.

Owing to travel restrictions, the Wilkesboro Baptist Church was selected for the October meeting for 1945, as it is centrally located in the Division and can easily be reached by the various associations.

Our Division offers vast opportunities for organization and enlistment in our W. M. S. work, particularly in young people's work. In 1944, 120 churches were reported as having a W. M. S. with 81 young people's organizations. Miss Ruth Keller, our State field worker, spent a month in our Division last summer and her efforts were very fruitful. Several associations now have full-time associational missionaries and we already feel the good influence of their zeal.

Being new in the office of Superintendent, I hesitate to make comments on our record and attainment for 1944. We hope for larger growth in the Centennial year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. N. MYERS,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

In a unique sense the year 1944 was a trying year, with its confused people, its handicaps of gasoline shortage, its problems of thousands shifting from place to place in the nation. Yet our women have not only kept alive the work which they had but have organized 80 new organizations. Each Association has met its financial goal, and the work has progressed in many ways. During the summer months it was our privilege to have Miss Hilda Mayo, a W. M. U. Training School student, to help with the work in the Wilmington Division. As a result of her work many new organizations were formed and new interest was manifested in all phases of the work. The city of Wilmington enjoyed a special week for boys under the leadership of Mr. A. T. Greene, Jr., State R. A. Secretary, who led the boys in a week of missionary training. More young people than ever attended the R. A. Camp and G. A. House Party. Truly this has been a good year. But a sobering thought comes when we realize that 107 churches in the Division are without W. M. U. organizations. Hundreds of boys and girls are not being taught the missionary needs; hundreds are failing to pray and give because they do not see the needs. We have done our bit but God still looks for our best.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. G. CARL LEWIS,
Superintendent of Wilmington Division.

REPORT OF COMMUNITY MISSIONS IN 1944

There is no way of estimating all that has been done in the name of Christ for others in our communities who need Him. We praise Him that nothing done in His name is overlooked by Him and that He is faithful to reward every such deed. Not only so, but He will bring to fruition the seed that is sown in faith and watered with our tears.

We praise Him for His constant companionship and encouragement, for His power and grace as we have sought to carry out His commission to go out into the hedges and highways to compel them to come in. There have been many lost opportunities, many failures to speak the Word of Life, when it was needed, and for this we ask the forgiveness of the One who did not hesitate to lay down His life for us.

There has been definite advance in our thinking about this responsibility of reaching our neighbors for Christ, and a growing conviction that such work should bring visible results in the way of conversions and rededications. There has been, also, a sense of our own personal need of the presence of the Holy Spirit in power for the task of winning souls. We trust that the one hundred eleven Bible classes have proved "Profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

The inter-racial meetings already reported are increasing opportunities among the Negroes.

Many of the Associational Chairmen have increased their efforts to inspire the local societies to a greater vision of the fields in their own communities, and the results have been apparent in the reports.

"Good reports on soul-winning and a number of conversions."

"Five souls won in a cottage prayer meeting."

"Seven souls won to Christ."

"One society reports six conversions."

"Souls saved due to prayer efforts of W. M. U."

"Many converted and many rededications."

"Increased attendance of unsaved at church services."

"One association reports fifty-five saved."

"One hundred twelve in another association."

"In services with the unsaved, several have accepted Christ and joined the church."

"Two saved in an institution."

"Very good results in soul-winning efforts."

"There is evidence of interest in souls."

"One sixty-nine-year-old man says he has been won by a tract given him by the W. M. S."

"Enthusiasm among old members has increased, and there is an increase in attendance in both W. M. U. and church."

"One W. M. S. said there were less than 20 unsaved in the community and the next quarter reported seven saved."

"We are sending tracts to our boys overseas, and asking them to pass them on to their unsaved friends."

"Many nice things have been reported done that will cause a person to feel kindly towards Christian work and condition the way for soul-winning."

"Lots of good work reported with Negroes."

"A number of women have pledged to pray for the unsaved boys in service from our communities daily until they are saved, also do everything else possible to win them. They expect results."

"One of my G. A. girls volunteered for definite missionary service. Praise the Lord."

"One G. A. led her father to Christ."

"W. M. S. has been visiting a woman for five years. Her life was very questionable. Her husband engaged in bootlegging. Home a 'blind tiger,' etc. She was gloriously saved during a revival in our church in May. Pray for her as she strives to serve God in her new life."

These are verbatim reports from the State. It makes one feel as if she has her fingers on the pulse of the lovers of the Lord. It deepens the conviction that greater emphasis on the salvation of souls and our own responsibility towards them will revitalize all our work and increase the missionary spirit not only in the giving of our money but of our lives, yes, and of our children.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. G. K. MIDDLETON.

REPORT OF MARGARET FUND

Administering the Margaret Fund is one of the greatest channels of service that challenge us today. No project of Baptist women is more worthy or more appreciated. We are helping our missionaries by giving of our means toward the education of their children.

Many changes are taking place in the lives of our students: Campbell MacMillian is in the Navy; Emily Olive completed her work in February and is planning to do graduate work in commercial art next year in New York City. She will receive two-hundred-dollar scholarship from Margaret Fund for this graduate work. At present she has a position in Raleigh and is saving her money for the graduate work.

Let us remember these students in our prayers:

REPORT OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION TRAINING SCHOOL

All times are related. We cannot fully appreciate the present except in the light of the past and with a right perspective of the future. During this Centennial year Southern Baptists are properly relating today to yesterday and tomorrow.

This hundredth year of Southern Baptist organized work marks the forty-first year of actual work of our Training School. It had its beginning in the hearts of four young women—Rena Groover of Georgia, Ella Jeter of Oklahoma, Alice Huey of Alabama, and Clemmie Ford of Tennessee. These had gone to Louisville to get what they could from sitting in the classes of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Coupled with their great desire to learn, was a desire on the part of Kentucky Baptist women to make real their dream, by providing a home for them. Since that first home in 1904 the school has had five other homes. Each move has been an indication of growth and progress. In the spring of 1907, at the annual meeting of Woman's Missionary Union, it was voted to take over this new enterprise and to establish a school to be known as the W. M. U. Training School. The school had its formal opening October 2, 1907, in a rented dwelling on Broadway.

We are grateful to many leading spirits who had a part in making this school possible. We especially honor five women: Miss Eliza Broadus, Mrs. S. E. Woody, Mrs. George B. Eager, Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, and Mrs. Maud R. McLure.

In 1918 the building lovingly known as House Beautiful was dedicated, free of debt. As a part of the Golden Jubilee Celebration in 1938, Woman's Missionary Union raised the money to buy a beautiful seven-acre plot of land adjoining the Seminary campus, and to build the present building valued at approximately $450,000. It was dedicated free of debt in 1942. This school is a monument to the vision and labors of both yesterday and today. We of this generation are privileged to share honors with pioneer spirits of the past as we perpetuate this great institution so vital to our missionary program of world missions. Since its beginning, two thousand, three hundred ninety-one young women have gone out from her walls to serve a needy world. Two hundred twenty-one have gone as foreign missionaries to at least seventeen countries while others have served in the homeland as denominational leaders, as church workers, as city and associational missionaries, as teachers, as directors of Good Will Centers, as pastors' wives and in various other capacities. Wherever a Training School graduate has served, she has been a missionary force.

This year the building which we call new is crowded to capacity. History is repeating itself, for during the last World War there was a record enrollment. The total enrollment for 1944-45 session is one hundred twenty-nine boarding students and ninety-eight day students. The North Carolina group numbers seventeen. The problem of space has necessitated an allocation for states. This makes urgent the request for early application of students.

The demand for prepared leaders becomes a problem when we are faced with a demand that exceeds the availability of those ready. This is the situation today. The Foreign Mission Board has issued an urgent call for fifty missionaries needed now for critically undermanned mission stations. Dr. Rankin says, "More than a hundred emergency positions should be filled during 1945, but the tragic truth is that the records of the Foreign Mission Board reveal fewer than fifty young people who are prepared for appointment." On file in the office of the principal of our Woman's Missionary Union Training School are more than one hundred requests for prepared leaders to fill important positions in our denominational life. This demand will be multiplied many times in the postwar period. This means that we are faced with great opportunities and are not prepared to meet them because of a shortage of manpower.

The demand is for superior leadership. In a message to American Methodists last summer, Madame Chiang Kai-shek said: "We are all looking forward to a just peace, but the mere attainment of peace does not suffice. To insure that it will be lasting, to achieve in perpetuity the Christian ideal of peace, we must have valiant leadership and the concerted consecration to that ideal of all peace-loving men and women. To take that leadership, regardless of cost, is the privilege and duty of the Christian Church." Shall we accept this call to responsibility? The first call is for "concerted consecration" to the ideal of a valiant leadership. Some of us remember the concerted efforts of Southern Baptists in 1919 when a day of "Calling Out the Called" resulted in a host of young people dedicating life to the cause of Christ. Shall we "Pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers?" The second call, issued in Madame Chiang Kai-shek's remarkable challenge, outlines our task of world missions which is to send out a valiant leadership with the message of Christ, regardless of cost. The world looks to America for the message of peace. Shall we produce a valiant leadership willing and prepared to take that message?

MISSION STUDY REPORT

This report will prove both revealing and misleading. It is revealing in that it shows not only what has been done but also how much has been left undone. The figures are not encouraging as we show a definite loss in classes for all grades of organizations as reported to me. With the fine increase in the number of schools of missions almost double the number held last year, we feel that this record must be incomplete and that the office in Raleigh will report a greater number. We all recognize the difficulties in certain sections of our State, especially since transportation problems are increased, so comparison as to number of classes held may be unfair. Added to travel difficulties, the polio situation was a very real cause of the decline in many sections of the State.

The greatest hindrance in submitting an accurate report is the failure to get reports of classes held. Our record as to reporting is as follows: the Elizabeth City, Greensboro, Raleigh and Rocky Mount divisions had all associations reporting; Asheville and Charlotte lacked one association; Bryson City, Hickory, and Wilmington, thirteen chairmen from whom no reports came. Of those reporting, eight sent only one report, twelve reported two quarters, six reported three while twenty-nine reported all four quarters. So the good far overbalanced the bad, but there are far too many who are negligent in reporting, even when classes are held. Of the twenty-nine chairmen who sent a report each quarter, twenty-one sent an annual report in addition, though one of these sent all reports late. Somewhere along the line there is the failure to furnish these mission study chairmen with blanks for reporting. I would urge a close co-operation of all associational officers in the work of reporting.

This report may be misleading in that it cannot record the quickened interest and renewed dedication resulting from many classes held. I feel that we have had a good year with a sustained and increasing interest in the work. There are a number of chairmen intensely interested and putting their best effort into it. One wrote that she set as her goal "a mission study class in every W.M.S. in her association," and she has seen this goal reached. Many of these fine chairmen are setting high goals and working diligently to reach these goals throughout the year. It is these women who are responsible for the report it is my privilege to make. They have done the work. It is their report. They are the ones in closest touch with the churches and know the problems and needs. I bespeak for them your interest and a worthy place in your plans and on the associational program.

The goodly number of schools of missions has yielded fine fruit. True, we did not inaugurate these schools, but we entered heartily into church plans for them furnishing many teachers and providing a very large per cent of the pupils. Where the attendance from any given organization was large enough to justify it, it was credited as a class.

The interest of the men has been most gratifying. We hope this year may show an even greater increase in this and all phases of mission study.

May I again express my deep and sincere appreciation for those chairmen, scattered over the State, some in remote and difficult places, who have continued faithful throughout the years. May we all consecrate ourselves anew to this splendid task of promoting missions through Mission Study.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. CLYDE TURNER,
Chairman, Mission Study.

STEWARDSHIP REPORT

It is with a mingled feeling of humility and gratitude that I bring a report of our stewardship for 1944; humility over our failure to grasp the full significance of God's goodness to us; gratitude because God has helped us to grow in the grace of giving, as evidenced by the following report:

The first thing your stewardship chairman would like to mention is the victory which has come to our State through the continuation of our Debt-Paying Plan. Many of our women have continued their gifts to the Hundred Thousand Club without coercion, and their gifts of $44,221.92 reported through the Woman's Missionary Union has made possible the payment of our debt, thus leaving no further necessity for continuing the Hundred Thousand Club. Special mention should be made of Rocky Mount Division which was the first division to undertake seriously the responsibility of helping to pay the debt and along with the others continued to the end. According to reports already received, there were held 286 stewardship classes. This includes a gain of more than 78 per cent in the W. M. S., but our failure to receive reports from our young people, possibly due to the polio epidemic, makes it impossible to give an accurate report for the junior organizations.

There were twenty-six outstanding churches reported with every resident woman member of the church giving to missions. We have not succeeded in checking on all of the churches listed last year, but at the present time the Hickory Division is leading the State.

Stewardship Night was observed by 346 organizations, a gain of more than 10 per cent over 1943. In this the Greensboro Division is leading.

We realize there is yet no way to find an accurate estimate of the number of tithers. Our records show a gain of 1,867 over 1943, or a total of 13,636, which is more than 13¾ per cent gain. Special mention should be made of Mills Home and Kennedy Home who reported 100 per cent tithers. Twenty-three churches are reported as using the Prove-Me Plan.

When we consider our gifts to missions we again find cause for gratitude. A total gain in Co-operative Program gifts of $47,912.53.

Every division shows an increase both in Co-operative Program and in their special offerings. Our Lottie Moon Christmas offering was by far the largest in the history of our organization and the same may be said of all of our special offerings. Our total gifts of $555,-181.57 means an increase of $88,000 over last year. Divisions, associational and local stewardship chairmen in larger numbers reported promptly and with regularity, thus rendering an account of their stewardship for the year ending December 31, 1944. They, together with your State Chairman, have sent out letters, held conferences, spoken at various meetings, and taught stewardship books. Many did not report in time for this meeting because of their desire to make more complete and accurate reports. Others, it would seem, are not sufficiently interested to report at all. Reporting 100 per cent—Elizabeth City, Rocky Mount, Raleigh.

As we look upon the tragic condition of our world today we can only hope that our progress in 1944 is a beginning of a still larger vision of the magnitude and urgency of our mission. 1945 is a significant year. The goals suggested are larger than ever before. More work is going to be required if we attain them. May we suggest the following:

1. That the Stewardship Chairman appoint a committee consisting of several of the members of her society who are most interested in attaining the adopted goals.
2. That she call her committee together at a convenient time at the end of each quarter for prayer, for checking on progress, and for planning, to the end that any weak places may be strengthened.
3. That, following the stewardship study in her society, she plan with her pastor for a definite opportunity to be given for a rededication of self and substance.
4. That she co-operate with the Community Missions Chairman and her pastor in the soul-winning program of her church.

One hundred thousand souls brought into our churches of North Carolina means one hundred thousand people who must be led to recognize Jesus as Saviour and Lord. We know that many of these people will receive only a partial gospel. Many will be led to recognize Jesus as Saviour, in that they want to be saved, yet have no abiding conviction concerning service or stewardship. Leading them to realize their responsibility toward extending the kingdom of God in ever widening scope is the task to which we are committed.

Therefore, your Stewardship Chairman wishes to recommend:

First. That a committee be appointed by our President to consider the advisability of a stewardship week in every church in our State, following the Centennial Crusade, and that the W. M. U. join with the convention forces in such a plan, if kingdom interests can best be promoted by so doing.

Second. That Woman's Missionary Union join with the convention's forces in the Centennial Crusade offering on July 15. For North Carolina the goal is $225,000.

What a challenge is held out to us, praying and working that others may catch the vision of "dollars transmuted into preachers, teachers, evangelists, missionaries at home and abroad, trained Christian workers, good will centers, churches, schools, hospitals—all culminating in saved souls who in turn will give their dollars," thus ever widening the scope of missionary endeavor.

There has never before been such an hour as this at such a time as this.

There has never been such a task matched by such a mission.

There has never been such a mission matched by such a Master.

The larger the task the greater the need for courage, faith, wisdom and power. God grant to us these sources of strength for magnifying His name by ministering to His people.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. M. A. HUGGINS,

State Stewardship Chairman.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR NORTH CAROLINA
WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION*1945

WATCHWORD: Having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell upon the earth, and to every nation and kindred and tongue and people. Rev. 14:6b.

HYMN: "Lead On, O King Eternal."

With deep humility and with gratitude for the everlasting gospel that has been given to us, and with keen realization of our responsibility to preach this gospel to all who dwell upon the earth, we adopt the following recommendations:

I. Prayer.

- A. That in realization of the high Centennial goals and acute need for divine power, we place increased emphasis on prayer, individual and united.
- B. That we covenant anew--
 - 1. To observe the nine o'clock prayer hour.
 - 2. To use the calendar of Prayer and the Pray Ye paragraph in Royal Service consistently.
 - 3. To encourage the establishment of family altars.
 - 4. To enlist all women and young people in the Concert of Prayer for the unsaved.
- C. That we enter heartily into the plans outlined by the Southern Woman's Missionary Union for the observance of the Season of Prayer for Home Missions, and for Foreign Missions, December 4-8; that we participate earnestly in Seasons of Prayer for World Peace.
- D. That September 10-14 be observed as a Season of Prayer for State Missions, with at least one special program.

II. Methods—Plans—Standards.

- A. That we adopt the Year Book published by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention as our guide as to methods, plans and standards. That our women be urged to study this Year Book, noting changes in this year's plans and bringing their organizations up to the high standard set. That special emphasis be placed on the fundamentals for which our Union stands, and that our high moral standards shall be presented continually as a definite witness for Christ in this present time.

B. Membership.

1. That we take as a Centennial goal 500 new organizations, the superintendent assigning to each strong society the obligation of organizing and fostering a new society for the entire year.
2. That we encourage attendance at W. M. U. week at Ridgecrest, August 9-15.

C. Business Women's Circles.

1. That we organize Business Women's Circles wherever there are unenlisted business women.
2. That each Business Women's Circle send one representative to the B.W.C. Camp at Ridgecrest, August 9-15, which will be a vital part of W. M. U. Week.

D. Standards.

1. That each Woman's Missionary Society work consistently towards the A-1 goal and constantly aspire to a full graded A-1 W. M. U.
2. That each associational superintendent use as a guide to greater achievement the Standard of Excellence for associations.

III. Study.A. Mission Study.

1. That today, when people are so keenly world conscious, we place more emphasis on world missions and endeavor to create a deeper interest in the study of missions.
2. That the plan inaugurated a few years ago of studying four books each year in the W. M. S. be continued.
3. That one book each quarter be considered a good plan, and that a varied and well-balanced program of study be planned at the beginning of the year. That books on Soul-winning, Prayer and Stewardship receive special emphasis during this our Centennial year.
4. That list of books in the W. M. U. Year Book, pages 71 and 75, shall be used as the basis for books studied, with new books to be recommended by state mission study chairman when such are published.
5. That emphasis be continued on books required for Courses I and II. That classes be encouraged to get seals awarded for such study, both for those and all other books. That attention be called to the changes in mission study plans: the "Advanced Course" being replaced by the "Missionary Round Table"—page 69, Year Book. Leaflets will soon be available explaining this plan.

6. That all young people's organizations be encouraged to follow plans outlined for study in their specific group, two classes being now the requirement in all grades of young people's organizations. That W. M. S. help in every way possible in providing for and in promoting classes.
7. That all groups be urged to read more widely mission study books and books on related subjects. Where possible, let a mission library be started to stimulate interest in missions.

B. Reports.

That all local mission study chairmen and Counselors be urged to notify W. M. S. President promptly of all classes to be reported to the Associational Superintendent or Young People's Leader. That the end of the month following the close of each quarter be the time limit for State Mission Study Chairmen to receive report. That mission study chairmen of associations and of all local organizations be urged to keep permanent records of all classes, and when changes are made in leadership pass such records on to their successors.

C. Literature.

1. That continued emphasis be placed on the value of W. M. U. missionary publications—Royal Service, The Window of Y. W. A., and World Comrades; that we strive to increase their circulation and their use.
2. That we continue to secure subscriptions to The Commission and Southern Baptist Home Missions; and that the material in these valuable publications be used to enrich the monthly meetings.
3. That we reaffirm our loyalty to the Biblical Recorder and urge our members to subscribe to it.

IV. Missionary Education of Young People.

Accepting the challenge of the Southern Baptist Centennial, we seek to "Consecrate the Centennial to Christ" through following the outline for Young People's Work in the Plan of Work on pages 22-24 of the 1945 W. M. U. Year Book:

1. That every young people's organization co-operate heartily in the new Standard of Excellence requirement of at least two meetings each month.
2. That an active young people's director lead the Woman's Missionary Society in fostering the young people's organizations, and that the community missions, stewardship, mis-

- sion study, and literature chairmen co-operate in plans for activities for young people relating to these phases of work.
3. That the counselor of each organization plan to guide in systematic study of stewardship, using as a part of one meeting each month the new plans outlined for each organization in the leaflet, Plans for Education of Our Young People in Stewardship of Possessions, and planning for a stewardship program in October or November.
 4. That every member be led into definite, regular expression of stewardship through increased gifts through the co-operative program during this Centennial year, through special offerings, and through World Relief.
 5. That we place increased emphasis on mission study for young people, planning at least two classes a year in each organization and encouraging the use of reading cards and stamps for further missionary reading.
 6. That more subscriptions to and greater use of World Comrades and The Window of Y. W. A. be emphasized continually.
 7. That every young people's organization participate regularly month by month in community missions activities.
 8. That a Sunbeam Baby Visitor, elected by the Woman's Missionary Society, project the plans outlined in the Sunbeam Baby leaflet.
 9. That every organization set a definite enlistment goal and undertake a vigorous program of enlistment.
 10. That our goal for young people's organizations for 1945 be a net increase of 400 organizations, and that every association assume definite responsibility for a proportionate number of these.
 11. That Royal Ambassador Counselors be elected in every association, and that they plan for organizing and maintaining chapters, for summer associational conclaves, and for special training conferences for Royal Ambassador Counselors.
 12. That associational young people's leaders plan for summer associational young people's rallies or one-day camps, featuring mission study, G. A. Coronation Ceremonies, and R. A. Recognition Services.
 13. That the divisional young people's leaders co-operate with the associational young people's leaders in organizing and maintaining associational Y. W. A. Councils.
 14. That we stress attendance of our choice young people at the following summer meetings:

Western Girls' Auxiliary House Party, Mars Hill College
(Ages 13-16).

Midwestern Royal Ambassador Camp, Gardner-Webb College
(Ages 11-16).

Western Royal Ambassador Camp, Ridgecrest Boys' Camp,

V. Christian Education.

A. Margaret Fund.

1. That the Margaret Fund scholarship money continue to be secured through the Annie Armstrong Offering for the children of Home Missionaries, and the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for the children of Foreign Missionaries.
2. That the Burney Gift of the Margaret Fund, which is used for sending spending money checks three times in a year to Margaret Fund students, be contributed by societies in amounts not more than $3.00 to meet the sum needed for the students who are attending college in North Carolina.
3. That the Burney Gift of the Margaret Fund be sent by societies to the associational meeting and paid to the Associational Margaret Fund Chairman; that she forward the amount to Miss Ora Alford, Treasurer, 214 Biblical Recorder Bldg., Raleigh, and send a report of the same to her Divisional Margaret Fund Chairman.

B. W. M. U. Training School.

1. Since the W. M. U. is entirely responsible for the founding and maintenance of the W. M. U. Training School, Louisville, Ky.; since the fields of missions and denominational leadership demand such superior young women, and in view of the fact that the school now faces the problem of housing space for students, we recommend:
 - (1) That we encourage our choice young women to attend this school. That we carefully select such young as are in good health, who have had the best literary preparation and give promise of development and usefulness in kingdom work.

- (2) That North Carolina accept the space allocated to us by action of the Board of Trustees of the school (January meeting, 1945).
- (3) That North Carolina accept the suggested apportionment of $1,700 as her part of the amount necessary for current running expenses of the school. That we designate $1,300 for scholarships. In view of an action of the Board of Trustees which sets June 15 as the latest date for State Trustees to submit student approvals, we recommend:
 - a. That June 1 be the latest possible date for the acceptance of applications for the following fall semester.

C. Other Training Schools.

That we continue to give to the Training Schools at Southwestern Seminary and Baptist Bible Institute sympathetic encouragement.

D. Our Denominational Colleges.

1. That we give increasing loyalty to our denominational colleges.
2. That we pray regularly for teachers, officers, and students
3. That as individuals we respond liberally to the appeals of the colleges for support.
4. That we encourage our boys and girls to matriculate in those colleges.

VI. Benevolent Institutions—Hospital and Orphanage.

- A. While we recognize that these institutions do not come definitely in our mission program, we urge the continued and generous support through the churches of both the regular and enlargement plans.
- B. That, continuing through this year, supplies of linen for the hospital be promoted and reported through the White Cross department.

VII. Community Missions.

A. Centennial Crusade.

1. That we place special emphasis on the enlistment of all the women and young people of our churches in the work of winning souls and meeting the needs of the community as a means of leading people into the atmosphere and influence of Christ through the church.

B. Preparation.

1. That we continue the study of the Guide To Community Missions, and its use in planning and executing the work.
2. That we have in each society the study of the first Epistle of John, spending at least five periods on the book. This class is not to be reported as Mission Study but as Community Missions. This is purely voluntary and no awards are given.
3. That the purpose of this Bible study be to inspire our own hearts with the necessity of "declaring that which we have seen and heard" to others that they, too, may enjoy the "Fellowship with the Father and with His Son, Jesus Christ"; that the message, "God is Light and God is Love," may be seen and heard in everything we say and do in His name.

C. Methods.

1. That we endeavor to show forth our Lord in His righteousness and love in every daily contact and relationship.
2. That we manifest Christian fellowship toward unaffiliated Baptists, and toward the sick and sorrowing in our communities; also toward our own members in the service of our country, and to service men and women in our community.

D. Reports.

That all Community Missions Chairmen be urged to co-operate with the W. M. S. president and the young people's counselors in getting complete reports to associational superintendent or young people's leader at the close of each quarter. That the end of the month following the close of each quarter be the time limit for the State Chairman to receive the reports from Associational Chairmen of Community Missions.

VIII. Interracial Work.

No amount of resolutions or theories can foster good will between racial groups unless followed by real demonstrations of friendship and co-operation. It has been said that if 3 per cent of Christians would really dedicate their lives to God, they would transform the world. Three per cent of our Baptist women vitally interested in solving our racial problems would bring a little of the kingdom of heaven to our State.

In regard to our interracial co-operation, we recommend:

1. That each association have an interracial chairman.
2. That a group of leaders in each district who are already interested in interracial affairs be called together to make plans.
3. That simultaneously as the white women meet, the leaders of the Negro women at State headquarters be asked to help form a group of Negro women in the same community.
4. That interracial institutes be continued according to best plans to be submitted by leaders of white and Negro women's conventions.

IX. Stewardship.

A. Tithes and Offerings.

1. Tithes.

- a. That the tithe be the minimum basis of contributing and that the leaflet "Stewardship Month by Month" be used in every society as a means towards that end.
- b. That we accept a ten per cent increase in tithers for point on the Standard of Excellence but not less than 2000 new tithers as our Centennial goal.
- c. That we encourage the signing of stewardship covenant cards.

2. Co-operative Program.

- a. That we accept a five per cent increase in Co-operative Program gifts for point 3 on the Standard of Excellence but a twenty per cent increase in gifts through the Co-operative Program for our Centennial Goal of $54,000 increase.

B. Outstanding Churches.

That we continue our effort to stimulate the missionary spirit by enlisting every resident member of the church as a contributor to missions.

C. Study.

1. That we study at least one stewardship book during the year.
2. That the W. M. S. give its full support to the plans for the stewardship education of our young people as outlined by our young people's leader.
3. That stewardship study by the young people be climaxed by Stewardship Night in the churches.

4. That "75 per cent of W. M. S. members contributing through the Co-operative Program" be added to point 3 on the Standard of Excellence becoming effective in January, 1946.

D. Special Offerings.

1. That our special offerings during the weeks of prayer for Home, State and Foreign Missions be over and above love gifts, as a means of spiritual growth and as added support for our missionary endeavor at home and abroad.
2. Heck Memorial.

That the 1945 Heck Memorial Offering be appropriated as follows:

- (a) $3,000—W. M. U. Training School.
- (b) 1,000—Shaw University.
5,000—Cherokee Indian work in North Carolina.
1,000—Roalee Mills Appleby Orphanage in Brazil.

E. Centennial Stewardship Goals.

1. 2,000 increase in tithers.
2. $54,000 increase in Co-operative Program gifts or $345,000.
3. $666,666.66 total gifts.

Presentation of reports:

REPORT OF ACTING EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

With deep gratitude to our Heavenly Father for His gracious leading and manifold mercies during the past year, the report of the Acting Executive Secretary is presented.

The past year has been one of unprecedented challenges. The close of the first hundred years of the Southern Baptist Convention history; the beginning of a new century; the end of the war; the opening of doors to mission fields long closed; the calls from starving, cold, sinsick people—all have brought to our hearts appeal and challenge that we have never before known. North Carolina W. M. U. had been swift to respond to the appeal.

When it was realized that there could be no annual meeting last March, fear seized our hearts. How could we reach our proportionate share of the high goals set for "Crowning a Century for Christ" without the impetus and inspiration of the Convention? But remembering that "When God wants to do something wonderful He begins with a difficulty," and praying for faith and wisdom and the Spirit's guidance, we set about the year's work.

In January and early February, Divisional and Associational Leadership Conferences were in order. All were well attended and gave a splendid impetus toward realizing our goals. On February 21 the Executive Committee, reinforced by the ten Divisional Superintendents, met in extraordinary session in the hospitable home of Mrs. M. A. Huggins. The day, spent in worship and prayer, in hearing reports and studying the recommendations for the plan of work, was climaxed by a stirring address by Miss Blanche Sydnor White, Executive Secretary of Virginia. Her presence with us in this meeting was a blessing. With mingled emotions, the Committee heard the resignation of our beloved and efficient Executive Secretary and the announcement of her approaching marriage to Mr. Walter Lee Robertson. We would here express deepest appreciation for Mrs. Robertson's splendid and effective service for our Master through the Woman's Missionary Union, first as Young People's Secretary and then as Executive Secretary. Talented and well trained, she used her ability unsparingly, and a remarkable progress was made under her leadership.

Mrs. Foy J. Farmer was asked to assume the responsibilities of the secretaryship temporarily, and Mrs. Turner very graciously consented to return to the Presidency for the time of emergency. Our Union owes a deep debt of gratitude to Mrs. Turner. She is a wise counselor, a forward looking leader, a deeply consecrated, missionary-hearted Christian. Mrs. Farmer has found great joy in serving as Executive Secretary and has learned many valuable lessons. She has felt led to tender her resignation, effective March 1.

In these months just passed, Mrs. Farmer, unlearned in office routine, has found herself deeply indebted to Miss Alford, Miss Abree, Miss Keller, Mrs. Buffaloe and Miss Ogburn for constant help.

The local Executive Committee and State Chairmen have all been heartily co-operative and willing to "spend and be spent" in the Lord's work. To them, we are grateful. We regret that Miss Keller has changed her field work of service after nearing two years of effective field work. Mrs. John Wacaster, of Cherryville, is now our W. M. U. representative, and is getting a good start in this important phase of the work.

The Divisional and Associational Meetings, the Council Meeting in November were all well attended and characterized by earnestness of purpose in keeping with the demands of such a time as this. The Divisional and Associational leaders are all to be highly commended for the magnificent way in which they have magnified their tasks.

Four Associations have attained the A-1 grade, to these go hearty congratulations.

1. Gaston—Mrs. M. L. Barnes, Superintendent.
2. Little River—Mrs. D. B. Andrews, Superintendent.
3. Raleigh—Mrs. F. Orion Mixon, Superintendent.
4. Roanoke—Mrs. C. R. Daniel, Superintendent.

Six Associations missed the A-1 grade by just one point. We shall anticipate their attaining the highest grade next year.

1. Beulah—Mrs. J. F. Funderburk, Superintendent.
2. Johnston—Mrs. J. E. Wilder, Superintendent.
3. New South River—Mrs. W. D. Early, Superintendent.
4. Piedmont—Mrs. J. Ben Eller, Superintendent.
5. Stanly—Mrs. T. S. Crutchfield, Superintendent.
6. Wilmington—Mrs. D. W. Merritt, Superintendent.

There were nineteen churches maintaining full grade A-1 Unions as follows:

- Atlantic—Richlands.
- Cabarrus—Kannapolis, Franklin Heights.
- Gaston—Cherryville.
- Gaston—Gastonia, Temple.
- Green River—Round Hill.
- Green River—Rutherfordton, First.
- Liberty—Lexington.
- Liberty—New Friendship.
- Mount Zion—Durham, Watts Street.

Raleigh—Pleasant Grove.

Raleigh—Raleigh, Hayes-Barton.

Roanoke—Bethel.

Rowan—Salisbury, First.

South Fork—Hickory, First.

Stanly—Albemarle, Grace.

West Chowan—Ahoskie.

West Chowan—Conway.

West Chowan—Creeksville.

West Chowan—Woodland.

A total of 430 organizations attained the grade of A-1; 149 W. M. S.; 53 Y. W. A.; 100 G. A.; 57 R. A.; 71 Sunbeams.

The goal of 500 new organizations loomed large when it was adopted, but with thanksgiving we report a total of 657 new organizations. Of these, 72 are Women's Missionary Societies.

A $54,000 increase in gifts through the undesignated Co-operative Program was assigned to us by the Southern Union, but we have the joy of recording a $78 increase in these gifts.

We fell a little short of the total over-all goal. $666,666.66 was the aim; we gave $644,388.06, an increase of $86,483.98 over 1944.

Depending on our Father for strength and wisdom to meet each need, and to solve each problem, to overcome each difficulty, we dedicate ourselves to this year's efforts for His honor and glory.

Respectfully submitted,

FOY J. FARMER.

Young People's Secretary's report:

REPORT OF W. M. U. YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

"In hope that sends a shining ray
Far down the future's broadening way."

Hope is one of those "abiding" qualities listed in I Corinthians 13. Dormant hope was rekindled throughout the world during 1945. These are years of flourishing hope. What is the hope of our world? United Nations Organization? Atomic power? Scientific progress? Material prosperity?

There comes a new, a greater challenge for vigilance in fanning into flame a hope that will send "a shining ray far down the future's broadening way." And the "future's broadening way" widens from the hearts of boys and girls. It is with humble gratitude that I think of the hundreds of volunteer young people's counselors in North Carolina who have so earnestly and surely projected abiding hope "down the future's broadening way."

1945 was begun in the spirit of the Southern Baptist Convention Centennial. High goals were set as we outlined the plans for W. M. U. Young People's Work. Our hopes were high. We complete the year with many hopes fulfilled, exceeded, and strengthened.

593 Young People's Directors were reported as leading Woman's Missionary Societies in fostering W. M. U. Young People's work in local churches. This is an increase of 74 during the year.

At the beginning of 1945 we set the hopeful goal of 400 new young people's organizations. Our total number of new organizations was 585. This does not represent a net increase, but the small net increase below results from careless reporting. Suffice it to say that our 1945 gains in organizations show great progress and should be a stimulus for further progress.

	Y.W.A.	G.A.	R.A.	S.B.	Total
1945.....	547	1,105	693	735	3,080
1944.....	527	960	641	707	2,835

1945 brought a higher standard for our Young People's work. At least two meetings each month were required for each organization. The increase of 8 A-1 young people's organizations in 1945 is an indication that we have not been negligent in raising the standard of our work to meet this new requirement. Our work needs improvement as well as enlargement. An increase in organizations in Class B is also an indication of improvement in the quality of our work. A-1 organizations are as follows:

	Y.W.A.	G.A.	R.A.	S.B.	Total
1945.....	53	100	57	71	281
1944.....	70	92	49	62	273

The B and C ratings are listed below:

	Y.W.A.	G.A.	R.A.	S.B.	Total
B.....	44	76	37	35	192
C.....	29	46	27	37	139

An active hope is not a blind hope. The Christian missionary enterprise has been broadened through the years by intelligent hope kindled through mission study. This phase of our work continues to be one of the greatest opportunities and needs in our Young People's work. Splendid increases in 1945 are shown below:

	Y.W.A.	G.A.	R.A.	S.B.	Total
1945.....	494	863	497	437	2,291
1944.....	473	624	361	320	1,778
Gains.....	21	239	136	117	513

We are grateful for fine increases in subscriptions to The Window of Y. W. A. and World Comrades. We continue to lead the South in subscriptions to The Window of Y. W. A.

	1945	1944	Increase
The Window of Y. W. A.	3,336	2,846	490
World Comrades	6,874	5,324	1,550

A recognition of needs and a desire to serve in our community sends "a shining ray far down the future's broadening way." How diligent we should be in instilling this desire by providing opportunities for service! 1,496 young people's organizations reported directed Community Missions in 1945. This is an increase of 334 over 1944.

Missionary hopes have always been borne on the wings of prayer. Observance of the Seasons of Prayer stimulates both individual and united prayer among our young people. We have had substantial gains in the number of organizations reporting observance of the Seasons of Prayer:

	Season of Prayer for State Missions	Season of Prayer for Home Missions	Season of Prayer for Foreign Missions
1945.....	1,264	1,288	1,326
1944.....	1,053	1,131	1,222

American young people are growing up amidst unprecedented material prosperity. The results will be expressed in greed or in stewardship. We who lead in stewardship education have a major part in steering this generation from destructive materialism. In 1945 there were an increasing number of Young People's organizations using our Stewardship Education Plans. 420 churches observed Church Night of Stewardship. This is an increase of 74. 4,704 tithers were reported from our Young People's organizations.

Below is the splendid summary of Young People's gifts in 1945, amounting to a grand total of $96,608.80, which is an increase of $17,101.14 over 1944:

	Y.W.A.	G.A.	R.A.	S.B.

The future's way broadens very rapidly for the college student and nurse. Ann Hasseltine and Grace McBride Young Woman's Auxiliary seeks to send an unusually bright ray down this broadening way by continuing and magnifying these plans for missionary education of young people. In 1945 we had twelve Ann Hasseltine Young Woman's Auxiliaries in the following colleges: Mars Hill, Western Carolina Teachers', Appalachian State Teachers' College, Gardner-Webb, Lenoir-Rhyne, Wingate, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Meredith College, Wake Forest, Campbell, Eastern Carolina Teachers' College, and Pembroke College. We maintained Grace McBride Young Woman's Auxiliary at North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, Mercy and Presbyterian Hospitals in Charlotte, and James Walker Memorial Hospital in Wilmington. The Y. W. A.'s at Campbell, Gardner-Webb, Mars Hill, Meredith, and Woman's College were A-1 during 1944-45.

I continually rejoice at the amazing network of volunteer leadership among our young people in North Carolina. The faithful, tireless work of local young people's counselors is unexcelled. Of increasing importance is the work of our Associational and Divisional Young People's Leaders and Royal Ambassador Counselors. During 1945 we had countless associational and divisional young people's meetings—one-day camps, retreats, conclaves, G. A. Coronation Ceremonies, R. A. Recognition Services, Focus Week meetings. Our Associational Y. W. A. Council work continues to grow. At present we have 17 Councils. New Councils were organized in the Wilmington, Catawba River, Little River, and Rowan Associations.

Our Young People's camping program doubled during 1945, both in the number of camps and in the number of the young people attending. Approximately 1,050 Intermediate girls attended our three Girls' Auxiliary Camps. Approximately 700 boys attended three Royal Ambassador Camps. Since Southwide Y. W. A. Camp at Ridgecrest was not held, we had two State Y. W. A. Camps, reaching over 200 girls. A total of over 1,900 young people were reached in these camps.

Rev. B. W. Jackson did excellent work during the summer months as R. A. field worker. He went into approximately 30 associations in one-day Conclaves.

"Christ in you, the hope of glory"—Christ in the life in each leader and each young person, Christ in our world! How bright becomes each ray "along the future's broadening way" as so great a hope becomes a reality!

"Hope shall change to glad fruition, Faith to sight, and pray'r to praise."

Through Service—Discussed by Divisional Superintendents:

The Executive Committee of the Rocky Mount Division, by Mrs. E. B. Beasley; The Council meeting in October, by Mrs. J. R. Morgan; The Ten Divisional meetings, by Mrs. C. M. Warren; Our Seasons of Prayer, by Mrs. David Bobbitt; The Heck Memorial, Miss Frances Winstead; Community Missions, Mrs. John Wacaster; Our field work, Mrs. G. Carl Lewis; Our goals, Mrs. H. G. Hammett; Mission Study, Mrs. Stafford Webb. The reports of divisional work is as follows:

REPORT OF ASHEVILLE DIVISION

From our January Leadership Conference, we went home to begin the year with unusual plans and inspiration to reach our Centennial goals. We seemed to try harder than ever before to follow the lead set for us, and in many ways the results are evident and this part of the kingdom richer. However, as always, a few "Grew weary in well doing," as the finals will indicate.

While the percentages are not in every case up to the goals undertaken, we have some splendid increases to crown our year.

The Division gained 88 per cent in the number of organizations, 38 per cent in membership in societies of all grades, 42 per cent in number of mission study classes, 27 per cent in number of tithers, 37 per cent in societies observing weeks of prayer, 47 per cent in those doing community mission work, and in gifts to the Co-operative Program, 22 per cent. Our increase in gifts to all objects was only 14 per cent. There is no accurate record of number won to Christ.

The divisional officers have been of untold help in carrying on the year's plans.

The new Mission Study Chairman is striving for a larger and more systematic study in all departments.

The Stewardship Chairman reports a growth all over the Division in stewardship, more societies observing stewardship night and more books on stewardship studied.

The Community Missions Chairman taught several classes in Community Mission Guide and reports a more direct effort for souls to be brought into the Kingdom through our community mission plans. She is striving for this to be the heart of our work.

Leadership conferences and general meetings in every association were well attended, and the faithful superintendents are leading in a noble way participation in every activity brought to them.

The Young People's Leader was very active in co-operation with Miss Abee in House Party, Royal Ambassador Camp and Conclave.

Some of our associations are still very dearth of leadership, and consequently weak. We long for a full-time missionary for each association, who will be fully zealous for Woman's Missionary Union as in all phases of Baptist Program. There are yet pastors who have not seen the worth of Woman's Missionary Union and we pray that missionaries from our State Board can sell same to those unconvinced.

The Divisional Annual Meeting was well attended and practical. Miss Olive Lawton inspired us for China. A nice contribution for Baptist Hospital linen was made at this time.

We hand the banner to the French Broad Association for making an increase of 70 per cent in gifts to Co-operative Program, 19 per cent increase in all gifts, over 150 per cent gain in membership, 65 per cent in organizations of all grades, and 68 per cent in mission study classes.

Buncombe has an increase of 68 per cent in number of organizations, 106 per cent in mission study classes reported. She neared Centennial goals in gifts, increasing 17 per cent in gifts to Co-operative Program.

Haywood gained 29 per cent in gifts to Co-operative Program, 37 per cent in number of organizations, 30 per cent in membership, 86 per cent in mission study classes.

Yancey shows a gain of 33 per cent in mission study classes.

Transylvania reports over the 20 per cent increase to Co-operative Program.

Six of the associations made required 5 per cent increase to Co-operative Program. Most of them made large gains, only missing slightly the Centennial aims. May the Father bless every worthy effort as only He can.

Though many totals are plusses, we are yet conscious of an abiding need for fervent prayer, deeper study and fuller consecration on the part of every member. So may it be in 1946 in a spirit of humility and under a consciousness of the world's greatest ever needs. There are so many unreached, so much undone, so large a constituency on the outside, we shudder for our very insufficiency, as we thank God for our blessings in the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. R. MORGAN,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF BRYSON CITY DIVISION

Another year has slipped by, our successes together with our failures have been recorded. Have our past successes been as great as they might have been and could not some of our failures been avoided? Let us not be satisfied with the things achieved thus far, but may we be more sincere and loyal to every phase of God's work if we are to tell the story to a nation more effectively. Our women and young people are trying earnestly in a very humble way to acknowledge Him through the chief aims of our W. M. U. work.

The leadership conferences in both the division and the associations were real working conferences. Many plans were made and high goals set. These meetings have proved of great value in carrying out the program for the year. We are most grateful for the help rendered us from the State office.

Progress along all lines in the work seemed slow, but we have noted improvements from time to time. Gifts to the Lottie Moon Christmas offering have increased as well as an increase for the Co-operative Program and other objects. Along with this went an increase in tithers. It doesn't seem possible that God would command His followers to carry the gospel to all people and provide no financial method by which this great task was to be done. We thank Him for that provision. In His word he gives the plan—tithes and offerings. The total gifts in the division for the year are $5,004.06. One association failed to report its gifts. Special seasons of prayer have been held in the majority of the churches throughout the division.

Our records for mission study have suffered greatly because many classes have not been reported. A total of 67 classes were reported, but this is very inaccurate due to the fact that two associations failed to report. High goals were set for the year by the chairman, Mrs. J. V. Hall. She emphasized the various plans for mission study. The Year Book has proven very helpful, especially to all newly elected officers. We are striving to make progress by creating the missionary spirit through the study of missions. A lover of missions is never satisfied at the close of a year, yet there comes a feeling of joy to our hearts when we think that we have tried to serve in an effective way in this great work for our Master. There is a growing consciousness on the part of our adults and young people that they should know more about the most vital elements entering into our Kingdom enterprise—MISSIONS.

There is no way of estimating all that has been done in the name of Christ for our young people during this past year in this division. We are reminded of that verse of scripture which says, "One plants, another waters, but God gives the increase." We are looking forward to seeing the Lord increase the work of young people as we endeavor to have Junior R. A. and Junior G. A. camps in our division this summer.

With five associations making up our division we have only received an annual young people's report from three of them. From these reports we record 402 members active in the four young people's organizations. Several new organizations have been started and are active with gifts amounting to $704.03. During the past year from the associations reporting there has been held 29 mission study classes. We have worked earnestly and faithfully in trying to lead our young people to pray, work, give and study about God's word.

At our divisional meeting in the fall, the young people had the afternoon program and we feel that a better grade of work is being done in many of our organizations, yet a few are struggling for existence as it is hard to assemble young people in rural communities. The R. A. Conclave was held at Cullowhee this fall with about 80 in attendance. Rev. Mark Osborne, R. A. Divisional Leader and Pastor of the Cullowhee Church, served as leader for this conclave and all the boys said they had a good time. We are hoping to be able to report next year that both junior camps were held in our division. In the words of Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, let us "Lead young people gently into paths of joyous responsibility."

Truly we have not done all we could have done. All reports have not been sent in, but we feel that God has greatly blessed the efforts of our faithful leaders and we pray that we may go forward in every phase of our Lord's work. In 1 Thess. 5:18 are these words, "In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

"O Thou whose bounty fills my cup
With every blessing meet!
I give Thee thanks for every drop,
The bitter and the sweet."

The divisional meeting was held at First Church, Andrews, in October. The program had been carefully planned and presented in a very helpful and inspiring way.

We are satisfied that never in our history have we faced a period of greater responsibilities and opportunities. We need courage and faith to meet the demands of the day. We should and we must go forward this year in the strength and name of the Lord. We must do more as a division. We must pray more, evangelize more, give more, and serve more and better than we have ever done before.

May we see the plan of God's work as it is spread out before us. May we hear the message of this year's hymn—"We've a Story to Tell to the Nations." May we hear the Master as he says to your heart and mine, "Look unto me and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God and there is none else."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. M. WARREN,
Superintendent, Bryson City Division.

REPORT OF CHARLOTTE DIVISION

It is a joy to bring this report as it is the best we've had since I've been superintendent.

The Charlotte Division of the W. M. U. began the work of 1945 with a leadership conference. At this time plans were made, goals were set for the Centennial year of Southern Baptists, and inspiration received from the speakers and the Christian fellowship one with the other. The associational leadership conferences are reported in glowing terms, each superintendent feeling that this is the right start for the year's work.

We are happy to welcome two new associational superintendents, Mrs. V. G. Roberts for Mecklenburg and Mrs. John A. Bivens, Union.

Increases were made in each phase of the work. Twenty-three full graded organizations were reported, 74 new organizations with a total of 409. There were 459 mission study classes, 1,642 tithers, and approximately 300 societies engaged in community missions.

We regret to lose some good workers for various reasons, but our hearts are ever thankful for women who are ready and willing to take on new responsibilities for the Master. Our new chairmen are:

Mrs. Ben McIver—Young People.

Mrs. J. C. Hough—Mission Study.

Mrs. Edwin Perry—Stewardship.

Mrs. Q. E. Colvard—Community Missions.

Mecklenburg reports an active federation of Business Women's Circles, having organized after hearing Miss Mary Christian and Mrs. J. S. Farmer speak. Miss Wilma Bucy has taught them The Guide Book.

One Round Table is reported from the Union Association.

The R. A. conclave was the best we've had in spirit, enthusiasm, and attendance.

Our divisional meeting was held at the First Church, Kannapolis, with the best attendance we have ever had. We are to meet this year at the First Church, Rockingham.

We praise Him for all attainments and look to Him for larger growth this year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. DAVID E. BOBBITT,

Superintendent, Charlotte Division.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DIVISION

As I bring this report of the work of the Elizabeth City Division it is my privilege to note progress in practically all phases of W. M. U. work.

The young people's work has been somewhat disrupted by the resignation of the leader, Mrs. H. G. Dawkins, who with her husband moved out of the division last fall. Miss Hannah Ruth Spruill of Windsor was elected to succeed Mrs. Dawkins. Due to change of both name and residence, Miss Spruill could not serve. In January the Executive Committee placed the work in the capable hands of Miss Frances Winstead of Elizabeth City. Under her leadership, with the co-operation of our splendid associational leaders and our efficient R. A. Counselor, Dr. R. E. Wall, we enter the new year with happy, hopeful hearts.

Our annual meeting was held in October. We were guests of murfreesboro, Meherrin and Mount Tabor societies in the Murfreesboro church. The hospitality of these women was unsurpassed. The meeting was well attended. Most inspiring messages were brought by our visiting speakers, Mrs. J. S. Farmer, Mrs. C. E. Maddry and Miss Ruth Keller, as well as several local speakers. We were delighted to have Miss Ora Alford as a guest. The annual meeting this year will be held in Gatesville.

Mrs. T. Sloane Guy, Sr., Superintendent of the Chowan, reports gain in all lines of work except gifts, which fell slightly below those of 1944.

Mrs. W. E. White was succeeded by Mrs. Julian Porter as Superintendent of the West Chowan. Mrs. Porter's report shows that she and her co-workers are doing a fine work. They went over their financial aim, thereby giving the division as a whole a creditable financial report.

We are happy to report an increase of five W. M. S. and forty-five young people's organizations. In the division there were one hundred nineteen churches, ninety-nine W. M. S., two hundred and sixty young people's organizations, with a total membership of six thousand seven hundred forty-nine. There are nine hundred thirty-three tithers.

Four hundred eleven mission study classes have been taught, with a total enrollment of five thousand six hundred eighty-seven.

There was a noticeable increase in the number of organizations observing week of prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. A. D. WARD,
Superintendent.

First Church, Greensboro, had a very successful "Little Ridgecrest."

Piedmont Association, as a community missions project, employed a student from the missions department of Shaw University, who did field work among the Negro churches of Greensboro, High Point, and Reidsville. She held vacation Bible Schools, and assisted the pastors in church visitation and enlistment. Salary, $50.00 monthly. First student sent out for work from the revised Religious Department of the University who was underwritten by W. M. S. of North Carolina.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. STAFFORD WEBB,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF HICKORY DIVISION

The Hickory Division is made up of nine associations, lying in the Piedmont section of North Carolina. This division can claim a wider variety of climate, occupations and geographical lines than any division in the State. In it you will find part of the Blue Ridge Mountains, as well as some of the best farming land, much of it is rural, yet over 100 cotton mills are to be found within the bounds of one association.

The above being true, we've found it hard to get plans worked out to suit all—yet the spirit of co-operation has been marvelous. In this division you will find 345 churches, some large, many small; 200 of these have 610 W. M. U. organizations.

According to reports, we have 2,801 tithers, and there were 589 mission study classes, three being pioneer classes.

We find 58 full-graded unions and 60 A-1 organizations in the division.

We are very proud and grateful too that the Hickory Division reached its Centennial goal, the goal being $85,000.00, the total amount given being $95,488.71.

It was my happy privilege as Superintendent to lead a very successful Divisional Leadership Conference in Lincolnton, First Church, where every associational superintendent was present, and from this conference the associational leaders went back to their associations to work, pray and plan for exceptionally good conferences in every association. I was permitted to attend seven out of the nine associational conferences (conflicting dates prevented me going to two). At all these conferences and at the W. M. U. associational meetings, we were impressed with the earnestness of the women, and how they were trying to follow the plan of work.

Last year (1945) the South Yadkin led in W. M. U. organizations as to number in association—23 out of 27 churches having organizations.

The King's Mountain placed second in this field.

The Sandy Run takes first place, in getting its reports in on time.

The South Fork reported 27 new organizations, thus placing herself at the top in new organizations.

We had a total of 62 new organizations during the year.

But the banner association, to which we give the orchids, is the Gaston. They have 47 churches, 35 having W. M. U. organizations; they report 20 new organizations, 498 tithers, and 18 A-1 organizations, 132 mission study classes, and gave to all objects $30,547.80, and made all points on the Standard of Excellence.

The division has found it necessary to have many changes in its officers, but we are happy the division is in such good hands as Mrs. Terry Smart, Superintendent; Miss Sue Ellen Ray, Young People's Leader; Rev. Leland Royster, R. A. Counselor; Mrs. J. J. Tarlton, Community Mission Chairman; Mrs. E. S. Elliott, Stewardship Chairman; Mrs. M. D. Blanton, Mission Study Chairman; Mrs. George W. Toby, Chairman of Training School and Margaret Fund.

Plans are well under way for the Junior G. A. and R. A. Camps.

Truly we can say, it has been a good year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. JOHN WACASTER.

REPORT OF THE RALEIGH DIVISION

As the new Superintendent of the Raleigh Division, it is quite difficult to make this report since the goals and achievements really belong to the leadership of our retiring Superintendent, Mrs. W. R. Stone, who served the division in such a capable way for a number of years. Mrs. Stone was greatly loved and esteemed by the women of our division, and even though she has given up her place of leadership among us, her heart and interest are still in the work.

All of the eight associations have done splendid work for our Master during 1945. Two of these associations, Beulah and Johnston, reached eleven points on the Standard of Excellence, while two, Raleigh and Little River, made twelve points. We are proud of these two A-1 associations. Mrs. F. O. Mixon of Raleigh and Mrs. D. B. Andrews of Fuquay Springs are superintendents of these associations. Each association has reached its aim for the Co-operative Program this year. Gifts to all purposes have been most gratifying with decided gains in each phase of the work. There has been a substantial gain in the number of tithers.

The seasons of prayer have not been observed by as many societies and young people's organizations as we would like. However, mission study has been an outstanding feature of our work. There were 926 classes conducted. With this vast amount of knowledge about our mission work, I am sure that the women and young people of our division will be eager for people everywhere in all lands to say, "Look unto me and be ye saved all the ends of the earth, for I am God and there is none else."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. H. G. HAMMETT,

Superintendent of Raleigh Division.

REPORT OF ROCKY MOUNT DIVISION

It has been a pleasure, a privilege and a wonderful experience to work with so fine a body of women as those that comprise the Rocky Mount Division. I attribute entirely to the loyal support of these women, who are upstanding with a clearly defined purpose courageously upheld and followed, the fruits of their endeavor during our Centennial year.

We began the year 1945 with a divisional leadership conference on January 5 in the home of the Superintendent. In spite of the very cold weather and travel difficulties, we had a most gratifying attendance. With a beautiful devotional, Mrs. Charles R. Daniel gave us the inspiration we needed for our task. We went about the day's work in quiet dignity and reverence, giving prayerful consideration and thoughtful discernment to our year book for the Centennial year.

This was followed by associational leadership conferences in each of the three associations in late January. Large numbers of leaders were in attendance and the goals for our Centennial year were presented. Our hearts were made glad because of the keen enthusiasm and earnest interest with which the leaders in all our associations accepted the challenge thrown out to them. As a result, the reports of the three associations glow with the achievements and the accomplishments of the past year, summing up the year's work with unutterable joy and beautiful service.

The Atlantic Association, Mrs. L. B. Daniel, leading, reports a splendid year. The three group leaders in this association held regular quarterly meetings which almost equaled the annual associational meeting. During the summer these meetings were held and presided over by the young people. Financially, the women went over their goal in gifts through the Co-operative Program, an increase of forty-one per cent and a twenty-four per cent increase in total gifts. There was a gain of eight in A-1 organizations and one full graded Union. Richlands was reported. This association made nine points on the Associational Standard of Excellence.

The Neuse Association, with Mrs. C. M. Billings leading, excelled in reaching not only its twenty per cent increase in Co-operative gifts, but the ideal goal—giving $826.72 above a twenty per cent increase in total gifts. This is truly a record of which it can be justly proud. The Neuse had three full-graded Unions in its twenty-one churches, one out of every seven, and made nine points on the Associational Standard.

Mrs. Chas. R. Daniel, Superintendent of the Roanoke Association, reports a net increase of thirty-two organizations and a decided increase was made in the number of mission study classes, of organizations having some form of Community Missions, and the number of A-1 organizations. The goal of making a twenty per cent increase in total gifts as well as through Co-operative gifts was almost attained, lacking only $24.72 reaching this aim. Full graded unions were reported in the association and Bethel was A-1. Mrs. Daniel can take just pride in making all twelve points on the Associational Standard of Excellence.

The work with our young people was not what we would like it to be. We feel that with the tension a bit released we will accomplish more during this year. Our new Young People's leader has taken up the work in fine spirit. It was with regret that we accepted Mrs. L. B. Daniel's resignation. She served faithfully and well during a crisis, and because of her devotion to duty the work was sustained if not increased. The Atlantic and Roanoke Associations held splendid Y. W. A. Councils in the spring, and the Atlantic had two youth rallies in August. Many fine girls and boys attended the G. A. and R. A. camps at Meredith and progress was made in the forward steps and ranking system.

We are proud that our division made the ideal aim—twenty per cent increase in all gifts. In 1944 our total gifts were $41,107.38 and in 1945 we gave $49,727.55. We are indeed grateful to the Neuse Association which served as a prop on which the two larger associations could lean.

Many said that the annual divisional meeting in Goldsboro was the best one we've ever had. Mrs. Farmer and Dr. Maddry were at their best.

The results of our Centennial year may not have been all that we had hoped for. However, it will not matter if we have not completely succeeded; it will matter only if we have failed to build our part of the temple of human endeavor straight, and strong, and true, enduring as the ages. Truly with the Psalmist we can say, "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. BRUCE BEASLEY,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DIVISION

As we look back upon the year 1945, in the Wilmington Division, we cannot help but see the W. M. U. seed that has been sown in earlier years. New organizations have been formed, renewed interest can be seen among the leaders, young people are doing a better grade of work. The work seems to be taking on new life. There is an interest in missions that I have not seen before. The seed has been sown in earlier years and it is bringing forth fruit; yet, there has been much cultivation during the year. The divisional leadership conference in January, followed by the associational conferences, was our greatest means of cultivation. In one association a School of Missions was held to increase the interest in missions. During the summer the college students that served as summer field workers greatly strengthened many of the weaker societies, and new organizations sprang up where they worked. Great hosts of young people attended our state camps. This has had a telling effect upon our young people. Since that time in one association alone, five churches have had beautiful coronation services.

Miss Ruth Keller came to the Brunswick Association in November for an intense week of work. Seeing the result of her week of work, we realize more fully the need for an enlarged program of field work.

The work is beginning to show results in the Wilmington Division. With God's help and hard work we will do a great work in Kingdom building.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. G. CARL LEWIS,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE WILKESBORO DIVISION

In the large mountain territory of the Wilkesboro Division we have thirteen associations, with twelve reporting their year's work, and one inactive. Exceptionally good work has been done by the following associations: Brushy Mountain, under the leadership of Mrs. George Johnson, Wilkesboro; Caldwell, under the leadership of Mrs. C. A. Bowman, Granite Falls; Elkin, under the leadership of Mrs. L. C. Holloway, Elkin; Alleghany, under the leadership of Mrs. A. O. Joines, Sparta; Surry, under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Norman, Dobson; Yadkin, under the leadership of Mrs. Laurence H. Todd, East Bend; and others.

There are so few of our 379 churches which have any organized missionary work, for only 91 report missionary societies of any grade. However, of our more than 3,351 women and children in our churches—"as reported"—4,007 are in missionary organizations—as reported. Only four superintendents reported the number of women and children in the churches of their associations, because the W. M. S. and auxiliaries find these figures difficult to obtain. Usually, one has to go to the church clerk and actually count, page by page, the names of women and children in the church book.

We have enjoyed the Divisional and Associational Leadership Conferences in January and find them very helpful and encouraging to us all. Miss Ione Kemp Knight of Madison spent some time in our division in June, and many fine reports were made of her work in the associations—namely: Elkin, Yadkin, Alleghany, Surry, and Brushy Mountain. We will be glad to arrange for summer workers again.

Our division has reached the "crawling age" now, having learned to "sit alone," and hoping to learn "to walk" and really accomplish something for our Lord and King.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. N. MYERS,
Superintendent.

RETROSPECT AND PROSPECT

By MRS. FOY J. FARMER

God is good to us in giving us memory. One of the loveliest verses in the Bible is Psalms 145:7, "They shall abundantly utter the memory of Thy great goodness." Our Sunday school lessons this first quarter have brought forcefully to our attention the duty of remembering. Over and over Moses said to the children of Israel, "Remember, and remembering, teach your children and your children's children to remember God's dealing with you, His manifold mercies, His statutes and judgments." When the children of Israel were facing a new era of history, as we are today, Moses delivered to them three addresses of great length, enriching their memories, thereby preparing them for their part in a new world.

We have come in the history of our State Union to the end of another decade. In 1886 a little group of young women met in the office of the Editor of the Biblical Recorder and effected an organization that is now celebrating sixty years of unbroken service. Following the custom of other years, we pause this morning to remember the past ten years.

But for a moment, let us think further back than ten years. In 1909, 37 years ago, our Union met in this city for the first time, and this little book contains the record of that meeting. What hallowed memories come as these pages are turned! Miss Heck was ill at the time of the meeting, Mrs. W. N. Jones presided. Dr. Livingston Johnson, than whom our Union never had a more loyal friend, brought greetings from Miss Heck and reviewed the history of the Union. Mrs. Jones read a message from Miss Heck, concluding with these beautiful verses which we may take as a message to us today.

"Therefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints, cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers: that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him, the eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of His calling, and what the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints, and what is the exceeding greatness of His power to usward who believe, according to the working of His mighty power, which He wrought in Christ." Ephesians 1:17-20. Miss Elizabeth Briggs (Mrs. T. M. Pittman), whose contribution to the young people's work in our State and in the South is inestimable, reported Gold Star Sunbeam Bands, Silver Star Bands, Blue Star Bands, and Red Star Bands—Gold Star having reported four quarters; Silver Star, three; Blue, two quarters; Red, one quarter. These gave $3,690.53 for the year. The Y.W.A., two years old, reported $3,300.46. The total gifts amounted to $27,002.29.

We cannot tarry in this more remote past, but come now to the Golden Anniversary meeting—ten years ago in the First Baptist Church in Raleigh. What a glorious meeting that was! What a galaxy of speakers came to help us celebrate fifty golden years! Among the missionaries who brought inspiration from far countries was North Carolina's own Naomi Schell, who told of the work of our Good Will Center in Tobata, Japan. About three weeks ago, after years of suffering, this devoted servant of our Lord was called home.

The joy of the Golden Anniversary was sobered by the resignation of Mrs. W. N. Jones as President, after serving in this capacity for twenty years. She was elected President Emeritus, and Mrs. J. Clyde Turner was chosen President. It is always difficult to make a just appraisal of history so recently past, but the progress of the work during Mrs. Turner's administration is so marked that some outstanding accomplishments can be set down. Ably assisted by Mrs. W. D. Briggs, Executive Secretary, the associations were grouped in ten divisions instead of five; this change, which was effected with never a jar, has been of untold worth in the development of our work.

The Edna R. Harris Scholarship was established at the W. M. U. Training School, keeping fresh in our minds the work of our Executive Secretary, who made her report of the glorious success of the Golden Jubilee directly in heaven. Honoring Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Turner led us in furnishing the library at the Training School.

The equipment of the Cancer Room at the Baptist Hospital was inspired by Mrs. Turner's personal generous gift for this need, and her suggestion that the Union help in it. While she was President, a full-time salaried Field Worker was employed for the first time, though in the early days an "Organizer" seems to have been on the field with her expenses paid. Eternity alone can reveal how far-reaching are the results of the consecrated women who have served in this capacity.

During Mrs. Turner's presidency the Interracial Institutes were initiated; her wisdom and sympathy have contributed largely to the splendid development in this phase of our work and her consecrated common sense has led through more than one delicate situation.

Perhaps the most outstanding accomplishment of Mrs. Turner's regime was the organization of the Executive Council, following the revision of the Constitution. Perhaps no other single movement has shown such splendid results as the bringing together of Divisional and Associational Superintendents and Young People's Leaders with the Executive Committee for the Executive Council meeting in the fall. The two days spent in prayer, hard study, practical planning, and inspiring fellowship has given an impetus to the work that is unmeasurable. The Associational Leadership Conferences conducted this past winter without the presence of State officers were the finest we've ever had, according to reports from Manteo to Murphy, and that this was possible is due to Mrs. Turner's wisdom.

When Miss Currin left our office after ten years of exceptionally efficient service, first as young people's secretary then as executive secretary, to go as Mrs. W. L. Robertson to far-away Texas, Mrs. Turner graciously consented to resume the duties of the Presidency in the temporary arrangement that seemed wise in the emergency. To Mrs. Turner we express sincere gratitude for progressive leadership, and thank God that she is still our wise counselor.

During the past ten years many of our workers have gone to higher service in the Glory Land. We pause in appreciation of their faithfulness. Among these were Miss Elsie Hunter, Treasurer for sixteen years; Mrs. T. H. Briggs, charter member of the Executive Committee; Mrs. Edna R. Harris, for twelve years Executive Secretary; and Mrs. W. N. Jones, who gave sixty years of service to the North Carolina W. M. U.

As we look back over the ten years just past, we remember pleasantly our hostess cities—Charlotte, Asheville, High Point, Wilmington, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Raleigh—all most gracious in their hospitality. Were there time, it would be a happy privilege to recall the names of all our guest speakers, to quote from many of their addresses. The Southern Union has sent us distinguished visitors—Mrs. Cox, the Queen of W. M. U.; Mrs. Armstrong, of revered memory; Mrs. McWilliams, the Golden Jubilee Chairman; Miss Mather, enthusiastic and forward looking; Miss Mary Christian, dynamic and alert; Miss Kathleen Mallory, the dearly beloved; each in her characteristic manner has helped us develop in efficiency of organization and in missionary zeal.

As we review the minutes of this decade, we find constant reminders of the help and co-operation of Mr. Huggins and the General Board, and of the editors of the Recorder. We realize, too, as these books are studied, how faithful have been our Young People's Secretaries, Miss Currin and Miss Kathryn Abee; and our efficient Treasurer, Miss Ora Alford, who served as Assistant Treasurer and Treasurer for twenty-two years. And there should be added word of sincere appreciation for the untiring, cheerful service of the two young women who send out all the literature, who type our letters, who do the mimeographing, who must have all the work right at their fingertips—Mrs. Buffaloe and Miss Lillian Ogburn.

Figures listened to are well nigh meaningless, but it will be heartening to hear a few comparisons.

Mission Study. In 1936, 1,569 classes were reported; this year Mrs. Maddrey, our enthusiastic Mission Study Chairman, reports 3,810 classes. These figures by no means tell the full growth of this important phase of our work for the increasing emphasis on missionary reading is of far greater significance than we perhaps realize. Our W. M. U. members are becoming world-minded, missionary-minded women.

Community Missions, the development of "Personal Service," is keeping pace with Mission Study under the direction of Mrs. W. E. White, who is proving a wise leader. "The purpose of Community Missions is to win souls and attain other spiritual results in the community." No longer can our Union be accused of having interest only for the lost souls across the sea.

The growth of the Young People's work is almost miraculous. In January, 1936, there were 1,888 organizations that had brought into the Lord's treasury in one year $30,461.87. In January, 1946, the records showed 3,080 organizations with gifts amounting to $96,608.80.

Perhaps one of the reasons that some people think the Woman's Missionary Union over-emphasizes the giving of money is that it is easier to compute financial gains and show comparison from year to year in gifts of money than in the other "chief aims" which we hold dear. The full growth in study and reading, in spiritual results of community missions, in prayer emphasis, in training young people is not easily tabulated and set down in neat rows by the adding machine. And is it not true that our giving is a measure of our complete development?

So—let us consider our gifts. At the Golden Anniversary the total gifts reported were $198,214.53; you have just heard Miss Alford give the total for last year, $643,081.91; the total gifts of this sixth decade are $3,687,855.60. The grand total for the sixty years of our history is $8,689,147.14. Surely we shall "abundantly utter the memory of His great goodness" in allowing us to put even this much into the financing of His Kingdom.

Dr. Alexander MacLaren says: "It is the prerogative of Christian remembrances that it merges into Christian hope. The forward look and the backward look are really but the exercise of the same faculty in two different directions." It would be futile to take even this fleeting glimpse of the past did we not set our faces steadfastly to the future. Especially now as we consider the sad state of the world, and as we realize that God is opening again doors of opportunity that have been closed, do we need to renew our vows of consecration, to determine that we will be "expendable," that all the ends of the earth may look unto Him and be saved. We must say again, and mean it, the beautiful expression of Oriental Christians at the Jerusalem Conference:

"We cannot live without Christ,

We cannot think of others living without Him.

We cannot be content to live in a world that is un-Christlike;

We cannot be idle while the longing of

His heart for His brethren is unsatisfied."

In one of our Divisional Leadership Conferences the following statement was made, and it presents to us a ringing challenge. "The scientists have named this the Atomic Age, but we may name it the Christian Age if we are willing to pay the price." We Christians know that there is a Power that can bring lasting peace to the weary world; a Power that can overcome the evils of the liquor traffic; a Power that can bring labor and capital into right relationship; a Power that has "made of one blood all nations of men"; a Power greater than the much discussed, much feared atomic bomb. Gerald Johnson, writing recently in the Saturday Review of Literature, discussed the futility of assembling and training even immense armies and navies in the face of the atomic bomb. It will not be the nation with the most soldiers that will be victorious should another war come, he pointed out; even the smallest nation may perfect a more powerful weapon than ours, one that can be projected farther, that may blow the United States into nothingness. He concludes, "The only voice with any hope that I hear in the confusion of today is a voice that comes to me from my Sunday school days, and it says, 'Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts.'" We know that this is true, that the only power can save the world comes from Him who said, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." We know, too, that we have the privilege—yes, the solemn duty, of giving this all-sufficient power to the world. This is the challenge that meets us as we turn our faces toward the new era upon which we are entering. How shall we fulfill this sacred obligation? What can we, Christian women, do in the face of the appalling conditions? First, let us heed the Master's command, "Look upon the fields." Through the messages of missionaries, through papers and books let us truly see the fields white unto harvest. We should see the need in our own communities, in our own State, in the South. These desperate needs have just been brought to us in our Week of Prayer for Home Missions, let us bear them in our minds and hearts. We should know the tremendous significance of Emperor Hirohito's disclaiming publicly and, we believe, sincerely, his reputed divine origin; we should listen to the call of Japan for 2,000,000 copies of the New Testament, of the plea of the Japanese for missionaries. China, bleeding and broken, hungry and cold, calls to us to send back the missionaries, and to send more; Europe must have the help of God's people as they begin to arise from the ashes of war. Africa and South America with unprecedented opportunities call to us for reinforcements and equipment. Lepers from all over the world stretch out their pitiable stumps of hands in pleading; those sick and in prison lift up feeble voices. We, in our comfort and plenty, must "look on the fields."

Then there is another command we must obey, "Pray ye the Lord of the harvest that He will send forth laborers into His harvest." Hudson McMillan startled many of us while he was at home by saying, "Southern Baptists should send 10,000 missionaries to China." Ten thousand missionaries to China? and proportionately to South America, Africa, Europe, Japan, Arabia, Alaska, the Isles of the Sea that wait for His law? Why not? We sent many times that number to kill! Why not 10,000 to China that they may have life? There are nearly 6,000,000 Southern Baptists and we have been playing at the task of missions. The Foreign Mission Board has sent something over 1,300 missionaries in one hundred years! Let us hang our heads in humility and pray for laborers. Now, as Dr. Carver points out in If Two Agree, if we pray sincerely for laborers to go, God may say to us "give of thy sons (and daughters) to bear the message glorious," and we must have hearts and minds ready to consent to their going at His bidding. He will certainly say, Dr. Carver continues, "give of thy wealth to speed them on their way." And we must be ready to give, and give sacrificially. Last year Southern Baptists gave sixty cents per capita that the power of Jesus may be released in what we call "foreign fields." But, you say, that doesn't apply to us; members of North Carolina W. M. U. gave far more liberally than that. True, but did we give in proportion to our prosperity? And are we doing what we might that our uninformed, uninterested brothers and sisters and our young people may catch a glimpse of the need of the fields, and the glory of the grace of giving? We search our hearts, and determine that in this new era we shall be faithful stewards of the precious possessions that we find planted in them by our Father's love and mercy.

In our plan of work concrete goals will be set before us. We will gasp, and wonder, "Will my society be able to reach these high goals? We are doing all we can now it seems." Do not be discouraged; the Lord provides the way for us to do anything He wants us to do. An old Negro woman in the prayer periods which she and her white friend for whom she works observe together often utters this fervent petition, "O Lord, increase our faith, confirm our hope, and double our resolution." If in faith we set out to obey His commands, remembering His past mercies and leading and our resolution is doubled He will confirm our hope, and we will be triumphant when the records are complete. Scribbled in the margin of a copy of the Minutes of one Convention is this sentence quoted from some speaker whose name is not set down: "Three praying women can revolutionize any church, and make dynamic the preaching of any pastor." There are in this room three women from many of our churches. Will you resolve to be those three "praying women" in your society, in your church? You will have to be ready to pay the price, as Dr. Carver showed us. But, even if He calls for all your strength, your time, your wealth, even for your children, how wonderful is the promise, "All that thou spendest Jesus will repay!"

Hymn—"I Love to Tell the Story."

Our Hospital Brings Renewal of Life. Mrs. J. J. Roddick, long-time chairmap of Hospital work, was recognized. Message was given by Dr. Wingate Johnson.

Mission Study, Mrs. Gordon Maddrey, Chairman. Playlet presented on the Mission Study Round Table, by Mrs. Paul Davis, Yadkinville.

REPORT OF MISSION STUDY CHAIRMAN

Since taking office on March 1, 1945, the State Chairman of Mission Study has emphasized three goals whereby there might be more intensive and extensive study of missions: (1) At least one mission study class in every W. M. S. in the Association; (2) At least one Associational Mission Study Institute in each Association during the year; (3) A creditable number of Schools of Missions within the local churches. Associations reaching this Mission Study "Standard" were to receive recognition at the annual W. M. U. Convention.

Reports received show a total of 4,191 classes held during 1945. One thousand nine hundred of these were W. M. S. classes and 2,291 young people's classes. This is a net gain of 549 over the number of classes reported for 1944. Six associations reported Associational Mission Study Institutes during the year, and 116 Schools of Missions were reported. Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence, our Southwide Mission Study Chairman, tells us that North Carolina is leading in number of Missionary Round Tables, with 20 having been reported at the close of 1945.

Eight of the approximately sixty-five associations made no report to the State Chairman during the year. Four entire Divisions: Elizabeth City, Greensboro, Raleigh and Rocky Mount, including eighteen associations, reported every quarter and furnished an annual report. In addition to these eighteen, eight other associations—Buncombe, Caldwell, New South River, Yadkin, Wilmington, Sandy Run, South Fork and South Yadkin—made a similar record. Thus 26 or approximately 43 per cent, of the associations reported adequately. We cannot express our appreciation to the Mission Study Chairmen of these associations for their interest and efforts in promoting Kingdom work through the study of missions.

Two of our Divisional Mission Study Chairmen—Mrs. H. A. Knight of High Point, Greensboro Division, and Mrs. J. V. Hall of Murphy, Bryson City Division, have done outstanding work during the year. Both of these chairmen have been of inestimable assistance to the State Chairman, both in the promoting of mission study throughout their respective divisions and in their splendid manner of reporting. The Wilkesboro Division, Mrs. Paul Davis of Yadkinville, Chairman, has given evidence of perhaps the greatest increase of interest in mission study during the year; while the Raleigh Division has far surpassed all others in the number of classes held and the number enrolled in the classes.

Although slight emphasis has been given to awards as recognition for completion of study, the totals of these increased during 1945. Especially was there marked gain in the number of Reading Stamps.

To quote from the recent report of our beloved Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence: "Writing in 1871 to the temporary secretary of the Foreign Mission Board filling in when Dr. J. B. Taylor fell in his fatal illness, Dr. M. T. Sumner, secretary of the Home Mission Board, said: 'I shall miss him much, and this should only remind me that the years are not far distant when others will occupy the place of this writer. God's will be done. Only let us fill up the measure of our duty. God help us all.' That admonition might well become the motto for us in this Year I of the Atomic Age, even as it was for this missionary leader in that trying day of reconstruction: 'Only let us fill up the measure of our duty. God help us all.'"

REPORT OF MARGARET FUND CHAIRMAN

The Margaret Fund, the educational fund established thirty years ago by Woman's Missionary Union, is one of our most worth-while projects. While our missionaries are serving on home and foreign fields, their sons and daughters receive a Christian education here in our homeland through allotments from the Annie Armstrong and the Lottie Moon Offerings.

The Margaret Fund is a most joyful task. What a pleasure to send out "Burney" checks to these students three times each year in order that they may have "spending money" at intervals. I wish I could share with you the letters of appreciation which I get from both the students and the parents!

North Carolina has five students receiving scholarships through this fund. They are at Wake Forest College: Betty Lide, Betty Woodward and Eugenia Johnson; at Mars Hill College, Geneva Jo White; and at Pratt Institute in New York City, Emily Olive. Now that the war is over, we are hoping that the boys, too, will continue their schooling.

Let us remember all of these students with gifts and prayers. Their parents are returning to mission stations. May they go feeling that members of our W. M. U. will watch over their children.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. L. R. HARRILL.

REPORT OF W. M. U. TRAINING SCHOOL

"Help for a needy world" is the absorbing challenge of every kingdom agency of the Christian world today. The peace which we now have (described by Hambone as the "peace which passeth all understanding") must be given clarity and reality. This means that Christ's way must be known and lived by all men, everywhere. A colossal task we say. Yes, a task which will necessitate a worthy program of missions that will send out thousands, instead of hundreds, with the Christian message. Such a program involves many considerations, least of which is dedicated personality, trained to do the job.

The W. M. U. Training School, maintained by the W. M. U., has trained young women for such service since 1907. The Training School Service Flag carries 228 stars representing the school's daughters in foreign mission service. It also carries two large groups of stars representing those who serve in various capacities throughout our homeland. Thus the W. M. U. Training School holds a very vital relationship to our missionary program.

The school opened last fall with every available space occupied. The enrollment has reached 227 during the year. Of this total 133 have been boarding students. Four students have had to drop out, but these places were filled immediately with those on the waiting list. North Carolina again has the largest state group with 20 boarding students plus several day students among the preachers' wives. We have received congratulations from Dr. Littlejohn, principal of the school, upon our large number and upon our careful selection of students. We take pride in the fact that 19 of our group have had the basic preparation of four years of college work.

Eight of our group are using scholarships this year. The Edna Harris Honor Scholarship was awarded to Miss Evelyn Garrison, Lincolnton. Miss Olene Sinclair, Clinton, was granted use of the Louis Castlebury Fund given by Mrs. Joel Layton. Miss Mary Lee Ernest was granted use of the scholarship given by the Gaston Association W. M. U. Five others are using W. M. U. loan scholarships. Their names follow: Miss Rachel Thompson, Durham; Miss Annie Queen, Canton; Miss Sarah Yates, Charlotte; Miss Anna Locklear, Lowe; Miss Kathleen Vestal, Boonville. The small amount charged each student is of necessity supplemented by an annual gift of W. M. U. This is apportioned to states. North Carolina is asked for $1,700 for 1946. The amount needed for scholarships will be $1,300. The amount invested in this department of our work yields rich dividends in kingdom progress. We urge a generous support and a prayerful interest on the part of every member of our W. M. U. family.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. R. K. REDWINE.

List on back:

1. Results of soul-winning efforts in community or church.
2. Any activities to lift moral standards of communities as indicated on quarterly report blank of societies.

Miss Mary Christian set as her goal in Community Missions for 1945 the seeking to enlist every W.M.S. and Y.W.A. in every activity of Community Missions; to have a 20 per cent increase in the number of Sunbeam Bands, Girls' Auxiliaries and Royal Ambassador Chapters, that report monthly activities toward a Christian community.

There has been an increase in Woman's Missionary Societies reporting Community Missions and a 25 per cent in our Young People's organizations reporting this work.

I am confident much more has been done than has been reported. There are nine associations I have had no report from during the year. Then some of our associations seem to think of Community Missions as an activity for the W.M.S. only and do not report any work done by the young people's organizations. Over 600 study classes have studied a book on soul-winning, 674 organizations have studied the guide to Community Missions. These have greatly aided these organizations in understanding the lofty aim of Community Missions, which is soul-winning. From the 800 surveys that have been made, I am sure as these needs were found and faced, plans were made to meet these needs. As a result efforts were made to enlist more women and young people in soul-winning activities in their communities.

It has been a joy and inspiration to work with our associational chairmen. Many have reported various soul-winning activities and efforts made to lift moral standards in their communities. We are told that every effort made in His name will be honored. No group of figures or any report can express the fine service that has been rendered. The seed that has been sown, or the hearts that have been touched, or even the brotherly kindness expressed through our efforts. God knows and will bless the gift and giver.

Ours is a needy world today. "The golden thread of service gleams in its most beautiful pattern against the darkest background; so does every vexing problem challenge Christians to this ministry to weary suffering soul-sick humanity today. If we have not exalted this service this year as we should, God is giving us another chance in 1946. May we do our best.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. E. WHITE,

Chairman, Community Missions.

STEWARDSHIP REPORT

When we see this marvelous group of women assembled here today one cannot help but contrast it with the small group which met last year to plan our work and set goals for 1945.

That small group, representing all sections of our State, accepted the most challenging goals we have ever attempted.

It was the responsibility of your stewardship chairman to present the financial goals which had been discussed and recommended by the Council. At the conclusion of the meeting our visiting speaker approached her and said: "You women are the bravest women I have ever seen to set such goals." The reply was "North Carolina women can do it, with God's help." With His help we have; and today we are deeply grateful to Him for our accomplishments.

With a goal providing for an increase of $54,000 in Co-operative Program gifts we actually made an increase of $78,907.25.

We also set for our goal an increase of 2,000 tithers. We had 2,601 new tithers reported.

We had a splendid increase in our special offerings with the largest Lottie Moon Christmas offering in the history of our organization. The total will be found in treasurer's report.

A word of explanation is due concerning our over-all goal of $666,666.66 which was our part of the Centennial goal which was accepted by our Southern W.M.U. It was intended that it should include the total gifts by our women for all Kingdom causes, but we found it impossible to get a record which would include local gifts and gifts to Christian colleges, etc. Had this been possible we would have reached, if not exceeded, the total goals. But that does not matter. The thing that does matter is that we accepted a worthy goal and many of our women gave their best efforts and sacrificial gifts to attain this goal. We wish to record here the divisions that made a twenty per cent increase in gifts over 1944: Bryson City, Charlotte, Elizabeth City, Hickory, Rocky Mount, Wilkesboro.

The following table shows further growth in stewardship activities over the previous year :

	1945	1944
New tithers	2,601.....	1,867
Total number tithers.....	15,037.....	13,633
Stewardship study	530.....	286
Stewardship night	450.....	346
Prove Me Plan.....	23 churches.....	23 churches
100 per cent resident women giving to missions.....	60 churches.....	26 churches

What of the Future?

We know that since we last met world events and conditions have multiplied our tasks for 1946. So with our earnest prayer "That They May Have Life in Abundance," we plan :

1. By the end of 1947 to more than double the number of tithers among our women and young people. The goal for our Southern W.M.U. will be 333,333 tithers. Our part of that goal is 33,333. The Southern Baptist Convention will work for a total of 1,000,000 tithers.

2. We plan in 1947 to raise our Standard of Excellence to ten per cent increase in Co-operative Program gifts. This year it will remain a five per cent increase for the Standard of Excellence and seventy-five per cent of our women giving through the Undesignated Co-operative Program. But we recommend a ten per cent increase in Co-operative Program gifts as a goal.

3. By the end of 1947 it is our plan that a stewardship book will have been read or a week of stewardship observed in every church where there is a W.M.S. There are two suggested plans, namely :

Plan I stewardship classes for all ages at 7:30 each evening and a general assembly at 8:15 for a short talk by pastor or leader, except Friday evening, at which time stewardship night may be observed.

Plan II Monday evening stewardship study.

Wednesday evening, stewardship night.

Friday night, fellowship night with skits, plays, etc.

Sunday, stewardship sermon, pastor, followed by the signing of cards.

Either of the above plans may be adjusted to suit the local situation, but it is urged that the week be given for stewardship emphasis, prayer and an effort to reach the largest possible number of church members.

4. We plan to increase the use of Plans outlined for the education of our young people in the stewardship of possessions.

5. We plan to renew our efforts to enlist every resident woman member of the church in giving to missions.

How Attain These Goals?

1. By looking to God for strength and guidance.

2. By depending upon a leader in each division to whom the associational chairman may look for information and inspiration.

3. In attaining our stewardship goals there needs be a strong associational chairman upon whom the church chairman may depend for council and help.

4. There must be an outstanding leader in every society who will actually carry out the suggested plans or use some similar plan of her own which is better.

5. We are counting upon every member of Woman's Missionary Union to strive as never before for a Christ-like vision of the needs of this confused and sinful world.

In Matt. 16:23 Christ is reproving Peter according to Moffatts' translation. He says, "Your outlook is not God's but man's."

If we can attain even to a small degree God's outlook we continue to accept goals which will challenge the very best that is within us.

If we strive for God's outlook it will do things to us.

We will experience a new depth to life. Material things while still in the picture will shrink in relative importance.

It will give new height to our vision. Without a portion of God's outlook we could have a very small view of the world today.

His outlook will give new breadth to our vision, a new concern about nations, races and classes.

It will give length to our thinking for He would have us take the long view.

If we seek to catch a Christ-like vision of the needs of the world and our possibilities as individuals and as groups.

If we seek to be filled with His spirit, know His will and to gain perseverance which will enable us to fulfill the stewardship which has been entrusted to us.

As our financial goals are considered we should remember that there are only two reasons for having goals.

One is to set a low and possibly unworthy standard, reach it and be inclined to boast about it. The other is to take high and worthy goals which will challenge the very best that is in us regardless of whether we reach them or not.

REPORT OF THE APPRECIATION COMMITTEE

As we come to the close of our delightful stay in your midst, our hearts are filled to overflowing as we attempt to recount the many things for which we are grateful.

First of all, we would thank our heavenly Father for His gracious leadership and manifold blessings which we have enjoyed since last we met two years ago. We thank Him especially for the manifestation of his Holy Spirit in all the activities of this the 55th annual session of Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina.

As we have sat in the quiet, simple, colonial beauty of this sanctuary of the First Baptist Church of High Point and listened to the many challenging and inspiring messages which have been brought to us in word and song, truly our hearts have turned back to the "Faith of our Fathers," and we are convinced more than ever that "Our hope is built on nothing less than Jesus' blood and righteousness." The gorgeous memorial flowers furnished by the local W.M.U. have so enhanced the beauty of the sanctuary that we are impressed to say with the Psalmist "Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined."

In behalf of the W.M.U. of the State, we wish to express our grateful appreciation to all who have made this 55th annual session so great a success: the beloved state officers, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Farmer, Miss Abbe and their co-workers, who so wisely planned and executed a program which has given us a broader vision of our task for the Master in this post-war world; to the pastor of this church, Rev. W. Wilbur Hutchins, and his local W.M.U. for their cordiality and fine spirit of co-operation, whose committees, under the able leadership of Mrs. C. E. Siceloff, have left no stone unturned in providing for our welfare. When we consider the acute housing problem which prevails, we are particularly mindful of their difficult task in entertaining so comfortably this host of delegates and visitors. We would not overlook expressing our gratitude to the Music Committee for their most delightful, inspiring and diversified musical selections; to the press for exceptionally fine co-operation; to pages and ushers who have served so courteously and efficiently; to the janitor and his helpers for their cheerful, courteous service.

We have experienced a glowing feeling of brotherhood in your midst, generated not only by the warm hospitality of the members of the First Baptist Church, but the generous co-operation and fellowship of other denominations—our sister churches. To all of you we say in all sincerity the words of Paul (Phil. 1:3), "We thank God for every remembrance of you."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. MARY W. HERNDON, Chairman;
MRS. JULIUS PORTER,
MRS. DON BULLOCK,
MRS. H. D. MARTIN.
